To us, as Baha'is, Christ's Return means the reappearance in human form of those spiritual qualities and power that made Jesus the Christ, or Savior, for His Day.

For the Day in which we are living you'll find these same divine qualities and saving power exemplified in the life and teachings of Baha'u'llah, Founder of the Baha'i Faith. His Coming a hundred years ago was foretold in the Bible by Jesus and the Prophets.

Through Baha'u'llah, Christ has returned to bring those universal principles of spiritual and social truth needed for the unification of peoples and the creation of a new world order of universal peace.

About Cremation

Cremated remains are not ashes but fragments of bone structure. Cremation of today is vastly different from the method of yesterday. No preheated, crematory vaults. No ashes. No muscular contraction or body movement.

The body is prepared and casketed the same for a cremation service as for any other type of burial. The body is not removed from the casket, the casket is placed in the crematory vault without being opened after delivery to the crematory. The casket is cremated with the body. The cremated remains being calcareous are heavy—the withered disintegration of the casket and the clothing being light are blown away by air leaving the cremated remains undisturbed.

After cremation the cremated remains may be left at the crematory until the surviving members of the family decide upon their final disposition. The urn with its cremated remains may be placed for all time in a niche in the Columbaria. When the original purchase price of the niche is paid, there is no further cost. A name inefaceably engraved on a cast bronze urn and placed in a niche of a columbarium is a permanent memorial. A single niche carries with the purchase the privilege of transfer to a larger family niche later. When burial of the cremated remains is desired a suitable burial container may be had from the funeral director of the cemetery.

Cremation is not a method of disposal of the dead, but is rather a method of preparation for permanent preservation.

Cremation is within the reach of all. It combines sanitation, economy and perpetuity as in no other form of burial. For further information call Sunset Cemetery and Crematory, ALlon 8-5355, 6939 W. Broad Street. Adv.

Tomorrow IN THE MAKING

Quiet, please . . .

This is genius at work!

This is tomorrow in the making!

What will come from the interior of this test tube, bubbling quietly over the flame of the Bunsen burner? Will it be a cure for cancer? A new plastic? Or will it be a new killer—silent, odorless, colorless—that can destroy life in all that it touches.

In these breath-taking days of new scientific discoveries, the ancient truth of one of the greatest of religious sayings becomes sharper day by day.

"Where there is no vision, the people perish. . . ."

Today our greatest scientists admit that vision must accompany the results of their work if the world is not to be consumed in the fires of its own advancement. That is why you will find the churches of America working to lengthen the vision and sharpen the focus that must belong to everyone that advances toward the new horizon of our tomorrow. The achievement of America must be matched by a morality that comes from hearts touched with the wisdom of God.

We shall not fear the test tube—if in back of it are the scientists, the churches and the people working toward a common cause.

And the cause is our tomorrow in the making—a brighter tomorrow for all. . . .

. . . Be not afraid, only believe.

ALWAYS NATTY—Mayor Sensenbrenner doesn't appear too perturbed over the fact that he has just caught an egg, which burst all over his hands and shirt, in the above picture snapped at the municipal employes picnic last Saturday at Westgate Park. One of the high lights of the picnic, attended by some 1600 employees and their families, was the egg-throwing contest among department heads of the city government. (Hilltop Record photo)

West Park Still Tops In Hilltop Old Timers League

By Harry Grashel

West Park Methodist remained on top of the heap in the Hilltop YMCA Old-Timers Softball League by belting out an 18 to 3 victory over the Hilltop Lions. Bill Kearney, B. Dillie, C. Dillie, Rasor were big guns on the offense for West Park, while Bill Kuhn turned in a very effective bit of hurling. Ronnie Jones and Reeves were the top hitters for the Lions.

Westgate ZUB turned in a 12 to 2 win over the Hillcrest Baptist 10. L. Williams again pitched a fine game for Westgate with a lot of hitting support by B. Williams, Hysell, C. Horne, and D. Horne. For Hillcrest, McInturff, and Gurina drove out home runs. In the sixth inning: Gurnia raced deep into left center to rob Hysell of a sure homer.

With Curt Wilcox pitching four-hit ball, Hilltop Kiwanis stopped Glenwood Methodist, 6 to 2. Ray McVay, Parker and Wilcox hit homers for the Kiwanis team while Strickland hit one for Glenwood.

Now Rome players had their hitting clothes on as they blasted Northway Post, VFW, 16-5. Jim Smith on the mound for New Rome, in addition to pitching a steady game, weighed in with five hits. Smith has hit safely his last nine trips to the plate. Bod Adams and S. Monnett each had three safe hits for Northway.

In a make-up game on Aug. 20, Hillcrest Baptist upset New Rome in a pitchers' battle between Dusty Rhodes of the Hillcrest team and Jim Smith of New Rome. Roth, McInturff, Gurina, and Miller led the Hillcrest attack. Smith, Shotts, Daugherty, and Steele each had three safeties for New Rome. With the score tied 7-7 in the last of the seventh, Gurina with one out and two mates on the base paths, drove one high and deep into centerfield to break up the game.

FINALLY SOLD ON HILLTOP

After being in business on the Hilltop for some 13 years, D. B. Tunison, operator of the Sohio Station at 3545 W. Broad-st, finally decided that the Hilltop would be a pretty good place to live, too. So, he and his wife moved last week to 165 N. Roys-av.

West Park Methodist Defeats League All-Stars

By Dick Wilson

West Park Methodist, champion of the Hilltop YMCA Intermediate Church Softball League, wound up a perfect season last week at Westgate Park as it edged a league All Star team 5-3.

Earl Gates once again hurled effective ball for the victors and received credit for the win. He allowed only five hits and only walked one. Don Brown started for the losers and was charged with the loss. He allowed only six hits, but was constantly in trouble because of wild pitches and walks. He walked a total of eight players in the six innings played before the game was called because of darkness.

Bob Arthur led the runs scored department for the victors with two. Ronnie Klein crossed the plate most often for the All Stars with two tallies to his credit. Klein also led his team in hits with three singles for three times at bat. Charles Deyo, catcher for the league champs, was the defensive star for the Methodist. Gary Rayot starred afield for the losers.

After the All-Star League champs game, it was announced that Hillcrest Baptist won the sportsmanship trophy for the league. Jerry Tallman managed the Baptists, who won by fighting hard and losing with ease.

"Small towns have more gossips because it's more fun watching a game when you know the players." —S. C. Barry.

Eight boys and girls from Glenwood Recreation Center appeared in the city pageant last Thursday, Aug. 19, at Central High School. The pageant is an annual, city wide production sponsored by the Columbus recreation department.

In the bull fight scene, John Miller and David Koehler posed as the bull. Bobby Scheiblich as the bull fighter. Vicki Quinn as the picadore, and Carol Scheiblich as a dancer.

In a beach scene, Sandra Rumnick, Patty Patterson, and Patty Galliger posed as bathing beauties. Marcella Justice and Barbara Fraker were tubers.

VOA SEEKS DISCARDS

The Volunteers of America has numerous requests for your discarded school clothing. The school bells ring for less fortunate boys and girls, too. They also have outgrown their shoes and dresses and snowsuits. But there are no new ones, unless yours can be passed around.

A telephone call to CA. 4-5665 will bring a truck to your door to take the clothing along with your discarded newspapers and magazines.

WE'RE PROUD OF THE 'GATEWAY' JUBILEE

That's what we like about living on the Hilltop—the fact that cooperation is the keynote of the community's existence. This fact is exemplified in the approaching "Gateway West Jubilee," set for Sept. 23-24.

It could have been primarily New Rome and other points west of the Columbus corporation limits celebration since the affair will celebrate the completion of the new section of U.S. 40 between Columbus and New Rome. Mayor D. J. Kuns of New Rome, president of the West Franklin County Associations, Inc., however, saw a real opportunity for participation by the entire great area which will be benefited by the project.

Everyone contacted became enthusiastic. Not only the membership of the WFCA—made up of Hilltop, West Side and New Rome business and service organizations—jumped on the bandwagon, but almost every merchant, numerous church groups, and non-member organizations joined in the plan.

It was decided early that any profit accruing from the two-day event would go to the building fund of the local YMCA, thus benefiting the maximum number of community youths.

Planners have come up with a varied and attractive program, guaranteed to bring out a crowd. From the moment the ribbon is cut at the Phillippi-rd end of the new pavement to the conclusion of the affair, we're confident that participants will have a wonderful time celebrating this significant event on the more than a century old Cumberland Trail.

Lincoln Village and its developers, the Farm Bureau Insurance Co., are to be commended for their participation in offering the site of the new development's shopping center for the open air carnival plus a housing show, featuring the "Homes of Color." Adding variety to the housing end of the event will be the exciting "Parade of Homes" in Georgian Heights.

It's amazing and gratifying to see how much community goodwill can build up from 1.54 miles of concrete pavement.

Localites Express Varying Ideas On Columbus Bypass Of New Pike

The new multi-million dollar turnpike which is slated to stretch from Cincinnati to Cleveland has been a frequent topic of conversation lately. Below are the statements of several Hilltoppers we spoke to this week in response to this question: "Do you think it's a good idea for the new Cincinnati-Cleveland turnpike to by-pass Columbus?"

Robert J. Bailey, 549 S. Eureka-av, "I think so because one of the reasons for the turnpike is to decrease traffic. It should go a long way toward solving our traffic problem."

Mrs. Burris Campbell, 725 Josephine-av: "I don't think it should because it will probably make a decrease in Columbus business. If it went through here, Columbus would probably gain quite a bit of business and importance."

Mrs. J. F. Price, 526 Woodbury-av: "I most certainly do. We have enough traffic congestion without that too."

Paul H. Fray, 42 S. Huron-av: "I think it should by-pass Columbus at a reasonable distance. It certainly should not come through the city and disrupt our flow of traffic."

Mrs. Raymond P. Bauer, 133 N. Wayne-av: "We have talked about it quite a bit. I think it should by-pass Columbus because if it didn't it would probably take up a lot of property, perhaps residential areas, and cause a housing shortage."

HYMN FOR A HOUSEHOLD
Lord Christ, beneath Thy starry dome
We light this flickering lamp of home,
And where bewildering shadows throng
Uplift our prayer and evensong
Dost Thou, with heaven in Thy ken,
Seek still a dwelling place with men,
Wandering the world in ceaseless quest?
O Man of Nazareth, be our Guest!

Lord Christ, the bird his nest has found,
The fox is sheltered in his ground,
But dost Thou still this dark earth tread
And have no place to lay Thy head?
Shepherd of mortals, here behold
A little flock, a wayside fold
That wait Thy presence to be blest—
Dan Henderson

Under the title "Summer Drivers (Some Aren't!)" are a few well-chosen rules for driving, printed in a small pamphlet by National Safety Council: "It's summer time and the driving ain't easy. The roads are loaded in unshiny weather. Everybody wants to get out and go on vacation and other pleasure jaunts as well as necessary trips. Everybody includes some weird characters so keep a firm grip on your thoughts and emotions and steer clear of such as these: The chimpanzee-type character who sneers at you from any angle and quips "Simian Jail." Then there is the guy who is in such a hurry to get to the scene of an accident (his own) that he passes you at a dangerous spot, and the pestiferous pig who weaves through traffic in all the lanes, and the jerk who manages to keep other drivers jittery and traffic in low gear by his change-of-mind maneuvers on city streets. Then there are the sightseeing slowpoke, the wrong-lane turner, the sudden stopper, the honking heckler, the holiday-happy harebrain."

Mail—From Mrs. Florence Baker, Ball Hospital, Muncie, Indiana (to my favorite shutin): "I have a new, specially-built wheelchair. It was sent to me by the Mill Stream Chapter of the WLW Mail Bag Club of Findlay, Ohio." (Mrs. Baker recently had a leg amputated. If you would care to send her a card she would appreciate it, though she might not be able to acknowledge it. Have heard, indirectly, of the great good done by the WLW Mail Bag Club, but this is the first firsthand information I have received. The Club is to be congratulated and commended, as is our own Courage, Incorporated. Everybody in these parts knows about all the good Courage, Incorporated, does and has been doing since its inception) . . . From my self-styled "dirt farmer" friend in Thornville: "It is a good feeling when the last bushel of golden wheat and barley has splashed into the bin; when the muffled roar of the marching combines like the noise of battle, has been silenced. Or when the last bale of sun-sweet hay and gleaming straw has been piled up like nuggets in the treasury. Good, because we dirt farmers are the most intrepid gamblers of all time, and we have won again. We must be bold and fearless. We must have faith. Mostly we gamble with the weather and with prices. And we have a thousand little foes: the weevil, the web worm, the army worm, the spittle bug, the corn borer—and the starlings. Now the rains have come—just in time. How the green corn fields drank up the water! It was a sight to see. Did I hear them thank God in Heaven? I thought so."

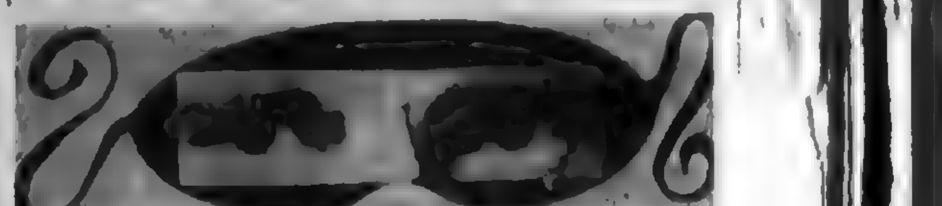
Like many others, I have always been interested in inscriptions on old tombstones. Here are a few from my collection. One in Old School Baptist Cemetery near Roxbury, N.Y., reads: "His death was produced by being spured in the head by a rooster." Another in a Pennsylvania churchyard: "Ellen Shannon, age 26 years. Died March 21, 1870, by the explosion of a lamp filled with R. E. Danforth's non-explosive fluid." One in a cemetery in New Jersey reads:

"The boiling coffee
Did on me fall,
And by it I was slain.
But Christ has bought
My liberty and in Him
I shall rise again."

One in an old cemetery in Kentucky:

"A horse did kick
Our child so fair.
We will mete him
Over in Heaven."



This one in Rhode Island: "William P. Rothwell, M.D., 1866-1939. This is on me, Bill."

From somewhere: If you look like your passport photograph, you need the trip . . . Some movies are so old they show bandits driving up to a bank and finding parking space . . . A girdle is an accessory after fat . . . "Really, if I refuse to marry you, will you commit suicide?" Asked the girl of her ardent suitor. "That," said the suitor with great dignity, "has been my customary procedure."

These Eyes —

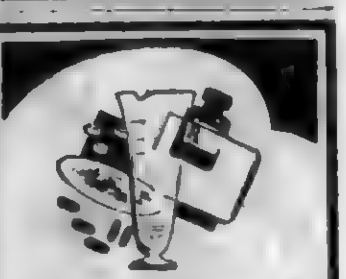
How Well Do You Know Them?

Did you catch the "elemental" clues on our masked friend last week? He is, of course, Ray Anderson, postmaster of the local post office.

Ray, who has been a Hilltopper for almost 30 years, is a West High graduate. He has been a post office employe for 17 years, and resides at 892 Wiltshire-rd with his wife, Gladys, and his two youngsters, Shirley and Joe.

Prior to his 17 years as a post office employe, Ray worked for the Central YMCA and the Herpich Drug Co.

He is now vice-chairman of the Hilltop YMCA and a member of Camp Chase Post 98 of the American Legion and Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church.



Ray Anderson

Although he thoroughly enjoys all sports and is an ardent fan of spectator games, he doesn't get much time to indulge in fishing and hunting.

Our masked "MD" this week is a man of boundless energy, yet almost always looks like he's playing. He has a charming wife, two young daughters, and is only slightly less in love with his work than he is with his little family.

He hangs out at City Hall a lot —yet he is not a politician. He works many long hard hours for a civic aggregation, and has a delusion that he plays excellent ping-pong.

YOUR HILLTOP BRANCH LIBRARY

Staff Thanks All Who Made Reading Club Huge Success

The entire staff of the Hilltop Branch Library wishes to thank all those who so graciously assisted with the Reading Club Party to make it a happy event for the 268 children who were awarded reading certificates.

Specifically, we wish to thank Hoge Memorial Church for the use of the banquet hall and Robert Schmidt and Richard Wilson of the YMCA for providing the projector for the films used. We also extend our gratitude to John Croy, manager of the A&P Store for a donation of cookies; and Columbus police department for special escort for the children to cross W. Broad-st.

Thanks are also due Miss Patty Gibson for leading group singing, and of course, the 45 mothers who helped keep everything on an even keel were the keystone of our program.

In charge of refreshments were Mrs. William Johannes, Mrs. John Croy, Mrs. Arthur Pemberton and Mrs. Edward Evans. It was indeed a pleasure to experience the fine cooperation of all who helped put the party across.

Harley E. Gebhart, 106 N. Warren-av, has an interesting exhibit of coins and first issue stamps of the United Nations, in the display case at the Hilltop Branch Library. A fine hobby and well worth a visit to your local Hilltop Library.

City Sets $13,000 Aside For Hilltop Storm Sewer

With plenty of precipitation headed our way, the city has taken action in providing at least one more storm sewer for the Hilltop, portions of which find themselves halfway under water and pretty soggy after a hard rain.

The director of public service is now advertising for bids for the construction of a new storm sewer outlet at Eldon and Ridge-avs, drains for sumps in certain alleys, and a sanitary sewer relief overflow.

A $13,000 sum has been set aside to pay the cost of these improvements.

German Folk Festival Set For Schiller Park Oct. 2

A German Folk Festival honoring Columbus immigrants who fought in the Mexican War of 1846 is being planned by the Franklin County Historical Society to be held in Schiller Park Saturday evening, Oct. 2, it was announced this week by festival Co-ordinator Les Cullman.

The presentation of this festival, similar and authentic in every way possible to the German festival given in 1848 for the returning veterans of the Mexican War, will also present the opportunity to unveil a bronze plaque to be fixed on a granite boulder in the park commemorating the services rendered by those same veterans who were mostly of German descent.

Several German societies, such as the Germania Club, Swiss Club and the Workmen's Singing Society, are co-operating in presenting this gala festival.

Although the complete program is to be worked out in the two future meetings scheduled for the festival planning committee, Cullman disclosed that a real German band would serve up music in the style of the old country and that Gilbert Dodge, research director of the Franklin County Historical Society, is expected to be appointed chairman of the festival.

Trivia

THE EDITOR'S DESK

STRAWS IN THE WIND: One of the slickest medium-size industrial buildings on the West Side will be the new Fruehauf Trailer Co., now going up under the guiding genius of the Collins Construction Co., Kansas City, Kas. We know that it will be the factory branch sales and service headquarters of Central Ohio, but we haven't been able to find out many of the details concerning size of staff and economic impact on the neighborhood. That's why we are writing this week and should be able to come up with the answers soon.

One of the morning treats I customarily enjoy will either have to be dispensed with or I'll have to get up earlier. Bob Geis, station director at WRFD, releases to us that the popular "Farm Sale Time," previously heard at 7:35 each morning, has been rescheduled for 6:45 a. m. to allow expansion of the show to a full 15 minutes. C. M. Hess, known as "Pop" to listeners, is the emcee.

JEALOUSY IN ACTION: Esther Weakley, author of our weekly column "In Passing" wrote a card to the boss man thanking him for the kind mention of her in his column. Heck, I think she's pretty nice, too. And I still can't figure how she can pack so much inspiration and good feeling into one column!

ALL'S NOT GOLD that sparkles, but it will certainly pay those localites who picked up "imitation stones" from the Hilltop Jewelers' bowlful of of 'em to take another look. Lou Klass, owner, tells us that Eleanor Sloat of Rome-Hilliards-rd is the latest to bring in a real diamond for free gold mounting. There are still three genuine diamonds, worth a lot of dough in any man's language, floating around—their owners apparently unaware of their value. Deadline for free mounting is Oct. 1.

ENJOYING their vacation "to the last drop" were the Maxwells of 660 S. Eureka-av. Mr. and Mrs. Bud Maxwell and daughters Drinda and Donna only recently returned from what they described as "a wonderful time" in Sheboygan, Mich.

BARKING DOGS DON'T BITE, the old saying goes, but they sure annoy. We heard several complaints of the problem in the 600 block of S. Eureka, but we're afraid to investigate further. Maybe the offending canines don't know or appreciate the old saying. The same general neighborhood apparently is in the grips of a bird and pigeon invasion. "Washing the car is a waste of time," one outraged resident declared. How about it? Are we going to let the area go to the dogs while the birds feather their nests?

SWEET REVENGE: Hilltop Kiwanians gloated in their last bulletin about the shellacking their team was able to hand the Hilltop Lions in the Old Timers Softball League. "After the dunking you got in the pond (recent tug-o-war epic at the bean dinner), it would have been a major catastrophe to have lost to them."

A ROAR OF APPROBATION (it's a clean word; I looked it up) was given in the Hilltop Lions' bulletin when it congratulated Lion Jim Myers on his recent promotion to publicity director of Denison University.

TO THE POINT: We'll have to credit the late H. G. Wells with the following 10-word definition of democracy—one worthy of memory by everyone:

"Everyone has the best chance of being his best self."

This is democracy—the exact opposite of most of the world's isms.

Four Hilltoppers, students in the Twilight School or part-time day students in the college of arts and sciences at Ohio State University, achieved straight "A" grades during the fall quarter, it was announced recently by Dayton E. Heckman, secretary of the college.

The local students are Betty L. Jaycox, 655 S. Eureka-av; Mary Lorimer, 890 Woodbury-av; Charlotte M. Patterson, 497 Belvidere-av; and Anna L. Velicka, 645 S. Harris-av.

In addition, three Hilltoppers enrolled in the Twilight School or part-time day students in the college of education at Ohio State University who received straight "A" grades during the spring quarter were Leonida De-Masc Antalis, 2903 Sullivant-av; Anna L. Velicka, 645 S. Harris-av; and Alta R. Moore Wisner, 2017 Wickiow-rd.

The average house in our land is 29 years old.

Van Schoik Farms By Himself 258 Acres Author Recalls It Took 'Half Dozen' To Operate

By Louise Pohlmann

At No. 1980 Alton and Darby-rd, four miles southwest of Hilliards, in a stately red brick house built in the 1880's and situated almost in the exact center of a 258-acre farm lives a young man who never intended to be a farmer. But for the political aspirations of his father, Howard Van Schoik says, he probably would have been a government clerk or some sort of business worker in a city.

Howard VanSchoik

Now 27, Van Schoik was not robust as a child and had never been considered "farmer material." He never belonged to a 4-H club, was graduated from Hilliards High School without having taken vocational agriculture training, and immediately after graduation in 1945, entered the armed services. He spent 18 months at Ft. Knox, receiving his honorable discharge with the rank of sergeant.

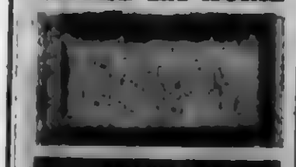
Soon after, he entered business college with a commercial career in mind. His father, C. W. Van Schoik, now chief of the division of food and dairying of the Ohio Department of Agriculture, was farming the land now rented by Howard, and asked the son to take over the farm work while he campaigned for public office. Giving up his personal plans for a supposedly short time, he became fascinated with the problems and detail of modern farming and learned very quickly that he was capable of meeting the demands of farm life.

Although the elder Van Schoik was unsuccessful in the political effort which placed Howard on the farm, he was drawn into public service by an appointment by Governor Lausche to his present position. This took him out of farming and cleared the way for the son to remain on the farm.

The entire job of tilling the 240 acres in cultivation is done by Van Schoik alone, using the latest in mechanical equipment. Only in harvest and haying does he find it necessary to employ outside help. He follows a four-year rotation, the farm being divided as nearly as possible into four 60 acre fields, which had been planted to corn, wheat, soybeans, and hay until this year, when the corn allotment program required cutting the 60 down to 50 acres. Next year, Van Schoik says, he will be able to seed only 38 acres to wheat and under the cross-compliance rule in effect, he will have to readjust his acreage and throw more ground into grass.

Asked about his views on the farm controls program, Van Schoik said he believes some controls are necessary but he feels that they should be limited to the big ranch operators, pointing out that the recent wheat allotment was strongly voted down in Ohio, Pennsylvania and other eastern states where farms average under 200 acres, and it was approved by the overwhelmingly favorable vote of the big operators out West, whose mass production of single crops swells the surpluses annually.

At present the only livestock on the farm are 100 head of sheep headed by purebred Shropshire sires, the ewes being Western cross-breds, a combination which Van Schoik says produces a good all round animal for both wool and meat production. Van Schoik expects he will have to expand his livestock operations in the near future, because of the reduction in his grain and increase in grass acreage compelled by the government controls program.



The average reader may not be impressed by this young man farming alone the whole 258 acres, which he rents from J. I. Falconer, retired professor of rural economics at Ohio State University. But the writer, who was born on this farm, recalls that her father and another tenant and the then owner, the late James W. Claver, divided among them the operations with horsepower, and each had from one to three helpers, either hired men or sons of the family.

Those where the days when farm mechanization was in its infancy; it took three or four horses to pull the early grain "binders", which cut and bound the standing crop into sheaves while a crew of men walked behind the machine and set up shocks of grain across the fields. Other harvesting operations were similarly cumbersome and required many hands for each detail.

But, a good hired man could then be had for around $10 a month in winter and $15 a month in summer, with lodgings, meals, and laundry. Today, the monthly wages of 50 years ago just about pay for an eight-hour day, as against dawn to dark and often before and after in the "good old days," and such are these "decadent times" that one alim young man does all these things and does them better than from six to a dozen were then able to accomplish.

NEWS OF HILLIARDS

F. H. McMillen Hardware, Longtime Local Firm, Taken Over By C. Rife

By Louise Pohlmann
FR. 8-4186

With the purchase last week of the business known since 1922 as the F. H. McMillen Hardware Company, a popular former Hilliards business man comes back home.

Chester Rife, formerly associated with Wuerth Brothers Grocery (now operated as the Main Super Market by George Holiday), is a man not old in years but well seasoned in merchandising. Since leaving Hilliards he operated a general department store in Linden and more recently was connected with Rife's Market in Columbus, from which latter business he withdrew a short time ago.

Last week agreement was reached with the McMillens whereby Rife takes over the oldest hardware and appliance establishment in Hilliards. Formal opening under new management and a new name, to be known as Rife's Hardware and Appliance Store, has been set for Sept. 17.

Mr. and Mrs. McMillen, who have conducted the establishment for more than 30 years, will continue to be on hand for the time being while the new owner becomes familiar with the layout and organization of the store.

Mrs. Fay Ridenour, who has been with the McMillens for three years, is enjoying a well-earned vacation this week and upon her return will return to work for Rife in her accustomed capacity.

HILLIARDS BOARD OF PUBLIC AFFAIRS met Monday evening, Aug. 16, to consider various matters related to village administration.

The E. B. Taylor Co. of Columbus was granted permission to submit an estimate for heating and renovationg the water storage tank and the Board voted to advertise for bids for putting down the new well to ensure adequate water supply for the village.

The board also directed that all future applications for permits for sewer and water taps shall be obtained from the clerk, Jeanne Felspauch, who will issue the necessary forms and collect the fees.

The village council will hold its next regular meeting Aug. 30.

RAY DELLINGER, vice-president of the Franklin County Agricultural Society, is recovering at his home from painful injuries sustained early last week when exercising a bull at the farm.

Dellinger and a helper were leading the animal, which has always been gentle, down the driveway when he abruptly swung his head toward his owner, causing painful horn burns the length of the leg and throwing him backward onto a piece of wood.

Dellinger was the "Farmer of the Week" in last week's issue of the Hilltop Record.

MAYOR EDWARD PATTERson expressed pleasure this week in the growing residential population of the town, at the same time indicating that it takes a lot of thought, planning and action to keep abreast of all developments.

Two new houses are well under way in the new Mary K. Conklin subdivision with several others projected. In the Spears Addition, at the farthest easterly development, three new houses on Cemetery-rd are going up, water taps having just been made. Fifteen more houses are expected to be built in the same addition, fronting on Leap-rd.

Sewer construction is proceeding in all areas to provide sanitary facilities to new homes.

Mayor Patterson noted further that Hilliards has long since graduated from its early status of the town the farmers move to after they retire, pointing out that nearly all the homes in the new developments are occupied by young couples putting down roots here, raising new families and establishing new generations.

All of which pleasant prospect compensates for the headaches and occasional frustrations of the men charged with steering the village "Ship of State."

PROVIDING FOR HOUSING, supplying, servicing, schooling and supporting a growing population reaches also into the field of the church, it became known this week on announcement that the building committee of Hilliards Methodist Church held a meeting Sunday evening with an architect to consider plans for a new and larger church edifice.

The hope that the new church may be located in one of the outlying areas of the village was expressed, in view of traffic congestion in the downtown section and need for adequate parking and room for recreational pursuits the church may desire to sponsor.

Ralph Woodin is chairman of the building committee.

Stone and redwood make a very glamorous facing on this spreading ranch type home which is connected to the ornately faced garage by a varnished redwood breezeway. The breezeway and garage were designed and built by VanGastle as well as the lush green landscape.

Home of the Week

Shining white enamel against the grain of plywood walls makes for a bright and unique appearance. The darker wooden walls are a refreshing change from the conventional white or cream that usually adorns this frequently-used room, however, it still remains bright and dazzling due to the smooth uninterrupted expanse of white enameled cabinets.

Bungalow Type Home Of Van Gastles Features Varnished Redwood Panels

The predominant colors of green, chartreuse and gray blend in a pleasing effect with the dark mahogany furniture against the grain and gentle hue of the marine plywood walls of the living room.

The bedroom, with its predominant shades of rose and pink against the becoming texture of marine plywood, is furnished with an attractive suite of blond oak which affords simplicity of line and sturdiness as well as beauty of design.

By Grace Durflinger

This week we had the pleasure of visiting the three-year-old bungalow-type home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Van Gastle, 2119 Union av. The home, stunning enough to stop traffic (and it frequently does) is of varnished redwood paneling and stone.

An exterior feature of the lovely dwelling is the uniquely decorated garage to the west, faced with the same material. A varnished redwood breezeway connects the two structures.

The home is set upon two lots covered with a lush carpet of green grass, dotted with numerous spreading evergreen shrubs. Colorful plants such as balsams, four o'clocks, asters and peonies enhance the lawn.

The breezeway, garage and landscaping were conceived and executed by Mr. Van Gastle, who is the owner of the Crawford Garage Door Co. He is especially proud of the electronically controlled garage door, which he installed himself.

All interior walls of the home are completely paneled in marine plywood. By not confining herself to any particular period of furnishings, Mrs. Van Gastle has achieved an air of charming informality.

Basic colors utilized in the comfortable living room are chartreuse, green and gray. A gray, carved pile carpet covers the mottled gray asphalt tile floor. Chartreuse draw-drapes fall in a soft line about the attractive picture window, which gives an enhancing depth and considerable natural light to the room. The drapes are of heavy cotton with a herringbone design.

A pair of chartreuse barrel-back occasional chairs are placed on either side of the picture window, while a three-tiered mahogany table in the center displays an attractive lamp, which is encircled by a luxuriously growing philodendron vine.

A particularly unique television light, made of a huge polished conch shell, banked with colorful and unusual shells and coral from the Florida beaches, is a souvenir of a trip the Van Gastles made to St. Petersburg.

Another interesting marine highlight of the room is the two well-stocked fish aquariums placed at one end of the nubby green and black sofa. Interesting conversational pieces, the aquariums also constitute the avidly-followed hobby of Mr. Van Gastle.

Tenants of the underwater wonderlands are Blue Moons, Black Tetras, Blue Gouramies, Orange Moon, Angel Fish, Zebra Fish, Bettas and a Scavenger. In effect, these finny friends add an air of constant motion and beauty to the living room atmosphere.

Adjacent to the living room is the conveniently and cleverly furnished kitchen of Mrs. Van Gastle. An outstanding feature of the room is the stainless steel, white enameled cabinets over the huge double sink. They lend an air of continuity by virtue of the fact that no handles are visible. The cabinets are opened by a gentle pressure at the bottom.

The floor is of mottled red and cream asphalt tile. Prominent in the kitchen is an especially designed infant chair-table. Its mottled gray formica exterior matches the chrome and formica dinette table. Chairs of the set are of matching gray leatherette with red trim.

This well-equipped workroom also features an electric garbage disposal unit as well as telephone plugs and mercury light switches. The latter modern conveniences are found in every room of the house, including bathroom, garage and breezeway.

Located off the hallway leading from the living room to the bedrooms is the bathroom, attractively decorated in a gray and pink motif. The gray asphalt tile floor is interspersed with black to make a clever design. Throw rugs and matching accessories are pink, while the plastic shower curtains feature a tropical design on a pink background.

The nursery for 13-month-old Robert Van Gastle, Jr., who was napping at the time of our visit, combines soft blue walls and throw rugs with white ruffled organdy curtains. In addition, many pieces of the mahogany suite display soft, cuddly stuffed animals completing a decor sure to please any young gentleman.

The master bedroom is floored with the same mottled gray asphalt tile found in the living room. Pink shag rugs are placed among the blond oak furnishings, which include a large nine-drawer double dresser with full-width mirror, a roomy chest of drawers, an attractive bed with pink and white chenille spread, and a sturdy bedside table, featuring a lower drawer and a receded shelf which places such articles as a humidor, clock radio and bedside lamp within easy reach. The heavy cotton draw drapes are of a dusty rose in a herringbone pattern.

A utility room completes the house proper and contains the oil heater which, the Van Gastles tell us, maintains a comfortable level of heat during chilly days. An automatic washer and dryer in the same room makes the customary Blue Monday "trial" a comparatively simple and pleasurable task.

The breezeway and garage designed and built by Mr. Van Gastle complete this lovely home.

Access to the breezeway from the living room is made possible by a glass jalousie door. The walls and ceiling are of varnished redwood rising from a painted concrete floor. In this inviting spot, the hospitable Van Gastles enjoy frequent evenings of social games with their many friends.

The soft rolling green texture of the spacious lawn makes an ideal "playground" for the two older Van Gastle children, Barbara, 10, and Deborah, 6.

Both Van Gastles have lived in Columbus nearly all their lives and have made the Hilltop their home since their marriage.

Mr. Van Gastle is a member of many organizations, including Masons, Moose, Columbus Homebuilders Association and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He is an avid amateur photographer, printing and developing his own pictures.

Mrs. Van Gastle, whose favorite hobby is dancing, informs us that her husband also enjoys playing the guitar and musical saw, to the delight of his family.

This view of just one corner of the breezeway with its varnished redwood walls, fresh and colorful flowers and gaily striped couch, bespeaks its own merits as a cool and comfortable spot in which to entertain friends.

A close-up view of the living room aquarium, such as many an interested visitor takes, reveals a fairy world of marine wonders. When the VanGastles first acquired their colorful finny friends they spent many hours watching their interesting and graceful maneuvers and are now both pleased and amused when visitors do so.

Spacious Living Rooms Are Popular

No living room as conceived by the present-day architect can be too large, because the living room of a house should be the most spacious room. Bedrooms need not be large, but the big living room that answers the dual purpose of dining and living seems to be taking hold throughout the country and becoming more popular.

In many of the older houses there are two rooms at the front of the house; one was for formal functions and the other for entertainment of informal callers and for use of the family. Why not convert these two rooms into one large room and make a real living room? Families today are more closely welded and the social activities are, as a rule, participated in by all members of the family.

SUGAR PROTECTS WALLS

A new product known as allyl sucrose, which has been developed from sugar by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, is used as a finish for furniture, walls, woodwork and other interior surfaces and will withstand marking by water, heat, alcohol, acids and grease.

BUILT-IN FURNITURE

Built-in book shelves, closets and cabinets are becoming more popular. Not only are they added conveniences but they are additional decoration when painted to harmonize with walls or woodwork. Built-in accessories in unfinished furniture may be found in most of the large stores in the country. They may be built into the home just as they come from the store and refinished at a later date.

Table Settings For Four Found Practical

Today, when small homes are usual, the bride's treasured gifts of fine china and silver need not be in dozens or even half-dozens.

A smart southern store has found that table settings for four are practical. If it is a small home, these are enough to start the bride off in her first home and as she acquires a larger one, she can add to her table requirements. This means better china, glass and silver can be chosen, and alternate settings planned to bring variety to her china closet.

Rubber Sink Widgets Aid Housewife Hints On Summer

Housewives find that the rubber sink-faucet widget which turns a spray of water on vegetables, dishes or sink is a great convenience when one is wanting to get things done.

Where the sink faucet combines the hot and cold water, it is particularly useful; where the faucets are separate, have a widget for each one. Hot spray may be used on the dishes; cold spray on the vegetables.

TIPS ON LIGHTING

According to the United States Department of Agriculture, it is more economical to buy one light bulb of high wattage than several bulbs of low wattage. Not only is the initial cost less, but one bulb of high wattage actually supplies more light than several small ones that total to the same wattage.

Plan Closet Shelves To Fit Purpose

Closets should be compact!

Ofttimes the home owner is lured by the large closet, which is actually not such a good place in which to store clothing or bedding. The actual use of the space for which the closet is to be used should be studied and the shelves carefully laid out so it can be adapted to the use for which the closet is designed.

It is better to have a well designed and well-thought-out closet with shelves and hanging rods—with the actual closet space smaller in size — than have a large, wasteful space in which the shelves are not well arranged.

HINTS ON AIR CONDITIONING

A simple method of improving the air-condition in a home during the summer is quite practical with little or no expenditure of money. Use the cooler air from the basement, thereby tempering the summer heat in the house. By opening the windows or the louvres in the attic or one window on the second floor, and opening the fire box door of the furnace, there will be a constant flow of cool basement air to the upper rooms.

Even after a very successful Summer Fun Club Awards Night, the Y boys and girls are enjoying special program events. There are several events scheduled before the Y starts its fall program. Speaking of fall, it won't be long before the Gra-Y clubs will be organized and starting to play touch football. This league is always a highlight of the fall Gra-Y activities.

On Sept. 17 the Indian Maidens will be officially inducted at the South Side Y Park. The Indian Guide Dance team and Big Braves Watts, Ruoff, Phillips and Greshel will induct the Indian Maidens.

Mother and daughters are also planning to remain overnight and give the Little Princesses the opportunity to cook breakfast outdoors.

All Y youth members will want to check the Y office for the new fall schedule of events. There will be boys and girls craft classes, Indian dancing, free movies, and Saturday afternoon swims for the boys. There are also many special events scheduled throughout the winter months, so be sure to call the Y to check on these events.

Sept. 20-29 is the annual Hilltop YMCA membership enrollment. Approximately 300 workers will solicit the Hilltop, giving all the youth and adults an opportunity to join the Y. This is a membership enrollment for youth and adults who are interested in a continuation of the Y program within the Hilltop Community.

Y sure—join today!

today's modern homes, miniature displays of modern kitchens and home laundries, and numerous other interesting and entertaining exhibits.

A one-story type factory containing over two million square feet of working area, the new appliance plant will eventually employ between six and seven thousand people, and will be used entirely for the production of major appliances—having a production capacity of approximately 4,000 a day.

Construction of the new plant was begun in September, 1952, and was prompted largely by the Division's having tripled its sales volume in the previous ten-year period. In addition to this sales increase, the Division has added 18 new products to its lines of major appliances, portable appliances, and refrigeration specialties since the end of World War II.

Although it is not the largest plant owned by Westinghouse, the new appliance plant on the Hilltop is the largest the corporation has ever built. Located on a 315-acre site just outside the city of Columbus in Franklin Township, it was designed and built for the company by Ebasco Services, Inc., of New York.

Extending almost half-a-mile in length, the factory building contains four manufacturing aisles, each 200 feet wide and approximately 1500 feet long. These aisles lead in a straight-line production pattern to the warehouse area which has a storage capacity of 100,000 major appliances. The two-story office building extends from the plant in a T pattern, and is highlighted by an impressive entrance of marble and stone.

Approximately six miles of railroad siding serve the plant at eight points, seven of the tracks lead indoors where 40 freight cars can be loaded conveniently at one time, sheltered from bad weather. When the plant is operating at maximum production capacity, 60 carloads of raw materials will be shipped in daily, and 90 carloads of finished appliances will roll out. Also serving the plant are 41 indoor truck docks. Each dock is provided with an automatic leveler that quickly drops into place for loading regardless of truck size.

Mechanized to provide the maximum in automatic materials handling, the new Westinghouse plant is said to be second to no other appliance plant in the world in efficiency and ease of operation. Carrying materials wherever they are needed throughout the plant, there are 51 separate conveyor systems stretching a total of 37 miles. A total of 65 electric trucks also are used throughout the plant, chiefly in warehousing.

The new plant began production on Nov. 12, 1953. Gradually, as more of the refrigeration production is moved from the Mansfield plant, production will be increased until the plant is eventually producing all Westinghouse refrigerators and freezers.

More Words, More Brains?

Aptitude Tester Johnson O'Connor tells us that word-building is definitely worth-while. In the vocabulary tests given to a select group, high school freshmen missed 75 words out of 150, professors 8, and successful businessmen 7.

City Should Take Action To Keep Local Airport

We understand that some action will be taken very soon regarding the future of the Sullivant Avenue Airport. It is being offered to the city for continued use as a port for small planes or it will become a part of the rapidly expanding home development area west of the city.

In view of the fact that Port Columbus can take no more small planes at present it would appear that Columbus has a real opportunity for small private and commercial plane traffic development if such a port as that on Sullivant Avenue is made available. It is important that the city take some immediate steps to maintain this property.

Congratulations!

Sincere congratulations are in order to the First Federal Savings & Loan Association on the opening of their fine new building at Warren and Broad last Saturday.

Over 7000 adults and 2000 youngsters were on hand during the day to visit the new building.

This strong financial institution, founded on the Hilltop many years ago, has continued to keep in step with the rapid growth of the community and city and today stands symbolic of the fine community it serves.

West Parking Meters?

Again the city is asking what it can do about helping the parking situation on the Hilltop and poses the question "Why not install parking meters?".

The Record will appreciate comments from readers on what they think should be done. Should we have parking meters?

COURT RULES TOWNSHIP MUST PAY FOR RESERVE

Developer Edward A. Tonti was sticking to his guns late Tuesday evening to the effect that Franklin Township must pay $10,000 to purchase a one-foot reserve along the northern edge of the site of both the new township high school and elementary school.

And without this land, or permission to cross it with utility lines, the township can not have water or sewage for the two schools. Also no entrances or exits may be cut into the 1068-foot strip.

Legality of the claim of Tonti, developer of the nearby Rosary Addition, that he must receive "asking price" for the reserve strip was upheld Monday by Co. Prosecutor Kearns.

Kearns said the township board of education must either obtain the strip by outright purchase or seek appropriation through court action.

The foot-reserve fuss between the school board and Tonti revolves about the legal obligation of the board to reimburse the developer for improving the area with utilities and roads.

Tonti has stipulated the school's share to be $17,000 although he said he would settle for $10,000. The board, in turn, said Tonti's original figure was $1500 which is denied by the developer.

The school board is building an elementary school at the Briggs and Demorest-rds intersection. A high school also will be built at the site. It is claimed the lack of utilities will handicap the building program.

The opinion, prepared by J. Baxter Evans, prosecutor's assistant, noted the possibility of an agreement being reached between the parties. The alternatives are to purchase the strip or appropriate a right of way to extend the sanitary sewers and water lines.

Hilltop Attorney Heads Campaign Of Judge Bryant

Robert M. Draper, well-known Hilltop attorney and for 12 years a member of the Columbus board of education, will serve as chairman of the campaign committee working for the election of Common Pleas Judge William C. Bryant to succeed himself.

Following the death of Judge R. King, early in 1953, Gov Frank J. Lausche appointed Judge Bryant to fill the vacancy. He is a candidate for the unexpired term ending Jan. 1, 1957.

Draper who lives at 104 S. Westmoor-av, was elected to the board of education in 1939 and served continuously until Jan. 1, 1952. He was twice elected president of the board in 1941 and 1947. In 1948, Draper was nominated for Congress and in 1952, he was elected a delegate to the Democratic national convention.

In addition to his own three successful campaigns, Draper directed the successful campaigns of the late J. Arthur Yoder for clerk of Common Pleas Court and of the late Judge Harold L. Kime for Common Pleas Court.

Methodists Will Complete Their Westgate Bldg.

Plans for completion of Westgate Methodist Church, 565 S. Brinker-av, were presented by Walter Cochran, chairman of the building committee, to a special congregational meeting of the church on Sunday, Aug. 29, following the morning worship service.

In his presentation, Cochran stated that it had been the aim of the building committee to provide in the completed church adequate facilities for workshop, religious education, and fellowship. He pointed out how these aims had been met by taking the congregation on an imaginary tour of the new structure, using the architect's blue prints as a starting point.

Special features of the "tour" included the following:

The sanctuary, seating approximately 500 and featuring stained glass picture windows throughout; a chapel for meditation and prayer; educational facilities for nursery, kindergarten, primary junior, youth, and adult departments of the church school; a church parlor with attached kitchenette; youth parlor, and officers for the pastor, church secretary, and the church school.

Construction on the Indiana limestone exterior walls is expected to begin sometime during September, depending on the date of delivery of materials, according to Richard W. Meyer, construction superintendent hired for the job.

ANTIQUE CARS ARE SOUGHT

Edgar G. Planck, who has drawn the fascinating but painstakingly difficult job of rounding up antique automobiles for the Gateway West Jubilee Parade on Sept. 23, this week broadcast an appeal for assistance.

He asked any and all who own or know owners of autos falling into the "vintage" classification to telephone him at RA. 8461 or to give the information to the Record, RA. 1125.

Changing Times Is Theme Of Jubilee

Ox carts, prairie schooners, horses and buggies, automobiles of an early era as well as modern means of transportation will be features of the parade to be held on Thursday, Sept. 23, to open the two-day Gateway West Jubilee.

The event will mark the opening of the new stretch of highway between New Rome and Philadelphi, with the focal point of the celebration at Murry Hill-rd and W. Broad-st in Lincoln Village, site of the proposed Lincoln Village shopping center, where a reviewing stand and carnival attractions will be located.

Participating in the parade, according to Knute Ritzman, chairman of that phase of the affair, will be service clubs, American Legion posts, schools, civic groups, merchants, etc.

"It is our hope to make the parade a spectacle that will long be remembered," Mr. Ritzman said. "Members of the committee have made elaborate plans, but need much help in bringing them to a successful conclusion.

Those who can supply floats or any other type of vehicle for the parade are asked to contact Mr. Ritzman by phoning him at FR-8-5906.

WILL LEAVE FT. RILEY

Two Hilltop soldiers are scheduled to leave Fort Riley, Kan., early in September for armored gunnery training at Camp Irwin, Calif.

They are Pfc. Jerry W. Imes, 21, son of Mrs. Edna M. Imes, 382 S. Chase-av, a tank commander, and Pfc. Rush F. Duty, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Duty, 215 S. Harris-av, a gunner.

Both are members of the 86th Infantry Regiment's Tank Company, which is to remain at the Mojave Desert post until mid-October, practicing with 90-mm. guns, mechanized flame throwers, and armored machine guns.

SCHOOL DAZE START FOR YOUTH SEPT. 8

and tale,
we will agree for all who have enjoyed summer, but the point of this story is that the first day of school for most will be Wednesday, Sept. 8, the very middle of next week, to be exact.

The above applies to Columbus public schools, with parochial elementary and county schools generally opening on Sept. 7 for a half-day session only.

Malicious Youths Destroying 86-Yr. Old House On N. Hague

Teen-age hoodlums and vandals with rumorode undertones of a sordid love-nest.

On the Hilltop? Nonsense! That's what we said, too, until the Record investigated reports of doings at the "haunted house" at 657 N. Hague-av.

Co-owner Leigh Tom, 3543 Alberta-st, showed us how the once-lovely home that has been in his family for 88 years, has been so desecrated as to make it fit only for the wreckers.

The "haunted" story got started about a year ago after the last residents moved. Tom theorizes that Hilltop boys ranging in age from 14 through 16 and numbering as many as 60 have deliberately planned the destruction over a period of months.

Otherwise, he says, how could the youths have managed such diabolic and difficult tasks as pulling a mantel from a fireplace and throwing the top of the 40-foot well into the well, making the hole a definite and deadly hazard.

So far, Tom has obtained the names of about 30 of the delinquent youths and has contacted most of the parents or talked to the boys themselves. Most of the parents indicated disbelief that their sons could be involved.

From some of the youths, Tom has learned that an unstairs room has been utilized as a clandestine lovers' nest for older girls and boys.

Every door in the house has been splintered. Not one window remains, all the bannister rungs have been kicked out. In fact, the word "mess" does not amply describe the wreckage.

Tom has been told by sheriff's deputies that he may prefer charges against the boys.

"I don't want to," he told the Record. "I would prefer that parents advise their youngsters of the danger and the criminality of trespassing with malicious intent on the old family homestead."

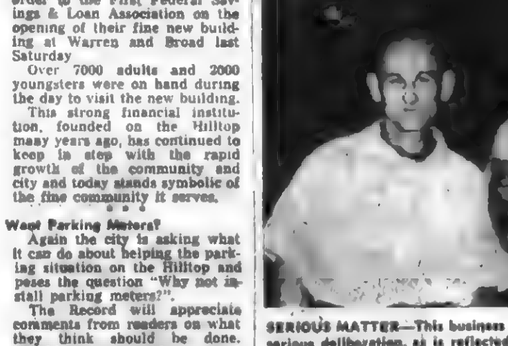
Reader Worried Over Neighbor's Land Causing Drainage Problem

Dear Mr. Fixit:

Unless I'm very much mistaken there is a law forbidding a man from hauling dirt in on his land, to the point where he is higher than his neighbors — thus shedding his drainage over onto his neighbors to the side of him, or those in back of him.

Where such a build-up is in the process of taking place, what is the proper procedure to put a stop to it?

Where the build-up has already taken place, what is the proper procedure to correct the condition?



Mr. Fixit Says: "I suggest that you write to William H. Lehman, chief building inspector, in care of city hall. Be sure to include every minute detail in your particular case of which you have knowledge. If he can find no law or ordinance forbidding such an act, I suggest you go to the owner of the property in question and acquaint him with the problem he is causing. You would undoubtedly be able to settle the problem in court, but be sure to check with the above authority to be sure of your grounds."

Several complaints were received this week concerning traffic. They included such things as cars overshooting the dead end at Mound-st and making noise pulling into the private driveway there, too much traffic and too many speedsters at Whitehead and Salisbury where one subscriber suggests a traffic light be placed, and too many trucks and speedsters on Hague-av.

Mr. Fixit Says: "I'm sorry to find that nothing can be done about the cars overshooting the dead end at Mound-st, since a sign has been erected there in plain view of motorists.

"As to the speeding and trucks, I can only suggest that anyone having such a complaint call Captain Smith of the Traffic Bureau in the Police Department. He will place radar equipment there to ascertain the need for speed limit signs. To get action on the erection of a traffic light, a petition containing at least 25 names of residents of the area must be sent to the traffic commission at city hall.

"Trucks owned by a Columbus firm have street privileges, out-of-town trucks are required to keep to the highways unless they are making a local delivery.

WANTON VANDALISM is the only term to apply to destruction wrought by teen-agers at 657 N. Hague-av. Note the once beautiful fireplace and mantel.

TICKETS FOR WEST'S PREVIEW GAME GO ON SALE SEPT. 7

Tickets for the fourth annual preview football game of West High, North, Arlington, and Grandview, which will be held this year at North on Sept. 10, will go on sale at a number of locations on the Hilltop on Sept. 7.

Tickets for children and adults, costing 50 cents each, will be on sale at West; Sensenbrenner's Stationery, 2467 W. Broad-st; Stephen's Pharmacy, 3089 W. Broad-st; Goodwin's Pharmacy, 2272 Sullivant-av; and Spang's Pharmacy, 3785 Sullivant-av; wherever the tickets are purchased, all the money goes to West. Each of the four teams will play two quarters of eight minutes apiece, with the results not counting against city and state season records.

HIGH THERE—Lots of hard work went into the Sullivant Avenue Civic Association's initial venture last week, the sponsorship of a fish fry to benefit the Hilltop Athletic Club. Shown working on a utility pole are John Hughes (high man); (L-R) Joe Neff, Sgt. Pat Montenaro of the juvenile division of the city police force, and Mel Rinehart.

Slaughterhouse Seems To Have Won Zone Fight

David C. Gochenour, operator of a combination slaughterhouse and fresh meat store at 1038 Harrisburg-pk since 1945, apparently had won the long fight with the Willson Heights Civic Association last week.

However, on Tuesday, Elwood L. Carpenter, attorney for the civic group, asked that the decision in favor of the slaughterhouse by the county rural zoning board be brought before the rural zoning board of appeals.

O. C. Miller, chief enforcement officer in rural zoning, ruled Monday that the slaughterhouse is in accordance with "non-conforming" use zoning of the area.

"Based upon affidavits and statements and upon personal investigation, it is my determination that the property was used in the business of selling groceries and meats, and killing of animals, before and as of the effective date of the zoning resolution in the area," Miller said.

Members of the Willson Heights Civic Association have waged a battle since last February to rid the area of the slaughterhouse, located in a residential section which includes many homes in the $20,000-to-$25,000 class.

The civic association claims the slaughterhouse was established after the rural zoning law went into effect.

In all the years of operation, Gochenour points out, he has never been cited for sanitary reasons.

Harley Sapp Buys Foodtown Store

Harley Sapp

Sale of Trott's Foodtown, 2976 W. Broad-st, at Binns-blvd, to Harley Sapp, was announced this week.

Sapp, who lives with his family at 311 S. Roys-av, is well known to Hilltoppers, having been in the grocery business in this community for over 29 years.

He has been associated with the Trott organization for several years and has had a part interest in the [illegible].

He stated this week that the store will continue to be affiliated with the Foodtown group and the firm will now be known as Sapp's Foodtown.

They will continue to operate their own bakery and regular specials will be advertised weekly in The Hilltop Record.

COULD HAVE SOLD DOZEN!

Mrs. Hugh Fletcher wasn't familiar with the "want-ad way" of selling things and she was a little doubtful when she placed the following ad in the classified columns of this newspaper last week:

BABY BED, complete, in good condition. RA. 3782.

The telephone calls started pouring in first thing Thursday and she is confident she could have sold at least a dozen.

Unlike Aesop's Fables, where the point of the story generally is some human foible, we invite you to "cash in" by observing the moral in this real-life story: "It pays to advertise the want-ad way." Your telephone call to RA. 1125 or HI. 4-9282 will place your salesmessage in the buying hands of 32,000 local families.

PLAN FOR KIDS DAY—Left to right are Bill Coulthard, president of the West Franklin County Kiwanis Club; W. L. Beirnell of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club; Col. Herbert A. McDaniel, Jr., commander of Lockbourne Air Force Base; Paul Noblitt, of the West Franklin County Kiwanis Club and chairman of the boys and girls committee. They are shown in a lounge at Lockbourne AFB on last Tuesday planning for the local observance of National Kids Day. All Kiwanis Clubs in the 9th district are cooperating in the event, which will be staged for some 10,000 kids on Sept. 18 at Lockbourne AFB. 850 Kids Resume Classes In Prairie Twp. Sept. 7

Approximately 850 children will resume classes in Prairie Township schools at 8:45 a. m. next Tuesday, Sept. 7. With the opening of the new Lincoln Village School, transportation schedules will be slightly revised.

Children living in Lincoln Village will walk to Lincoln Village School. Village children who attend Prairie School will board buses at Lincoln School to ride to Prairie School. Children living in Garden Heights will ride the same buses as last year. These buses will stop at both Lincoln and Prairie Schools.

School bus service will be provided on a temporary basis for children of grades 1, 2 and 3 living in New Rome. One school bus will move east on Kanard-rd stopping first at Smith-rd at approximately 8 a. m., then stopping at Lenox, at Lawrence, at Pasadena, at Maple-dr and at Buena Vista-dr. Turning south on Buena Vista, stops will be made halfway between Kanard and Gregg, at Gregg, and at a point halfway between Gregg and W. Broad-st.

This bus will then proceed first to Prairie School, and then to its destination at Lincoln Village School. Completing service to New Rome, Mrs. Grace Cheadle will drive a bus north on Maple-dr, stopping at Gregg, then west on Gregg, stopping at Pasadena, and stopping at Lawrence; then south on Lawrence to W. Broad. From there Mrs. Cheadle will proceed west on W. Broad to Rome-Hilliards-rd, north to Gregg, east to Pasadena, and south to W. Broad, thence to Lincoln School, and finally to Prairie School.

Transportation to Hilliards High School will be provided Lincoln residents by Earl Kaiser, who will pick up high school students at the intersection of Murray Hill and Beacon Hill-rds.

"These schedules are temporary and will be subject to change as the situation works itself out," Principal Paul Noblitt emphasized. "We must provide transportation for all Rome and Garden Heights children so long as streets are not paved through to Lincoln Village. Opening of streets will mean that many children will then be able to walk to school.

"The first day's session will be one-half day only," Noblitt said. The cafeteria at Prairie will be in operation on Wednesday. Children attending Lincoln Village School must carry their own lunches but milk will be sold there.

Noblitt also announced the complete staff for Prairie School, as follows:

Miss L. J. Haythorne and Mr. Davis, eighth grade; Mrs. F. L. Carr, vice-principal and seventh grade; R. Christ a Mrs. M. Findlay, seventh; Mrs. T. Knight, Mrs. W. Younkman and Mrs. Snor, sixth; W. Son's Cerebral Palsy 'Activates' Playschool Of Hilliards Mother

A young mother's three-year-long anguish caused by the cerebral palsy suffered by her small son as the result of an automobile accident has been the energizing spark behind a new and different enterprise established this fall in the Hilliards community.

In the course of the long ordeal, during which her son Jack gradually regained normal health, Marge Clark became interested in the problems of children and their social attitudes and adaptations. Under guidance of Parents' Magazine and the National Association for Childhood Education, Mrs. Clark has carefully designed a program which she is opening to children four and five years of age, this month.

Her program does not include the kindergarten approach as generally understood. She will offer no pre-school teaching to the members of her group. Strictly a play-school, it is designed to teach children how to mix with others, how to play, how to cooperate, to share, and to enter upon a social experience which will serve to introduce them to the environment of their first year in school.

Mrs. Clark has fitted up a special, separate room of her new modern home on Hilliards-Rome-rd, about one and one-half miles south of Hilliards, furnished with children's tables, chairs and games of all sorts. In addition, her place has a half-acre playground out of doors, where swings, slides, teeter-totters and other equipment common to playgrounds has been provided. Emphasis will be on teaching tots how to use the various equipment and the danger of incorrect usage.

She hopes to help rural youngsters, who because of isolated homes, miss the opportunity to mingle with others as enjoyed by town children.

The state has inspected the premises and by opening date, Sept. 8, or soon thereafter, will license Mrs. Clark's play-school. Mrs. Jacqueline Cochran of Hilliards is assistant to the owner and will furnish pickup and return-home transportation to those children whose parents cannot transport them.

Mrs. Clark's plans for safety of her young charges include insurance coverage protecting enrollees for a full year, 24 hours of the day, at school, at home, or in transit. Each child will receive a pint of milk daily.

At present, 16 children can be accommodated and a few vacancies still remain to be filled, Mrs. Clark said last week. Eventually, she said, she may expand her services to care for children of working mothers.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Calentine, 737 S. Eureka-av, Mrs. Clark is the wife of John E. Clark, Jr. In addition to the son, Jack, now eight years old and in the third grade at Hilliards elementary school, the Clarks have a small daughter, Jill, who will be four her next birthday.

SAVES THE DAY (NIGHT)

"Like a shining knight," Irvine Belts, Sr., and his generator-equipped emergency jeep came to the rescue of the SACAHA Fish Fry last Wednesday night after lightning kayoed a power transmission. Even though it was night-time, it is a sure bet that Belts saved the day.

Friday night at Westgate shelter house from 8:30-11:30 the Hi-Y and Y teens will be swinging their partners to the music of Bill Grimm. All Jr. Hi-and Sr. Hi youth are invited to attend the last dance of the season.

A special thanks goes to the advisory committee that has worked with the Y-teen and Hi-Y members throughout the season. This committee consists of Mrs. H. C. Booth, Commhunity Council; Mrs. Helen Seward, YWCA; Marilyn Gurdon and Charles Moore, Glenwood Recreation; Mrs. Jack Hostetter, Miss Jane Owens, YWCA, and Bob Behmidt and Dick Wilson, Hilltop YMCA staff. Those Friday evening dances have been enthusiastically received by the Hilltop youth and it is planned that they will continue next summer.

While we are passing out the bouquets, the chairman of the annual Hilltop YMCA Summer Fun Club awards night and his committee deserve a special vote of thanks for a well-planned awards night. More than 250 parents and youths enjoyed an evening of presensation of awards, movies and refreshments. Incidentally, the refreshments were sponsored by the Hilltop YMCA Mother's Council.

The other day there came across my desk a poem entitled, "The Guy in the Glass," by Sam Meherter, which I would like to share with you.

"THE GUY IN THE GLASS"
By Sam Meherter

When you get what you want in your struggle for pelf
And the world makes you king for a day
Then go to the mirror and look at yourself,
And see what that guy has to say.

For it isn't your father, mother, or wife,
Who judgment upon you must pass;
The fellow whose verdict counts most in your life,
Is the guy standing back from the glass.

He's the fellow to please, never mind all the rest,
For he's with you clear to the end,
And you've passed your most dangerous difficult test,
If the guy in the glass is your friend.

You may be like Jack Horner, and "chisel" a plum,
And think you're a wonderful guy;
But the man in the glass says you're only a bum
If you can't look him straight in the eye.

You can feel the whole world down the pathway of years,
And get pats on the back as you pass,
But your final reward will be heartaches and tears,
If you've cheated the guy in the glass.

Rec. Center Takes On Appearance Of Hawaii

Tuesday, Aug. 31, found Glenwood Recreation Center turned into a scene from the Hawaiian Islands. For one week th arts and crafts time, from 1 to 3 daily, had been used to make beautiful and colorful Hawaiian leis and swishing grass skirts which the children fashioned from crepe paper and then wore to a Hawaiian feast.

The Hawaiian feast consisted of ice cold watermelon, which was passed around by a group of hula dancers, ages 5 to 10, who also helped to furnish the entertainment.

Barbara Fraker and Marcella Justice made a cake in the kitchen at the center. Cake was served as part of the feast. Sue Veregge and Lynn Schmidt also added to the Hawaiian atmosphere of the party by their uke playing for the children.

There will be children's teen-age, and adult classes in arts and crafts throughout the fall and winter. Please call Glenwood Recreation Center, RA. 7416, for further information.

NEWS OF HILLIARDS

Cramped Post Office Quarters Point To Growing Pains Of The Community

New light is thrown on the growth of population at Hilliards in the statement by Postmaster Florence Wilcox last week that all possible post office box space available in the present quarters of the post office was filled up by the addition of 90 new boxes a little over a year ago. All boxes have long since been taken and a waiting list of applicants wanting to rent more of them is on file in Mrs. Wilcox's office. At present, the Hilliards office serves 2400 boxes and 432 rural families.

There is not another inch of space in the post office that could be given over to additional boxes, and, with the constantly growing number of residents, the post office department is faced with the problem of adequately serving them, Mrs. Wilcox said.

TO ACCOMODATE the constantly growing enrollment in the church school, Hilliards Methodist Church is in process of making ready a room in the parsonage basement. The coal furnace at the parsonage was converted to gas recently, leaving available space formerly given over to fuel storage.

The transformation to class room use entails new partitioning, flooring, decorating and furnishing appropriate to the purpose. When completed, areas in the church and church school building will be partially relieved of the present seriously over-crowded situation.

WITH SCHOOL OPENING date set for next week, preparations are about complete for the annual influx of students, it was learned on a visit to the high school on Monday.

Hilliards High School Band, accompanied by Director of Music Robert White and chaperoned by Mrs. Jane Reeb and Mrs. Virginia Bowman, with Nurse Eugenia Roberts to look after the health of members, returned from a week at Leesville Lake in Carroll County, site of Firebird Camp at the week's end. Mrs. Walcutt of Gahanna, instructor for majorettes, was a member of the group. Transportation was by school buses.

Mrs. Herbert E. Pumphrey of 2993 Dublin-rd entered upon her duties as secretary to the high school principal, Warren F. Thomas, this week. This is a new position created by recent action of the board of education.

HILLIARDS GRANGE 2715 held its regular meeting Thursday evening, Aug. 27. The session was conducted by County Deputy Gay Wright. Sept. 9, next meeting date, will be given over to election of officers for the ensuing year. A refreshment committee will provide a lunch. All Grange members are urged to be on hand for this important meeting.

FARMER OF THE WEEK

Ed Parker Is One Of Busiest Men In Hilliards Community At County-State Fair Time

By Louise Pohlmann

Getting Ed Parker to hold still in one place long enough is fair season to do an interview proved to be something like catching a flee on a hot skillet. This 34-year-old Brown Township farmer is one of the busiest men of the Hilliards community at county and state fair time.

A co-director of the swine department of the Franklin County Fair, which responsibility carries its full share of work, Parker had his Spotted Poland China hogs on exhibition at the independent fair at Plain City, then at the County Fair at Hilliards, the County Fair at London, and is currently showing at the Ohio State Fair. His entries were consistent winners and brought home premiums wherever shown, this year.

Winning premiums with livestock runs all through the family. Son Joe got first on his Spotted Poland China at Hilliards in his 4-H project, daughter Sharon got third and fourth with her Hampshire sheep, and wife Evelyn got champion award for her prize buck at Hilliards. Mrs. Parker also was in charge of the women's work department at the fair at Hilliards.

With all that, it is understandable why, to farm 300 acres of ground, care for a milking herd of 12 Holstein cows, around 150 head of prize hogs, and miscellaneous numbers of sheep, such a man does not have much time to sit around the house and gab.

Most all the work is performed by Parker with only family help. 12-year-old Joe and a neighbor boy the same age rounding out at chore time and in the fields.

Parker was graduated from Hilliards High School in 1939, a product of the vocational agriculture department. Beginning as a 4-H-er at 10, he has progressed steadily in farming achievements and won State Farmer degree as a member of Hilliards chapter FFA. He is active in the Alton Grange and is vice-president of the Ohio Spotted Poland China Association.

As the fair season nears its end, Parker turns his attention to preparing for his annual boar and gilt sale to be held at the farm where he lives, known as "Parker's Black and White Stock Farm." The sale will be in the second week of October when he will have some 125 fine breeding animals to offer at auction.

NATURE ON VIEW

A huge department of natural resources exhibit will be one of the "things you shouldn't miss" at the Ohio State Fair, according to George Emmett. He said this year's display is the largest and most complete ever constructed.

Persons visiting the exhibit, which will consist of four tents, will cross, at least twice, a beautiful simulated fast-water stream which will run the entire length of the large 90-foot main tent. The water in the stream will be pumped at a rate of 100,000 gallons an hour.

Miss Barbee, Mr. McGinnis United In Candlelight Service

MR. AND MRS. BRUCE McGINNIS

Soft candlelight illuminated the Hilltop Evangelical Lutheran Church during the 7:30 p.m. ceremony uniting Miss Barbara Lee Barbee and Mr. Bruce McGinnis. Urns of summer flowers completed the nuptial setting. Rev. John E. Hydinger officiated at the ceremony Saturday, Aug. 28.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Barbee, 28 S. Richardson-av. Mr. McGinnis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Newton E. McGinnis of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Slipper satin and nylon tulle fashioned the bridal gown which ended in a chapel train. An off-the-shoulder effect was created by filling the top with illusion ending in a stand-up collar beaded with seed pearls. Rows of seed pearls framed the shoulders and were scattered over the illusion. The full length sleeves ended in points over the hands and were closed with self covered small buttons, which also accented the fitted bodice in the back. The extremely bouffant skirt was gathered onto the V-cut waistline and cascaded over the many crinolines and hoops. Her fingertip veil of nylon illusion fell from a scalloped cap of pearls and iridescents on Chantilly lace. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and shattered carnations on a white Bible.

The attendants preceded the bride to the altar, carrying bouquets of pink carnations, centered with lighted white tapers. The maid of honor, Miss Carole Price, wore a gown of deep aqua taffeta and nylon tulle, fashioned with a portrait neckline, fitted sleeves and a bouffant skirt of tulle gathered to the V-cut waistline, matching bandeaus and shoes. The four bridesmaids and bride's matron wore similar gowns of a softer shade of aqua. They were Miss Shirley Price, Miss Yvonne Brewer, Miss Audrey Smith, Miss Shirley Krull and Mrs. Maryann Gossett.

Mr. Jack Cherrington served as best man for Mr. McGinnis. Seating the guests were Mr. Nelson McGinnis, brother of the bridegroom, Mr. Bill Boyd, Mr. Ronnie James and Mr. Bill Voris, attired in white dinner jackets with black tuxedo trousers.

The bride's mother chose a cocktail length gown in rose taffeta and chantilly lace with matching accessories for the occasion.

Mrs. McGinnis, mother of the bridegroom, wore a wedgewood blue gown of lace and taffeta with accessories of navy blue. Both mothers wore identical shoulder corsages of pink sweetheart rosebuds.

A wedding reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony.

For their wedding trip to the Finger Lakes in New York State, the bride chose a grey ensemble with box jacket and matching blouse for her going away outfit, heightened with powder blue accessories, and the orchids from her bridal bouquet.

The new Mrs. McGinnis is a sophomore at Capital University. Her husband, a senior at the same school this fall, is captain of the football team.

THELMA ROSS CLASS MEETS

The Thelma Ross class L.O.S.N.A. held its first fall meeting in Balcony Hall Sept. 1 at 12:30 p.m. Beatrice Sparks, president, presided.

Seen at Seiller's

by Sue Frodendall

"Frogs and snails and puppy dog tails, that's what little boys are made of". Doesn't paint a very pretty picture in your mind, does it? But he surely will be a picture to your eye when you see him in the new clothes he'll be wearing to school this year from Seiller's.

Like Dad, the younger crop of boys are getting more clothes conscious, too. There is so much color and style to the boy's clothes this year. Seiller's have a black and white corduroy jacket, I'd love to have myself, it's a honey. It's called a Zebra jacket. You would have to see it to really believe how striking it is. I may get one yet. Of course they have the ever popular water repellent poplin jackets with a lightweight flannel lining, for those first cool fall days, and a beautiful heavy gray with black knit cuffs and band.

Seiller's have a lot of goodlooking shirts for boys in flannel or jersey, some have corduroy collars, some are the Dan River wrinkle shed. For $1.79, $1.99 and $2.99. Our little guy likes the matched flannel lined jeans and shirts so well, that Seiller's have. And by the way, the Levi belts are in, so many boys have been asking for them. The little fellows will go wild over the fringed, leather frost cowboy vests in grey, blue brown and black for $1.99. Oh yes and the Lasso shirts. They are plain colored flannel with a plaid yoke and a lariat goes with it, all for $2.99.

There are so many nice things it will pay you to do your shopping at Seiller's. Argyle socks, belts, billfolds, knit ties, bola ties and bow ties. All these things can be matched.

Sweaters in all styles and colors Slipovers, V necks and coat sweaters, and fancy vests of all kind.

"If you have the children's school clothes purchased already —this would be a good time to start laying things away for Christmas. Won't be long Adv.

On the occasion of their 50th anniversary, The Record was happy to carry the story and details of the celebration. However, several factors concerning this memorable celebration are still to be related. On Sept. 7, 1952, several friends and relatives gathered at Mrs. Root's Party House, where the highlight of the afternoon occurred with the arrival and performance of the Hilltop Chorus, surprising Mrs. Hoffman, who is a charter member. The morning of the celebration, the Hoffman's first great-grandchild was born. Larry Lee, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lee Hoffman, is now two years old.

ARE YOU EDUCATING YOUR CHILDREN?

By Rev. Robert L. Titus
Pastor Of Immanuel Baptist Church

"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." Proverbs 9:10.

School time is closing in. Our obligations for the education of our children are again pressing upon us. Our text above has been called the "soul of education." Have we really stopped to recognize this aspect of education? Has not modern education largely deleted this from its thought and literature? Are not our children reaping a whirlwind of confusion and folly because the "soul of education" is gone?

Parents, have you made the collossal error of supposing that the education of your children is the sole responsibility of the public or private schools? Are you facing up to the fact that if your children are to have the right beginning in the educational process, you are responsible to supply it? Can you impart it if you yourself do not have it? Is "the fear of the Lord" in you? Are you wise enough to instruct?

If not, as a parent are you not a failure?

Jesus Christ can and will transform your failure into glorious success if through faith in Him you receive. In your heart the truth of Acts 16:31, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved and thy house."

About Cremation

Cremated remains are not ashes but fragments of bone structure. Cremation of today is vastly different from the method of yesterday. No preheated, crematory vaults. No ashes. No muscular contraction or body movement.

The body is prepared and casketed the same for a cremation service as for any other type of burial. The body is not removed from the casket, the casket is placed in the crematory vault without being opened after delivery to the crematory. The casket is cremated with the body. The cremated remains being calcareous are heavy—the withered disintegration of the casket and the clothing being light are blown away by air leaving the cremated remains undisturbed.

After cremation the cremated remains may be left at the crematory until the surviving members of the family decide upon their final disposition. The urn with its cremated remains may be placed for all time in a niche in the Columbaria. When the original purchase price of the niche is paid, their is no further cost. A name ineffacesably engraved on a cast bronze urn and placed in a niche of a columbarium is a permanent memorial. A single niche carries with the purchase the privilege of transfer to a larger family niche later. When burial of the cremated remains is desired a suitable burial container may be had from the funeral director of the crematory.

Cremation is not a method of disposal of the dead, but is rather a method of preparation for permanent preservation.

Cremation is within the reach of all. It combines sanitation, economy and perpetuity as in no other form of burial. For further information call Sunset Cemetery and Crematory, ALton 8-5355, 6958 W. Broad Street. Adv.

Remember the first stop lights? Sure you do! Remember how everyone wondered how those three little lights on an iron pole would be able to control the great, noisy surges of traffic that rolled by busy city corners and quiet country crossroads.

But they did. Red, yellow, green. One, two, three . . .

All that you had to remember was this:—"Don't get your signals mixed!"

Very few of us get our signals mixed on stop lights these days. They are too much a part of our daily life. Yet our lives are mixed up over so many other important things—things a stop light can't solve.

But your church can—if you give it a chance. For thousands of years there have been churches to help people keep their minds clear, their faith strong, their signals straight.

You know what to do at a crossroad. The traffic signal helps you.

But do you know what to do at some of the other crossroads —the crossroads of your life?

Your church will help you there, if you will give it the chance and attend its services that are held for you.

Don't get your signals mixed. Let the church help you keep them straight.

Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path. Psalms 119:105.

West Jr. Hi-Y Cops Third Round In Y Softball; To Meet West Park For Crown

By Harry Greshel

By defeating two major opponents, West Junior Hi-Y became the third round YMCA Junior Softball champions and will meet the West Park Methodist team for the league championship at a later date.

On Aug. 18, Hi-Y scored three runs in the top of the seventh to defeat the West Park Methodist team 4-3 behind the three-hit pitching of Dick Furry. West Park loaded the bases with one out in the last of the seventh, but Furry came through with some fine clutch-hurling to get the side out and preserve the win. Dick Furry, Don Furry, and Kuntz came through with key hits in the seventh for Hi-Y, while Little, Deyo, and Ward of West Park garnered the only hits off of Furry. George Breckenridge pitched good ball for West Park.

Westgate EUB won it's first game of the season by beating Glenwood Methodist 30-16. In this slugfest, McWilliams, Castle, Lister, Reeves and Christoff were the top sluggers for Westgate. Byerly, Cozad, Lowrey, and George Tittle led the Glenwood hitters.

On Aug 21, West Junior Hi-Y sewed up the third round title with a 23-0 victory over Glenwood Methodist, Kuntz, Link, Dick Furry and Herold had three hits each for Hi-Y. SPONTANEOUS IGNITION

Rags containing vegetable, animal or fish oils, or paints, are subject to spontaneous ignition and start fires in themselves. They should be stored in tightly closed metal cans, or hung up with plenty of air space around them to dissipate heat. If not needed, such rags should be removed from the building or burned after using.

An Accurate Mirror Of Community

Last week's front page was a real pleasure to us. Not because of its attractive layout and excellent engravings. Those things we're real proud of, but the genuine pleasure came in the realization of the fantastic growth and progress of the Hilltop revealed in the headlines.

Let's look back a moment. There was the story of the opening of the beautiful Colonial-style branch of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association on W. Broad, providing a banking service needed by our prosperous merchants, homeowners, and residents in general; and a story of the concrete accomplishments of local youth at the Franklin County Fair out Hilliards-way.

The story of 30 proposed one-way streets on the Hilltop showed the city hard at work trying to make life more pleasant, safe, and convenient for localites. Meanwhile, the complaint in the Mr. Fix-It column pointed out the need for more study of a local street. A heartening sight to car-owners was the picture of repaving equipment in action on Sullivant-av.

Cooperation is exemplified in the story of the Gateway West Jubilee plans. Even one of the "aborts" proved our point that this is a pretty swell place to live — the one referring to a churchwomen's group planning to serve food at the State Fair.

Announcement of plans for improving the Franklin Township fire department, already ranked among the finest in the nation's volunteer systems, was heartening news for township residents. The improvement, incidentally, revolves around a new fire house, which will serve as headquarters of the system in addition to housing new equipment.

"Onward and upward" — pure corn when applied to lots of things and activities — is gospel truth when applied to the Hilltop community. And the mirror of that truth, we're proud to say, is YOUR HILLTOP RECORD!

LABOR DAY WEEK—

OF MEN AND DREAMS

It could have been,
When the dream was new
And the heart beat true,
But the will power wouldn't.

It might have been,
But one fateful day
The dream stole away,
When it knew it shouldn't.

It would have been
As the years here weight.
But it grew too late
And the heart couldn't.

From somewhere — A man stood gazing at the Statue of Liberty for such a long time that a policeman asked, "You like Miss Liberty and her torch?" "Well, yes and no," the visitor answered. "It just seems to me it might be more appropriate if she were holding the bag instead of the torch." . . . When an elderly lady broke a leg, the doctor put it in a cast and cautioned the patient not to climb up and down stairs. A month later when the doctor removed the cast, the lady asked "May I climb the stairs now?" The doctor said she could and she said "Good! I'm sick and tired of going up and down the ladder and in and out the window." . . . "Why is Joe pacing back and forth and peering up the road?" "He is worried about his wife." "Why, what's she got?" "His car."

Mrs.—from Tucson: "Here is an epitaph for your weird collection. I saw it in an old cemetery about 100 miles from here:

Here lies Bob Harris.
He was fair before
He got too close
To a forty-four.
He leaves a wife
And children so fair
And one on the way.

The rest of the inscription was obliterated but I'm sure it was good poetry." . . . From that w-k Columbus columnist, Don Alban, who is liable to come back from Texas with a Texan drawl: "Here in the West they punch cattle on broncs, and some of them do it on jack rabbits. Look closely at this picture and see if you don't think the cowboy is about to lose his hare." (The picture to which he refers is of a cowboy rounding up cattle, mounted on a Jack Rabbit. Don honeychile, y'all better come on back to the United States. The tales you told before you went to Texas were tall enough!) . . . From Columbus: "I read your column because you don't write cute things to people like some of the business publication columnists do — like 'Good luck, Tom; Happy landing, Dick; Nice going, Harry.'" (Now my one reader won't read this because I wrote something to Don.) . . . Also from Columbus: "Please print the poem about the ground crew that you printed one time. I don't know who wrote it."

Ad infiniturms (while ironing)—Ironing is my most Waterloo-Waterloo . . . Next to telephone advertising . . . There is a street in Newark called Easy Street, but nobody lives on it — just business houses . . . Columbiana, Jefferson, Carroll and Harrison counties have the most gorgeous late summer flowers. Petunias, cannas, glads, cosmos, zinnias, asters and a lot more I couldn't identify make that part of Ohio beautiful. It is a shame so many of the hills over there have been ruined by strip-mining, but I suppose strip-mining is a necessary evil. The flowers seem to be trying to make up for the bare hills. We saw the end of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, and a man at a filling station told us we haven't lived or speeded till we've been on it . . . Whatever became of Vic and Sade? . . . Somebody just called. She wanted me to have Whosis' furnace installed.

Trivia

From
THE EDITOR'S DESK

By Galvy Gordon

STRAWS IN THE WIND: Several unsuccessful attempts have been made in the past to organize the Sullivant Avenue merchants into an effective civic and service organization. Some have met with limited success, some with abysmal failure.

The newest one, however, has already proven that it is an organization of honest-to-goodness workers. And some of the good it has already done is sponsorship of the tremendously successful "SACAHAC" fish fry and carnival last week, with proceeds going to the Hilltop Athletic Club, another growing an worthwhile organization.

We predict that the Sullivant Avenue Civic Association, under its hard-working president, Ernest Gibson, will go places. We hope it will do much to correct the apparent lack of interest of the city in improving things south on Broad-st on the Hilltop.

YOUR HELP NEEDED! Lawrence Whitacker, blind DAV veteran of World W.r I, who has made a name for his own "personal charity" to those "less fortunate" than himself on the West Side and the Hilltop, needs your help to help him help. Right now.(Lawrence who lives at 387 W. Cherry-dr, and whose phone number is CA. 4-4467, is trying to locate some planes and radios to give to s-ut-ins and invalids. How about it?

GOT QUITE A SHOCK the other day when I wandered a little bit south of Belvidere and Mound. What I thought was just plain vacant lots turned out to be a regular "miniature city." Funny thing about it is that I had looked at the lots just a few days before and observed nothing out of the ordinary.

Carpenter Foreman Orville Ferguson, RFD 1, Grove City, paused in his lightning quick work long enough to tell me that he is putting up 31 new doubles for the Bond-Toft firm. Work started Aug. 20 and is expected to be completed by Jan. 1. Wowie, that's not an addition! That's multiplication!

INSERT after END BY GRAPH Mail Carrier Jack Reynolds of 392 S. Eureka has a constant companion on his letter route. His dog "Brownie" follows him everyday, and has done so for five years. In the beginning the dog belonged to a family on his route. The dog started following Reynolds and one day found out where he lived. Finally the people just gave "Brownie" to Reynolds. Now 10 years old, Brownie gets tired before the rounds are completed, so Reynolds tucks him into an empty portion of his letter bag.

THEY ALL COME BACK, if you'll pardon our borrowing a famous line from somewhere or other. And this applies to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shultz, 2407 S. Powell-av. They've been back on the Hilltop for better'n a year now, so that's not the reason for this squib. Reason is that Schultz and his wife have opened up a confectionery at W. Broad and Burgess-av. There'll be some sort of a grand opening later on, I understand. Shultz mentioned something about planning to carry one of the complete lines of cheese in the city. Merchandising should come pretty easy to him as he was with Omar for 17 years and ran a dry cleaning firm for about four. The couple was gone from the hereabouts for some 15 years, sojourning in Zanesville, Omaha and DesMoines, Ia.

BETWEEN YOU'N ME: We've had wonderful response on our plea for stories and pictures on golden weddings and I just wondered how our readers would go for the idea of carrying stories and pix of all Hilltoppers 85 or over on the occasion on their birthdays. (More about this later) . . . I'm getting a little jealous of those successful wanted users I write front page squibs about (that's grammatical?). I've had a perfectly good accordion I've been trying to sell to help finance my wife's and boy's trip to Vienna (not Ohio) next month, but no takers.

A NEW APPROACH will be used by both the city and its opponents in the Franklin Township annexation-incorporation-let-us-alone campaign this fall. Look for less hysteria on the part of all parties and more reliable statistics. Incidentally, statistics could probably prove the moon is made of green cheese.

WOE-BE-GONE is the word to apply to me the moment I saw the page proof on last week's page one. After making every effort to write a real convincing appeal to localities to attend the SACAHAC affair, I forget to dummy it in and didn't notice it until too late. Reminds of the time I was a cub on the Indianapolis Times and wrote a soul-stirring front page box about how all downtown stores were to be closed in honor of Armistice day. Six editions later, it was not-too-gently pointed out to me that the manager was featuring lots of full-page Armistice Day sale ads. Two mistakes in a lifetime—not too bad. Two, huh?) Incidentally, Ed Heinke who now heads the Scripps-Howard Bureau down at the Citizen, was my city editor in those days. A real hard taskmaster, but unexcelled in writing and teaching ability.

CD GETS LOCAL CAR POOLS

Franklin County Civil Defense motor pool assembly areas designated in the Hilltop area in late August were Hilliards and Don Scott Air Field for Zone I, and Grove City and New Rome for Zone IV. Basic idea is to locate the pools at a distance from any possible target center.

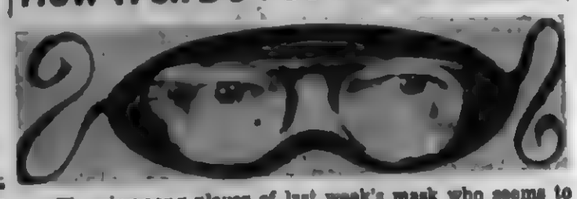
Local CD Head Completes Special Federal Course

Arthur Witt, chief warden of Civil Refense Zone 4, of which the Hilltop is the largest part, recently completed a special federal civil defense course at Ohio State University. In his added role as zone controller, Witt, who lives at 45 S. Brinker-av, will coordinate all CD functions within the zone.



He pointed out that "the wardens and their work in the neighborhoods will still remain my chief job. These men and their duties are truly the keystone of the entire civil defense set-up."

THE PRESIDENT CITES "CARE"

In his recent address to the World Council of Churches Assembly, President Eisenhower ably expressed the spirit that since the end of the war has led the American people to extend a strong helping hand to their neighbor peoples of the world. It is interesting to note that when he sought a single word that would instantly evoke this spirit, the first he chose was the name of "CARE."

These Eyes —

How Well Do You Know Them?

The ping-pong player of last week's mask who seems to enjoy all forms of recreation could be none other than Melvin Dodge, director of Sunshine Recreation Center.

Mel Dodge

Mel has made his residence at 406 S. Richardson-av for the past two years with his wife, Norma, and their two children, Dana, three, and Susan, six.

An Ohio State University graduate of the college of education, Mel has had one year of post-graduate studies in physical education and recreation.

He is one of the directors of the West Side Board of Trade, a member of the Military Police Association, Ohio Recreation Association, and the National Recreation Association.

A veteran of four years in the army, he is now a member of the reserves. His hobby is—what else? Sports!

We're almost cheating when we give you a clue to identify the familiar eyes above. Our mystery man this week has been a Hilltop resident for 20 years and his most avid hobby is our own West High Football team.

INMATES' ART SHOW

An art exhibit of works of the Ohio Penitentiary and the London Prison Farm will be held at the Southern Hotel, Columbus, during the entire month of September.

The exhibit will include some 40 entries by 15 prisoner artists. Among them will be oil paintings, water colors, pastels, charcoals, colored pencil portraits, pen and ink sketches, woodblock prints and wood carvings.

PUBLIC COMMENT

Most Localites Unperturbed About Hiking Parking Fees

As some great philosopher recently said, "A nickel isn't much good any more—except to make change for a quarter."

This observation seems to be particularly true in Columbus. The nickel was recently shoved out of duty on local pay phones and now the city is considering at length the idea of boosting downtown parking meter fees to 10 cents an hour.

Here's how Hilltoppers stood on the subject when they were asked this question this week: "What do you think of the city's idea of changing the downtown parking meter fee to 10 cents rather than a nickel an hour?"

Mrs. Edward R. Powers, 2786 St. Joseph-av, "I do all my shopping on the Hilltop. I only go downtown about once a month, so parking meters really don't affect me at all."

Mrs. Harley G. Ames, 1960 W. Broad-st, "I think it will make a lot of people do more of their shopping in the shopping centers. We have some fine centers here on the Hilltop. They take care of all of your daily needs. We used to shop downtown, but since parking is so bad, we found the shopping centers around here much more convenient and just as well stocked as the downtown stores."

Mrs. John M. Hodge, 37 Belvidere-av, "It's just like everything else. People have gone completely mad over money, the city included. We do most of our shopping over on Broad-st in the Hilltop business area, but we do some downtown shopping too. After this I guess we'll just take the bus."

Mrs. Vaughn E. Soods, 134 N. Eureka-av, "I traveled quite a bit this summer and Columbus seems to be higher than any place else on parking meter fees already. My goodness, is our city that poor?"

Mrs. David Dalton, 2684 Sullivant-av, "I just don't do much shopping, but when I do I take the bus downtown since I live right on Sullivant-av. I think if they're going to raise parking meter fees, though, they should raise the salaries of our city officials. They certainly have enough headaches and they deserve it."

Labor Day

All America pauses to hail "Mr. American," himself . . . the American working man. By the skill of his hands and mind, America has grown great and grown strong. Working with ever-better equipment and techniques, he is the world's largest producer. He enjoys the world's highest standard of living. His freedom is America's freedom. His independence is America's independence. His future is America's future. Because, first, last and all the time, he is American . . . in thought, word, deed and spirit!

Marilyn Judson and her mother are shown making selections among the bright patch of zinnias at the rear of the lovely suburban home for bouquets to add an extra touch of color to the flower-bright rooms of the white frame one-floor plan.

Home of the Week

The front of the Judson home, at 1155 N. Hague, presents a clean and trim appearance which is true of both the interior and the exterior. The thick green hedges flanking the stone entranceway, balance both the color and design in the eye of the passerby.

The spacious living room of the seemingly small home is comfortably furnished with several occasional chairs for a number of guests or simply the evening relaxation of the Judson family. The huge picture window and pure rose shades of the carpet combine to add light and color to otherwise dark nooks and crannies.

Judson Home Termed Realization Of Ivy-Covered Country Cottage

By Grace Durflinger

We've all dreamed of the little vine-covered cottage in the country away from the noise and hot, sticky city summers—but usually that is about as far as the dream goes. Perhaps Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Judson had that same dream, which was realized when they built their lovely home at 1155 N. Hague-av.

The Judsons have always lived in or around the Hilltop and made their residence at 276 N. Burgess-av for about eight years prior to the Hague-av home.

Whatever their reason, the Judsons and their lively 15-year-old daughter, Marilyn are proud owners and inhabitants of the five-room home built six years ago in a "country-gentleman" setting of spacious green lawns with shady trees and a winding creek across the road.

The house itself is of white frame with an open side porch and a handsome front entranceway faced with stone and flanked by meticulously trimmed hedges and spreading Florabunda rose bushes.

In the living room and hallways furnishings are based upon the basic shades of red and gray. The walls are of steel gray, almost approaching a blue, with the end interior wall a panel of bright Chinese red. The white draw drapes at the windows, which include a large picture window in the front, allow a maximum of light and fresh air into the room during the day, while, with the least amount of effort, the windows may be attractively shaded to afford the desired amount of privacy in the evening.

The shaded carpet of deep burgundy and rose stretches, almost from wall to wall with only a narrow border of the shining hardwood floors revealed. The carpet, which is truly beautiful in its masterful shading and design, makes an attractive background for the sofa covered in a colorful flower and leaf design on a gray background piped in deep burgundy. A matching overstuffed chair lends itself wholeheartedly to the decor and comfort of the room, together with three additional occasional chairs, a barrel back on spindle legs upholstered in rich burgundy damask, a rocker chair and ottoman in forest green, and a winged back chair of beige damask. The latter two are grouped for conversation on either side of the black and white marble-faced fireplace which is topped by a full width-mirror and flowing ivy. The mahogany spinet piano, upon which daughter Marilyn frequently performs, is placed close to the front entranceway which is flanked by guest closets.

At each end of the spacious living room are parallel hallways connecting the living room with the combination dinette and kitchen. The short hallway on the left is most frequently used with the side door of the living room. It houses a desk where Marilyn, who attends Hilliards High School, can catch up on homework.

The kitchen-dinette is floored in biege asphalt tile mottled with orange, olive green and red, trimmed in brown. Bright plaid throw-rugs of red, yellow, green, blue and brown accent the predominant colors in this gay room. The walls of the dinette are papered in a burgundy, yellow and green pattern of twining roses on a gray background with bright yellow curtains at the side window and bay window. This cozy nook is furnished with an eye-catching china cabinet of inlaid walnut, a chrome dinette set with red leather upholstery, and twin kitchen stools of red leather and chrome.

A convenient breakfast bar partly partitions the dinette from the kitchen, which has walls of canary yellow with red linoleum counter-tops and numerous white cupboards with birch doors. The woodwork throughout the home is of gleaming birch.

A second hallway leading off the kitchen and to the right end of the living room joins a parallel hallway which gives access to the two lovely bedrooms located at each end with the two separate bathrooms between them.

The wedgewood blue walls of the master bedroom are complemented by rose and blue shag rugs on the gleaming hardwood floors. The furnishings of this attractive and relaxing room include a mahogany rocker upholstered in a tropical print of burgundy, white and forest green on a black background, and a walnut vanity recessed between two clothes closets. The decor is completed by a blue chenille spread, trimmed with a design of pastel flowers, and ruffled white organdy curtains.

A huge linen closet is found in the adjacent turquoise blue bathroom. Touches of peach and blue complete the decor of the room which is floored in black and cream linoleum.

Marilyn Judson chose a warm hue of chartreuse for her bedroom walls and chenille spread, which attractively accents the deep glow of the walnut suite. Rose and chartreuse shag rugs are arranged on the hardwood floor. An old-fashioned combined writing desk and glass-doored cabinet of dark walnut is one of the more interesting pieces featured here. Marilyn's sizeable collection of story book dolls, which she avidly collected several years ago, is artfully displayed in the cabinet.

Marilyn's adjacent bathroom suits her fancy with cheery canary yellow walls and a black and cream linoleum floor. This room possesses the added convenience of a dainty vanity.

On warm summer evenings, the Judsons enjoy the cool breezes from their painted cement side porch, surrounded by monthly roses and bright red salvia.

Close by, the driveway is bordered with scores of zinnias flaunting a myriad of gay hues. At the rear of the spacious lawns is a stone barbecue, built entirely by Mr. Judson, who is a promotion salesman for the Crane Co., which installed the plumbing and radiant heating in their home. He is a past president of the Skidmore Lions Club and is now the club's treasurer. The family belongs to St. Paul's Church in Rome.

Mrs. Judson's shining kitchen comes through with flying colors on counts of convenience, design, and color. It proved itself to be a really charming room in which to perform the many tasks that modern homemaking entails.

The cool, hazy wedgewood blue walls of the master bedroom are an ideal background shade for the mellow hue of the walnut suite and the white flattery of ruffled organdy curtains.

Prevent Damage By Proper Closing Of Summer Home

Careful precautions taken when closing the summer vacation home will prevent damage by weather, vandals and rodents.

The plumbing should be arranged so that all pipes can be drained by closing two or three valves and opening others. If steam or hot water heat is used, the entire system should be drained. Water should be siphoned from the toilet bowl and drained from plumbing traps. In mild climates, kerosene or anti-freeze can be added to the bowl and traps, thus avoiding drainage.

Provide solid, heavy board panels to fit tightly over windows and doors and bolt them on the inside. For the front door, use a solid panel that is fastened with a strong padlock.

The house should have sufficient grilles and vents to allow air to circulate and prevent dampness from accumulating. All flues, vents and louvres should be covered with both fine and heavy screening to keep out insects and animals.

"Blue Lotus" Latest in Room Decorations

A soft gray-blue with a lavender cast—lovely for the walls of woodwork of a cheerful room with plenty of windows—is known as blue lotus. To mix this color, combine 60 parts of white, 16 parts ultramarine blue and one part Indian red.

For a harmonious color scheme along modern lines, add a rug of deep wine color and white accessories about the room. The rug color may be matched in an upholstery fabric for the couch and the large chairs—also for the window draperies.

ELECTRICAL PROTECTION

Fuses and circuit-breakers protect the house from fire caused by short-circuits or overloads' wiring. Mineral wool insulation within the walls further reduces danger of such fire because it muffles sparks.

Simple Devices Make Home More Livable

The "hominess" of the average house can be increased, and at the same time its market value may be raised, by adding relatively inexpensive features which, although simple devices, can become so important that living in the home will revolve around them.

While the fireplace is usually the focal point of the living room, in many of the older types of houses it is often dingy and unattractive. Modern decorators have devised means of brightening them through the use of paint, new mantels, or large mirrors.

Another way to style a living room is through installing a large "picture window." A large window allowing a clear, undistorted view of the landscape tends to bring the out-of-doors into the house and form a large living picture. Frequently its effect is to turn an otherwise undistinguished house into a showplace, while at the same time providing additional natural light.

SURFACE MUST BE CLEAN

When paint-and-varnish remover has been used on a surface to remove the old coating entirely, the surface should then be cleaned thoroughly with turpentine, mineral spirits or wax remover and subsequently treated as a previously uncoated surface.

FOR A SMOOTH JOB

If you want enamel to dry nice and smooth, sand the final coat of undercoater with No. 000 sandpaper.

This charming dining area is just right for the three Judsons, being convenient and bright while the bay window in the background supplies the much coveted light and air that is a predominant factor of any room.

HAS MANY USES

Putty is generally associated in the layman's mind with the glazing of window sash, but to the painter it means a very handy material for a variety of jobs — filling nail holes, filling cracks in upright wood surfaces, filling floor cracks, filling rough spots on sawed-off board ends, etc.

Electric motors which require intermittent oiling should be given only a few drops at a time.

Hearing Set For Nov. 8 On Joan Heights Petition

A Nov. 8 hearing has been set by county commissioners on the annexation to Columbus of the Joan Heights Subdivision in Franklin Township. The area is bounded on the north by Valleyview-dr, Algonquin-av on the east, Southampton-av on the west and the city corporation line to the south.

The new date is a continuation of a hearing May 25, when the annexation petition was found to be defective and petitioners were told to amend it. A new map of the area and corrections were filed with the commissioners Friday.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

A forerunner of what is happening to American Farmers, was predicted at Greenville on Sunday, Aug. 8. Ohio Farmers, who never took a "devalued penny" in subsidies, appeared in the Scripps-Howard News in the case of American Farmer Joseph Blattner, with his "wheat acreage" problem, caused by the "Brain-trusters" who run the present "Agricultural reforms."

City people, seem to be oblivious to what their farm cousins have to put up with, while the Federal Government buys foreign wheat with taxes and stores American wheat on American farms to rot.

The Income Tax Act, passed on Oct. 4, 1913, came in for a going over since its continuance, and the "excise tax" of 52 percent, on business, seems enough for any "frugal government."

Opposition to both socialism and communism, was 100 percent. It was asked, "Why cut off the tail of the Commie Serpent and continue to play with its head?"

The UN and NATO were also taken apart as being treaties, costing Americans both in taxes and freedoms — far more than they will ever be worth.

It was pointed out that City Dwellers, pay more for a loaf of bread because of the "International wheat purchases" than if our own American wheat was used.

Farmers and City Dwellers were asked to get together and put a stop to the "dictatorship" in Washington, D.C., looked upon as "no change" having been made, but the use of a different alphabet or set of initials to hide the same system as we have had for the last 20 years.

Senator Joseph R. McCarthy was given a 100 percent or "plenary" ovation, as was Senator John W. Bricker. All in all, the Ohio farmer, is well aware of what "gives" in Washington—more so than the city folks are led to believe. All they want is justice and charity where needed, and reasonable taxes to support the government, instead of the government just handing back part of the people's taxes to fool the people while making it "never so good" for the "publicans" themselves.

So I thought since your newspaper is such a grand little "house to house" paper, its editor might like a little bit of "foreign news" from the farmer to the city dweller.

CHEROKEE INDIAN GUIDES are shown holding pow-wow with Big Chief Red Fox, a bonafide Sioux Indian, who attended the regular tribal meeting at the home of Big Chief Harry Grashel and son, Johnny, 335 N. Ogden-av. The genuine Indian stressed the importance of honesty, truthfulness, and obedience in the code of the red man and regaled the wide-eyed youngsters with tales of Indian lore. He also visited the Delaware Indian Guide Tribe and the recently organized Indian Maiden group of the local Y. Chief Red Fox was in Columbus under the auspices of the Rath Packing Co.

Cowboys Forward Wall Still Needs Plugging; 20-30 Sophs Are Sought

By Woody Owen

West High school's football squad continued its pre-season practice this week with the battle for positions a wide open affair. Such was the case especially in the forward wall, where very few players with any game experience have returned.

The coaching staff is extending every effort to fill those positions before the seasons opener, two weeks hence, as the success or failure of the forward wall will hold the key to the Cowboys' gridiron fortunes this fall.

Dan (the battler) Greer is the only returning line man to play on both offense and defense.

This lad can be used as a shining example for the new comers as he had never played football until last season, yet through his tremendous desire and willingness to learn, he went on to attain all-city and all Greater Columbus honors as a guard. Should his play continue this season as last he will go down as one of the locals' all-time greats.

Dave Randall, a fine tackle who performed on defense only, will fill one post as will Jim Kruckeberg, a standout as a defensive-end. While the versatile—Jim Vincent will handle one of the offensive end positions.

The backfield is shaping up well but there could be some changes there before the regular season.

Last Friday morning the Cowboys played a scrimmage game with Grandview and came out on top two TD's to one. However, the Cowboys looked anything but impressive.

The first cut of the season took place this week, and the coaching staff wants it to be known that they are still on the lookout for more football talent, especially 20 to 30 more sophomores. This Saturday morning at Magly Field at 9 o'clock the Cowboys will meet Cambridge in a practice tilt.

Bike riders who speed and show off are heading for an accident, too. It's silly to be careful. It's smart to be careful.

Kiwanis Clubs, Air Force To Fete 10,000 Kids

By nightfall of Sept. 18, some 10,000 Columbus kids should be awfully tired, but pretty doggone happy.

At least that's the way it is planned by the individual clubs of the eight Kiwanis International District which are taking part in the planning and joint sponsorship with the Air Force of National Kids Day on that day at Lockbourne Air Force Base.

Clubs taking an active role include the Hilltop, North, Linden, West Franklin County, Eastern, Downtown, Northwest, and Circleville Kiwanis Clubs. The affair will be under the general chairmanship of Carl Aread.

Scheduled for 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. and open to all children "1-85", the event will feature several special attractions plus an emphasis on gaining transportation for underprivileged kids. Other children may be brought by their parents, who will be welcome to enjoy the day.

One of the children will be named base commander for the day. He will be selected on the basis of a postcard submitted by him (or her) to the base commander by not later than 12 midnight of Sept. 16. The postcard will contain the name of the child, address, age in original name for an airplane. A staff car will be at the convenience of the lucky "base commander" for the entire day.

Kids will also have a chance to register for a pony, which will be given away complete with a saddle, bit, and blanket at 3 p. m. Other program items include the extinguishing of a plane fire, a parachute landing of a B-47, a military parade, and several bands. The Air Force will "adopt" the kids for the day.

VOTERS' GUIDE READY

Secretary of State Ted Brown has completed the publication of a 1954 Voter's Guide to acquaint the voters of Ohio with the provisions of the Ohio laws pertaining to the coming General Election of Nov. 2.

An eight-page pocket-size leaflet, the Guide is prepared in an easy-to-read manner, legal terminology having been reduced to layman's language. The leaflets will be provided to the 88 County Boards of Elections for distribution from their offices, as well as the Secretary of State's office, Brown said.

CHRISTMAS SEAL CONTEST

The Tuberculosis Society of Columbus and Franklin County has announced the opening of the annual contest to design the national tuberculosis Christmas seal. Anyone — amateur or professional — is eligible to enter the contest.

The seal selected will be used in 1955 and will bring its author an award of up to $500 from the National Tuberculosis Association, plus nation-wide recognition. A pamphlet "A Call for Artists," presenting Christmas seal specifications and further details, may be secured by phoning or writing the Tuberculosis Society of Columbus and Franklin County, CApital 4-3241.

YOUR HILLTOP LIBRARY

Important Reference Work For Students, Businessmen Added to the Bookshelves

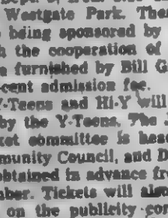
By Mildred Phaler

The Hilltop Branch Library, 2955 W. Broad-st, will begin winter hours on Monday, Sept. 13. Daily hours will be from 1 to 9 p. m. with Saturday hours 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

There are some children who were unable to attend the Reading Club party on Aug. 18 to receive their reading certificates. The certificates are being held at the library for these children. Please ask for them at the desk.

A Rand-McNally Commercial Atlas and Marketing Guide is a prized new addition to the book collection of the Hilltop Branch Library. In addition to excellent standard maps it is possible to find an analysis of retail trade by countries and states. Transportation information is given such as air distances, highway mileage maps, railroad distance tables and railroad systems. Agriculture is analyzed by states.

Economic maps give specific data on products such as barley, oats, and potatoes, as well as harvesting season maps on grains. Practically any question of a geographical nature can be answered through this atlas or the supplementary correspondence service which accompanies it. A valuable reference tool for the community.



New books added to the circulation include:

"But We Were Born Free," by Elmer Davis; "Forty Plus and Fancy Free," by Emily Kimbrough; "The Mind Alive," by Harry Overstreet; "Minutes of the Last Meeting" by Gene Fowler; "Good Taste in Home Decoration" by Donald D. MacMillan; "Personality in Action" by James S. Knox.

"Far, Far From Home," by Ruth McKenney; "The Strangeling" by Alice Harwood; "Desired Haven" by Evelyn Richardson; "Never Victorious Never Defeated." by Taylor Caldwell; "Living Issues in Philosophy" (second edition), by Titus; and "About Books and Children", by Bess Porter Adams.

These are just a few of the good books that you will enjoy seeing and taking home with you for a pleasant evening reading.

Happy Never Wicked?

Answer to our headline question is true, according to psychologists, who find that crime and wickedness are nearly always the result of unhappiness, deprivation, and dissatisfaction caused by frustration.

Sheriff's Deputies Norman Newkirk and Forest Baughman said 1400 bales of hay were stored in the barn, along with 200 bushels of oats, two corn planters, a rotary hoe and a wheat drill.

The barn and its contents were destroyed, the Prairie Township Fire Department said in setting the loss figure.

Camp Chase Civic Assn. Proxy Happy About Light

While Hilltoppers were thanking their lucky stars this week for the installation of a new traffic light at the intersection of Sullivant and Demorest-avs, the Camp Chase Civic Association was thanking the administration for its accomplishment in securing the long-needed light.

In a formal statement of appreciation for the light, a project sought by the civic association for more than a year, R. E. Parrish, association president, mentioned that his group would seek lighting in Westgate Park for both the convenience and safety of the community.

Motorcycle Race Of Legion-Arrow Set For Sunday

The sixth annual "Legion-Arrow" Motorcycle races will be held Sunday, Sept. 12, at the Ohio State Fairgrounds track. These races are becoming more popular each year and draw entries from all parts of this country and Canada. They are sponsored jointly by Camp Chase Post No. 98 of the American Legion and the Golden Arrow Motorcycle Club of Columbus.

The Ohio State Championship is a race limited to Ohio expert riders only and is always the most hotly-contested race on the card each year. This year will be no exception. "Bobby Hill" popular Columbus rider, who won the past two years was injured last week in Milwaukee and will be unable to race for some time, so the race will be wide open, with Dick Klamfoth of nearby Groveport now assuming the role of favorite. He is well remembered as the only rider to ever win the Daytona 200 mile and the Langhorne 100 mile three times.

Vern Fiscus, race chairman, and Bill Boothe, director of personnel, can use some help so any of Camp Chase Post members who can work are asked to please contact Vern at RA. 2454 or Bill at RA. 1733.

The houses to be featured in the show will be low, ranch-type dwellings built by the Hugh T. Wilson Co. They will also feature unusual exterior colors. Interior decorations will be by White Furniture, Inc., 885 W. Broad-st.

New Rome Youth Injured In Bicycle-Car Collision

A New Rome boy was seriously injured in a bicycle accident Wednesday afternoon.

Listed in "just fair" condition in Doctors Hospital with head injuries last Thursday was Richard L. Barton, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Riebel of New Rome.

Sheriff's deputies said he was riding his bicycle in the Rome-Hilliards-rd when he apparently swerved into the path of a car.

TO HEAR COACH

Woody Hayes, football mentor of Ohio State will be the featured speaker at the Sept. 16 meeting of the Hilltop Lions Club at the Colony Restaurant. Hayes, who is starting his fourth year at Ohio State, will present the "inside story" on what is to be expected from this year's Buckeyes.

The deadline for registration of voters for the Nov. 2 election is Wednesday, Sept. 22.

There will be no local registration for this election in the outlying precincts throughout the townships, officials of the county board of elections said. Thus, it will be necessary for all persons who have moved into the county to appear in person at the Board of Elections, court house annex, High and Fulton-sts. for registration.

Those registered voters, who have moved from one precinct or township to another within the county since last voting, need only send in a notice of change of residence by writing to the Board of Elections on or before Sept. 22. The card or letter must be postmarked on or before Sept. 22.

All persons who will become 21 years of age on or before Nov. 2 must register in person before becoming eligible to vote.

Two Hilltop Zoning Cases To Have Public Hearings

A petition to permit the Highland Friends Church to erect a new church building on its property on Sullivant-av, one-half mile west of Derrer-rd, and one to enable the operation of a part-time auto repair shop at 1741 Little-av are among those which will be aired in a public hearing before the Franklin County Board of Zoning Appeals at 7:30 p. m. Monday, Sept. 13.

The hearings will be conducted in the county commissioners' hearing room in the court house.

Highland Friends Church, 119 S. Highland-av, has applied for a use permit on a tract of approximately three acres in Franklin Township for the purpose of erecting the new church.

George William Ziegler is seeking the use permit on his property in the Ransburg Addition. He plans to operate the repair shop in the rear of his home.

Westinghouse Will Launch Local Plant

Dedication of $45 Million Building Set For Sept. 16

Details of the three-day formal dedication and open house events of the $45 million West Columbus appliance division plant of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. were announced yesterday by E. L. Smith, local plant manager.

Formal dedication of the plant is scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 16, at 1 p. m. at the plant site located at W. Broad-st and Phillippi-rd. The plant is to be opened to the public following the dedication until 8 p. m. and through Friday, Sept. 17, from 9 a. m. until 8 p. m. Families of the employes have been invited to attend Family Day at the plant to preview the open house on Sept. 15.

General chairman for the event is H. W. Dailey, manager of industrial relations. In addition to acting as general chairman, Dailey is also responsible for the reception and hospitality committee. C. C. Bridwell, supervisor of training and employe relations, has been named coordinator for the opening.

Other committee appointments include: J. G. Baird, dedication committee; displays and features, D. T. Balph and C. J. Vendran (Westinghouse Electric Supply Company), co-chairman; C. R. Owens, traffic; W. C. Parker, promotion; C. D. Heaton, plant preparation, tours and guides, with Richard Ewing and Wayne Anthony as assistants; Martin Karper, employe information.

Urges One-Way Streets N-S For Hilltop

Most of the Hilltop will have its north and south streets one-way if the strong recommendation to that effect made Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the Columbus Traffic Commission by Assistant Safety Director Lee Phillips is acted upon.

Phillips, who said his stand was backed by the Hilltop Business Association, urged that streets from Lechner to Demorest-rd be designed alternately for only north or south traffic flow. East-west streets would not be affected.

"Let's try it. If it doesn't work we can change it back. There will be no problem worse on one-way streets than those you have out there now," Phillips contended.

James V. Mattick, city traffic engineer, agreed that the proposal would reduce traffic conflicts and accidents, but added that a study of the area has been set back by lack of manpower and concentration on development of a plan for one-way system in the University district.

INJURED BOY HOME

Eight-year-old Robert Fugate, who fell from a tree Aug. 17, has been released from Mt. Carmel Hospital. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard E. Fugate, 632 S. Roys-av, went home last Tuesday.

Ribbon-Cutting By 2 Mayors To Start 'Jubilee'

Mayor Seasenbreenger and Mayor D. J. Kunz of New Rome will co-star in a ribbon-cutting ceremony at 9:30 a. m. Thursday, Sept. 23, which will mark the official re-opening of US 40 between New Rome and Columbus. Site of the historic moment will be W. Broad-st and Phillippi-rd., eastern terminus of the newly-finished stretch of the "Old Cumberland Trail."

The ribbon snipping, which officially reopens the highway, will also open the "Gateway West Jubilee," a civic two-day celebration sponsored by the West Franklin County Associations. The group is made up of Hilltop, West Side, and New Rome business and service organizations.

The event will feature street dancing and the two westbound lanes of the highway will be closed to traffic.

Committee members are completing details now for a mile-long parade, a Jubilee queen contest, a horseshoe pitching competition, a number of contests for children, and a WBNS-TV talent show. Focal point for all this activity will be the reviewing stand at the carnival grounds, which is to be erected in Lincoln Village at N. Murray Hill-rd and W. Broad-st.

The Jubilee queen will be crowned and awarded her trophy on Thursday night, Sept. 23. She will be presented with her court, during half-time ceremonies at the West-Arlington game on Friday.

MEMORY CHORE FOR PARENTS

Teacher Assignments Listed For Hilltop Non-City School Districts

Hilltop Record readers outside the corporation limits have many new names to learn as their children mention new teachers and other instructor personnel in the county schools. For the most part, these schools opened Tuesday.

Biggest change affecting local children as far as schools personnel goes is the naming of Vaughn J. Ullman, former superintendent of schools at Lisbon, O., as executive head of the Franklin Local School District. A three-year contract was awarded to the head of the exempted village school in Columbiana County since 1949 by the Franklin school board on Aug. 24.

Ullman, whose immediate chore will be to set up a program for the new elementary and high schools in Franklin Township, received his BS and MA degrees in school administration at Ohio State University. He also studied at Duke University and Muskingum College.

Construction of an elementary school in the township already is underway while bids for a new high school will be let this fall. There is a possibility that the grade school may be ready for occupancy by February.

Ullman, whose contract is effective Sept. 15, is expected to move into the Franklin school district soon with his wife and three children.

He served as executive head of New Albany Schools from 1945 to 1948 and as a graduate assistant at OSU the following two years.

Both the Franklin School District elementary and high schools will be located on Demorest-rd at Briggs-rd. High school students have been attending schools in Columbus, Hilliards and Grove City. However, the latter school recently refused to accept any additional students outside its district.

St. Mary Magdalene Scene Of Ptacek-DeMastry Vows

MRS. JOHN A. DEMASTRY

Before an altar banked with white gladioli and chrysanthemums in St. Mary Magdalene Church, Alice Joan Ptacek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Ptacek, 614 Salisbury-rd, became the bride of Mr. John A. DeMastry, son of Mr. Anthony DeMastry, 560 Wrexham-av, and Mrs. Helen DeMastry, 77 S. Highland-av, on Saturday, Sept. 4. The 9:30 a. m. Nuptial Solemn High Mass wedding was performed by Rev. Raymond Bauschard, assisted by Rev. Colby Grimes and Rev. James [illegible].

The bride, given in marriage by her father wore an exquisite gown of white chantilly lace and pure silk satin with a full, circular train. The gown, fashioned with a fitted basque bodice of chantilly lace with a soft V neckline formed by the scallop of the lace, had long chantilly lace sleeves, tapering into points over the hands. The bouffant skirt of pure silk satin cascaded over the Dior hoop and a billowing crinoline petticoat. Her fingertip veil of imported English illusion fell from a clip tiara of orange blossoms. The bride carried a colonial bouquet of asters and chrysanthemums centered by a white orchid while her jewelry consisted of a lone blue medal from Lourdes, France.

Preceding the bride down the aisle was the matron of honor, Mrs. Charles Pluta of Berea, O., wearing a floor-length gown of raspberry silk crystalette and carrying a colonial bouquet of white mums accented by pink asters.

The bridesmaids aiding in the ceremony were Miss Carolyn Bernsburg, Miss Jane Schaeffing, Miss Alice Kleman, and Mrs. John N. Schilling, who wore turquoise gowns of silk crystalette and carried colonial bouquets of pink mums accented by white asters. The attendants wore matching necklaces and earrings of pearls and rhinestones, gifts of the bride.

Mr. Lee DeMastry was best man for his brother, while Mr. John N. Schilling, Mr. Robert Schwemley, Mr. Dave Merz and Mr. Paul Davis served as ushers.

The bride's mother wore a pure silk mauve gown, trimmed with irridescent sequins, while an orchid corsage, mauve gloves, and a violet hat completed the attire.

The bridegroom's mother chose a navy blue hat and gloves as accessories with her slate blue gown and wore a corsage of pink roses.

A breakfast for the wedding party was held at Willard's Restaurant at noon, while a reception for 200 guests was held at Mrs. Root's Party House in the afternoon from 3-5 p.m. Hostesses for the reception were Miss Anne Corcoran, Miss Phyllis Joseph, Miss Nancy Russell, Mrs. Robert Watts, and Mrs. Joseph Graham.

The bride, a graduate of St. Joseph Academy and St. Mary of the Springs College, was employed as an instructor of physical education at the latter during the past school year.

Mr. DeMastry, whose father honored the wedding party with a rehearsal dinner at the Columbus Maennerchor, was graduated from St. Charles Preparatory School and Ohio State University and is now serving with the U. S. Army at the Valley Forge Army Hospital in Phoenixville, Pa.

The new Mrs. DeMastry chose a beige wool suit with red accessories and the white orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet for the wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains. The couple will reside in Eastern Pennsylvania after Sept. 15.

ILLS COULD BE AVOIDED

A great many of the really serious ills of mankind could be avoided, according to the Tuberculosis Society of Columbus and Franklin County, if we could only stay somewhere under that vacation peak of health.

Take tuberculosis, for example. Of course, it is caused by a germ. But the healthy body can usually fight the germs to a standstill. It has been estimated that 40,000,000 Americans may have TB germs in their bodies. Those millions need not develop the disease, and probably most of them won't. But, judging by past years, 110,000 of them will break down with TB in 1954.

"Come little leaves," said the wind one day
"Come o'er the meadow with me and play.
Put on your dresses of red and gold.
Summer has gone and the days grow cold."
The days aren't cold exactly but it won't be long and we will have to be prepared. The knit suits and dresses Seiller's are featuring are really beautiful, both in style and color. They have them in wool, plaid and plain toreadors, also the long socks to wear with them; skirts of all styles, ship and shore blouses.
Here' two real big SPECIALS, capeskin jackets for $20, ordinarily $29.95. Orders are being taken for the Cashmere Sweaters that were regularly priced at $16.99 each. Seiller's are selling them two for $25. They have been selling these sweaters faster than they could reorder, so they are suggesting you put in your order now. We might suggest you have a friend go in on the order with you. Mothers are ordering now for Christmas presents.
Seiller's have the regulation gym clothes for the high school set. They have changed this year you know — schools have gone a little more modern this year in having the girls wear blouses and blue shorts. Seiller's have them at $1.99 to $3.99.
If you're interested in what's new this fall, you will have the opportunity to see for yourself at the Style Show Seiller's is giving at Hoge Memorial Church Luncheon on Sept. 23rd (Yours truly's birthday, by the way). The luncheon will be served at 1 p.m., style show immediately following. Tickets $1.00. See you at Seiller's. Adv.

INCREASED ENROLLMENT

St. Mary Magdalene Parish Notes Silver Jubilee

The parishioners of St. Mary Magdalene Parish, joined Bishop Ready and their pastor, Rev. Raymond Bauschard, Sunday in celebrating 25 years of steady progress since the founding of the parish. Shown with the Bishop and Rev. Bauschard are some of the original charter members of the 100 families who made up the parish 25 years ago. The parish now counts some 850 families within its boundaries.

The growth of the parish is also reflected in the comparison of the baptismal record and pupil enrollment of 25 years ago and today. The first year the parish was founded there were 10 baptisms and 90 pupils in the school. Today baptisms average 90 per year and the school enrollment stands at 510. Rev. Bauschard has been pastor of the parish since its founding by the late Bishop Hartley.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE RICH to enjoy the best

Don't make the mistake of waiting for riches before giving yourself to God. You could never pay for spiritual treasure if you had all the money in the world. (Ephesians 2:8, 9.)

Base Point

We count on the weather vane to give us the wind's direction. No matter which way the vane turns, the four points of the compass remain permanent. Those four points are anchored fast and true.

Yet they stand fast only because of one other feature of the weather vane that's easy to overlook. That is the base point, the spot where the weather vane is fastened to the structure that supports it. If that point gives way, the whole apparatus will tumble in the first strong wind that blows its way.

We have our own compass points to guide us in the political and social storms which swirl about us so often these days. We call these points "principles"—the principles established in church. To strengthen those principles so that nothing will shake them loose, we look to the church for a base point that will guarantee our solidarity in any crisis. And we find what we seek in the strength of God, the rock of ages for generations past, and generations yet unborn.

For thou hast been a strength to the poor, a strength to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm. . .
—Isa. 25:4

That strength is our strength if we will but make our churches the spiritual base point of our lives.

FR. 8-4184

School daze is a trite, worn-out phrase at certain times of the year, but it has a pertinent meaning for Hilliards school officials this fall as never before. With a high school enrollment of 506 as of last Thursday and an elementary school enrollment expected to run nearly 700, if not in excess that figure, "daze" is a mild term for the way teachers, principals, and Superintendent Hartsook probably felt when a student body of 200 "bodies" larger than last spring swarmed in upon them.

High School Principal Warren F. Thomas said on Thursday that still more enrollees were expected before opening date and Clerk Margaret Michel's total for the elementary school was merely an estimate, based partly on known pupils and partly upon the school enumeration which showed increased numbers of first graders. As more and more new homes are erected, couples with school-aged children are buying and moving to Hilliards, automatically increasing the schooling demands.

Dedicated to the ideal of public education for all your, Supt. Hartsook has spent a summer heavily burdened with the task of maintaining facilities and acquiring teachers capable of keeping local schools in their accustomed high standing among the public schools of Ohio.

HILLIARDS METHODIST Church leaders and teachers of children and youth of the church are expected to attend the special seminar at Indianola Methodist Church in Columbus on Sept. 24. Two sessions will be conducted, the morning period beginning at 9:30. Noon intermission will last from 12:15 until 1:30 p. m. and the afternoon session is expected to end at 2:30.

Luncheon at 65 cents per person may be had at the church dining room, Mrs. Mae Swepston said, urging that all persons interested attend the seminar and learn more about the correlation of programs for children and young folks.

WSCS OF HILLIARDS Methodist Church will hold its first meeting of the fall season at the church on Sept. 14. This is a week later than the customary meeting date, normally on the first Tuesday of the month, because school opens on Sept. 7 this year, the society has postponed its opening meeting one week.

THE NORTH END SCHOOL of Religion will be conducted for six Wednesday evenings at North Broadway Methodist Church, beginning Oct. 6. All ages will be included in the classes. A good representation from Hilliards is expected.

MRS. MAE SWEPSTON, Goodwill industries representative for The Hilliards Methodist Church, pleads that the industries be kept in mind every day. "Do not throw away, burn or destroy anything without first asking if it might be used. Watch for notice in this paper for the next date the truck will be in town to pick up your bags. If you need bags, call FR. 8-7374.

As children's divisional superintendent of the church, Mrs. Swepston also issued the following notice in connection with the youth program and addressed to the children's division of the Church School, Hilliards Methodist Church:

"Thinking forward, planning for the program for all of the children everywhere—I solic't you, as leader in everyday life, to guide our boys and girls that their experiences in the church, community and at home, may help them increasingly to think of others and to act toward them as Christian friends."

HILLIARDS VILLAGE COUNCIL'S regular meeting Monday, August 30th, was given over chiefly to discussion of numerous matters not at the time capable of conclusion.

In connection with the proposed renovation of the village water tank, an estimate received from the E. B. Taylor Co. by the board of public affairs was considered, and the board of public affairs authorized to advertise for bids for having work done.

Considerable discussion was had on the program of the Regional Planning Commission for establishing a metropolitan sewage disposal area.

Topics not disposed of at the meeting will be taken up by council at future sessions, Clerk Jeanne Felspauch indicated.

BILL WALKER, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Walker of Hayden Run-rd and a junior in Hilliards High School, sustained painful injuries in football practice, Thursday of last week. After X-ray pictures, Bill was released in his mother's care and is confined to the family home. The physician in charge of the case says Bill will be out of the football lineup for an indefinite time even after he is able to return to school.

Wm. Bill's elder brother, was injured severely in an automobile accident at the close of the school year last spring, but has recovered and has been working this summer on the farm operated by the Walker family.

FARMER OF THE WEEK

After 100 Years On The Same Farm, Van Schoycks Certain They'll Beat Current Problem

Sylvester Van Schoyck
By Louise Pohlmann

Some of the finest breeding and milk producing Holstein cattle in the country have been raised near Hilliards. The farm now comprises 263 acres, the original tract having been purchased by Sylvester Van Schoyck, who brought his bride to live in a one-story house there, and which is still in use, soon after the close of the Civil War.

Ray Van Schoyck, son of Sylvester, started in 1915 a dairy herd of 15 Holstein cows, about six of them being registered purebreds. Combining the Van in his family name with the last syllable of his post office, Hilliards, he coined the name for the farm which for 39 years has been known as Vaniard Farm.

Now operating the dairy and tilling the fields is the father and son partnership of William and Owen Van Schoyck, representing the third and fourth generations of the family on the same farm. The milking herd now numbers 80 purebreds and the total herd consists of 80 registered animals.

On the official testing program of the National Holstein-Friesian Association, beginning in 1935, the Vaniard line in 1937 was second highest in its class on the national test, based on size of herd and number of daily milkings. Over a period of 19 years, average butterfat production per cow was 435 pounds and the whole milk production averaged 12,000-odd pounds per annum, over two and one-half times the amount of the average United States cow.

The milk has always been transported by the farm's own equipment, first by horse-drawn wagons from the farm to Hilliards to be shipped by train to Columbus, and now hauled by modern insulated truck direct from the farm to the processing plant.

About 30 years ago, William Van Schoyck became manager of the farm when his father moved to Hilliards, retaining, however, an active interest in operations until shortly before his death not quite three years ago. Owen became a partner with his father in 1951, after graduating in December, 1950, from Ohio State University. Majoring in farm management, he received the degree of bachelor of science in agriculture.

Up-to-date business practices govern every feature of Vaniard Farm operations. The depressed price of raw milk—in a recent month the gross receipts per quart figured out to 7½ cents—is producing some deep study of ways and means to meet all costs of production of quality milk.

The Van Schoycks say they never have been able to raise enough grain on their own farm to feed their herds. With the allotments recently voted, they expect to be harder hit even than at present, both in the matter of getting enough corn for feed and of cover crops to get fields into grass for adequate pasture. Normally 100 acres of the farm are devoted to alfalfa alone.

With their planting of needed feed crops curtailed and the income cut by low milk prices reducing their margin to buy grain raised off the farm to keep their stock adequately fed, father and son are doing some intensive head-scratching as they head into 1955. They are quite sure, however, that after nearly 100 years on the same farm, the Van Schoycks are not going to give up, and they plan to keep right on producing fine cattle and high quality milk.

West Park Methodists Win Junior YMCA Crown

By Harry Gresbel

West Park Methodist defeated the West Junior Hi-Y team to win the Hilltop YMCA Junior softball title 6-5. George Breckenridge, on the mound for West Park, allowed but two hits while striking out six. Charles Deyo was the big hitter for the West Park team with a perfect three for three day at the plate, two of his hits being home runs. John Kuntz and Dave Francis were the only Hi-Y boys to hit safely.

With Hi-Y leading 5-3 in the last of the seventh, Lynn Ward led off the inning with a double to left; the next two batters were retired but Bob Arthur singled to keep the West Park cause alive. With runners on second and third, Chuck Deyo was intentionally passed to load up the bases. George Breckenridge singled to left to tie up the game and then Paul Fulton drove a base hit into right field to win the game and the championship for West Park.

Hi-Y's big inning was the third when two hits, an error, and four walks resulted in five runs.

On Sunday, Sept. 11, at 2 p. m., the league All-Stars will oppose the league champion, West Park Methodist team. The All-Stars will be a team picked by the league coaches from the rosters of West Jr. Hi-Y, Westgate EUB and Glenwood Methodist. This game will be played at Westgate Park.

Daredevil driving may seem dramatic, but too-often it rings down the curtain on a life. The Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce reminds you—speed kills—take it easy!

'Small Fry'

"Oh, is that so?"

This young lady seems to be looking down her nose and proving that she can hold her own when a difference of opinion arises in the nursery. She is Barbara Ruth, 10½-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving D. Bridwell, 691 Wheatland-av.

Village Clerk Jeanne Felspauch conducts her permit-issuing duties from her home at 101 N. Norwich-st. Usually the fee-collection goes smoothly, but one day last week she was nearly floored when an applicant nonchalantly handed her a $100 bill to be changed . . . Hilliards Stillwater Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men is sponsoring a "stag" fish fry Saturday, Sept. 11, at Herb Riebel's near New Rome. (The foregoing item leads one to wonder if the honorable red man has emancipated his women folk—ugh—Big Chief do own cooking! Wash dishes, too?)

Mr. and Mrs. John Penfield had as house guests last week, Mr. Penfield's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Penfield of West Hartford, Conn. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Walter Arndt, Miss Louise Pohlmann and Mrs. Guy Finlay were among those attending the funeral of Mrs. Anna B. Florence on Friday at the Schoedinger Statest chapel.

Looking Backward Through Record Files

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

SEPT. 8, 1939—Officials of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. said today that the street cars on W. Broad-st will be replaced by trolley coaches within a year. It is assumed that the line will be extended past Hague-av at that time.

Hilltop grocers reported that due to a rapid increase in prices, they were unable to obtain goods at the prices they were retailing for a few days ago. Housewives were rushing to buy up certain articles of food although no shortage in supply has been reported.

The Japanese invasion of China is a blessing in disguise," said Paul Feng, a Chinese missionary and Bible student of the Quaker Church, visiting the Hilltop. He also predicted that the China-Japanese War would end soon if other countries did not send arms to Japan.

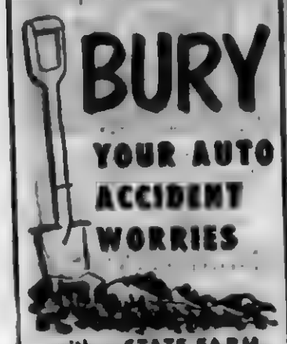
In a statement of policy The Hilltop Record said today: "We have adopted a definite editorial policy, that of a progressive program for the Hilltop, and one of honesty and sincerity in our expressions. We will at all times continue to be independent politically and otherwise."

TEN YEARS AGO

Sept. 8, 1944—Camp Chase Post Legionnaires today resumed the drive to solicit funds for a Veterans' Memorial Building. Pledges to date total $13,690.

Coach Dale Rose put the boys of the 12-A class of West High School through an hour session in the new commando training class, designed to condition boys for military training. Run on a military plan, the class will have ranks from yardbird to four-star general.

Hilltoppers were urged to start saving cardboard and strong wrapping paper for sending gifts overseas for Christmas. Packages overseas can be sent without a request from the service man between Sept. 15 and Oct. 15 only, postal officials said.



FIVE YEARS AGO

SEPT. 8, 1949—Better known as a builder of character at West High School rather than a builder of houses is C. S. Kennedy, instructor plan and personally built 120, including the $65,000 home of Dr. V. A. Dodds in Upper Arlington, and Central High School Principal Fred C. Slager's home, 1933 Berkshire-rd, costing $67,000.

Hilltop youngsters who won a year's scholarship on the Jimmy Rawlins "Search for Talent" contest are Bonnie Welch, 124 S. Roosevelt, and Sharon Kay Stephenson, Rt. 1, West Jefferson. The competition, held all summer long, was entered by some 200 children.

Rev. N. L. Schrieber, pastor of the Westgate Methodist Church, announced today that, beginning on Sunday, Sept. 11, two identical worship services will be offered every Sunday. The new times of worship will be 9 and 11 a. m. with Church School coming between at 10 a. m.

Drastic Measures Not Necessary

We heard a man holding forth on his "office soapbox" the other day to the effect that he would destroy one fundamental liberty of the American people and thereby return this nation to the principals of free enterprise as set forth in the constitution.

His panacea, as we recall it, went something like this: "Let me pass a law that makes it a criminal offense to stay away from the polls in any election, and I will ensure you truly representative government. Also, make it mandatory for a person to vote either for or against an issue."

On the surface, the suggestion sounds as though it were possibly a good idea. But we tend to wonder how the great American electorate would vote if by some foul means an issue such as "Do you want the government to take 90 per cent or 85 per cent of your gross income through the payroll deduction plan were placed on the ballot."

It's like asking a man how he prefers to be punished for violation of a parking regulation — gas chamber or electric chair?

No, this newspaper feels that it is the duty of every citizen to register and vote in every election, but not by coercion. Rather we feel that the public should be educated about the value of casting a ballot and the danger of staying away from the polls. If you, Mr. and Mrs. Citizen, stay home in droves on Nov. 2, chances are excellent that some measure you won't want will be rammed down your throat, candidates unsuited for civic life will be elected. There's a good chance, too, that a candidate you want to get into office will be defeated, the measure you want, will be lost in the shuffle.

You can bet your bottom dollar that the special interest groups will not stay from the polls. You have no gripe coming if you do!

Remember, the deadline for registration in the crucial fall general election is Sept. 22. What are you doing about it?

Trivia

From THE EDITOR'S DESK

By Galvy Gordon

STRAWS IN THE WIND: Today's column on the subject of school news will be clipped out by parents, discussed at PTA meetings, brought to the attention of school principals, coaches and teachers, and read avidly by students of our community's elementary and high schools. (At least that's what I hope).

In keeping with the basic idea of this column—direct behind-the-scenes communication between editor and reader—I'll let you in on something. I started to draft a letter the other day to school principals, journalism teachers, and the city school board, but on second thought I realized the matter at hand is so vital to YOUR interests that I'd do better just to toss it in the column.

THE BASIC IDEA behind my intense desire to let you in on how we feel about school news is so that we may all cooperate to make the local school news in this newspaper second to none in the nation. Ambitious sounding isn't it? But it can be done with the cooperation of all concerned.

BREVITY will be the keynote. Many people seem to feel that the importance of an organization is determined by how much space is given to a news happening. For those suffering under this misapprehension, I would like to point out the fine job of condensation and "capsulating" of news done by our weekly national news magazines such as Time and Newsweek. Wordiness is to be avoided unless there has been prior mutual agreement with this office concerning a special feature or special treatment of a news story.

May I recommend most heartily any of R. Flesch, readability expert, to your individual publicity chairmen in the case of PTA's and to those charged with the responsibility of school publicity writing and coordination?

GENERALLY SPEAKING, any pictures this newspaper will take of school activities will have to be scheduled on Thursday afternoon or Friday, with arrangements at least three or four days in advance. If bonafide emergencies—and we will have to be the judge—a different schedule can be arranged. For the most part, too, it will be impossible for us to furnish a photographer at any time except on the 8-5 work-day.

May I suggest that each organization in the school set-up—clubs, PTA, teachers' organizations, etc. —attempt to find one member of its group who is an excellent photographer. Then, it would be possible to submit 'picture prints (along with the negative, please) for publication that otherwise we would not be able to handle. Then again bear in mind that many groups would like not only to see their pictures in print, but would like to buy extras. So why not attempt to hire a photographer through the yellow pages of the phone directory to kill two birds with one stone. All we ask is that photos of outside photographers be submitted on 5x7 paper.

In all cases, our own photographic equipment and editorial staffs will be judges of whether a picture can be used. Pictures cannot be returned unless a self-addressed, stamped envelope is included.

IDEALLY, all copy we receive should be double-spaced and typewritten. However, those who write exceedingly legible or print may submit their copy in such form. The double-space rule still applies.

DEADLINE ALL IMPORTANT: We are a Thursday newspaper, but the bulk of our pages are "locked up" early Monday morning. Therefore, to be on the sure side, observe the rule that copy arriving by Saturday noon will be given first consideration when "makeup space" begins to get tight. Copy arriving at this office later than Monday noon has only the slimmest chance of getting into the paper. "Exclusives" or "scoops" also have a much better chance of getting into the paper than twice-told tales.

TELEPHONE NEWS should be confined only to the most important, last-minute events.

IN SERVING THE COMMUNITY, we are fortunate in being able to provide more space (within rigidly defined limits) than the dailies to purely local school news. For this reason, we feel that it will be lassitude and lack of diligence on the part of school news contributors if your school does not receive its fair share of press coverage.

LOVE THY EDITOR, or, at least act like you do! Based on my own career in public relations—including a stint immediately before this job as civilian public relations coordinator for the Army Reserve in Ohio—I can tell you authoritively that the quickest way to close an editor's mind to the virtues of your organization is to complain! Grousing or griping by you or an ill-advised, unauthorized member of your group can be disastrous. If you, Mr. or Mrs. President and/or Publicity Chairman feel you haven't had an even shake, come on in and we'll talk it over. No editor is obligated to carry one word of material you submit, but chances are he'll be more than willing to meet you halfway. I know that I will.

PATIENCE, PLEASE: It may take two or three weeks for you and me to set up the excellent school pages and school news coverage I was boasting about near the top of this column. In the meantime, you can help me help you by sending your president or person charged with publicity into the office to talk with me. He or she should bring such data as names, telephone numbers and addresses of officers, a listing of events planned for the school year and an open mind.

Our little chat will probably be brief but I have reams of ideas that will help you. If you can't come in person write me a letter with the information requested in the above paragraph. Don't be surprised if your letter appears in the paper. After all, the fact that you have taken time to write such a letter is proof of our common interest in the education of our children. And that subject, my friends, is probably, the most important problem in our nation today — preparing citizens to protect our American way of life!

COUNTRY CHURCHES

The little, unpretentious country church
That stands beside a quiet, dusty road,
Regardless of how far and wide I search,
Presents the most invitatory code.
No architectural splendor graces it,
No obvious kinship with cathedrals great.
One simple room, with pews that are a bit Straight-backed and hard, but yet seem intimate.
An altar plainly hewn, its comeliness
Adorned with flowers and word of His decree.
There is an air of naive peacefulness,
A lack of artificiality.
I like quaint churches built of country sod
Because they seem so very near to God.—Maysie Talley Klein.

Mail—From Columbus: "Do you know the poem 'Country Churches?' I don't know who wrote it but recall having read it in a book of poetry." (Above is the only poem I could find under that title. It is in The Desk Drawer Anthology of Poems, compiled several years ago by Alice Roosevelt Longworth and Theodore Roosevelt, Jr. Hope it is the poem you mean) . . . From Shelby: "We just returned from a trip through New England. You would love the little towns and their little white churches and the rear of the sea. And that clam chowder is really delicious" . . . From Columbus: "Almost Labor Day already. It seems that last week school was out for the summer and we were wondering what to do with the children all summer and how to entertain them. They seem to have taken care of that little item themselves and are as brown as the proverbial berries. But they protest that summer isn't long enough."

In Passing—or "on peasant" since I'm no longer a peasant. Cloud Seven better have a vacancy for I'm due to arrive there any day now after all the kind words in various columns. Strange how kind words come along to give a lift just when it is needed most. I am most grateful. The latest to throw me a bouquet (appreciated, though not deserved) is Sandy Sanford who pinch-hit/hitted/hat? for Pat Benadum in Courage, Incorporated's monthly publication "The Grapevine." It is not strange that Sandy also commented upon Don Alban's tall tales. They are fairly well-known around Columbus . . . Everything is ready for the first day of school for a certain six-year-old whom I happen to love very dearly . . . the new permanent, dresses, shoes and other accessories. Everything is ready except her mommy and daddy (and grandparents) who can't believe it is possible that their baby is old enough for school . . . Whoever Dr. Wallace is, he must have a large practice. My phone rings a dozen times a day for him . . . Last year somebody sent a cactus from Arizona. It looked dead so was banished to a dark corner of the basement, but the other day it was found to be growing and even has a bright yellow flower at the top. There is a moral there someplace . . . What patience hospital nurses have! So many unreasonable demands are made by patients, but they keep calm, even though being human I'm sure they would like to give some of the patients something to really complain about. A nurse told me the usual is: "I pay for service and I demand service." though she says that well-bred patients make up for the others, who fortunately are in the minority.

From somewhere — She: "Did anyone ever tell you how wonderful you are?" He: "No, I don't think anyone ever did." She: "Then I would like to know where you got the idea" . . . Here are a few reasons why editors left town: Minnesota paper—"Mrs. Blank expects to have a garter removed by the Mayo Brothers; "West Virginia paper—"The bridesmaids' gowns were punk;" Connecticut paper — "The Senator was tight on the job." Vermont paper — "England is being plagued by aunts" . . . "What is the principal contribution of the automotive age?" Asked the prof of the student who was carefully scanning the ceiling. After due consideration and a lot of ceiling scanning, he answered, "It has practically done away with all that horse-stealing" . . . Note from Johnny's teacher to Johnny's mother: "Johnny knows tv but is completely blank on the rest of his a b c's" . . . Telephone monolog: "Say, Dotty, Dad cut my allowance and won't let me have the car, but we could have a nice quiet evening at your . . . hello! hello!" . . . One reason why Solomon's temple took so long to build might have been because he had 1001 wives to make suggestions . . . A tree is an object that will stand in one place for years, then will jump right in front of a woman driver . . . "Dad, what is heredity?" "Heredity, my boy, is what a man believes in until his son begins to act like a fool."

Those Eyes —

How Well Do You Know Them?

The friendly and familiar eyes behind the mask last week have probably already been identified by many as Howard C. Lloyd, an active Hilltopper for the past 20 years.

Howard, his wife, Vella, and the not-so-little Lloyds, Jane and Howard, Jr., reside at 136 N. Eureka-av. Now the sales manager at Rodenfels Chevrolet Company, Howard has been associated with the firm for about 25 years.

Howard Lloyd

Well known for his work as vice-president of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, Howard is also very active at Glenwood Methodist Church and is numbered in the memberships of numerous other organizations such as West Gate Masonic Lodge, Shrine, Athletic Club and Columbus Chamber of Commerce.

An ardent fan of the West High football team, who attends every game, Howard is sure that the team may look forward to a very successful season in '54.

The man whose masked eyes greet you this week is many times not more than a "foot" away—and that's the very "sole" of our clue.

West High Gridders To Open Their 1954 Season Friday Night At North

West High School's gridiron squad will open its 1954 season Friday night at North as the Polar Bears host the Cowboys, Arlington and Grandview in preview contests with the starting time being 8:15 p.m.

North will oppose Arlington in the opening quarter, with the Cowboys and Grandview meeting in the second.

Arlington and Grandview clash in the third period, while the Cowboys and Polar Bears close out the night action in the finale.

Although each squad plays only one half of a regulation contest, the short action should give the fans some idea about the strength of their respective teams, as each will be going all out to win.

The Cowboys' starting lineup is still in doubt at this writing as several changes may be made before game time and several close battles are being waged for some starting assignments.

Offensively the Cowboys may line up as follows: ends—Vincent and Kern; tackles—Randall and Burlew; guards—Jutt and J. Davis; center—Anderson; QB—Nafzger or Kline; HB—Deshler, Swindler, K. Davis or Conley; FB—Nebinger.

Defensively the only sure starters are: ends—Deshler and Kruckeberg; tackle — Randall; guard—Greer; line backers—Nebinger and Nafzger; safety—Vincent.

Last Saturday the Cowboys displayed a great improvement in their play as they handed Cambridge the short end of a 27-6 score.

Trailing 6-0 at halftime, the locals roared back for three TD's in the third quarter and added another in the finale, with Karl Davis adding three out of four conversions via the place-kick route.

The offensive play of Halfbacks Dana Deshler, Karl Davis and Jerry Swindler was outstanding, while the defensive play of the line was greatly improved.

The handsome brick and frame home of Rev. and Mrs. Harris B. Anthony, 675 S. Harris-av, has the double asset of being both well constructed and remarkably well planned, a rarity of combination in most homes of its size.

Remarkable Planning Is An Asset To Parsonage

The lovely home that caught our eye this week is the parsonage of Rev. and Mrs. Harris B. Anthony, 675 S. Harris-av.

The Anthonys, who have been residents of the Hilltop for the past 17 years, built the two-story brick home five years ago. Since that time it has served as a popular gathering place for many meetings and social gatherings of the organizations of the Warren Avenue Church of the Nazarene, of which Rev. Anthony is the pastor.

The brick and white frame house is set on a rolling green carpet of grass landscaped with various flowers and shrubs. The attractive concrete side porch is supported by sturdy brick pillars and is railed on two sides with green painted wrought iron. A full-length dormer is visible at the back of the house as well as a wrought iron-railed concrete basement stairway, a convenience often found lacking in the later model homes possessing basements.

The broad expanses of oak flooring and birch woodwork in the entranceway of this attractive home is also found throughout the rest of the house. Here, as well as in the halls and living room, the walls are papered in rose and white stripes with a flower motif. The carpeting, also found in the above areas, is of shaded rose, beige, tan, and green on a black background.

A glance at the entranceway gives an observant visitor an idea of the fine floor plan of the eight rooms, an enviable strongpoint of the Anthony home.

A good illustration of this is the short hallway leading into the interior of the house which connects with an adjacent hallway, giving access to the kitchen, the first floor bathroom, and two downstairs bedrooms, the stairway leading to the second floor, and the study, which is to the left of the entranceway.

A turn to the right from the entranceway brings one into the large, almost square, living room with its picture window covering most of the front wall and a second window and doorway, leading to the side porch, in the remaining outer wall.

The drapes, gently self-valanced, are of a deep dusty rose damask, complementing the light birch of the colonial type mantle-piece over the polished red brick fireplace. Furnishing the room is a large, old-fashioned upright piano, a burgundy overstuffed sofa with a companion chair upholstered in blue, a second occasional chair of mahogany, covered in a rose and beige pattern, and a rocker-chair with ottoman, its upholstery features a burgundy and olive green pattern on a beige background.

The same carpeting found in the entranceway and living room covers the oak flooring of the dining room and is combined with papered walls featuring a white and soft beige flower designed on a background of glowing rose with the aforementioned rose damask drapes. The two-piece dark mahogany dining room suite consists of a buffet and dining table which seats six. The focal point of this room is the built-in birch china closet, its colonial carved columns reaching from floor to ceiling with a leaded glass door resembling a church window. The cabinet displays a family collection of crystal and lovely silver tea service.

The kitchen, immediately off the dining room to the right, boasts several roomy birch cupboards which flank the sink and line one wall. The countertops and wall space below the cabinets is covered in durable linoleum of a deep red hue. A red and chrome dinette set with a formica tabletop and red upholstered chairs occupies the dining area, while a tall kitchen stool of stainless steel, painted in contrasting red and white, is just the right height for a counter seat and to aid in countless ways with the kitchen tasks.

Going through the kitchen and inner hallway, one arrives at the study, papered in a gray, white and green feather design which is pleasing to the eye. Along the two side walls are large birch bookcases possessing cabinets at floor-level for convenient storage space. The great oak desk before the draped picture window is an old friend of Rev. Anthony's for it has been in his possession for many years. A roomy green leather upholstered chair makes comfortable and convenient seating for the frequent visitors to Rev. Anthony's office.

The guest room, to the left of the study, features a large walk-in clothes closet and is cheerily papered with budding yellow roses surrounded by cool green leaves on a white background. Rayon drapes of soft hues of rose, yellow, and blue fall in a gentle line to the highly polished oak floor, a mellow background for the green shag rugs and deep green upholstered easy chair. The mahogany suite of this lovely room includes a dainty writing desk. The master bedroom, across the hall, is papered in silver, white, and glowing pink stripes with one panel in a profusion of yellow, blue, and pink phlox on a white background. Blue shag rugs are arranged among the pieces of the light walnut suite, which includes a large four-poster with beautifully carved design. Blue drapes sprinkled with bright roses complete this colorful room.

Retracing our steps down the hall to the stairway leading to the second floor, we pass four large closets and a shining bathroom of black and peach tile with black linoleum and a large birch linen closet.

A wrought iron railing partitions the open stairway from the upper hallway. Both are papered with white dogwood blossoms on a pale green background with carpeting of a swirling shaded green design. All doors opening onto this hall are of painted white sills and frames with a stained birch panel.

The child-size bedroom at the head of the stairs is papered in dainty pink rose buds and green leaves on white. In addition to a mahogany mirrored dresser, furnishings include twin beds covered with white chenille spreads trimmed with pastels. They are separated by a bedside bookshelf overflowing with bedtime stories to send any sleepyhead off to pleasant dreams. The room is completed by blue shag rugs.

The roomy hallway, featuring another huge linen closet, is well lighted by dormer windows and is frequently used by Mrs. Anthony as a quiet, out-of-the-way sewing room.

The second-floor bathroom is painted in blue and yellow while a second bedroom, boasting two clothes closets, is papered in silver, white and yellow stripes with one panel of white blossoms on a yellow background. The bedroom suite includes several pieces and is brightened by the yellow and white chenille spread complementing the wallpaper.

A quick drop to the basement reveals a furnace room, a spacious recreation room and a smaller partitioned area servinig as a utility room with a lavatory.

Rev. and Mrs. Anthony have three active daughters sharing this lovely home with them. They are Marilyn, 22, Della, 20; and Pauline, eight.

Marilyn, a graduate of Olivet Nazarene College, has been furthering her studies at Ohio State University during the summer and began teaching her second-grade class at John Burroughs this week where her younger sister, Pauline, is entering the third grade.

Della, who has been associated with the Prudential Life Insurance Company, will enter Olivet Nazarene College this fall.

The entire family, given wholeheartedly to their church work, hasn't much time left for hobbies or other organizations, although Mrs. Anthony and her two older daughters are members of the church choir.

Pleasing and appealing is the best way to begin a description of the dining room, attractive in furnishings and decor and highlighted by the beautifully crafted birch china closet.

The sturdily-built and ornately-carved light walnut suite in the master bedroom is the main feature. Combined with the soft pastels of paper and decorations it offers a lovely picture of a bygone, but still attractive and serviceable, fashion in furnishings.

Rev. Anthony is perhaps more at home in his well-equipped study than in any other spot in the house, for this is where visitors most frequently find him, in much the same attitude as pictured here.

• Home of the Week •

The spacious and attractively decorated living room is well lighted by the large picture window and is removed from the daily traffic to and from Rev. Anthony's study by the entranceway and inner hallway, a boon to any home where callers are frequently received.

COST OF HEATING SYSTEM

The cost of installing the average home heating system represents from 6 to 10 per cent of the total construction cost of the house.

Bay Windows Are Staging Comeback

Along with its old contemporaries, the bustle and the bubble skirt, the bay window is coming back. In the field of house styling, builders report, more and more families planning homes are calling for bays or bow windows in living and dining rooms, especially in cases where the rooms are small.

Contractors explain that while a bay window actually adds a little usable floor area to a room, it creates an illusion of spaciousness and contributes to the attractiveness of both the interior and exterior of the house.

Asphalt Tiles Now In Lighter Colors

For the first time, asphalt tiles in a light yellow, green and a bright red are available. Until now the tiles, popular for radiant-heated, one-floor houses, have been available only in dark colors. To achieve the new light colors the manufacturer has added more vinyl resins as a binder.

TIPS For Home Owners

Our living room is shortly to be redecorated. Could you offer suggestions as to colors for the walls and drapes? The rug is a beige-rose scroll; two fireside chairs are chartreuse; a loveseat is flamingo. A lazy-boy chair is striped green, chartreuse, brown and gray and the sectional sofa has a floral design in rose, pink, green and chartreuse on a brown background. Woodwork and Venetian blinds, at the windows are white. T.S.A.

Lemon-yellow would be a good color for the walls of this room. For the draperies, I suggest a material patterned in red, green, white and yellow on a chartreuse background.

My bathroom is tiled in sea green with the base a darker green. The fixtures are black; the cabinets and dressing table, white enamel; the floor covering is black and white marbelized linoleum and there is a white Venetian blind on the window. What colors should I use for shower curtain, window curtain, bath mat and rug? Also shall I use a stool or small vanity bench for the dressing table?

V.B.

For your bathroom I suggest shower curtain and window curtain, red and white striped plastic; bathmat, green; rug, red. A stool would probably take up less room than a vanity bench for the dressing table. Enamel it white to match the table.

We want your advice on what kind of twin beds to get to be used in a room with white painted furniture. The walls are chartreuse and the rug has mixed colors, with an orchid and purple tone predominating. C. E. W.

Headboard beds would be attractive with the white furniture. Headboards could be upholstered in white leather or, for more color, chintz with a floral pattern in wine, green and white on a yellow background. Yellow bedspreads with green dust ruffles would be attractive.

I have a very dark room with long and narrow windows and dark woodwork. Will you please suggest colors for walls, rug, drapes and slipcovers to brighten up the room? S. H.

I suggest: walls, aqua; rug, maroon; draperies, a floral pattern on an eggshell background; slipcovers, blue, gray, rose and natural.

How can I make a bedroom more cosy? It is very large and looks bare. The wallpaper is gray with a floral pattern in green, white, pink and yellow; woodwork is white, and furniture maple. What color bedspread and vanity skirt would you suggest? Also what color should I paint a sewing machine and chair? M. F. D.

For your bedspread I suggest rose and for the vanity skirt, green organdy trimmed with yellow daisies. Green would also be a good color to paint the sewing machine and chair.

A number of birch cupboards and a wide expanse of uninterrupted counter space makes for a convenient and pleasant workroom. Notice the two built-in cutting boards which may be pulled out from beneath the counter edge for use.

Red Feather Volunteer Bureau To Ask 'Brother, Can You Spare Some Time?'

An intensive one-week campaign is about to begin—but it won't be for money. The only thing that will be asked for is a person's "spare time."

This is the sole aim of the Volunteer Bureau which this year is recruiting volunteers from all walks of life throughout Franklin County from Sept. 7 to 14.

Volunteers are needed all year round to work in the various health and welfare agencies in Franklin County. The present need is for volunteers to work in the United Appeal, but there are many different and vital jobs which will arise all during the year.

"Without volunteers many agencies could not carry out their program," said Mrs. Harry Mayfield, president of the Volunteer Bureau, "and as a result the community would suffer because of a decrease in service . . . but we still need many more."

Whether it's driving a blind person to work or helping to teach a group of boys in a Community Chest settlement house how to work with wood, somewhere there is a volunteer to do the job. It's the aim of Volunteer Recruitment Week to find these persons.

In the past year more than 28,000 hours were spent in various types of work through the Volunteer Bureau — a Red Feather service made possible through the United Appeal.

The purpose of the bureau is to provide a place where anyone may register for community service on a voluntary basis as the needs arise —for social, civic, or cultural activities and projects in Franklin County.

Anyone who is interested in volunteering his (or her) time and abilities to the community should drop in or call.

VFW Post 3441 announces its yearly open house will be held on Saturday, Sept. 18, at 8 p.m.

The program will include food and beverages from 8 p.m. on, and music, dancing and many kinds of entertainment for young and old throughout the evening.

The post home is at 882 Clarendon-av at Whitehead-rd, one square south of W. Mound-st.

To get there by bus, take the W. Mound-st city bus to Clarendon-av, and then walk one square south to the corner of Whitehead-rd and Clarendon-av. By car, drive on W. Mound-st to Highland-av, south one square to Whitehead-rd, one square east to Clarendon and Whitehead.

Kiwanis Lists Four Local Kids Day Coupon Stations

Tickets for the big "pony drawing" at the Kiwanis-Air Force Kids Day at Lockbourne Air Force Base on Sept. 18 will be available in the meantime for four convenient community locations, it was announced yesterday by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

Children may obtain the tickets at Stephens Pharmacy, 3089 W. Broad-st; the Hilltop Y office, 2502 W. Broad-st; City Furniture, 2288 Sullivant-av; and Goodwin's Pharmacy, 2772 Sullivant-av.

Since every child taking part in the program for 10,000 Columbus youngsters at the air base will receive a ticket at the gate, procuring one at one of the above locations will double their chances of winning a pony, "fully equipped" with saddle, bit, and blanket, according to Wally Bonnell, chairman of the boys and girls committee of the local Kiwanis club.

Parents desiring to take their children to participate in the thrill-packed program at the base from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. are urged to furnish their own transportation. In filling out the drawing coupons, children are asked to name an airplane. On the basis of the names submitted, the winners will be chosen.

The "name the plane" contest will start off the day's program with the winner to be made honorary base commander.

Following will be a parade and review of base personnel, a parade of high school bands, a RB47 rocket assist takeoff, and simulated airplane crash and firefighting demonstration, and a RB47 landing with parachute braking system.

MATERIALIZATION—That's what a neighbor who had been away for a few days would say when he saw the above structure now located at 189 S. Princeton-av, E. McNichols, owner, of 1931 Wilson-av, had the house moved from the property now set aside for expansion of Sterling Junior High School by the board of education. Moving the house cost in excess of $1750, the owner said.

Commissioners Discuss Georgesville RR Crossing

County commissioners and County Engineer Elbin met last Thursday to discuss complaints made of the New York Central Railroad crossing in Sullivant-av, just west of Georgesville-rd.

As a result, the commissioners passed a resolution that a letter be sent to the Public Utilities Commission asking that flasher signal lights be installed at the crossing. At the same time, Elbin said that tall weeds in the area will be mowed down for better visibility.

'Greatest Story Ever Told' Will Be Christian Film Drive-In Feature Movie

The Free Drive-in Christian Film Theatre, one block south of 1900 W. Mound-st, is expecting the greatest crowd of the season Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 11 and 12, at 8 p. m. when it will be showing "The Greatest Story Ever Told."

This is a full-length feature film in gorgeous color with a running time of 100 minutes on the life of Jesus Christ. Out of the Bible and o..to the silver screen walk the flesh and blood characters of the greatest story ever told — Peter, James and John, Mary, the mother of Jesus, Mary Magdalene, and all the family names.

James Rea, director of the Christian Drive-in, states that the attendance has more than doubled over any previous year due to the fact that people in general are turning toward the spiritual, along with the fact that the Drive-in has purchased a 16mm. arc projector, one of the few in the state and the Christian film producers are putting out top rate films. The Drive-in has given away up to 600 bottles of pop each night to children under 15 years of age."

FIRST BANK CUSTOMER

Now that grand opening fever is a thing of the past, officials of the Hilltop branch of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, Warren-av and Broad-st, have come up with an interesting customer statistic.

Their first customer at the new location was Mary Slane, realtor, who was on hand last Monday to negotiate with Herb Deems in connection with her purchase of properties at 2760 and 2740 W. Mound-st and 752 Racine-av. It was also discovered that the local realtor was one of the last customers at the branch bank's former location.

DANGEROUS LONELINESS

Many newspaper news items mentioned that the children were alone in the house. Youngsters' ages ranged from a few months to six years. In some cases the older ones had caused the fire by playing with matches or some other dangerous act. But whether the cause or only the victims, they died because there was no one to save them. Parents who leave children at home alone have only themselves to blame for such a tragedy.

NEWS OF ROME

Local 'Small Fry' Enjoy Pony Rides At Gateway Jubilee Site

By Mrs. James W. Whelan
FR. 6-5113

Peoples Development Co. is tossing a verbal "academy award" to small fry in the community, their mothers, and to Tommy Moore, who furnished the two beautiful pinto ponies that co-starred with the youngsters in a production Friday morning. The firm's photographers took pictures of local kids in various poses—all of them depicting different western orals. These pictures will be used from time to time in the different local publications as publicity for the "Gateway West Jubilee" set for Thursday and Friday, Sept. 23 and 24.

General chairman for the jubilee is New Rome Mayor D. J. Kunz, with Paul S. Noblitt serving as secretary, Bernie Ritzman in charge of the parade, and Dr. William O'Hara assisting and serving as chairman of the horses, baggies and wagons for the parade.

Joe Campbell and Fred Broomhall of the Rome Business Association, Inc., are working with Doc Campbell of the Hilltop Business Association on the program.

The parade will be held Thursday, Sept. 23, starting at 6:30 p. m. at the Westinghouse plant on Phillippi-rd, and proceeding on to West Broad-st and continuing west to Lincoln Village. Thursday night the queen will be chosen along with her runner-up. Local organizations sponsoring queens are the West Franklin County Kiwanis Club, which has selected Doris Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Brown, 625 Rome-Hilliards-rd; and the Rome Business Association, Inc., which has chosen Doris Jeanne Yeater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Yeater, 86 Maple-dr. The queen will receive a beautiful trophy and so will her runner-up candidate.

On Friday, Sept. 24, there will be a contest for the cutest cowboy and cowgirl on carnival grounds, corner Murray Hill and W. Broad-st, between the hours of 4 and 5 p. m.

It is hoped that all the oldtimers and their feminine counterparts who posed for the pictures on Friday will be present in old time colorful outfits and fortified with their sixshooters!

Mrs. Dorothy Caito and Miss Betty Patton entertained on Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Russell Brooks and Mrs. Dorothy Cremain, their mothers. . . Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Kunz, 5286 W. Broad-st, enjoyed a week's vacation in northern Michigan, having left last Saturday.

The Ladies' Matinee Bowling League resumed its Wednesday bowling schedule this week at the Old Trail Bowling Alleys. Secretary for this organization is Mrs. Ernest Schroeder, who will give a bowling summary to your reporter every week, containing the different ratings of the ladies from New Rome, as she did last year.

We are sorry to state that Mrs. Albert Planck, 5361 W. Broad-st, fell and sprained her ankle on the stairs in her home on Thursday.

Miss Nancy Suver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Suver, 151 Buena Vista-av, was the maid of honor at the wedding of Catherine Rhoades and Jerry Chambers which was held on Friday evening at the Methodist Church in Hilliards.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rex of 282 Maple-dr, entertained Nora Monda and Robert Ferro of Havanna, Cuba, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mokrey of Columbus, with a dinner party on Saturday. Mr. Rex and Mr. Ferro are TKE fraternity brothers from OSU. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Cain (Legetha Riebel) and daughter, Nancy, of Detroit, Mich., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Riebel of Rome-Hilliards-rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Ison and son, Mike, 5272 Gregg-av, left for Stanton, Va., where Mike is enrolled at the Stanton Military Academy . . . Mrs. Russell Brooks, 486 Maple-dr, entertained the members of the Jolly Twelve Sewing Club in her home with a luncheon on Wednesday . . . Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barrows of Lawrence-av, entertained with a family picnic on Monday.

Douglas Cox of Lake Worth Village, Tex., is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cox, 61 Buena Vista-av.

Don't forget tonight marks the first Prairie Township School PTA meeting of the new year. It will be held in the Prairie Township School Auditorium, 117 Norton-rd, at 8 p. m. Presiding at the business meeting will be the new president, Mrs. Harold Distelhorst, as well as the other newly-elected officers, who are vice-president, Mrs. Ernest Shaner; recording secretary, Mrs. Paul Lehnert; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harold Kaderly, and treasurer, Noah Teach.

During the evening the members of the teaching staff will be presented by Paul S. Noblitt, principal of Prairie Township School, and discussion will be held concerning the organization of the PTA for our school. Parents of students from Lincoln Village are cordially invited to attend this meeting, and will be introduced by our principal. At the conclusion of the business meeting there will be a reception and refreshments for everyone.

The average American loves freedom and all that it implies, with an almost holy zeal . . . But no individual has a right to turn his car into a lethal weapon and menace the lives of others.

Simple Rule To Follow

Nearly every reader of this article can become a relatively wealthy person if he follows one simple rule. That is to spend less money each week than he makes. Men like Benjamin Franklin, have become wealthy by following such a rule.

Greetings, Neighbor!

The entire Hilltop community today joins with thousands in Central Ohio in extending greetings to Westinghouse on the occasion of the dedication and open house of their fine new plant in our community.

In the short time that Westinghouse has been a part of the Hilltop there has been the finest of cooperation with every community project. In every sense of the word Westinghouse really "fits" into this fine Hilltop community.

And so today we say to Westinghouse, "Greetings neighbor, and we are certainly proud to have you with us."

New Hilltop Inter-Church Youth Council Holds Initial Session

Long needed in the community, a Hilltop Inter-Church Youth Council was well on the way to becoming a reality this week following an exploratory meeting of interested individuals and groups last Wednesday night.

This first meeting, which was held primarily to investigate the interest and doming such a new agency here, was under the chairmanship of Rev. Phillip Harley, pastor of the Wheatland Avenue Methodist Church. The Hilltop YMCA and the Hilltop Ministerial Association are the originators of the council idea.

The committee named by the ministerial association president to explore the problems of youth action consists of Rev. Irvin Tidy, the Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church; Charles Campbell, executive secretary of the Hilltop Business Association; Bob Schmidt, executive secretary of the Hilltop YMCA; and Rev. Paul Dunn of St. Paul's Evangelical Congregational Church.

The fourfold program presented by this committee included the following aims:

(1) To assist in promotion of the young people's work in the Hilltop churches; (2) To bring about a closer cooperation among all the youth of the various churches; (3) To reach the youth of the community not connected with any church; and (4) To promote a fourfold program among youth of the community — consisting of educational, religious, social and recreational activities.

Churches represented by youth directors, ministers and youth representatives at this initial planning session included Glenwood Methodist, Wheatland Avenue Methodist, Hillcrest Baptist, Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren, St. John's Lutheran and St. Paul's Evangelical Congregational Churches.

Following the general discussion, delegates decided definitely in a vote that there should be such an active youth council on the Hilltop and that the Hilltop Ministerial Association should serve as its board of advisers.

The first formal meeting of the fledgling council was set for 8:30 p.m. on Oct. 31, with Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren serving as host church. The meeting will take the form of a song-fest, with Joe Crouse, singing evangelist at the church, serving as director. Crouse, a native of North Carolina, makes his home in Charleston, W. Va.

Hilltop YMCA Enrollment Campaign Starts Sept. 20

The annual Hilltop YMCA enrollment will have its kickoff in the residential division at 6 p.m. Sept. 20, in the Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church. Every adult, child of Y age, and business on the Hilltop will be contacted in the annual enrollment campaign, spearheaded this year by General Chairman John Broden.

Residential division and section chairmen: Mrs. Fred Dinach, Mrs. Virgil Furry, division; and Mrs. Arthur Walker, Mrs John Davis, Mrs. Delbert Pack, Mrs. Howard Lloyd, Mrs. Roger Gove, Mrs. Omer Marlow, Mrs. Roger Essig, Mrs. Ben Trigg and Mrs. Don Roderer, all section chairmen.

Westway VFW Suggests Change In One-Way Plan

Westway Post 3441, VFW, which will hold a huge public open house program at the post home at 852 Clarendon-av from 5 p.m. on this coming Saturday, Sept. 18, last week went on record as endorsing the plans of the Mayor's Traffic Committee for one-way streets on the Hilltop.

A formal resolution agreed in principle with the plan and added the suggestion that four-way stop signs be placed at all east and west cross streets, with the exception of main streets where no traffic lights now exist. In other words, the VFW plan calls for east and west traffic to stop at all north or south one-way streets on the Hilltop if the traffic committee plan is adopted.

Hilliards Reports Record Enrollment

While the anticipated fall enrollment in the Hilliards local schools fell a bit short of the estimated 1,200, it reached the record total of 1,153 pupils on opening day, last week.

By grades, the enrollment figures were: first and second, each 99; third, 96; fourth, 63; fifth, 74; sixth, 80; seventh, 72, and eighth, 73, making the elementary school a total of 656. In the junior and senior high school grades, the ninth grade has an enrollment of 161, tenth 139, eleventh 95, and twelfth 102, a total for the high school of 497.

Supt. Hartsook's analysis of the school population shows that by comparison with the first day last year, there are 35 more resident pupils in the high school than last year, and in the grade school, the resident population is up 97. Reduced to simplest terms, this means that enough additional pupils became of school age or moved into the school district to fill one high school and three grade school classrooms in the one year period. Average enrollment per classroom has increased, in the grade school, from 30.9 pupils in 1953, to 36.3 in 1954.

Supt. Hartsook's statement continued to say that there are now more than 80 houses under construction but as yet unoccupied in the school district. When these are completed and the children from them enrolled, the average number of children per room will be considerably higher.

Zoning Commission Sets Hilltop Property Hearings

A public hearing will be held by the Franklin County Rural Zoning Commission at 7:30 p. m. Sept. 28, in the Franklin Township House, Sullivant-av, concerning two Hilltop area zoning cases.

The first case is that of Elizabeth Wilkinson, 1205 Maple-av, who has applied for a change from residential to local commercial district on a 4¼-acre tract on the west side of Harrisburg-pk immediately north of the northwest corner of Briggs-rd and the Harrisburg-pk.

The second is that of Cecil R. Rose, Jr., 1884 Kentwell-rd, who seeks an AR-7-16 District zoning of eight lots in Wilshire Heights Extension Subdivision, on the west side of Racine-av, instead of the present residential classification.

Committee Labels Celebration As 'Most Spectacular'; Benefits Y Building Fund

The most spectacular celebration this area has witnessed is promised for Sept. 23 and 24 when residents of the Hilltop, West Side, and New Rome celebrate the great "Gateway to the West Jubilee."

The event will be set off by the reopening of the newly-finished stretch of the "Old Cumberland Trail," which for decades has been the gateway from east to west.

The celebration, sponsored by the West Franklin County Association, comprised of business and service organizations in the three areas mentioned above, will begin at W. Broad-st and Phillippi-rd when Mayor Kunz of New Rome and Mayor Sensenbrenner cut the ribbon stretching across the closed section of the highway, rededicating it to many more years of bringing travelers and modern pioneers to their destinations from east to west, safely and quickly.

Festivities will be centered on a carnival site in Lincoln Village where there will be rides, games and refreshments, in addition to all kinds of contests and revelry, which is sure to delight visitors of all ages.

General chairman, Mayor Kunz, program chairman, Charles Campbell, and parade chairman, Knute Ritzman, have ironed out the last minute problems and are now prepared to announce the coming attractions that visitors to the Jubilee will enjoy.

The following events are scheduled into a program for Thursday and Friday:

Thursday — 9:30 a.m., Mayors Kunz and Sensenbrenner will cut the ribbon at Broad-st and Phillippi-rd; and 2:30-4:30 p.m., horseshoe pitching on Lincoln Village carnival site. At 6 p. m., Jubilee parade forming at Broad and Phillippi and moving down Broad-st to North Murray Hill-rd. After the termination of the parade at 7:30 several dignitaries on the reviewing stand will make statements in honor of the occasion.

From 8 to 8:30 p.m., a contest on the reviewing stand selecting a queen and her court for the Jubilee. This event will be emceed by the well-known local showman, Tom Gleba. The queen will receive a handsome trophy and will be presented with her court at the West-Arlington football game.

At 8:30 an audience participation show featuring talent from WBNS-TV with lots of prizes; 9:30-10 p.m., the renowned West High rope twirlers, who have almost become a trade-mark of the West Side, will perform; 9-12 p.m., street

Bell Telephone Announces Plans For Hilltop $300,000 Expansion

Expansion moves in Bell Telephone to expanding Hilltop businesses and residential sections totaling some $300,000 were announced by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. this week.

The first project listed by Phil Gibbs, district commercial manager of the firm, is a $112,400 outside plant addition to the Randolph-Jordan Central Office, 2615 W. Broad-st. Already launched, the project will provide facilities for four or five housing projects such as Wilshire Heights, Brookside Subdivision, and the Westbrook Subdivision (on Frank-rd, opposite the Children's Home). Completion is expected by early February of 1955.

This first project will also provide better grades of service to many and provide for the phenomenal growth of the Hilltop, Gibbs said. The job will require 4,100 feet of underground conduit, 8,300 feet of underground cable, and 35,000 feet of aerial cable. It will take 2,500 man-hours for setting the poles and placing cable on them, plus 4,900 hours of splicing time.

Project No. 2, for $100,300, will service three additions—Georgian Heights, Westgate Manor, and Rosary Addition. Scheduled for completion in December of this year, it involves only 2,400 feet of cable, but a tremendous task of splicing, 2,000 man-hours of line gang work and 4,500 hours of cable splicing.

On the second project, the cable will run out Bro d-st fro the Randolph-Jordan Central office to Derrer-rd, down Derrer to Sullivant, and out Sullivant to Georgian Heights, which is beyond the airport. Gibbs emphasized that none of the contemplated projects will interrupt customer service.

A Randolph-Jordan Central Office addition calls for the expenditure of $45,300 to provide 1,100 telephone numbers and 1,200 additional lines by Nov. 20, 1954, providing for growth and better classes of service. The supply of new numbers in this project is expected to be exhausted by July of 1955. On July 17, an additional $40,000 expansion job on lines and numbers is planned, providing 1,100 new numbers and 800 lines. Next July's project will exhaust the Randolph-Jordan office.

As a result of this filling up or exhaustion of the exchange, a new dial unit will be installed in the office, necessitating a major addition to the W. Broad-st central offices. This building addition, contemplated for 1956, will include the new dial unit and another central office unit.

Randolph and Jordan prefixes will become BR-4 and BR-9 respectively in July 1955, with a BR-X (another exchange number) slated to come into existence in 1956.

A BRIEF 'WHODUNNIT'

The Record circulation department is stumped on an address. Having checked all possible directories, circulation workers have still not been able to locate the correct current address of Mr. C. A. Pouts.

YOU CAN SELL IT!

YOU CAN—

Mr. Fix-It Tackles Two Problems About Trees Obstructing Traffic

Mr. Fix-It says: I received two complaints this week which should be of interest to many, for similar problems are common.

The first complaint concerns a dead tree in a residential section of the Hilltop. The party reporting the problem failed to mention whether the tree was on private or public property, however they did state that, in their opinion, it was endangering the houses nearby.

The second complaint on the subject of trees was pertaining to overhanging branches at Burgess and Broad-st. The party reported that a motorist driving south on Burgess is unable to see the traffic light at Broad-st because overhanging branches obstruct the view.

With these problems in mind, I contacted Ray Dietz, superintendent of the city parks and forestry department. He said that the party worried about the dead tree should make a formal complaint by phone or letter to the department. The tree will then be inspected, and if it is unsafe and on city property, it will be cut down. If the tree is on private property, a request will be sent to the owners asking them to have the tree cut down.

The problem of branches which obstruct a motorist's view may be reported directly to the parks and forestry department who will see that it is taken care of immediately. Such hazards are usually observed and reported by the safety department.

Hilltop Will Be Host To '54 Parade Of Homes Sept. 19-26

Our own Hilltop will be host to the 1954 Parade of Homes, sponsored annually by the Columbus Home Builders Association at 2 p. m. Sunday, Sept. 19, and daily 2-9 p. m. through Sunday, Sept. 26.

The site for the showing is immediately west of the Sullivant Avenue Airport and south of Sullivant-av. Mrs. Frank Lausche will open the local showing which is simultaneous with National Home Week, observed all over the United States.

A colorful 92-page plan book containing the artist's conception of each of the 33 homes, the floor plan and a brief description of the conveniences will be available during the parade. In addition, a merry-go-round and train, supervised by experienced attendants, will give free rides, keeping the kiddies busy while mom and dad go window shopping.

LOVELY HOMES ARE SOUGHT

We don't want to buy, rent, or lease—just admire. We hope you have enjoyed our Home of the Week feature. We enjoyed doing it. However, we are running low on prospects as we can't possibly scour every street for the out-of-the-way beauties we like to bring our readers. Do you know of a home that is of the same caliber as those you have seen on our home page? Why not let us know about it?

Right now turn to page 19 for this week's lovely home which happens to be owned and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Brown and may be found at 2500 Hilliards-Cemetery-rd.

Record Offers Over $3,000 In Prizes In Big Subscription Campaign

New Chevrolet Two-Door Sedan To Be Top Award

A new Chevrolet two-door sedan valued at more than $2,000 and cash prizes amounting to more than $1,000 will be given away by The Hilltop Record on Nov. 12.

This attractive prize list is being announced today by C. Carlton Hartley, Record publisher, who urges Hilltoppers to study the plan and avail themselves of one of the most profitable and interesting campaigns ever sponsored in this community.

The prizes will be awarded to the persons turning in the most new and renewal subscriptions to The Hilltop Record in the period of Sept 20 to Nov. 12, 1954.

A similar campaign was held five years ago this month and at that time the automobile was won by Mack Pemberton, West High coach.

First prize in the Record subscription campaign will be a new 1954 two-door Chevrolet sedan purchased from Radenbaugh Chevrolet Co., 555 W. Broad-st.

Second prize will be $500 in cash.

Third prize will be $250 in cash.

Any contestant not winning one of the three top prizes will be given 20 per cent commission on their gross sales during the contest.

The contest is open to any resident of Franklin County. In order to enter a person must merely fill out an entry blank contained in a double page ad on Pages 6A and 7A of The Hilltop Record today, and mail or bring it to the Record office, 2460 W. Broad-st. Upon receipt of the entry blank by the Record circulation department the contestant will receive full instructions, order blanks, and report sheets. Contestants may solicit subscriptions anywhere.

Persons subscribing to the Record during this circulation campaign are cautioned to give payment for a subscription only in exchange for an official receipt from the contestant.

Prizes will be awarded on the basis of points received in the contest. A schedule of these points is published on pages 6A and 7A in the Record today.

Special long term subscription rates are also in effect during this contest, thus resulting in savings to the customer. In addition an award of $100 in cash will be made to someone who subscribes during the contest. Details will be provided by the contestants when they solicit.

An advisory board consisting of Otto J. Beal, president of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, John Dickson, president of the Hilltop Lions Club, and Dewey Stout, president of the Hilltop Business Association, has been named to assist the publisher in making any necessary decisions relative to the contest. They will act as judges of the contest to determine the winners.

Prospective contestants are reminded that this is not a lucky drawing or anything bordering on a lottery. It is strictly a sales campaign and every person will be paid for the work done.

All Record subscribers are advised that any subscriptions that have become delinquent will be removed from the mailing list with next week's paper.

Cash Prizes To Run Up To An Impressive $1,000

The contest is appropriately timed in view of the fact that several thousand Record subscriptions are due to expire in September and October.

Thousands of additional new prospects are available in the rapidly expanded new sections of the Hilltop. All in all it serves as a real opportunity to make extremely good pay for the period of the next few weeks.

Persons interested on knowing of people who might be interested are asked to contact the Record at once. Organizations may find this a real opportunity to make money for their groups by entering a contestant.

Peggy Quinn Is Bride Of Olaf Kivioja In Sept. Rites

MR. AND MRS. OLAF KIVIOJA

Two vases of white gladioli decorated the altar and white ribbon bows entwined with huckleberry foliage marked the pews of St. Aloysius Church for the wedding of Miss Peggy Ann Quinn and Mr. Olaf Kivioja. Rev. Bennett Applegate, superintendent of Catholic schools, solemnized the rites on Saturday, Sept. 4 at 10:30 a. m.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Quinn, 538 E. Eureka-av and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. Julia Ilves, Canton, O., and formerly of Parnu, Estonia.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Quinn wore a gown fashioned of chantilly lace over satin with a fitted bodice ending in a peplum. The nylon yoke was trimmed with seed pearls and rhinestones and the skirt terminated in a small train.

Her veil was caught to a bonnet of illusion and chantilly lace, trimmed with seed pearls and she carried a white orchid, surrounded by white rosebuds and tied with white satin ribbons.

Mrs. Edgar Pierson of Toledo, serving as matron of honor for her cousin, wore an orchid gown and carried a small basket of orchid asters and white gladioli. Her matching half-hat had a nose veil.

The bridesmaids were Miss Ivi Ilves of Canton, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Arlenne Meyer. Miss Jinny Justup served as junior bridesmaid. Their aqua gowns were identically styled in satin with fitted petal bodices and three-tier skirts of net over satin. They wore matching satin shrugs and half-hats, and carried baskets of aqua asters and white gladioli.

Mr. Robert Brendlin of Canton served as bestman and seating the guests were Mr. Thomas Quinn, Jr. and Mr. Robert Quinn, brothers of the bride and Mr. John De Witt of Alliance.

Mrs. Quinn was dressed in a blue lace frock with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The mother of the bridegroom chose navy lace with navy accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, breakfast was served to the immediate families, and bridal party at the K of C Hall. One hundred guests attended the reception held in the Knights of Columbus Hall.

A graduate of Holy Family High School, the new Mrs. Kivioja attended the school of Journalism at Ohio State University and is associated with Harry M. Miller Advertising. Her husband will graduate in December from Ohio State University's College of Engineering where he is a member of Theta Tau professional fraternity. He is associated with the engineering department of Kenco, Inc.

The bride chose, for their wedding trip through Kentucky, Virginia and the Smoky Mountains, a pink and grey check suit with navy accessories and wore her bridal orchid. The couple is at home at 383 Berkeley-rd.

When you have entered your name you will receive full instructions and the necessary supplies as well as numerous good leads on possible sales as well as other helps in making the contest interesting as well as profitable. You then will call upon your friends and neighbors, acquaintances everywhere and ask them to subscribe to the Record. You will be surprised how easy it is to get the subscriptions and how many people will soon become interested in the campaign and offer their help by soliciting their friends too.

The prizes will be awarded on the basis of points received in the drive. A schedule of these points is printed in this ad.

It is important that you make up your mind soon, enter right away and receive your subscription blanks and supplies so you can go right to work.

Just think: If you win the new Chevrolet valued at over $3,000 it would seem you would be earning an average of nearly $380 per week for the next seven weeks. Isn't this worth putting some real effort behind? And someone is going to win just that very same Chevrolet and the other valuable prizes . . . and remember you just can't lose because regardless of where you finish in the race you will receive a 20% commission on your sales if you have not received one of the major prizes.

Send in your entry blank right now . . . be one of the first to enter the campaign — and make up your mind to win that first prize!

Approach To Delinquency

It seems to us that one of the true essentials in the raising of a younger generation that is law-abiding, god fearing, and intelligent is being overlooked by many of today's panacea spreaders.

The idea came to us when we read a short story about several hundred local youngsters receiving certificates of achievement for having read a dozen or more books of their own choice at the Hilltop Library during the summer months.

Statistics are not available, but we're willing to bet a potful of printer's lead on the truth of a statement to the effect that not one of these "Rocket Readers" was involved in any sort of juvenile delinquency during the summer period.

Not only that, but we'll bet that these kids who have developed the reading habit will end up better citizens, happier wives and husbands, and better-rounded adults for their interest in books.

Often overlooked in this TV age, by adults and children alike, is the pleasure to be derived from reading a book. Sure, you can be entertained by going to the movies or watching television, but your imagination is chained by just what the "visualizers" had in mind when they wrote the script.

We sincerly recommend the "library habit" to all Hilltoppers as one to cultivate — for enjoyment, for profit (lots of business tips are available), hobbies, and for understanding of current world events.

The Hilltop is fortunate in having a well-stocked, modern library, staffed with helpful personnel who are genuinely fond of books and people.

Lucky to get out alive!

Too bad they gave fire a place to start!

This fire, like most home fires, was preventable. It started with a sparking chimney, one of the 9 places where most home fires start. Here are all 9:

- "Junk" in cellar, attic or closets
- overloaded electric outlets
- frayed electric cords
- ordinary extension cords on heaters, irons
- smoking in bed
- not squashing out cigarettes
- [redacted]
- chimneys that spark

If any of these 9 fire hazards exists in your home—the next home that burns may be yours! Get rid of your fire hazards today!—you'll sleep better tonight!

WITHIN HIS LOVING CARE

When tomorrow's sun peeps over
The rim in bright surprise,
Gently warming all beneath
And 'round about the skies,
Teasing little buds awake
To tint their petals fair;
Kneeling, I will thank the Lord
For answering my prayer;

Thank Him that the morning sun
May warm a grateful heart
(Because I understand that all
Is of His love a part);
Thank Him that each living thing
Is answer to my prayer—
Thank Him that I spent the night
Within His loving care.

Today our neighbor was buried. She was 78 years old. It would please her to know that she looked about 42 today. During the ten years we were next-door neighbors she told me many things—mostly about her life in Kentucky as the mother of seven children. Only three survive her. She was an avid reader and read good books. She and I read Fosdick's "The Man From Nazareth" and Oursler's "The Greatest Book Ever Written" together. Her Bible was read most though; her religion and her wonderful sense of humor often sustained her. Our neighbor was a fine conversationalist and could hold her own with anyone, on any subject. A teen-aged niece visited us several years ago, and she and our neighbor held many long, solemn conversations; our niece adored her. Our neighbor loved flowers and birds, and never forgot to feed the birds and squirrels that live in our trees. They will miss her too. I think I shall remember our neighbor oftenest as she looked one evening when she hobbled over on crutches, to see what she could do for us when there was illness in the family, and as she looked sitting on her porch swing, sewing tiny stitches in another patchwork quilt. She told me she had made many quilts in her day. Her life was not an easy life. The Twenty-third Psalm was her religion.

Mail—From Columbus: "We spent our vacation in the deep south and do you know they actually eat shortenin' bread down there? We thought that was just something Nelson Eddy sings about. They are still fighting the Civil War down there in some parts of the south too" . . . From an author: "I have written quite a lot of fantastic stuff, full of onocentaurs, hippocentaurs and other other-worldly things, and let them lay, thinking there wasn't a market for that type of thing. Looking around lateely, I find there's a market among the science-fiction mags. Now, the stuff that had consistently been returned from my regular markets—as being too 'out-of-this world'—are going well. Have sent out 22 pieces and am running low on that type of material. But I can dish it out as long as they can take it—just goes to show you, you don't know who wants what" . . . From a cousin: "The other day I was cleaning the attic and found this photograph of you when you were sixteen. Oh you kid — look at that big bow in your hair and that middy blouse. And that monstrosity you are holding in your hand is evidently a hat. Dior, your sting ain't nowhere." (And my dear cousin, flattery will get YOU nowhere.)

Road signs: "Drive carefully — you might hit one of my customers", signed by an insurance agent . . . "Washington never slept in this town for too much happens here" . . . From somewhere — to keep young, associate with young people. To get old in a hurry, try keeping up with them . . . Consider how cheap real happiness is, yet how much we pay for its imitations . . . More reasons why editors left town in a hurry—Tennessee paper, "Mr. Blank, Deputy Grand Exhausted Ruler of the Elks, will visit the city Thursday;" Virginia paper: "Bachelor desires cook, just plain fool, nothing fancy;" Canada paper: "Mrs. Blank has entirely recovered from her broken collar bone, but her knee is still in the hands of the doctor" . . . Little Claude's mother had reluctantly permitted her precious child to attend public school. She gave the teacher a list of instructions about how to handle Claude, one of which read: "My Claude is so sensitive. Don't ever punish him. Just slap the boy next to him. That will frighten Claude" . . . If wives knew what stenographers think of their husbands, they wouldn't worry . . . You ought to laugh at these jokes—your grandfather did!

These Eyes —

How Well Do You Know Them?

Our clues last week, even though they were along the line of rather bad puns, all led to the familiar face of the gentleman above who is, of course, Harry Graham, owner and counselor of the shoe department in Seillers' Department Store.

Harry, who lives at 822 Wiltshire-rd, has been fitting children's shoes for about 30 years and is well-known as the shoe-counselor whose radio program concerning foot health, sponsored by Evans and Schwartz, was heard three times a week.

A life-time West Sider and graduate of West High School, last week marked Harry's third year in the shoe department with Seiller's where he is assisted by his wife, Monna, and son, Jim, one of four [redacted]

Harry is a member of HBA in addition to being a charter member of the Westgate Methodist Church.

Although he counts reading and his work as pastimes that he thoroughly enjoys, his favorite hobby is dramatics and he has directed many of the plays produced by his church.

This week's mystery eyes are no stranger to the camera. Have you seen them lately?

Trivia

From

By Galvy Gordon

STRAWS IN THE WIND: Whether it'll come off or not, we didn't know as this column was being written. But there were several interesting sidelights on the projected strike out Westinghouse-way. PR men were flipping a coin and saying "maybe yes and maybe no." The fact that several petitions signed by workers, who asked that the plant not strike, were being circulated, was taken by the public relations boys to mean that the affair could be averted.

It really had the "idea gang" at the plant up in the air. Bill Parker, experienced public relations director, was ill at home. The big open house plans had already been announced and—affecting us—the go ahead had been given to the Record for a big pictorial and advertising supplement. It was like a smouldering powder keg when we visited there Friday.

INTERESTING FACT was pointed out to me the other day. 'Seems I've always felt that the terms, "real estate broker" and "realtor" are the same. I'm dead wrong. My telephone informant pointed out that a realtor is a licensed broker who has subscribed to membership in a local real estate board, automatically becoming a member of the state and national real estate boards. A real estate broker, however, is not necessarily a realtor.

EMBARRASSING CONFUSION of names was brought forcibly to the editor's attention in one of the columns of the paper. Just out of curiosity I checked the original copy to see how the young athlete's name was spelled by the person who wrote the story. I found that it was hand-written and practically illegible. Sure, I should have stopped and looked it up, but in the press of deadlines, who has the chance?

Make it a rule when you submit copy for publication that you print all names unless your hand-writing is of the prize-winning variety. Even then, you'll be safer to print all names.

AMERICAN LEGION, Camp Chase Post 98, membership drive is getting started with a bang under the chairmanship of new First Vice-Commander Vince Walker, we understand. More than 100 members had already paid their 1955 dues to become "early birds" at the local post, last time we [redacted]

ON THE SICK LIST of the Legion post in the newsletter of Sept. 8 were Fred Oberting, 899 Larcomb-av, at home; Jack Richardson, 439 Maple-dr; Christian Albert, 251 Jackson-st; and Bill Burns at Grant Hospital.

O. R. Nelson, 36 Zollinger-rd, is in the hospital, recovering nicely from an appendectomy.

Response to last week's Trivia column on school and PTA news and news reporting has been favorably received. If you are in a position of responsibility for news of this type and didn't get a chance to read the column, drop around the office and I'll give you a copy. We'd like to talk to you anyway.

Hilltoppers looking forward to winter could find coal advertised for $5.50 a ton in today's Record. Gym clothes at Seiller's were selling cheap too: shorts 35c, shirts 25c, sox 10c, and shoes 69c.

TEN YEARS AGO

Sept. 15, 1944 . . . Announcement was made that Columbus is one of the cities being considered as a location for a new General Motors factory. Representatives of a Detroit contracting firm have inspected a section of the Judge Turner farm on Georgesville-rd between Broad-st and Sullivant-av.

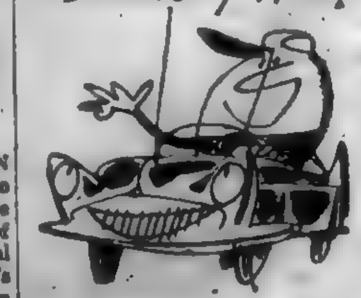
Ed Witherspoon will open a "Better Home Center" at 2775-77 W. Broad-st next week. For the past 14 months he has been working for the government on the "big inch" gas pipe line in Beaumont, [redacted]

Rev. Basil A. Malof, a Russian exile, will speak at the Warren Avenue Church of the Nazarene. He was, at one time, head of a large church in St. Petersburg, before being arrested and deported to Siberia under the tyrannous rule of Rasputin.

Squirrel season opened today. Hilltop nimrods were allowed a box of rifle and a box of shotgun ammunition with the purchase of a hunting license, if the ammunition was available.

FIVE YEARS AGO

Sept. 15, 1949 . . . More side street parking on the Hilltop may soon be available, E. O. Melvin, representative on the traffic commission, reported.



A delegation of scientists from 47 United Nations countries visited Hilliards last Thursday to study industry and agricultural methods in this area.

Jack Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bryant, 618 S. Terrace-av, is home on a 30-day leave from the navy before leaving for Adak, Alaska.

Bert Stille, WHKC newscaster, addressed the luncheon meeting of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club Thursday. The topic of his talk was "The Mountain of Oz."

In spite of increased governmental services now being rendered, residents of Franklin Township enjoy the lowest tax rate of any governmental subsidiary in Franklin County, Paul Wichterman, clerk-treasurer of the township, said this week.

Sunday Sermonette

SPIRITUAL STURDINESS!

By Rev. Carl Wilson, Pastor
HILLTONIA EVANGELICAL UNITED BRETHREN CHURCH

Rev. Wilson

The Master was sorely troubled by the request of an ambitious mother with an interest in her two sons. Shortly before Jesus told the disciples it would be necessary to endure a most rugged experience, that of going to Jerusalem where He would be denied, betrayed, tried and condemned to death. It was most difficult for Christ to reconcile the request for special privileges with the information He had just imparted to His followers.

The only way to awaken these men was to issue a rugged spiritually challenge . . . "Are ye able?"

Jesus was a hardy spiritual warrior. He came up the hard way. He knew about the rough places. His was no easy row to hoe. Thus when confronted with this request for special favor He was most anxious of soul because He was not certain the seeking disciples could qualify for spiritual sturdiness.

Would they serve as He served? Were they prepared to suffer as He suffered? Would they keep the faith? Would they strive to do the will of the Father at all times?

Jesus offered a rugged standard in the Sermon on the Mount. His was a champion effort as He met, endured and overcame all opposition and persecution. His was an active, life-giving hope. With things going to pieces all around, He held fast the faith.

His was a rugged way . . . "If any man would come after Me; Let him deny himself, and take up his cross and follow me." He advocated a startling and revolutionary philosophy . . . "For whosoever shall save his life shall lose it and whosoever shall lose his life for My sake shall find it."

Modern trends and conveniences encourage short-cuts, comfort and ease. They also tend to make one less rugged and sturdy. Spiritually man must be on the alert lest he becomes "at ease in Zion." Short-cuts, compromise, conformity with the trend of the times, will not lend to spiritual sturdiness.

"Are ye able?", said the Master.

St. Paul's Provides Sunday School Buses

James Torrie, superintendent of St. Paul's Evangelical Sunday School Board has an extension program planned.

Because the Hilltop area has developed rapidly in the past years, many folks live in areas where there are no Sunday Schools. St. Paul's has purchased a Sunday School bus and will operate in the unchurched districts. Mr. Torrie invited adults and children to avail themselves of this opportunity to be transported to and from Sunday School and church.

Those desiring transportation may call RA. 7937 or RA. 2907.

OFFICIAL WELCOME FOR WESTINGHOUSE IN TODAY'S RITES

New Westinghouse Plant Here Largest Ever Built By The Huge Corporation

The giant new Westinghouse plant which will be officially dedicated here Thursday is the largest manufacturing plant ever built by Westinghouse although it is not the largest owned by the corporation.

Construction of the ultra-modern factory was begun in September, 1952, and was designed to provide flexibility of production facilities to meet requirements of today and tomorrow. The new plant is a one story type which provides faster and easier handling of material. The 27 miles of conveyor systems further facilitate the handling of in-coming materials and out-going appliances.

Extending almost half-a-mile north of West Broad-st along Phillippi-rd, the factory building contains four manufacturing aisles, each 200 feet wide and approximately 1500 feet long. These aisles lead in a straight line production pattern to the warehouse area which has a storage capacity of 100,000 major appliances. The two story office building extends from the main factory in a T pattern and is highlighted by an impressive entrance of marble and stone.

Approximately six miles of railroad siding serve the plant in eight points. Seven of the tracks lead indoors where 49 freight cars can be loaded conveniently at one time, sheltered from bad weather. When the plant is operating at full capacity, 60 carloads of raw materials will be received in daily and 90 carloads of finished appliances will roll out. Also serving the plant are 41 indoor truck docks, each with an automatic leveler that quickly drops into place for loading regardless of truck size.

In addition to 27 miles of conveyor systems which run to every corner of the plant, 65 electric trucks are also used throughout the plant, chiefly in warehousing. These mechanized systems of material handling make the new Westinghouse plant second to no other appliance manufacturing plant in the world in efficiency and ease of operation.

Lighting throughout the plant is amply provided by over 25,000 lights. For additional light, the long, sleek exterior walls are windowed continuously at two levels from end to end of the plant, requiring a total of 82,000 square feet of glass.

Also housed in the office building is an up-to-date cafeteria which has a seating capacity of 732 and can serve 32 people a minute from its four complete food counter lines.

Gradually as more of the refrigeration production is moved from the Mansfield plant, production will be increased until eventually all Westinghouse refrigerators and freezers are produced in Columbus.

Incoming power is supplied by two 39.4 KV lines of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company.

Nineteen of the 22 power centers are connected in three separate low voltage network loops composed of two loops with six centers and one loop with seven centers.

Forty different types of indoor and outdoor lighting fixtures are used throughout the plant — 400-watt and 1000-watt fluorescent mercury lamps are used in the high bay areas; in the offices and low bay areas, fluorescent lamps are used. Offices and working areas are lighted to an intensity of 50 foot candles; non-work areas are lighted to 15 foot candles.

WESTINGHOUSE EMPLOYES WIN $110,000 FOR GOOD IDEAS

Westinghouse Electric Corporation paid its employes more than $110,000 during the first half of this year for ideas on how to improve the company's operations, according to H. G. Crook, director of personnel services.

This means that employes' ideas submitted through the company's 44-year-old suggestion system are "paying off" at a rate of 39 per cent higher than last year, he said. Since the employe suggestion system was begun in 1910, Westinghouse has paid approximately $1,935,000 in awards.

In the first six months of this year, 16,244 suggestions were submitted by employes of which 5,264 of the ideas were adopted — nearly one out of every three. The number of suggestions submitted was up 21 per cent over the same period in 1953.

HOSTESS—Betty Furness, the most widely known television commercial announcer, is here today to participate in the Sept. 16th dedication program at the huge new Westinghouse refrigerator plant.

'THE BEST OF BROADWAY' FOR YOU

Wednesday at 9 p. m. a new series of 10 hour-long plays and musical comedies—selected from great stage shows of Broadway during the past three decades—started in full color and black and white by the Westinghouse Electric Corporation over the largest line-up of live stations on CBS television. It is the first regularly scheduled series of color television programs.

The new series, entitled "The Best of Broadway," will be seen every fourth Wednesday. Fall dates, including yesterday's performance are Sept. 15, Oct. 13, Nov. 10, and Dec. 8.

The first play was "The Royal Family"—great drama by George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber—and starred one of the most impressive casts ever assembled: Helen Hayes, Claudette Colbert, Frederic March, Charles Coburn, Nancy Olson and Kent Smith.

"The Best of Broadway" series will originate on Broadway itself—in CBS Television's giant new color studios, now being completed—and will represent the most ambitious color television program of the 1954-55 season.

All of "The Best of Broadway" plays will be seen "live" . . . there will be no delayed kinescope showing. Approximately half of the 99 stations in the line-up will telecast the series in full color—although every play can be received in black and white on conventional home television sets as well as on color receiving sets in those areas where transmission will be in color.

The award-winning Westinghouse dramatic series, "Studio One"—which begins its seventh season on the air this fall—will be continued under Westinghouse sponsorship. This season "Studio One" will be carried on an expanded national network of 94 stations, including showings by kinescope, or TV recordings, on stations as far distant as Honolulu and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Betty Furness, famous demonstrator for Westinghouse, will present Westinghouse products in color on "The Best of Broadway" as well as continuing her weekly appearances each Monday evening on "Studio One."

The October play will star Monty Woolley in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," in the role of Sheridan Whiteside which he created in the Broadway play. In November Ethel Merman will star in "Panama Hattie," the Cole Porter musical in which she appeared on Broadway for over a year—October, 1940, to January, 1942. Other plays to be presented include "Arsenic and Old Lace," "The Philadelphia Story," by Philip Barry, "The Petrified Forest," "The Time of Your Life" by William Saroyan.

Glamour Added To Dedication With The Help Of Betty Furness

When the giant new Westinghouse plant is dedicated here today, the traditional ribbon-cutting ceremonies will have been thoroughly "snubbed." In a move typical of appliance industry showmanship, Westinghouse has come up with a glamorous method of dedicating the plant—no ribbon-cutting, no electronic eyes, but Betty Furness, the popular Westinghouse television saleslady.

Official dedication ceremonies will be held at the plant, which is located on Phillippi-rd just north of W. Broad-st at the west edge of the city, at 1 p.m. today.

Immediately after the dedication the plant will be open for public inspection until 9 p.m. today and again on Friday from 9 a.m. until 8 p.m.

After Gwilym A. Price, president of the electrical concern, has finished addressing the crowd in front of the plant this afternoon, he and Betty Furness will hoist a specially designed plant flag.

With the hoisting of the Westinghouse Columbus flag by these leaders of the electrical industry, the 45-million-dollar plant will officially join the ranks of Columbus industry and become the 51st manufacturing plant of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

Participating in the dedication ceremony with Miss Furness and Price will be Senator John Bricker and E. L. Smith, manager of the plant.

Visitors at the open house will be conducted on a tour of the plant and shown the various steps in the production of refrigerators. Besides the tour, they will see all the most up-to-date electric appliances for today's modern homes, miniature displays of modern kitchens and home laundries, and numerous other interesting and entertaining exhibits.

Yesterday was set aside as family day for employes' families to visit the plant and see their relatives at work. Employes' families were urged to take advantage of the preview opportunity on Wednesday.

Construction of the new plant was begun in September, 1952, and was largely prompted by the Electric Appliance Division's having tripled its sales volume in the previous ten-year period. In addition to this sales increase, the Division has added 20 new products to its lines of major appliances, portable appliances and refrigeration specialties since the end of World War II.

The new Westinghouse Columbus plant includes within the 315-acre site a separate police or security force, a fire department—equipped with the latest in equipment.

FEATURES OF NEW OFFICE

Special features of the office building of the Columbus Westinghouse plant are many. The main entrance and lobby have received special architectural treatment including electrically operated doors, cast ornamental grilles, coved dome plaster ceiling, extruded aluminum and glass railings, exterior and interior planting boxes, cove lighting, and built-in furniture.

The second floor foyer includes a plexiglass hung ceiling with lighting above. The auditorium walls are finished with corrugated perforated sheet aluminum, a projection room, and a fully equipped theatrical stage.

The office building is set back from the main road approximately 280 feet and is approached by a circular drive with provision for visitor parking. It is flanked by paved executive parking areas for approximately 180 cars. Approximately 17 acres of lawn surround the building, which is beautifully landscaped with shrubs and trees. The two employe parking areas total an equivalent of 110 acres.

It is one of the larger orders for refrigerators ever placed by the government and the appliances will be shipped to various supply depots throughout the nation and to points of embarkation for shipment overseas. Being standard models in the Westinghouse line, the order was filled from production runs for civilian consumption at the Columbus plant.

Westinghouse Plays Important Role In Launching Of First Atomic Submarine

Launching of the first atomic-powered submarine, the U.S.S. Nautilus, last month attracted attention everywhere as an opening wedge into the coming Atomic Age.

When the submarine slid into the waters of the Thames River, at Groton, Connecticut, it was top news both in this country and abroad. Newspapers and magazines carried many stories about the atomic employes.

There was another Company contribution, however, that received far less attention, yet will be vital to the sub's successful operation. That was helping to train the crew.

The importance of this part of the atomic venture was pointed out in a story in the Saturday Evening Post last year. Speaking of the crew, the article said:

"When the Nautilus is commissioned, she will be manned by a revolutionary kind of sailorman. He will be the heir of a bold pioneering enterprise which, before he had even heard of it, had behind it five years of secret planning and design.

"Secrecy still prevailed when, in the dying days of 1950, the electrifying news of the enterprise was confided to a handful of enlisted men . . ."

Together with their officers, the men went to school at the Atomic Power Division's Plant near Pittsburgh, and at the STR facilities at Arco, Idaho, where the land-based model of the submarine engine was being built.

They soon learned that books and blackboards were just about as essential for the sub's operation as the atomic fuel for her engines.

At APD, the training program—under the direction of R. V. Pierce and M. R. Neuman—called for lectures and demonstrations by Westinghouse engineers and physicists. It was an intensive course in nuclear physics. Classes lasted all day and the students spent the nights studying.

At Arco, members of the submarine crew received practical operating experience on the land-based engine. The thoroughness of their training there and at the Atomic Power Division Plant is illustrated in this comment in the February 5 issue of Colliers magazine:

George Westinghouse Ushered In New Era Of Progress In U.S. 58 Years Ago

George Westinghouse

This year—1954—marks the 58th anniversary of the first long distance transmission of alternating current electricity, which now is the standard and practically universal form of power that runs industrial America; it is also the centennial of the birth of George Westinghouse, who perhaps can be called at father of American power generation.

The impact of George Westinghouse's inventive and developmental activities, which filled his whole adult life, can be seen from a quick cataloguing:

He invented the railroad air-brake; a system of electric railway signals and interlocking switches; the electric locomotive; the friction apparatus which absorbs shocks between railroad cars. He pioneered development for practical utilization of alternating current and its distribution system; machinery for the generating of electricity from waterpower; the steam turbine for electrical power generation and marine propulsion; a system for the distribution of natural gas; meters for measuring the consumption of illuminating gas and electricity. In all, his patents totalled 361; in the course of his business career he founded 60 companies; and at his death in 1914 the industrial empire he founded was worth $200,000,000.

Foresaw Electricity's Importance

That Westinghouse foresaw the importance of widely - available electric power to an industrializing America is revealed in a public speech he made in 1911:

Laboratory Established

In 1886, George Westinghouse set up a laboratory in the little Berkshire town of Great Barrington, Mass., where William Stanley took the new transformer to conduct the first practical test of the Westinghouse alternating current system. Stanley's workshop was in an abandoned rubber mill on the edge of town, from which he ran wires to the village a mile away.

On a March night in 1886, with scores of people crowding the main streets, William Stanley closed a master switch, and light bulbs flickered . . . then glowed brightly in a dozen stores and offices in Great Barrington — the first town lighted with alternating current.

But already the direct-current system—advocated by Thomas Edison — had gained considerable headway, and there were at least six prominent producers of the apparatus needed for its use. And thus began the "war of the currents," which was to continue until 1892 and the Chicago World's Fair.

The struggle between the Westinghouse and Edison systems flared brightly as they competed to win the contract for the electrical illumination of the exposition. Daringly, Westinghouse put in a bid far under that of the Edison group —and won the contract on May 23, 1892.

Westinghouse Family Large

George Westinghouse was born on a farm in the little community of Central Bridge, N. Y., on Oct. 6, 1846, the eighth of ten children of Emmeline and George Westinghouse, sr. His father, a manufacturer of farm machinery, was destined soon to move to Schenectady, N.Y., where he could find a larger market for his rapidly growing market.

Westinghouse's experiences in school gave no indication of the later achievements of his life. Indeed one of his teachers referred to him as "dull and backward," and at Union College he was advised to leave school—which he did in 1865, at the age of 19—because of inadaptability.

Between his public school education and going to college, George Westinghouse served in the Civil War. He tried first to run away to join the Union forces, but was brought back by his father as he was about to board the train. However, at the age of 17 with his father's permission he was inducted as a private in the cavalry. Later, because of his mechanical ability, he obtained an appointment as acting third assistant engineer in the navy. He served until the end of the war.

But while he was still in his teens—in fact, barely three weeks after his nineteenth birthday — Westinghouse began the refutation of the judgment of his elders; his first patent, for a rotary steam engine, was granted Oct. 31, 1865, the first of 10 patents he won before he reached the age of 20.

Airbrake Sales Large

Westinghouse's air brakes were conclusively tested in September 1868.

The railroad officials were satisfied with Westinghouse's air brake, but George insisted that they go on and complete the test. Sometime during that busy day, he found time to send his father the following telegram: "My air brake had practical trial today on passenger train on Panhandle Railroad and proved great success."

Within five years 2,181 American locomotives and 6,590 cars had been equipped with the brake, and 148 locomotives and 724 cars of foreign railroads also used it. Orders came in from England, Europe, China, Japan—even Burma.

A prolific inventor, George Westinghouse took out 135 patents in the decade from 1890 to 1900 alone. During his lifetime he totalled 361 patents and an additional 15 were taken out on his inventions in the four years following his death.

He patented the first meter for measuring alternating current in 1893.

In 1889 he introduced the first toothed core motor, so named because the wires of the winding were imbedded in slots, a design used on practically all subsequent rotating electrical machinery.

He introduced the Stillwell alternating current feeder voltage regulator which enables the maintenance of constant voltage under varying loads.

Produced First Polyphase System

He produced the first polyphase system of alternating current generation and application invented by Nikola Tesla, which permits operation of motors at constant turning effort, thus paving the way for the universal use of alternating current in industry.

In 1896 he developed for induction motors a "squirrel cage" type of rotating part easily manufactured in the form of copper bars, eliminating from this rotor all wires, insulation, and their accompanying troubles. This development has been widely used for almost 50 years.

George Westinghouse founded 60 companies, with total assets of nearly $200,000,000. The employes of those companies at the time of his death numbered nearly 30,000.

Of these 60 companies, four remain today as major industrial enterprises: The Westinghouse Electric Corporation, the Westinghouse Airbrake Company, the Union Switch and Signal Company, and the Canadian Westinghouse Company.

Since Westinghouse's death, the scientists in the laboratories of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation and the engineers in its plants have carried on development and research in the same fields in which George Westinghouse pioneered, and in many new ones. Westinghouse waterwheel generators, the most powerful in the world, harness the new electrical torrent at Grand Coulee Dam. Fabulous electronic machines solve in minutes or seconds the complex problems of electrical distribution networks. Nuclear physics researchers hold the promise of new power from the atom. Studies in metallurgy and combustion are leading to new speeds and new altitudes for aircraft. The electron tube, applied to radio and radar in their multitude of forms, is mastering time and slashing distance.

George Westinghouse died at the age of 68 at his estate at Lenox, Mass. Fishing there one day, he stepped into a boat, started to row from shore, and the boat sank. Soaked, he managed to conceal his accident from everyone until that night, when he developed a severe cold and paroxysms of coughing.

After weeks of illness, he recovered sufficiently so that he could spend part of each day in a wheel chair. His mind was active until the end, and virtually until his last day he persisted in producing designs for a motor with which to drive the chair without human effort. On March 12, 1914, George Westinghouse died, while resting in his wheel chair — his drawings near him. Mrs. Westinghouse died three months later. Their only child, George Westinghouse III, survived them.

Westinghouse had few comments to make on his career, but one day he remarked: "If someday they say of me that in my work I have contributed something to the welfare and happiness of my fellow men, I shall be satisfied."

Ninety-seven more pupils started the fall term this year than last, Mr. Moore said.

At the high school, now beginning its 27th year, seniors number 105, or 26 more than were numbered in last year's graduating class. Work on the '54-'55 School Annual started last week with a drive for subscriptions. The Annual Staff consists of Jim Hetrick, Jerry Evans, Dave Boerner, Lowell Johnson, Bessie Eckard, Donna Kreis, Deanna Holcomb, Donna McBrayer, and Ruth Owen. Faculty adviser is English teacher John Markakis.

Reall is assistant football coach and varsity basketball coach. Norman McElheny again serves as head football coach.

Farmers of Hilliards are achieving statewide recognition this Fall, as the Russell Grain Co.'s trucks busily distribute certified seed grown on local farms, to buyers throughout the state. One shipment of 100 bushels of certified Butler seed wheat was shipped to the Pennsylvania State penitentiary, last week.

Mrs. Bassel Johnson and Mrs. Kenneth Swepston represented the Hilliards Methodist Church on Sept. 8th at the first business meeting of the United Church Women of Columbus and Franklin County. This was also the dedication meeting.

Hilliards Methodist Church was represented, the evening of Sept. 8, by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Swepston at the Columbus District Preview conference for church school workers. Departments met by grade units to preview all church school materials and resources for the fall quarter.

The Children's Division of Hilliards Methodist Church solicits cancelled sales tax stamps and requests that children bring them to the church school. Additional information may be had by calling phone numbers 8-7874, 8-7867 or 8-7484.

Intermediate and senior MYF groups held a joint meeting at the church Sunday evening, Sept. 12.

HILLIARDS FFA exhibitors Charles Spring, Don Krieger, Paul Troesch, Tom Davenport, John Robbins, Jim Smith and Roy Hoffman "stole the show" at the county fair, capping one of the local chapter's best years. Holstein exhibitors were especially fortunate in winning every class. John Slagle Jr., Bill Kuhlwein, Charles Hart and Lee Holt topped their respective classes with their swine projects. At the State Fair, Hilliards boys entered 11 exhibits and won 10 firsts and one second for the best record ever made by the Hilliards Chapter. The boys also received a gold rating on their educational booth exhibiting leadership, and a gold award, on the machinery exhibit.

Other FFA news was made by David Francis, who won a week's scholarship with all expenses paid, to the American Institute of Cooperation at Cornell University this summer, as the result of the chapter's placing in the cooperation contest in the state.

Ronnie Eberhard of Grove City, who was selected from 10 boys at the county fair to be king for the 1954 fair season, had Doris Brown, HHS '53 for his queen. Doris was selected out of a group of 20 candidates.

Cowboys Gallop To Initial Fray Against Marion There Tomorrow

Head Coach Mack Pemberton and his three assistants will lead a 33-man squad of Cowboy gridiron hopefuls onto the greensward in Marion High School's stadium Friday night, where the Powell Avenue lads, with high hopes for a victory, will clash with the red and black clad Presidents of Marion Harding in the opening regularly scheduled contest of the season for both squads.

Kick-off time is scheduled for 8:15 p. m.

In the last two meetings between the two squads, not more than seven points have separated them in the final score. Another closely-contested and hard-fought struggle may be in store for what is expected to be a sell-out throng.

In 1953 a powerful Cowboy squad invaded Marion and returned home with a 20-13 verdict, while last season the up-staters returned the visit to Magly field and shut out the Cowboys 6-0.

In the overall record between the two elevens, the locals hold an 8-2 advantage in the 10 games played to date. As an added incentive to the local squad, no Cowboy squad under Pemberton's coaching has been defeated on Marion's home field.

This year's Cowboy squad, with more depth in the backfield and a better defense than in 1953 and many players who should improve with each game, may develop into the dark horse of the City League.

Word coming out of Marion this week was to the effect that the Presidents have one of their best squads in years. So it would be quite an achievement should the Cowboys come home-victorious.

One sad note darkened the Cowboys' hopes this week. It was announced that Larry Nafzger, one of the ace defensive line backers on the '52 and '53 squad and offensive quarterback also in '53, may miss the opener and possibly the entire season due to a back injury sustained in a scrimmage session last week.

Several starting assignments are still in doubt at this writing but Coach Pemberton announced the Cowboys' offensive eleven will be selected from the following:

Ends—Kruckeberg, Vincent or Kerns; tackles—Randall and Berlo; guards—Jutt, Williams, J. Davis or Greer; center—Anderson; quarterback—Kline; halfback—Deshler and K. Davis; and fullback—Nebinger.

Defensive positions — end — Kruckberg and Deshler; tackles—vance and Randall; guards—Greer and Davis; left back—Nebinger and Green; halfback—Swindler, K. Davis or Conley, and center—Vincent.

The spreading ranch-type home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Brown, 2500 Hilliards-Cemetery-rd, is really an eye-catcher, especially in the spring and summer of the year when the sleek lines of the stucco and stone building stand out amidst four acres of lush green grass, trees, shrubs, and colorful flowers.

This attractive summer porch, as well as every other room in the house is a spacious area. A perfect spot for brunch or relaxing, the cool breezes can freely circulate from the screened sections on warm days and are shut out when chillier weather arrives by simply winding in the awning type windows.

Hilliards Ranch-type Home Features Splendid Decorations

By Grace Durflinger

Spring, summertime, or autumn—the family Sunday afternoon drive is a favorite type of relaxation in any season. No doubt such excursions take many families out Hilliards way. If so they have probably admired the splendid ranch-type home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Brown at 2500 Hilliards-Cemetery-rd, which we are featuring this week.

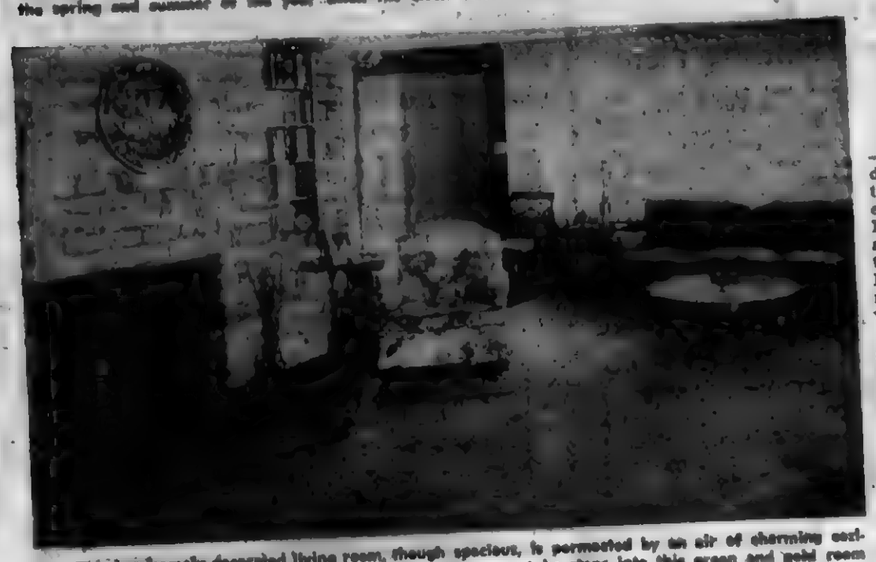
The Browns' three-year-old home, set amid four acres of trees, carefully tended flowers and rolling green lawns, is built of stone and tan stucco with a dark brown shingle facing near the roof.

The foyer is the first glimpse a guest receives of this attractive home, which mirrors the fine taste of Mrs. Brown, who entirely decorated it. This entranceway is paneled in the tropical mural, "Caribe", with white and pastels on pink. Gleaming birch woodwork and sliding doors in this enchanting area rise from a floor paved in Vermont slate flag stones.

A hallway, to the right of the foyer, is formed by the partitioning wall of the huge stone fireplace. Directly before the front doorway in the foyer is a large stone planter sporting luxurious tropical greens. The planter is simply a shelf built into the extending end of the stone fireplace.

The spacious living room to the left of the entranceway is carpeted with a wall to wall gold cut wool shag rug complementing the walls of deep muted green. Predominant in this beautiful room is the aforementioned stone partition which houses the fireplace and built-in birch shelves. A stone ledge protruding from above the fireplace supports a 20-inch, hand-hammered brass plate which was imported from Belgium for this place of honor, and is intricately decorated with bas-relief figures and patterns.

Before the huge picture window, which extends the full length of the outer wall of the living room, is a rose damask sofa, flanked on both sides by double-tiered dark mahogany end-tables. The low blonde mahogany coffee table before the sofa is both attractive and sturdy with a delicately carved design edging the rim and short well-placed legs giving a certain rugged ability to take any hard knocks it might accidentally encounter.



Double mahogany chests, an increasingly popular item in modern living room furnishings, are the main feature on the wall opposite the fireplace. On the wall above them, a decorative, large, gilt-edged mirror is placed, surrounded by several dainty wall shelves, displaying tiny figurines and an antique pitcher given to Mrs. Brown by her grandmother.

Arranged along the same wall near the chests is a chartreuse easy chair with matching chartreuse tuft trimming, while a large, round chairside table of blonde mahogany is a convenient companion.

A wing-backed chair and ottoman are upholstered in chartreuse on the outside with the cushion and inner area covered with a chartreuse and brown figure on a beige background. Two additional occasional chairs complete the room's furnishings. The first is placed with a dark mahogany table before the glass partition, separating the living room from the screened porch, and is covered in a gray sateen with yellow and burgundy sprigs predominant. The other chair is set at an angle beside the fireplace and is a gay pastel flower pattern on a white background with burgundy tufted trim. Adding a last touch of color and texture to the room are the sheer gold curtains woven of a rayon-cotton combination.

To the left of the living room is a short hallway papered in a minute gold and green print on a white background with the same gold shag carpeting. This hallway gives access to the master bedroom and

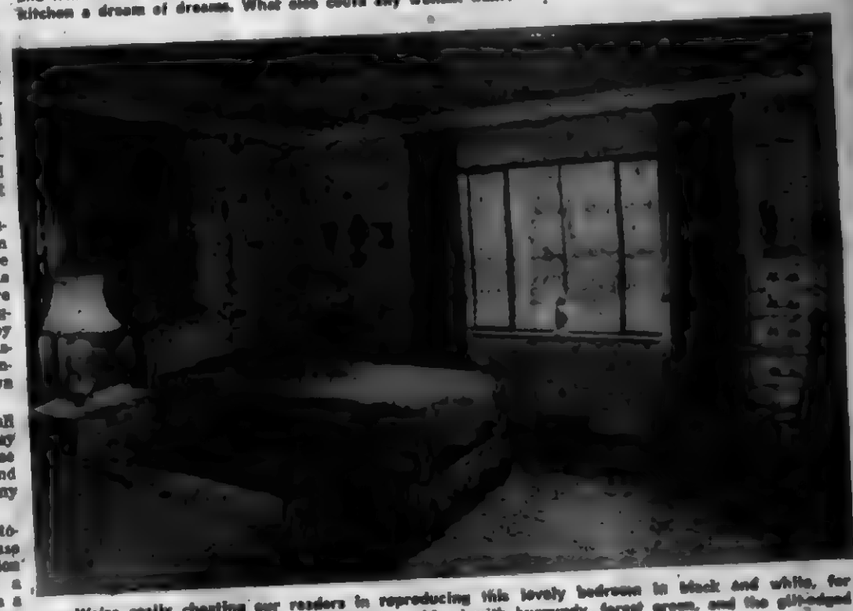
This handsomely decorated living room, though spacious, is permeated by an air of charming coziness, making any visitor feel perfectly at home the moment he steps into this green and gold room with its symphony of blended textures.



A wealth of smooth white enamel cupboards combined with pastel pink walls, floor, and ceiling and trimmed in chocolate brown and quaint cook book illustrations combine to make this well-equipped kitchen a dream of dreams. What else could any woman want?

The stone lodge planter may be seen in lower right-hand corner in this entranceway-view of the living room. The huge carved coffee table and twin chests in the left-hand background are only two of the pieces which prove Mrs. Brown's knack for unique and attractive arrangements and decor.

The huge picture window at left offers the fresh air and light which gives the many beautiful and polished wood surfaces in the study the final gleaming highlight. Many shades of brown, beige, and green are blended in this handsome room, attaining a truly striking effect.

We're really cheating our readers in reproducing this lovely bedroom in black and white, for the full effect of the soft gray background combined with burgundy, forest green, and the gilt-edged antique ivory suite is actually breath-taking.

The master bedroom is carpeted in a wall-to-wall gray cut cotton shag rug and gray walls with one panel papered in white magnolias with burgundy centers on deep forest green. Mrs. Brown has repeated the colors of burgundy and green in the tufted trim on the nubby textured drapes and bedspreads of gray cotton weave.

The French provincial suite is painted an antique ivory and includes the chest of drawers, twin beds, bedside table, and Mr. and Mrs. dresser with full-width mirror. The two hand-hooked wool rugs on the carpet utilize such shades as blue, beige, yellow, rose and green on a black background and trimmed in brown. Extra features of this charming room are the two large picture windows offering light and fresh air in addition to a view of the lovely landscape, and the double clothes closet with four sliding doors of polished birch.

The second bedroom is painted with bright violet walls and bone white ceiling and molding. The draw drapes at the two picture windows feature bright reproductions of gay bunches of violets amid cool green leaves on a white background. The aqua carpet of cut cotton shag is supplemented by individual white cotton shag rugs. The aforementioned hues of violet, lilac, aqua, green, and white are combined in an eye-catching striped material which covers the white painted vanity bench, a boudoir chair, and forms the dust ruffle for the white bedspread. The three piece maple suite is complemented by maple frames surrounding the six tiny pictures arradged above the bed.

One of the two bathrooms separates the bedrooms and is floored in seamist green ceramic tile with carara glass walls of a deeper shade, approaching aqua. The material forming the shower curtain and the draw drapes at the big window is of the same chintz with a pattern of ming red flowers and additional touches of beige, light blue, olive green, and black on a white background. The bright hue of the potted geraniums on the marble sill reflect back the splendor of the gay ming blossoms.

In the east wing of the house is the garage, study, utility room and kitchen, supplemented by a large screened in summer porch with a dining area.

The kitchen is floored in pink and gray streaked Bermuda vinyl tile with walls of pale pink and chocolate brown trim at baseboard level. The tops and backing of the kitchen counters are of pink formica edged in stainless steel. In addition are the marvelous features of a sink, counter-top electric range, and built-in wall oven —all of shining stainless steel. Above the electric range is a built-in spice shelf, while above the broad expanse of shining white enamel cabinets are cutouts of the unique wallpaper paneling on a cream background. This same wallpaper, which panels the compact dining area, is called "Fireside Cookbook" and is actually patterned after illustrations from a famous old-fashioned cookbook. A handsome birch china closet completes this charming and well equipped room, which also possesses an exhaust fan and automatic garbage disposal.

Immediately off the kitchen dining area and connected by a double doorway is the spacious cement-floored sun porch, screened in on two sides, with the remaining two walls formed by the glass doors to the living room and a tan stucco wall. In each of the many partitions forming the two outer walls are awning-type windows with screens. Furnishings include a summer dining table, steel porch furniture and a simulated bamboo suite with cushions covered in a red and white tropical pattern on a black background.

The utility room, on the other side of the kitchen, is floored in tan asphalt tile and is equipped with a forced air oil heater, freezer, washer and dryer, double sinks, and shining white enameled utility cabinets. The water softening system is also installed here, while a large picture window offers an abundance of light and fresh air to the room.

Access to Mr. Brown's study is attained by a short hall off the kitchen which also leads to the connecting two-car garage.

This handsome room is completely paneled and ceiled in varnished cypress and floored in beige and tan asphalt tile with chartreuse shag rugs. Outstanding among the furnishings of the room is the ornate solid walnut desk, covered with a hand carved design. In addition, the room is furnished with a contemporary style sofa bed covered in green and brown tweed. The large window is framed by heavy woven cotton draw drapes in a brown, green and beige figured pattern on a chartreuse background.

The bathroom, connecting with the study, is floored in the same asphalt tile with walls of pale chartreuse and chartreuse shag rugs. Curtains at the window are of checked cotton, spattered with hues of beige, yellow, rust and green.

For the past six years, the Browns have enjoyed bringing a little happiness and variety into the lives of the children from the Xenia Soldiers and Sailors Orphanage. During past summers and Easter and Christmas vacations they have welcomed them into their home for a one or two-week vacation. This act of kindness certainly denotes more than anything else the warm neighborliness and hospitality that radiates from our home of the week.

dancing, featuring round and square dancing, to terminate Thursday's chain of events.

Friday, 2:30-4:30 p.m., jubilee horseshoe-pitching champion to be determined; 4-5 p.m., contest held to choose the cutest cowboy and cowgirl. Entries should be appropriately dressed in western outfits with prizes awarded to the winners; 5-6 p.m., a baton-twirling contest with winners to be selected and prizes awarded; 6-9 p.m., a novel auction will take place which is sure to interest and amuse all who are in attendance. From 9-12, street dancing will again be held with local talent acts interspersing dances. In addition, dance contests will be held at this time with prizes going to the winners.

That's not all you'll enjoy at this once in a lifetime event. All sorts of surprises and secret plans have been set to make this the finest and gayest celebration one can remember.

Although the main purpose of the event is to "live it up," it also has a practical purpose, for the proceeds of carnival concessions and all other events charging admission will go to the Hilltop YMCA building fund, hoping to boost the fund and speed the erection of a fine, new YMCA building which is so badly needed on the Hilltop.

Businesses and organizations throughout the city are invited to enter floats or walking exhibits in the Jubilee Parade of Progress which will feature a western theme. Individuals wishing to enter any of the many contests as well as parade entries may call FR. 8-5808 or Mayer Kunz at FR. 8-5332.

Fast Action

Service Director Floyd Rodick has demonstrated that the city can really give hurry up service.

A couple weeks or so ago, Mrs. Robert Sanders, [illegible] Joyfulav, called his office and explained her need of the traffic light at Demorest and Sullivant.

He agreed that with school starting it was important that something be done and right now. He started calling on various city departments for cooperation and the net result was that in less tha na week from the time Mrs. Sanders had called the light was in operation.

"Can do" is the kind of attitude that gets things done.

Ella — Who is this E. Pluribus Unum?

Father — I don't know, but I don't like these men who part their names in the middle.

LASTS LONGER • LOOKS LOVELIER

3D-Insulite is the first Aluminum Siding to add a third dimension with Insulation Board that acts as a built-in shock absorber to lock out sound. Eliminates the "tin-roof" rattle of rain or hail. Seals out street and traffic noises! Ends dents and damage so common with ordinary Aluminum Sidings. Because 3D-Insulite combines the two siding materials proved best for insulation you benefit from double insulation. This double insulation can save you up to 30% on fuel bills.

Rome News Highlights For Week Include New Family And Recovery Of An Accident Victim

By Mrs. James W. Whalen

A cordial welcome is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wymer, 3322 Green-st, who recently moved into our community.

Mrs. Ward (Laura) Luctenbill, 496 Cole-rd, returned to her home from Mt. Carmel Hospital on Saturday and is getting along just fine. Her friend, Mrs. Della Roberts, who was also with her at the time of the automobile accident and is a patient in Mt. Carmel Hospital, is getting along nicely and hopes to be released from the hospital in a week or two. Both ladies wish to express their sincere appreciation to their many friends and neighbors for the very lovely flowers, cards, fruits and candies.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Adams and family of Ft. Wayne, Ind., were guests this week of Dr and Mrs. Wm. O'Harra of Rome-Hilliards-rd and W. Broad-st. . . . David B. Warner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Warner, 250 Pasadena-av, left on Sunday for Otterbein College. David is in his Junior year at Westerville . . . Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Baker and Mr. and Mrs. David Baker and family enjoyed a pleasant week end at Indian Lake.

Mrs. Michael Hurdzan, 49 Pasadena-av, and children, Kathy and Michael, were guests of Mrs. Charles Nestor of Bellaire, O., this week . . . Mr. and Mrs Paul Royer and sons, 311 Pasadena-av, and Mrs. Emmett Milligan of Columbus, were guests of Mr. and Mrs George Royer of Dayton this week end . . . Dr. and Mrs. John Federer and children, John and Elizabeth, of Panama Canal Zone Naval Hospital, are visiting Mrs. Emma Federer, Dr. Federer's mother, of Alton. Dr. Federer will soon be transferred to a hospital located at Bausort, S. C.

Jack Kidwell, 26 Lenox-av, entertained the caddies of the Beacon Light Golf Course with a dinner party on the Beacon Light grounds this week . . . Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cox, Jr., and children, Mike, Judy, and Anne of Lancaster were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cox, Sr., 61 Buena Vista-av.

Mrs. Leroy Schoonover, 370 Lenox-av entertained the members of the Naomi Circle of the WSCS of the Columbia Heights Methodist Church in her home on Tuesday, Sept. 14 . . . We were sorry to learn that Mr. Holt of Galloway-rd, lost his large barn as well as the 1,400 bales of hay on Sunday in a fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pughline and daughters, Mary Alice and Linda Kaye of 40 Lenox-av, enjoyed a visit with Mrs. Mary Pughline of Gloucster and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carr of Millfield this past holiday week end. Mr. and Mrs. Carr are the parents of Mrs. Pughline . . . Mrs. Flora Manson of California is a guest of Mrs. Joseph Coulter, 185 Pasadena-av.

Mrs. Henry Warner, 250 Pasadena-av, attended the 24th annual convention held at the Ohio Union on the OSU campus as a delegate for the Prairie Gardeners of New Rome, of which she is the treasurer on Thursday, opening day Mrs. Warner greatly enjoyed Mrs Laury's flower arrangement demonstration as well as the banquet and evening meeting.

On Friday, Mrs. Silas Adams, secretary for the Prairie Gardeners was a hostess and Mrs. M. A. Howell, chairman of the club's library committee, and Mrs. Whalen, president, attended the Friday session.

The Prairie Gardeners, responsible for the flower arrangements for the luncheon tables, discovered to their amazement that there were 35 tables instead of the anticipated 24. But with the kind cooperation of Mrs. F. J. Ruble of the Grove City Club and Mrs. L. D. Howe of the Dirt Dobbers of Chillicothe, the localites were able to have a pleasing flower arrangement on every table. The majority of the 35 clubs in Franklin County cooperated and had at least one arrangement for the luncheon to represent their club.

The first meeting for intermediate Girl Scout Troop 167 will be held at the Prairie Township School on Thursday between 4:15 and 5 p. m. Leader, Mrs. Gene Smith and Mrs Ernest Pughline, assistant leader, announced that there are 16 active members in the troop.

Petition Filed Against Local Quarry Operation

More Than 500 Citizens Lodge Protest At Blasting Prospect

A petition bearing more than 500 names of affected residents was filed with the rural zoning board Monday morning asking for rezoning of a huge tract of land recently acquired by Marblecliff Quarries, according to Ray T. Hickey, head

McComb, owner of McComb's Nurseries, said he was joined in passing the petition by members of the Valleyview Village Council and members of Skidmore Lions Club in addition to other interested residents.

Chief objections of the signers apparently was the noise and inconvenience of blasting operations near their homes in any quarry operation. Lowered property values, unsightly and unfilled holes, dust, and stone falling from trucks using Hague-av were among other reasons cited by petitioners. McComb said that in addition to lowering property values, the quarrying operation would probably lower the water table in the area, rendering useless the many wells in one section of the tract.

He reported that Marblecliff, the president of which is Russell S. Rarey, began buying up property in the area last November with an initial purchase of some 40 acres. In the meantime, he said, they have purchased additional quarry sites and made arrangements to purchase more.

The rural zoning board reported public hearing would be held on the petition "probably not earlier than the middle of November." Notice of such a hearing must be advertised 30 days prior to the hearing.

Mayor Stresses Sevenfold Nature Of His Administration's Record

Mayor Sensenbrenner stressed seven points of interest to all Columbus residents in an address on Thursday, Sept. 16, before the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. He also pointed out how the Kiwanis, as one of the nation's outstanding service and civic organizations has a special role in preserving good government and eliminating bad.

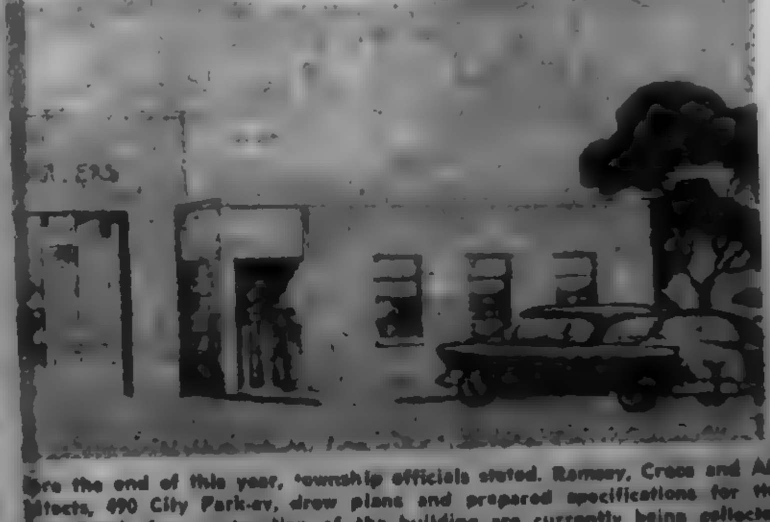
The mayor reviewed his administration from the time of the ballot recount, through the appointment of Redick and Lehman, the dismissal of Vittek, Stith, Snoots, and Harrison, investigation of what he termed "the trumped-up gambling situation," and covered in detail such points as annexation, slum clean-up, building, traffic, parking, parks, and the work of the service department.

"For the first time since 1947 the administration has taken the lead in annexing new territory to the city," the mayor claimed at the outset of his speech. He pointed to a total of 2,022 acres annexed since Jan. 1.

In the matter of slum clean-up he pointed to "tremendous progress," revealing how in the first six months 221 orders had been issued for clearance, with 119 completed in addition to 66 completed from orders issued in 1953. The combined total clearance is 153 units. Sensenbrenner noted that in the first six months of this year his administration had condemmed 178 buildings compared to 42 condemnation orders by the preceding administration in the first half of 1953.

During August, Sensenbrenner related, the building department broke an all-time record for cash receipts from building permits — $23,948.95. In the matter of traffic, the mayor pointed to new traffic signals at Harmon and Renick-avs, Central and Cable-avs, Sullivant and Demorest-avs, and Central and McKinley-avs.; plus new controllers at Olentangy-blvd and Goodale-st and Fifth-av and Fields-st; a new pedestrian signal at Mound-st and Seymour-av; and many new one-way streets.

As for parking, the mayor pointed to the current construction on the new Long-st garage, projected increase to a time for downtown parking, current studies of a second parking garage, and additional facilities in the downtown to ease parking.

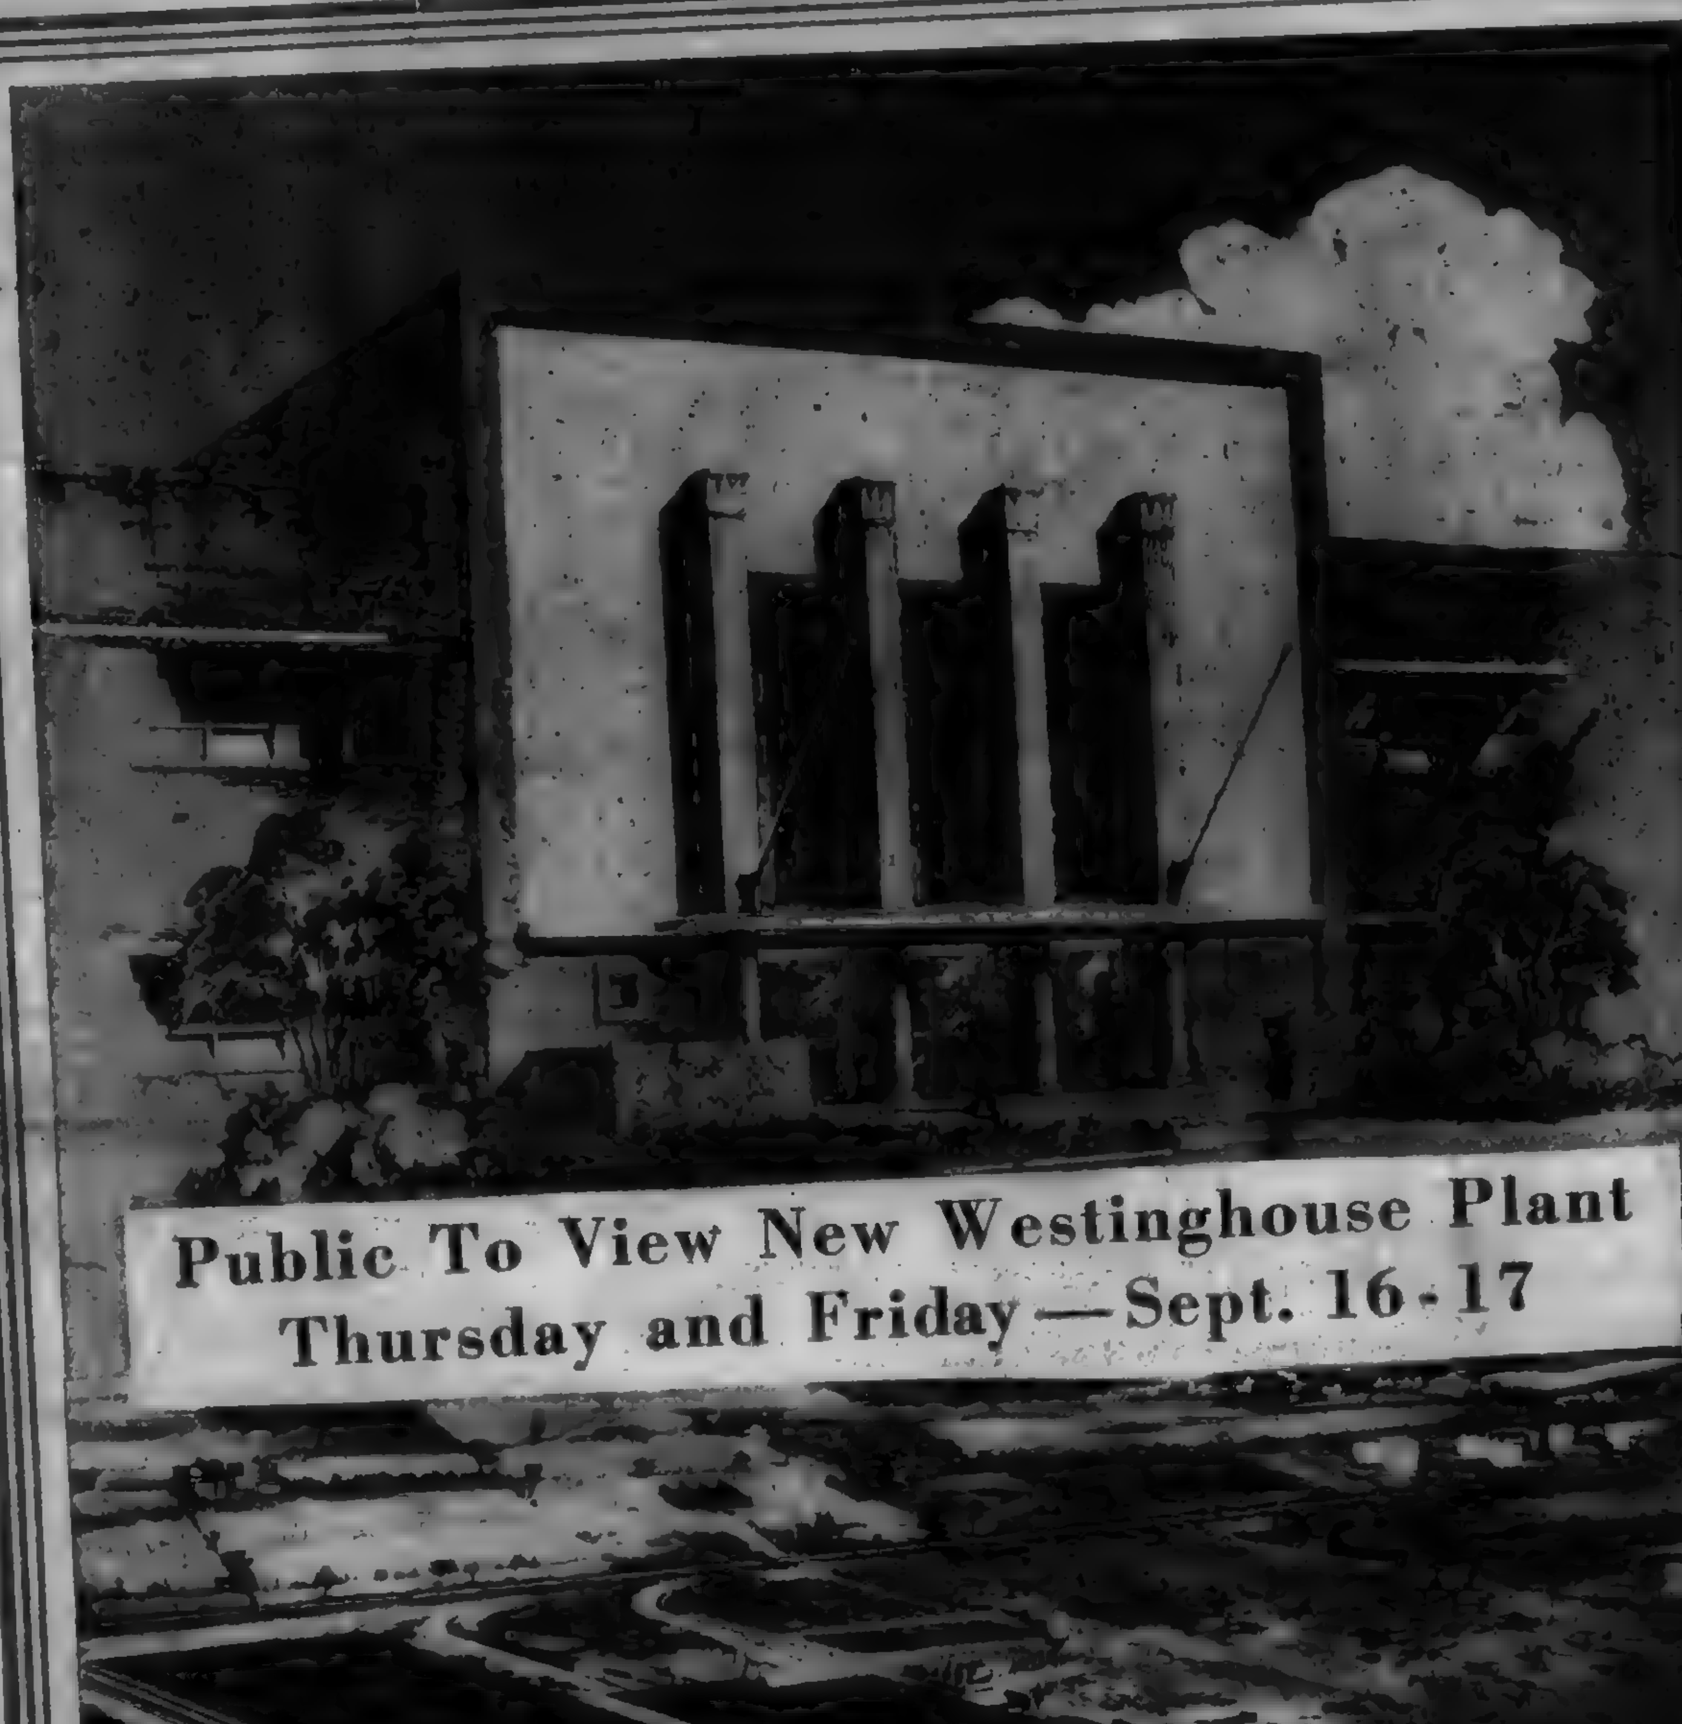


In referring to parks, the mayor spoke of many park improvements and "through cooperative effort with the recreation department in 1954, fewer complaints from a record number of users, according to men who worked under previous

New Petition Filed Monday

A petition was filed Monday with the county commissioners signed by 225 resident freeholders of Franklin Township who sought annexation to Columbus of 2,431 acres, including the sites of the two widely-sought tax plums, Westinghouse and Ternstedt.

Roughly, the area outlined in the new petition was the same area, although somewhat larger, than petitioners sought last June when annexation operations failed when scores of signers withdrew their names from the petition lists. The area is bounded on the west by the Prairie Township line, on the north by a line near Fisher-rd, by the city limits on the east, and on the south by Sullivant-av and Briggs-rd.



This new Franklin Township petition cannot be heard until after the general election on Nov. 2 because of the 60-day waiting period required by law. Therefore, if the electorate should vote for annexation, the petition would be void. Further complicating the Franklin Township situation is an incorporation move in Franklin Heights, which, if upheld, would rule out any annexation move.

...re the end of this year, township officials stated. Ramsey, Cross and A... ...itects, 490 City Park-av, drew plans and prepared specifications for the ...n. Funds for construction of the building are currently being collected ...a special tax levy put into effect at the beginning of 1954. The new ...n will be the second permanent building in the Franklin Township Fire ...nt. The building at 2193 Frank-rd, was completed in 1951. Westinghouse Decides Thriving Hilltop Ideal Location

CAREFUL PLANNING: Location of the gigantic $45 million refrigerator and freezer plant of Westinghouse Corp. on the Hilltop was no accident, Hilltop Business Association officials point out. Such things as ease of access, housing for workers, and "neighborliness" of local businesses and citizens were taken into consideration before the final selection of the site was made. Several other sites were considered, but lost out to the superior advantages of the Hilltop. In addition to being located on one of the nation's busiest through highways, the site offers excellent rail facilities. A plentiful labor supply is to be found in nearby Columbus.

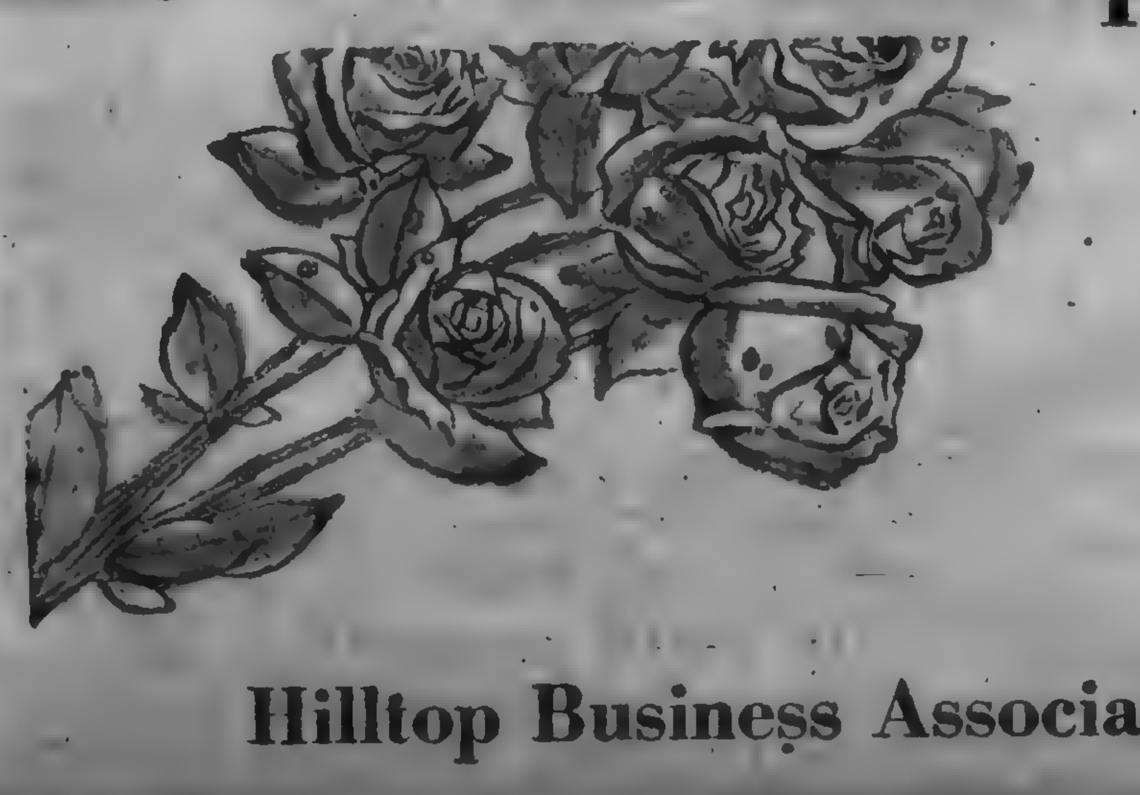
Community Good Site For Plant HBA Declares

It was no accident that the thriving Hilltop community was selected as the site of the fourth Westinghouse Appliance Division Plant, Hilltop Business Association officials point out. Nor was it hapzard guessing that determined that the 31st completed Westinghouse plant should turn up located on one of the nation's busiest highways and immediately outside of the corporation limits of Columbus.

A second wave of postwar expansion for the Electric Appliance Division was initiated with the decision to build a plant in Columbus, devoted to refrigeration products.

Months before any action was taken to determine finally the plant's site, company executives scoured the whole of Franklin County for the one ideal place. HBA officials and officials of other communities were interviewed early in the search.

Selection of the Hilltop was decided upon only after other possible sites failed to "stack up" with the advantages offered by this community. The Hilltop met some of the basic requirements, such as adequate space, good highways, location near the hub of rail activities, a plentiful labor supply nearby, friendly and helpful local government officials, and the welcome mat from the potential neighbors themselves.



Even though operating on a limited employment basis for the present, Westinghouse has already proven itself a "good neighbor" HBA declares. "It has taken an active role in civic sponsorship of community events, has furnished its huge auditorium to numerous agencies, and has maintained a friendly "open door" policy to the press. Its executives have pitched in to help when needed and many of them even now are active leaders in the community's civic and service organizations.

Petition Filed Against Local Quarry Operation

More Than 500 Citizens Lodge Protest At Blasting Prospect

A petition bearing more than 500 names of affected residents was filed with the rural zoning board Monday morning asking for rezoning of a huge tract of land recently acquired by Marblecliff Quarries, according to Ray T. Hickey, head

...pages of names, many of them in veterans ...ed at his office by Leo A. McComb, 900 ...earheaded the drive for names in protest ...nd aggregates operations in an area 1,000 ...s-ay, currently zoned for heavy industry.

McComb, owner of McComb's Nurseries, said he was joined in passing the petition by members of the Valleyview Village Council and members of Skidmore Lions Club in addition to other interested residents.

Chief objections of the signers apparently was the noise and inconvenience of blasting operations near their homes in any quarry operation. Lowered property values, unsightly and unfilled holes, dust, and stone falling from trucks using Hague-av were among other reasons cited by petitioners. McComb said that in addition to lowering property values, the quarrying operation would probably lower the water table in the area, rendering useless the many wells in one section of the tract.

He reported that Marblecliff, the president of which is Russell S. Harey, began buying up property in the area last November with an initial purchase of some 40 acres. In the meantime, he said, they have purchased additional quarry sites and made arrangements to purchase more.

The rural zoning board reported public hearing would be held on the petition "probably not earlier than the middle of November." Notice of such a hearing must be advertised 30 days prior to the hearing.

Mayor Stresses Sevenfold Nature Of His Administration's Record

Mayor Sensenbrenner stressed seven points of interest to all Columbus residents in an address on Thursday, Sept. 16, before the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. He also pointed out how the Kiwanis, as one of the nation's outstanding service and civic organizations has a special role in preserving good government and eliminating bad.

The mayor reviewed his administration from the time of the ballot recount, through the appointment of Bedick and Lehman, the dismissal of Vittek, Stith, Snoots, and Harrison, investigation of what he termed "the trumped-up gambling situation," and covered in detail such points as annexation, slum clean-up, building, traffic, parking, parks, and the work of the service department.

"For the first time since 1947 the administration has taken the lead in annexing new territory to the city," the mayor claimed at the outset of his speech. He pointed to a total of 2,022 acres annexed since Jan. 1.

In the matter of slum clean-up, he pointed to "tremendous progress," revealing how in the first six months 221 orders had been issued for clearance, with 119 completed in addition to 66 completed from orders issued in 1953. The combined total clearance is 185 units. Sensenbrenner noted that in the first six months of this year his administration had condemned 138 buildings compared to 42 condemnation orders by the preceding administration in the first half of 1953.

During August, Sensenbrenner related, the building department broke an all-time record for cash receipts from building permits — $23,948.95. In the matter of traffic, the mayor pointed to new traffic signals at Harmon and Kenick-avs. Central and Cable-avs Sullivant and Demorest-avs, and Central and McKinley-avs.; plus new controllers at Olentangy-blvd and Goodale-st and Fifth-av and Fields-st; a new pedestrian signal at Mound-st and Seymour-av; and many new one-way streets.

As for parking, the mayor pointed to the current construction on the new Long-st garage, projected increase to a dime for downtown parking, current studies of a second parking garage, and additional facilities in the downtown to ease parking.

In referring to parks, the mayor spoke of many park improvements and "through cooperative effort with the recreation department in 1954, fewer complaints from a record number of users, according to men who worked under previous

A petition was filed Monday with the county commissioners signed by 225 resident freeholders of Franklin Township who sought annexation to Columbus of 2,431 acres, including the sites of the two widely-sought tax plums, Westinghouse and Ternstedt.

Roughly, the area outlined in the new petition was the same area, although somewhat larger, than petitioners sought last June when annexation operations failed when scores of signers withdrew their names from the petition lists. The area is bounded on the west by the Prairie Township line, on the north by a line near Fisher-rd, by the city limits on the east, and on the south by Sullivant-av and Briggs-rd.

This new Franklin Township petition cannot be heard until after the general election on Nov. 2 because of the 60-day waiting period required by law. Therefore, if the electorate should vote for annexation, the petition would be void. Further complicating the Franklin Township situation is an incorporation move in Franklin Heights, which, if upheld, would rule out any annexation move.

New Plant Payroll Will Eventually Exceed $20 Million

J. H. Ashbaugh, Vice-President In Charge of Electric Appliance Division

E. L. Smith, Works Manager At Columbus Plant

W. J. Berle, Manager of Accounting

J. G. Ritter, Manager of Manufacturing Engineering

S. E. Sites, Manager of Quality Control

C. D. Heaton, Manager of Manufacturing

H. W. Dailey, Manager of Industrial Relations

F. C. Fox, Manager of Production

O. Yoxsimer, Manager of Engineering

H. L. Johnson, Purchasing Agent

Present Nucleus Crew Is Drawing $150,000 Weekly

When the Westinghouse Electric Appliance Division's new West Columbus plant is fully equipped and 100 per cent in operation, the annual payroll for this plant will be in excess of 20 million dollars, according to John H. Ashbaugh, Westinghouse vice-president, in charge of the electric appliance division.

At present the plant is employing some 2,500 people, who comprise the nucleus of the Columbus organization, and who are busily engaged in setting up production techniques and training new employes. The payroll at present is well in excess of $150,000 weekly.

From the day construction began at the Phillippi-rd and W. Broad-st plant, it has been company policy to purchase materials and services locally whenever possible. In carrying out this policy, this plant has spent approximately 10 million dollars for materials and services locally while the plant has been under construction. In addition, another 10 million dollars worth of materials have been purchased through local agents.

Although this plant is a part of the Electric Appliance Division, which is headquartered in Mansfield, its roots are here in this community, Ashbaugh declared.

"When this plant is in full operation, 98 per cent of its total employment will be comprised of people from the immediate surrounding area. The small percentage of the plant's total employment that has been brought here from plants in Mansfield, Springfield, Mass., and elsewhere is naturally made up of people with a technical knowledge of engineering and manufacturing techniques. They will help to establish this plant as one that produces appliances consistent with the quality of Westinghouse appliances made elsewhere.

At the present, 20 per cent of the total employment at the Columbus plant is made up of women. This percentage will be increased to a minimum of 30 per cent eventually, officials have disclosed.

Aside from the wages paid to employes, Westinghouse officials have taken into consideration the many other factors that people are interested in these days when they apply for jobs at a new factory. In the so-called "fringe benefits" Westinghouse has a very adequate social insurance program. It is supported by an amount that is approximately equal to four per cent of gross sales. These benefits include:

Opportunity, a chance to advance in knowledge and position, is still uppermost in the desires of most people. To provide this opportunity, the firm has developed a training program that includes courses of instruction for practically everyone in the plant. Already several hundred people have participated in these various courses of instruction, and eventually it is planned that every supervisor in the plant will have had two or three courses at one time or another.

A four-year apprenticeship course is offered for tool and die makers; a four-year course for engineering model makers; and a four-year course in machine-screw operation.

Courses for supervisors include one in the elements of supervision, another in human factors in management, methods development, and another course for both veteran and new supervisors, called the "staff functional course." Also offered are courses in the free enterprise system, accident prevention and a clerical training course.

The plant is participating in the corporation's graduate student training program and already has employed several young men who have just finished college. Under consideration is a program in conjunction with Ohio State University to provide graduate and undergraduate courses for Westinghouse people on campus.

"The plans we have made for this plant are ambitious in many ways," Ashbaugh admitted, "and as in everything else, these plans are dependent on business conditions and the general well-being of the country. It is our belief, however, that the remainder of 1954 and the years immediately following will be good years."

WESTINGHOUSE TIME TABLE

Westinghouse plant dedication—1 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 16. Plant open to the public—Thursday from 1:30 p.m. until 5 p.m., and Friday from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Ashbaugh, Smith Boast Long Achievement Records With Westinghouse Corp.

Edward L. Smith, works manager of the Columbus plant, and John Harvey Ashbaugh, vice-president in charge of the Electric Appliance Division, both have long records of achievement with the Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

Smith began his career with Westinghouse in 1927 as an assembler at the Appliance Division's headquarters in Mansfield. He rose through the ranks until November 1945 when he was named purchasing agent for the Mansfield plant, a position he held prior to his appointment in September 1951 as works manager at Columbus. Married, he resides with his wife and two daughters at 1636 Berkshire-rd.

Ashbaugh, a nationally known authority on electric refrigeration, entered a mechanical career as a boy of 12 in Pendleton, Indiana, when he bought a bicycle with money he made selling papers and became interested in cycle repair.

In June 1918 he started with Westinghouse in the company's student course and for three years attended the Carnegie Institute of Technology's night courses. In March 1931 he was assigned to Westinghouse's Appliance Division and in less than a year became manager of engineering at the East Springfield, Mass., plant. Named acting manager of manufacturing and engineering for the appliance division in November, 1941, he became manager of the electric division in March 1952.

PUBLIC INVITED

The public has been invited to see how refrigerators and freezers are made at the Westinghouse "Open House," Thursday and Friday, Sept. 16 and 17. The doors of the new 45 million dollar Westinghouse plant will be opened to the public at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, immediately following dedication ceremonies at 1 p.m.

PRESENT PRODUCTION

A total of 800 refrigerators a day is being produced at the Westinghouse Columbus plant. This represents only a portion of the Division's total production of refrigerators as the Columbus plant is currently producing only small models. Other refrigeration production is currently located in Mansfield. This eventually will be moved to Columbus and Westinghouse refrigeration capacity will double.

The production capacity of the Columbus Westinghouse plant is 4,000 major appliances per day.

The mayor reviewed his administration from the time of the ballot recount, through the appointment of Redick and Lehman, the dismissal of Vittek, Stith, Snoots, and Harrison, investigation of what he termed "the trumped-up gambling situation," and covered in detail such points as annexation, slum clean-up, building, traffic, parking, parks, and the work of the service department.

In referring to parks, the mayor spoke of many park improvements and "through cooperative effort with the recreation department in 1954, fewer complaints from a record number of users, according to men who worked under previous administrations.

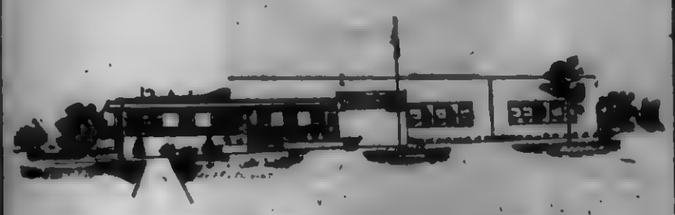
Local Plant Is Largest Ever 'Built' By Westinghouse



AERIAL VIEW of the plant itself lends weight to the statistics issued by the Westinghouse firm that the Columbus Appliance Division Plant is the largest ever built by Westinghouse. A one-story-type factory, containing more than two million square feet of space, the $45 million ultra-modern plant was begun in September 1952 and was prompted by the Division's having tripled its sales volume in the previous 10-year period. At top capacity, the nearly half-mile long plant shown above can produce 4,000 major appliances a day when it begins to operate at full production. The factory contains four manufacturing aisles, each 200 feet wide and extending nearly 1,500 feet. The two-story office building extends from the plant in a T pattern and is highlighted by an impressive entrance of marble and stone. The plant site, in Franklin Township just west of the city limits, covers 315 acres.

Welcome Westinghouse

We at Nippert are happy to welcome one of America's industrial greats . . . the Westinghouse Electric Corporation . . . to Columbus' growing West Side.

It has been our privilege to buy and use Westinghouse products in our own plant. We are also privileged to have some Westinghouse divisions as customers. The high standard of quality associated with Westinghouse will be, we are sure, an asset of which Columbus can be justly proud.

The building of this huge new Westinghouse plant is a sign of the growing importance of Columbus as an industrial center . . . a vote of confidence in the future prosperity of our community.

Petition Filed Against Local Quarry Operation

More Than 500 Citizens Lodge Protest At Blasting Prospect

A petition bearing more than 500 names of affected residents was filed with the rural zoning board Monday morning asking for rezoning of a huge tract of land recently acquired by Marblecliff Quarries, according to Ray T. Hickey, head two pages of names, many of them in veterans lodged at his office by Leo A. McComb, 900 who spearheaded the drive for names in protest arry and aggregates operations in an area 1,000 Hague-av, currently zoned for heavy industry.

McComb, owner of McComb's Nurseries, said he was joined in passing the petition by members of the Valleyview Village Council and members of Skidmore Lions Club in addition to other interested residents.

Chief objections of the signers apparently was the noise and inconvenience of blasting operations near their homes in any quarry operation. Lowered property values, unsightly and unfilled holes, dust, and stone falling from trucks using Hague-av were among other reasons cited by petitioners. McComb said that in addition to lowering property values, the quarrying operation would probably lower the water table in the area, rendering useless the many wells in one section of the tract.

He reported that Marblecliff, the president of which is Russell S. Harey, began buying up property in the area last November with an initial purchase of some 40 acres. In the meantime, he said, they have purchased additional quarry sites and made arrangements to purchase more.

The rural zoning board reported public hearing would be held on the petition "probably not earlier than the middle of November." Notice of such a hearing must be advertised 20 days prior to the hearing.

NEW RECORD PHONE NO.

Effective Monday morning, Sept. 27, the new number for the Hilltop Record for all incoming calls will be JO. 7321. All other numbers have been disconnected.

Mayor Stresses Sevenfold Nature Of His Administration's Record

Mayor Sensenbrenner stressed seven points of interest to all Columbus residents in an address on Thursday, Sept. 16, before the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. He also pointed out how the Kiwanis, as one of the nation's outstanding service and civic organizations has a special role in preserving good government and eliminating bad.

The mayor reviewed his administration from the time of the ballot recount, through the appointment of Radick and Lehman, the dismissal of Vitick, Stith, Snoots, and Harrison, investigation of what he termed "the trumpeted gambling situation," and covered in detail such points as annexation, slum clean-up, building, traffic, parking, parks, and the work of the service department.

"For the first time since 1947 the administration has taken the lead in annexing new territory to the city," the mayor claimed at the outset of his speech. He pointed to a total of 2,022 acres annexed since Jan. 1.

In the matter of slum clean-up he pointed to "tremendous progress," revealing how in the first six months 221 orders had been issued for clearance, with 119 completed in addition to 66 completed from orders issued in 1953. The combined total clearance is 185 units. Sensenbrenner noted that in the first six months of this year his administration had condemned 136 buildings compared to 82 condemnation orders by the preceding administration in the first half of 1953.

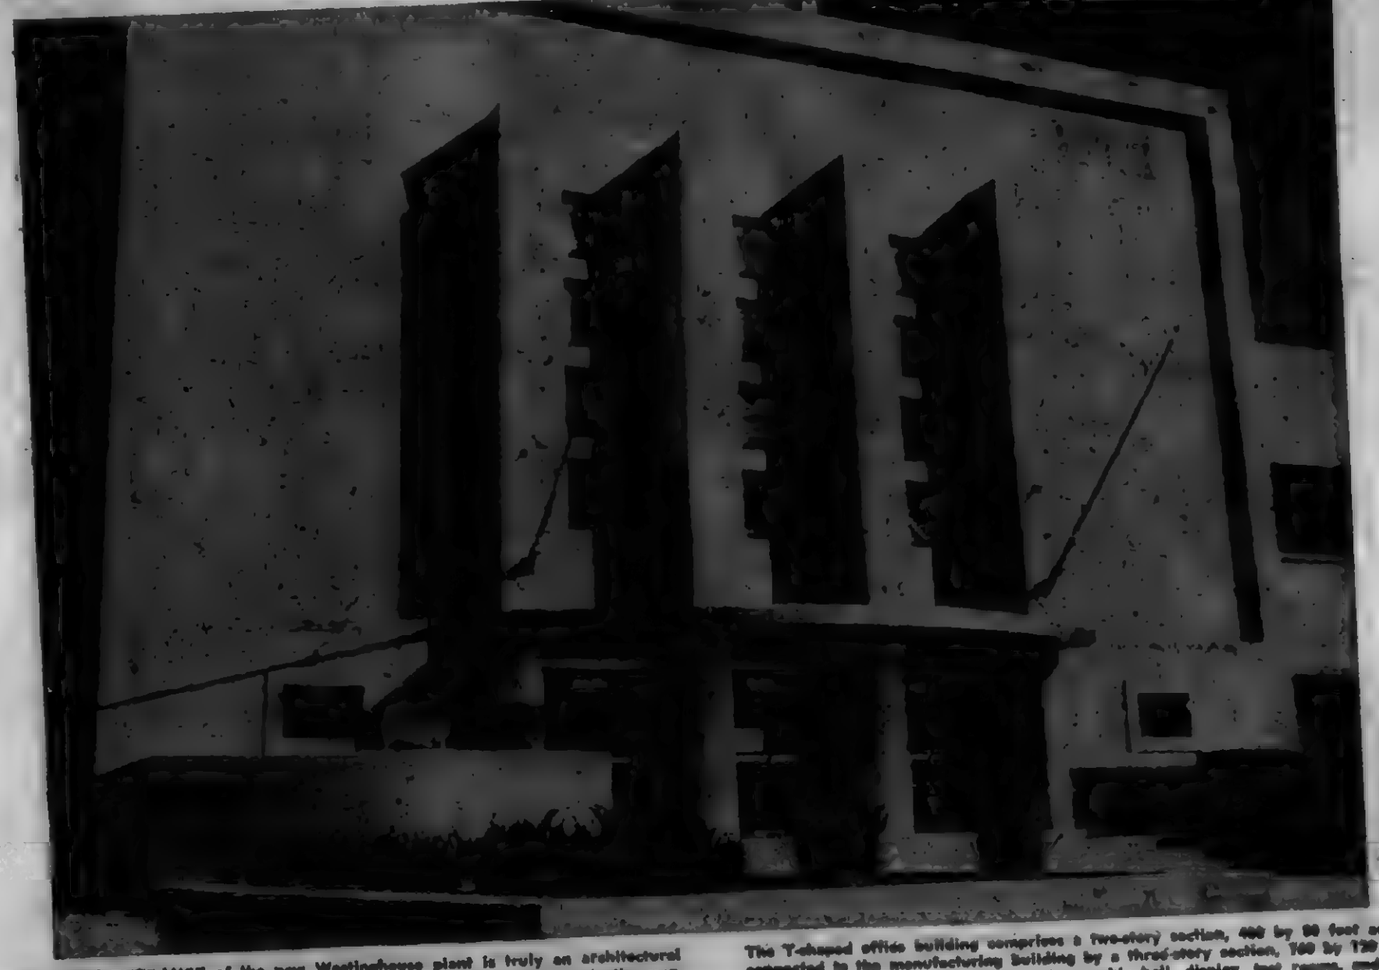
During August, Sensenbrenner related, the building department broke an all-time record for cash receipts from building permits — $23,948.95. In the matter of traffic, the mayor pointed to new traffic signals at Harmon-av and Kenick-ave, Central and Cable-ave Sullivant and Demorest-ave, and Central and McKinley-ave.; plus new controllers at Olentangy blvd and Goodale-st and Fifth-av and Fields-st; a new pedestrian signal at Mound-st and Seymour-av; and many new one-way streets.

As for parking, the mayor pointed to the current construction on the new Long-st garage, projected increase to a three for downtown parking, current studies of a second parking garage, and additional facilities in the downtown to ease parking.

In referring to parks, the mayor spoke of many park improvements and "through cooperative effort with the recreation department in 1954, fewer complaints from a record number of users, according to men who worked under previous administrations.

New Petition Filed Monday

A petition was filed Monday with the county commissioners signed by 225 resident freeholders of Franklin Township who sought annexation to Columbus of 2,431 acres, including the sites of the two widely-sought tax plums, Westinghouse and Ternstedt.



Roughly, the area outlined in the new petition was the same area, although somewhat larger, than petitioners sought last June when annexation operations failed when scores of signers withdrew their names from the petition lists. The area is bounded on the west by the Prairie Township line, on the north by a line near Fisher-rd, by the city limits on the east, and on the south by Sullivant-av and Briggs-rd.

This new Franklin Township petition cannot be heard until after the general election on Nov. 2 because of the 60-day waiting period required by law. Therefore, if the electorate should vote for annexation, the petition would be void. Further complicating the Franklin Township situation is an incorporation move in Franklin Heights, which, if upheld, would rule out any annexation move.

...n before the end of this year, township officials stated. Ramsey, Cross and Ab... Architects, 490 City Park-av, drew plans and prepared specifications for the ...e station. Funds for construction of the building are currently being collected ...part of a special tax levy put into effect at the beginning of 1954. The new ...e station will be the second permanent building in the Franklin Township Fire ...partment. The building at 2193 Frank-rd, was completed in 1951. Company No. ...operates out of rented quarters at Dalin Garage, 2065 McKinley-av.

Marvels Await Visitors Passing Through These Portals

OFFICE ENTRANCE of the new Westinghouse plant is truly an architectural triumph of the 20th century and an impressive introduction to visitors to the marvels of scientific production accomplishments awaiting them within. Exterior walls of the entrance are made of limestone veneer with an artificial granite base. The T-shaped office building comprises a two-story section, 400 by 80 feet and is connected to the manufacturing building by a three-story section, 160 by 120 feet, which houses the cafeteria, stage and assembly hall, display, test rooms, and ventilating equipment.

More Than 500 Citizens Lodge Protest At Blasting Prospect

A petition bearing more than 500 names of affected residents was filed with the rural zoning board Monday morning asking for rezoning of a huge tract of land recently acquired by Marblecliff Quarries, according to Ray T. Hickey, head of the board.

Watchful Eye Of Quality Control Guards All Products

Maintains Quality, Checks Materials

The central laboratories of the Westinghouse Electric Appliance Division plant in Columbus are under the general direction of Marvin Pingle. They consist of the chemical and metallurgical laboratory, supervised by Wallace Metcalf; the instrument and test equipment laboratory, with Robert McPherson in charge; and the tool and gage laboratory, under the direction of Roscoe Sheely.

In addition, there is a quality analysis laboratory directed by John Carr. This laboratory has a wide range of responsibilities in controlling processes and testing materials used throughout the manufacturing operations.

For example, processes include plating, pickling and cleaning operations, as well as paint finishing, paint reclaiming and porcelain enameling, all of which are controlled and constantly checked by this lab.

The additions of ingredients to any process tanks is a responsibility of the chemical and metallurgical laboratory. This laboratory has two main functions. First, it serves as a link between the engineering and manufacturing departments on all matters of processing.

Secondly, it serves as a testing center for all parts received from suppliers that require special testing.

Test For Corrosion

In performing tests on processes, the laboratory conducts humidity and salt spray tests on paint-finishing samples to determine its resistance to corrosion; hardness testing of component refrigerator parts that have been machined and heat-treated by plant; and numerous tests on all processing solutions.

To determine the quality of parts from suppliers, the laboratory runs tests to determine the sulphur and carbon content of steel samples, the actual physical strength of plastic refrigerator parts, the purity of certain metals such as aluminum, and other quality analyses.

Another function of this laboratory is to prepare process procedures for manufacturing divisions and then follow up to be sure these procedures are followed to produce the highest quality work.

A specialized section of the chemical and metallurgical laboratory is the moisture laboratory, which functions as a part of the refrigeration-unit assembly section. This laboratory is responsible for all phases of refrigeration unit processing, including the testing of all freon and oil to be sure they meet specifications before use in charging units.

Moisture Content Important

For example, the moisture content and non-condensable gases in freon must be carefully controlled and the oil must withstand certain voltage tests.

In order to perform the many tests necessary to fulfill its responsibilities, the chemical and metallurgical laboratory has a wide variety of highly specialized test equipment, including a spectrograph, X-ray machine, tensile test machine, and others.

Activities of the tool and gage laboratory are very closely and directly related to the functions of the various manufacturing sections of the plant, inasmuch as requests are received from them for gages to be used in checking dimensions on parts being produced by them.

If a general purpose gage will fill the need, it is supplied to the department by the T&G laboratory which purchases all such gages. However, if a special measuring device is needed, the lab technicians will design and have made such a gage.

The T&G laboratory is equiped with many fine pieces of precision-measuring equipment with which accurate measurements to two millionths of an inch can be made. This equipment is used expressly for the calibration and inspection of the gages and measuring devices used throughout the plant.

A complete case history of each gage is maintained here from the time of its design or order until it is declared no longer serviceable. Daily inspection and repair service is furnished throughout the plant by skilled gage technicians equipped with a mobile laboratory unit.

The T&G lab has been designated as the final authority on any questions of dimensional measurements.

Best Equipment Available

On many of the operations throughout the plant, electronic and mechanical equipment is availbale to aid the employes in making decisions, controlling processes, sorting, gaging, testing or machining to detailed specifications. The instrument laboratory is responsible for maintenance, and often the design and construction of this equipment.

In order to do this job, the instrument laboratory has a complete machine shop as well as extensive test equipment for analyzing trouble in the most complex electronic equipment.

This laboratory also maintains the plant standards of heat, electricity, vacuum pressure and weight, against which all instruments that directly control a process or are used for inspection testing are regularly calibrated.

One of the most interesting and important functions of the instrument laboratory is the design and construction of new test equipment, which may range from a large calibration or test machine to a small hand tool to enable an operator to obtain accurate inspection data.

With such fine facilities and highly specialized personnel, this laboratory is in a position to aid all employes in turning out quality work.

The quality analysis laboratory provides a measure of customer performance and acceptance of products, thus assuring a constant level of Westinghouse quality.

This purpose is accomplished by making random selections of samples of our products from each day's production and submitting them to thorough performance tests.

These quality control laboratories which have been briefly described are only a part of the Quality Control Department, but they offer immeasurable aid to all our manufacturing personnel in building a product of the highest quality.

Nothing Has Been Left To Chance In Plant Operation

CHANCE doesn't enter into the production operation at all, visitors see after only a glance. All steps in the manufacturing process have been planned down to the most exacting detail. For instance, the problem of dust marring cabinet finishes has been completely eliminated by a forced air ventilating system which drives clean air into the paint spray booth at the same time exhaust fans remove contaminated air to make sure dust and dirt particles do not remain in the vicinity. Along the rear of the booth wall, a continuously moving sheet of water catches spray paint that misses the metal. This paint is collected as a sludge and taken to the salvage department where it is processed for re-use. Similarly, other departments exercise a keen awareness of need for cost economy measures that will pass on to consumer.

Petition Filed Against Local Quarry Operation

More Than 500 Citizens Lodge Protest At Blasting Prospect

A petition bearing more than 500 names of affected residents was filed with the rural zoning board Monday morning asking for rezoning of a huge tract of land recently acquired by Marblecliff Quarries, according to Ray T. Hickey, head of the board.

The petition, more than two pages of names, many of them in veterans groups, were lodged at his office by Leo A. McComb, 900 block Hague-av, who spearheaded the drive for names in protest of the proposed quarry and aggregates operations in an area 1,000 feet south of E. Hague-av, currently zoned for heavy industry.

McComb, owner of McComb's Nurseries, said he was joined in passing the petition by members of the Valleyview Village Council and members of Skidmore Lions Club in addition to other interested residents.

Chief objections of the signers apparently was the noise and inconvenience of blasting operations near their homes in any quarry operation. Lowered property values, unsightly and unfilled holes, dust, and stone falling from trucks using Hague-av were among other reasons cited by petitioners. McComb said that in addition to lowering property values, the quarrying operation would probably lower the water table in the area, rendering useless the many wells in one section of the tract.

He reported that Marblecliff, the president of which is Russell S. Rarey, began buying up property in the area last November with an initial purchase of some 40 acres. In the meantime, he said, they have purchased additional quarry sites and made arrangements to purchase more.

The rural zoning board reported public hearing would be held on the petition "probably not earlier than the middle of November." Notice of such a hearing must be advertised 30 days prior to the hearing.

Mayor Stresses Sevenfold Nature Of His Administration's Record

Mayor Seasonbrenner stressed seven points of interest to all Columbus residents in an address on Thursday, Sept. 18, before the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. He also pointed out how the Kiwanis, as one of the nation's outstanding service and civic organizations has a special role in preserving good government and eliminating bad.

The mayor reviewed his administration from the time of the ballot recount, through the appointment of Redick and Lehman, the dismissal of Vittek, Stith, Snoots, and Harrison, investigation of what he termed "the trumped-up gambling situation," and covered in detail such points as annexation, slum clean-up, building, traffic, parking, parks, and the work of the service department.

"For the first time since 1947 the administration has taken the lead in annexing new territory to the city," the mayor claimed at the outset of his speech. He pointed to a total of 2,032 acres annexed since Jan. 1.

In the matter of slum clean-up he pointed to "tremendous progress," revealing how in the first six months 221 orders had been issued for clearance, with 179 completed in addition to 66 completed from orders issued in 1953. The combined total clearance is 157 units. Seasonbrenner noted that in the first six months of this year his administration had condemned 138 buildings compared to 82 condemnation orders by the preceding administration in the first half of 1953.

During August, Seasonbrenner related, the building department broke an all-time record for cash receipts from building permits — $33,948.96. In the matter of traffic, the mayor pointed to new traffic signals at Harmon and Kenick-avs, Central and Cable-avs, Sullivant and Demorest-avs, and Central and McKinley-avs.; plus new controllers at Olentangy-blvd. and Goodale-st and Fifth-av and Fields-st; a new pedestrian signal at Mound-st and Seymour-av; and many new one-way streets.

As for parking, the mayor pointed to the current construction on the new Long-st garage, projected increase to a dime for downtown parking, current studies on a second parking garage, and additional facilities in the downtown to ease parking.

In referring to parks, the mayor spoke of many park improvements and "through cooperative efforts with the recreation department in 1954, fewer complaints from a record number of users, according to men who worked under previous administrations.

New Petition Filed Monday

A petition was filed Monday with the county commissioners signed by 225 resident freeholders of Franklin Township who sought annexation to Columbus of 2,431 acres, including the sites of the two widely-sought tax plums, Westinghouse and Ternstedt.

Roughly, the area outlined in the new petition was the same area, although somewhat larger, than petitioners sought last June when annexation operations failed when scores of signers withdrew their names from the petition lists. The area is bounded on the west by the Prairie Township line, on the north by a line near Fisher-rd, by the city limits on the east, and on the south by Sullivant-av and Briggs-rd.

This new Franklin Township petition cannot be heard until after the general election on Nov. 2 because of the 60-day waiting period required by law. Therefore, if the electorate should vote for annexation, the petition would be void. Further complicating the Franklin Township situation is an incorporation move in Franklin Heights, which, if upheld, would rule out any annexation move.

...tion before the end of this year, township officials stated. Ramsey, Croco and Abbet, Architects, 490 City Park-av, drew plans and prepared specifications for the fire station. Funds for construction of the building are currently being collected as part of a special tax levy put into effect at the beginning of 1954. The new fire station will be the second permanent building in the Franklin Township Fire Department. The building at 2193 Frank-rd, was completed in 1951. Company No. ... operates out of rented quarters at Dalig Garage, 3363 McKinley-av.

Congratulations Westinghouse

COLUMBUS

In choosing Columbus as the site of its new plant, Westinghouse joins the growing number of industries which find our city an ideal home—

Ideal because the capital city meets the requirements of service to industry — including an adequate supply of natural gas.

Because of its cleanliness and adaptability, natural gas is a necessary fuel for modern industrial processing and manufacturing operations.

The fine internal and external finish of a Westinghouse appliance, for instance, depends on the precision flames of natural gas.

To meet the demands of homes and industry The Ohio Fuel Gas Company has spent more than $150 million dollars during the last seven years.

This year alone, $2½ million has been spent to extend and improve service within the Columbus District.

It's not only an investment in new and bigger facilities for moving gas to the communities we serve, Ohio Fuel, like Westinghouse, is investing in the future of Ohio.

Petition Filed Against Local Quarry Operation

More Than 500 Citizens Lodge Protest At Blasting Prospect

A petition bearing more than 500 names of affected residents was filed with the rural zoning board Monday morning asking for rezoning of a huge tract of land recently acquired by Marblecliff Quarries, according to Ray T. Hickey, head an two pages of names, many of them in veterans ere lodged at his office by Leo A. McComb, 900 , who spearheaded the drive for names in protest quarry and aggregates operations in an area 1,000 N. Hague-av, currently zoned for heavy industry.

McComb, owner of McComb's Nurseries, said he was joined in passing the petition by members of the Valleyview Village Council and members of Skidmore Lions Club in addition to other interested residents.

Chief objections of the signers apparently was the noise and inconvenience of blasting operations near their homes in any quarry operation. Lowered property values, unsightly and unfilled holes, dust, and stone falling from trucks using Hague-av were among other reasons cited by petitioners. McComb said that in addition to lowering property values, the quarrying operation would probably lower the water table in the area, rendering useless the many wells in one section of the tract.

He reported that Marblecliff, the president of which is Russell S. Barey, began buying up property in the area last November with an initial purchase of some 40 acres. In the meantime, he said, they have purchased additional quarry sites and made arrangements to purchase more.

The rural zoning board reported public hearing would be held on the petition "probably not earlier than the middle of November." Notice of such a hearing must be advertised 30 days prior to the hearing.

Mayor Stresses Sevenfold Nature Of His Administration's Record

Mayor Sensenbrenner stressed seven points of interest to all Columbus residents in an address on Thursday, Sept. 16, before the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. He also pointed out how the Kiwanis, as one of the nation's outstanding service and civic organizations has a special role in preserving good government and eliminating bad.

The mayor reviewed his administration from the time of the ballot recount, through the appointment of Redick and Lehman, the dismissal of Vittek, Stith, Snoots, and Harrison, investigation of what he termed "the trumped-up gambling situation," and covered in detail such points as annexation, slum clean-up, building, traffic, parking, parks, and the work of the service department.

"For the first time since 1947 the administration has taken the lead in annexing new territory to the city," the mayor claimed at the outset of his speech. He pointed to a total of 2,022 acres annexed since Jan. 1.

In the matter of slum clean-up, he pointed to "tremendous progress," revealing how in the first six months 221 orders had been issued for clearance, with 119 completed in addition to 66 completed from orders issued in 1953. The combined total clearance is 185 units. Sensenbrenner noted that in the first six months of this year his administration had condemned 136 buildings compared to 62 condemnation orders by the preceding administration in the first half of 1953.

During August, Sensenbrenner related, the building department broke an all-time record for cash receipts from building permits — $23,948.95. In the matter of traffic, the mayor pointed to new traffic signals at Harmon- and Kenick-avs. Central and Cable-avs Sullivant and Demorest-avs, and Central and McKinley-ava.; plus new controllers at Olentangy-blvd and Goodale-st and Fifth-av and Fields-st; a new pedestrian signal at Mound-st and Seymour-av; and many new one-way streets.

As for parking, the mayor pointed to the current construction on the new Long-st garage, projected increase to a time for downtown parking, current studies of a second parking garage, and additional facilities in the downtown to ease parking.

In referring to parks, the mayor spoke of many park improvements and "through cooperative effort with the recreation department in 1954, fewer complaints from a record number of users, according to men who worked under previous administrations.

New Petition Filed Monday

A petition was filed Monday with the county commissioners signed by 225 resident freeholders of Franklin Township who sought annexation to Columbus of 2,631 acres, including the sites of the two widely-sought tax plums, Westinghouse and Ternstedt.

Roughly, the area outlined in the new petition was the same area, although somewhat larger, than petitioners sought last June when annexation operations failed when scores of signers withdrew their names from the petition lists. The area is bounded on the west by the Prairie Township line, on the north by a line near Fisher-rd, by the city limits on the east, and on the south by Sullivant-av and Briggs-rd.

This new Franklin Township petition cannot be heard until after the general election on Nov. 2 because of the 60-day waiting period required by law. Therefore, if the electorate should vote for annexation, the petition would be void. Further complicating the Franklin Township situation is an incorporation move in Franklin Heights, which, if upheld, would rule out any annexation move.

ation before the end of this year, township officials stated. Ramsey, Croce and Abbot, Architects, 490 City Park-av, drew plans and prepared specifications for the fire station. Funds for construction of the building are currently being collected as part of a special tax levy put into effect at the beginning of 1954. The new fire station will be the second permanent building in the Franklin Township Fire Department. The building at 2193 Frank-rd, was completed in 1951. Company No. 1 operates out of rented quarters at Dallas Garage, 3265 McKinley-av.

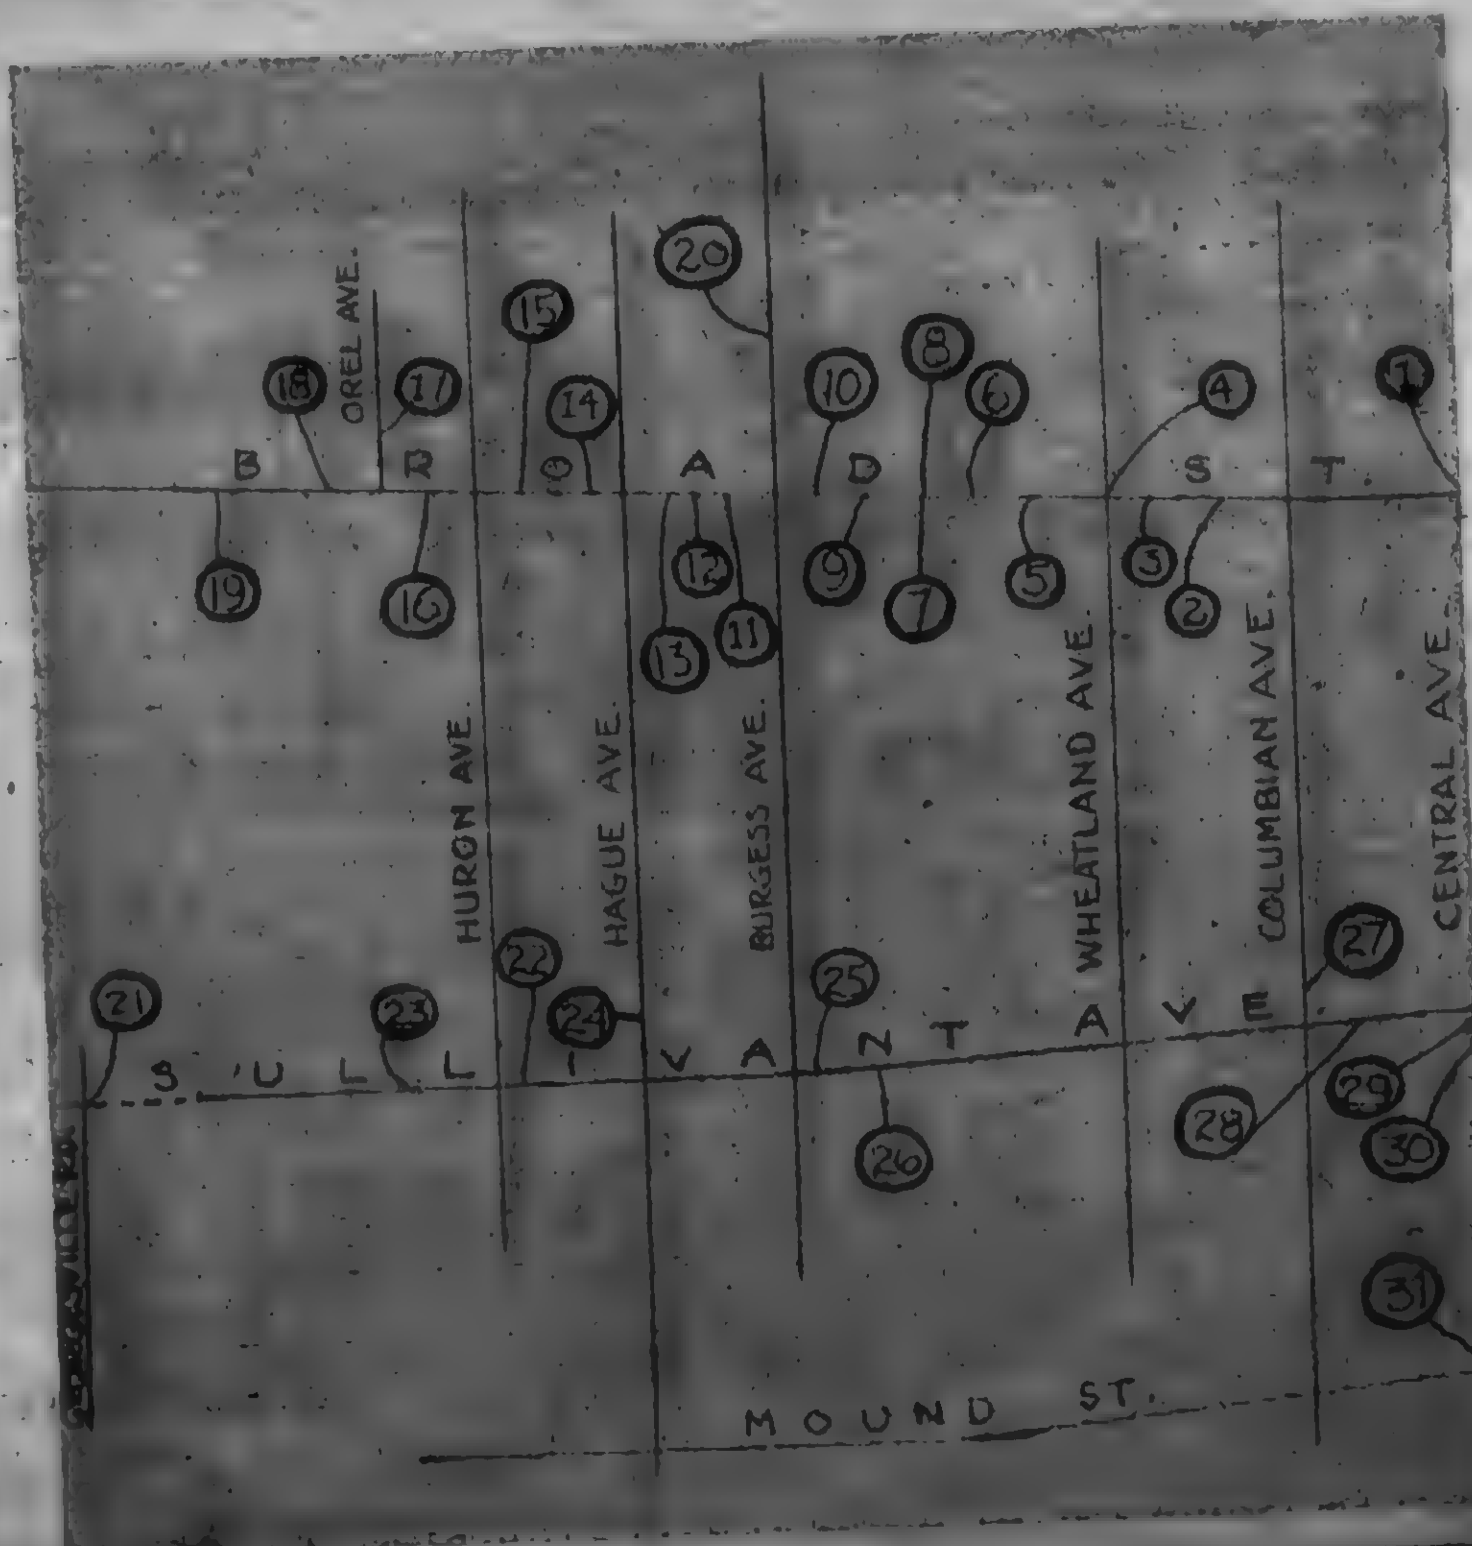
New Petition Filed Monday

A petition was filed Monday with the county commissioners signed by 225 resident freeholders of Franklin Township who sought annexation to Columbus of 2,431 acres, including the sites of the two widely-sought tax plums, Westinghouse and Ternstedt.

Roughly, the area outlined in the new petition was the same area, although somewhat larger, than petitioners sought last June when annexation operations failed when scores of signers withdrew their names from the petition lists. The area is bounded on the west by the Prairie Township line, on the north by a line near Fisher-rd, by the city limits on the east, and on the south by Sullivant-av and Briggs-rd.

This new Franklin Township petition cannot be heard until after the general election on Nov. 2 because of the 60-day waiting period required by law. Therefore, if the electorate should vote for annexation, the petition would be void. Further complicating the Franklin Township situation is an incorporation move in Franklin Heights, which, if upheld, would rule out any annexation move.



...ation before the end of this year, township officials stated. Ramsey, Croce and Abbot, Architects, 490 City Park-av, drew plans and prepared specifications for the fire station. Funds for construction of the building are currently being collected as part of a special tax levy put into effect at the beginning of 1954. The new fire station will be the second permanent building in the Franklin Township Fire Department. The building at 2193 Frank-rd, was completed in 1951. Company No. 1 operates out of rented quarters at Dalla Garage, 3365 McKinley-av.

Clerical Jobs At Plant Pave Way For Operations

PAYROLL: Not such a big job now, as the Columbus plant of Westinghouse has only about 2,500 employes, who constitute a trained nucleus crew for the day when production begins full swing. And the job handled by Doris Leibrock, in the picture above, and other office personnel like her, will become a more complex one. Air-conditioning, a plant cafeteria, ample parking space, convenient access, good pay—these are only a few of the reasons why Westinghouse has had so little difficulty in obtaining skilled office personnel. A special employes' discount plan on Westinghouse appliances is also offered.

Petition Filed Against Local Quarry Operation

More Than 500 Citizens Lodge Protest At Blasting Prospect

A petition bearing more than 500 names of affected residents was filed with the rural zoning board Monday morning asking for rezoning of a huge tract of land recently acquired by the Marblecliff Quarries, according to Ray T. Hickey, head

...an two pages of names, many of them in veterans ...ere lodged at his office by Leo A. McComb, 900 ..., who spearheaded the drive for names in protest ... quarry and aggregates operations in an area 1,000 ... N. Hague-av, currently zoned for heavy industry.

McComb, owner of McComb's Nurseries, said he was joined in passing the petition by members of the Valleyview Village Council and members of Skidmore Lions Club in addition to other interested residents.

Chief objections of the signers apparently was the noise and inconvenience of blasting operations near their homes in any quarry operation. Lowered property values, unsightly and unfilled holes, dust, and stone falling from trucks using Hague-av were among other reasons cited by petitioners. McComb said that in addition to lowering property values, the quarrying operation would probably lower the water table in the area, rendering useless the many wells in one section of the tract.

He reported that Marblecliff, the president of which is Russell S. Marey, began buying up property in the area last November with an initial purchase of some 40 acres. In the meantime, he said, they have purchased additional quarry sites and made arrangements to purchase more.

The rural zoning board reported public hearing would be held on the petition "probably not earlier than the middle of November." Notice of such a hearing must be advertised 30 days prior to the hearing.

Mayor Stresses Sevenfold Nature Of His Administration's Record

Mayor Sensenbrenner stressed seven points of interest to all Columbus residents in an address on Thursday, Sept. 16, before the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. He also pointed out how the Kiwanis, as one of the nation's outstanding service and civic organizations has a special role in preserving good government and eliminating bad.

The mayor reviewed his administration from the time of the ballot recount, through the appointment of Redick and Lehman, the dismissal of Vittek, Stith, Snoots, and Harrison, investigation of what he termed "the trumped-up gambling situation," and covered in detail such points as annexation, slum clean-up, building, traffic, parking, parks, and the work of the service department.

"For the first time since 1947, the administration has taken the lead in annexing new territory to the city," the mayor claimed at the outset of his speech. He pointed to a total of 2,022 acres annexed since Jan. 1.

In the matter of slum clean-up he pointed to "tremendous progress," revealing how in the first six months 221 orders had been issued for clearance, with 119 completed in addition to 66 completed from orders issued in 1953. The combined total clearance is 185 units. Sensenbrenner noted that in the first six months of this year his administration had condemned 138 buildings compared to 62 condemnation orders by the preceding administration in the first half of 1953.

During August, Sensenbrenner related, the building department broke an all-time record for cash receipts from building permits — $23,948.96. In the matter of traffic, the mayor pointed to new traffic signals at Harmon and Kenick-avs. Central and Cable-avs, Sullivant and Demorest-avs, and Central and McKinley-avs.; plus new controllers at Olentangy-blvd. and Goodale-st and Fifth-av and Fields-st; a new pedestrian signal at Mound-st and Seymour-av; and many new one-way streets.

As for parking, the mayor pointed to the current construction on the new Long-st garage, projected increase to a time for downtown parking, current studies of a second parking garage, and additional facilities in the downtown to ease parking.

In referring to parks, the mayor spoke of many park improvements and "through cooperative effort with the recreation department in 1954, fewer complaints from a record number of users, according to men who worked under previous administrations.

In the matter of traffic, the mayor pointed to new traffic signals at Harmon- and Kenick-avs, Central and Cable-avs, Sullivant and Demorest-avs, and Central and McKinley-avs.; also new controllers at Olentangy-blvd and Goodale-st and Fifth-av and Fields-st; a new pedestrian signal at Mound-st and Seymour-av; and many new one-way streets.

As for parking, the mayor pointed to the current construction on the new Long-st garage, projected increase to a time for downtown parking, current studies of a second parking garage, and additional facilities in the downtown to ease parking.

In referring to parks, the mayor spoke of many park improvements and "through cooperative effort with the recreation department in 1954, fewer complaints from a record number of users, according to men who worked under previous administrations.

New Petition Filed Monday

A petition was filed Monday with the county commissioners signed by 225 resident freeholders of Franklin Township who sought annexation to Columbus of 2,431 acres, including the sites of the two widely-sought tax plums, Westinghouse and Ternstedt.

Roughly, the area outlined in the new petition was the same area, although somewhat larger, than petitioners sought last June when annexation operations failed when scores of signers withdrew their names from the petition lists. The area is bounded on the west by the Prairie Township line, on the north by a line near Fisher-rd, by the city limits on the east, and on the south by Sullivant-av and Briggs-rd.

This new Franklin Township petition cannot be heard until after the general election on Nov. 2 because of the 60-day waiting period required by law. Therefore, if the electorate should vote for annexation, the petition would be void. Further complicating the Franklin Township situation is an incorporation move in Franklin Heights, which, if upheld, would rule out any annexation move.

Petition Filed Against Local Quarry Operation

More Than 500 Citizens Lodge Protest At Blasting Prospect

A petition bearing more than 500 names of affected residents was filed with the rural zoning board Monday morning asking for rezoning of a huge tract of land recently acquired by the Marblecliff Quarries, according to Ray T. Hickey, head [illegible]

[illegible] than two pages of names, many of them in veterans [illegible] were lodged at his office by Leo A. McComb, 900 [illegible], who spearheaded the drive for names in protest [illegible] quarry and aggregates operations in an area 1,000 [illegible] N. Hague-av, currently zoned for heavy industry.

McComb, owner of McComb's Nurseries, said he was joined in passing the petition by members of the Valleyview Village Council and members of Skidmore Lions Club in addition to other interested residents.

Chief objections of the signers apparently was the noise and inconvenience of blasting operations near their homes in any quarry operation. Lowered property values, unsightly and unfilled holes, dust, and stone falling from trucks using Hague-av were among other reasons cited by petitioners. McComb said that in addition to lowering property values, the quarrying operation would probably lower the water table in the area, rendering useless the many wells in one section of the tract.

He reported that Marblecliff, the president of which is Russell S. Rarey, began buying up property in the area last November with an initial purchase of some 40 acres. In the meantime, he said, they have purchased additional quarry sites and made arrangements to purchase more.

The rural zoning board reported public hearing would be held on the petition "probably not earlier than the middle of November." Notice of such a hearing must be advertised 30 days prior to the hearing.

Hilltop Athletic Club Names Krebs As Proxy

New Hilltop Athletic Club officers were elected Tuesday, Sept. 14, in a meeting held at Westgate Park. They are as follows:

KIWANIS TO HEAR LECTURE

Science's "mighty mite," the transistor, was to be the subject of a lecture-demonstration by Robert C. Clark, of Cleveland, public relations supervisor for the Ohio Bell Telephone Company, before members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club in the Colony Restaurant at noon today.

Mayor Stresses Sevenfold Nature Of His Administration's Record

Mayor Sensenbrenner stressed seven points of interest to all Columbus residents in an address on Thursday, Sept. 16, before the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. He also pointed out how the Kiwanis, as one of the nation's outstanding service and civic organizations has a special role in preserving good government and eliminating bad.

The mayor reviewed his administration from the time of the ballot recount, through the appointment of Redick and Lehman, the dismissal of Vittek, Stith, Snoots, and Harrison, investigation of what he termed "the trumpeted gambling situation," and covered in detail such points as annexation, slum clean-up, building, traffic, parking, parks, and the work of the service department.

"For the first time since 1947 the administration has taken the lead in annexing new territory to the city," the mayor claimed at the outset of his speech. He pointed to a total of 2,022 acres annexed since Jan. 1.

In the matter of slum clean-up he pointed to "tremendous progress," revealing how in the first six months 221 orders had been issued for clearance, with 119 completed in addition to 66 completed from orders issued in 1953. The combined total clearance is 185 units. Sensenbrenner noted that in the first six months of this year his administration had condemned 138 buildings compared to 81 condemnation orders by the preceding administration in the first half of 1953.

During August, Sensenbrenner related, the building department broke an all-time record for cash receipts from building permits — $23,948.95. In the matter of traffic, the mayor pointed to new traffic signals at Harmon and Kenick-avs, Central and Cable-ave, Sullivant and Demorest-avs, and Central and McKinley-avs.; plus new controllers at Olentangy-blvd and Goodale-st and Fifth-av and Fields-st; a new pedestrian signal at Mound-st and Seymour-av; and many new one-way streets.

As for parking, the mayor pointed to the current construction on the new Long-st garage, projected increase to a dime for downtown parking, current studies of a second parking garage, and additional facilities in the downtown to ease parking.

In referring to parks, the mayor spoke of many park improvements and "through cooperative effort with the recreation department in 1954, fewer complaints from a record number of users, according to men who worked under previous administrations.

New Petition Filed Monday

A petition was filed Monday with the county commissioners signed by 225 resident freeholders of Franklin Township who sought annexation to Columbus of 2,431 acres, including the sites of the two widely-sought tax plums, Westinghouse and Ternstedt.

Roughly, the area outlined in the new petition was the same area, although somewhat larger, than petitioners sought last June when annexation operations failed when scores of signers withdrew their names from the petition lists. The area is bounded on the west by the Prairie Township line, on the north by a line near Fisher-rd, by the city limits on the east, and on the south by Sullivant-av and Briggs-rd.

This new Franklin Township petition cannot be heard until after the general election on Nov. 2 because of the 60-day waiting period required by law. Therefore, if the electorate should vote for annexation, the petition would be void. Further complicating the Franklin Township situation is an incorporation move in Franklin Heights, which, if upheld, would rule out any annexation move.

ation before the end of this year, township officials stated. Ramsey, Croce and Abbot, Architects, 490 City Park-av, drew plans and prepared specifications for the fire station. Funds for construction of the building are currently being collected as part of a special tax levy put into effect at the beginning of 1954. The new fire station will be the second permanent building in the Franklin Township Fire Department. The building at 2193 Frank-rd, was completed in 1951. Company No. 1 operates out of rented quarters at Dalton Garage, 2365 McKinley-av.

Mayor Stresses Sevenfold Nature Of His Administration's Record

Mayor Sensenbrenner stressed seven points of interest to all Columbus residents in an address on Thursday, Sept. 16, before the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. He also pointed out how the Kiwanis, as one of the nation's outstanding service and civic organizations has a special role in preserving good government and eliminating bad.

The mayor reviewed his administration from the time of the ballot recount, through the appointment of Redick and Lehman, the dismissal of Vittek, Stith, Snoots, and Harrison, investigation of what he termed "the trumped-up gambling situation," and covered in detail such points as annexation, slum clean-up, building, traffic, parking, parks, and the work of the service department.

"For the first time since 1947 the administration has taken the lead in annexing new territory to the city," the mayor claimed at the outset of his speech. He pointed to a total of 2,022 acres annexed since Jan. 1.

In the matter of slum clean-up he pointed to "tremendous progress," revealing how in the first six months 221 orders had been issued for clearance, with 119 completed in addition to 66 completed from orders issued in 1953. The combined total clearance is 185 units. Sensenbrenner noted that in the first six months of this year his administration had condemned 138 buildings compared to 62 condemnation orders by the preceding administration in the first half of 1953.

During August, Sensenbrenner related, the building department broke an all-time record for cash receipts from building permits — $23,948.96. In the matter of traffic, the mayor pointed to new traffic signals at Harmon and Kenick-avs, Central and Cable-avs, Sullivant and Demorest-avs, and Central and McKinley-avs.; plus new controllers at Olentangy-blvd and Goodale-st and Fifth-av and Fields-st; a new pedestrian signal at Mound-st and Seymour-av; and many new one-way streets.

As for parking, the mayor pointed to the current construction on the new Long-st garage, projected increase to a dime for downtown parking, current studies of a second parking garage, and additional facilities in the downtown to ease parking.

In referring to parks, the mayor spoke of many park improvements and "through cooperative effort with the recreation department in 1954, fewer complaints from a record number of users, according to men who worked under previous administrations.

New Petition Filed Monday

A petition was filed Monday with the county commissioners signed by 225 resident freeholders of Franklin Township who sought annexation to Columbus of 2,431 acres, including the sites of the two widely-sought tax plums, Westinghouse and Ternstedt.

Roughly, the area outlined in the new petition was the same area, although somewhat larger, than petitioners sought last June when annexation operations failed when scores of signers withdrew their names from the petition lists. The area is bounded on the west by the Prairie Township line, on the north by a line near Fisher-rd, by the city limits on the east, and on the south by Sullivant-av and Briggs-rd.

This new Franklin Township petition cannot be heard until after the general election on Nov. 2 because of the 60-day waiting period required by law. Therefore, if the electorate should vote for annexation, the petition would be void. Further complicating the Franklin Township situation is an incorporation move in Franklin Heights, which, if upheld, would rule out any annexation move.

ation before the end of this year, township officials stated. Ramsey, Crane and Abbot, Architects, 490 City Park-av, drew plans and prepared specifications for the fire station. Funds for construction of the building are currently being collected as part of a special tax levy put into effect at the beginning of 1954. The new fire station will be the second permanent building in the Franklin Township Fire Department. The building at 2193 Frank-rd, was completed in 1951. Company No. 1 operates out of rented quarters at Dallas Garage, 3365 McKinley-av.

Petition Filed Against Local Quarry Operation

More Than 500 Citizens Lodge Protest At Blasting Prospect

A petition bearing more than 500 names of affected residents was filed with the rural zoning board Monday morning asking for rezoning of a huge tract of land recently acquired by the Marbleciiff Quarries, according to Ray T. Hickey, head of the board.

...an two pages of names, many of them in veterans ...ere lodged at his office by Leo A. McComb, 900 ..., who spearheaded the drive for names in protest ... quarry and aggregates operations in an area 1,000 ... N. Hague-av, currently zoned for heavy industry.

McComb, owner of McComb's Nurseries, said he was joined in passing the petition by members of the Valleyview Village Council and members of Skidmore Lions Club in addition to other interested residents.

Chief objections of the signers apparently was the noise and inconvenience of blasting operations near their homes in any quarry operation. Lowered property values, unsightly and unfilled holes, dust, and stone falling from trucks using Hague-av were among other reasons cited by petitioners. McComb said that in addition to lowering property values, the quarrying operation would probably lower the water table in the area, rendering useless the many wells in one section of the tract.

He reported that Marbleciiff, the president of which is Russell S. Barey, began buying up property in the area last November with an initial purchase of some 40 acres. In the meantime, he said, they have purchased additional quarry sites and made arrangements to purchase more.

The rural zoning board reported public hearing would be held on the petition "probably not earlier than the middle of November." Notice of such a hearing must be advertised 30 days prior to the hearing.

Women Like Working Here

DISTAFF SIDE: Special care has been taken to make the plant equally attractive to women workers as to men. Cleanliness and ease of maintenance have been stressed in the design of the interior, as is emphasized above on the refrigerator assembly line. The long, sleek exterior walls are windowed continuously at two levels from end to end of the plant, requiring some 92,000 square feet of glass. Some 25,000 lights—more than 10,000 of which are fluorescent and 3,500 are mercury-type—provide ample lighting in work areas throughout the plant.

A great new name is added to the Columbus Industrial Family!

Petition Filed Against Local Quarry Operation

More Than 500 Citizens Lodge Protest At Blasting Prospect

A petition bearing more than 500 names of affected residents was filed with the rural zoning board Monday morning asking for rezoning of a huge tract of land recently acquired by the Marblecliff Quarries, according to Ray T. Hickey, head of the board.

The petition, more than two pages of names, many of them in veterans [illegible] were lodged at his office by Leo A. McComb, 900 [illegible] who spearheaded the drive for names in protest [illegible] quarry and aggregates operations in an area 1,000 [illegible] N. Hague-av, currently zoned for heavy industry.

McComb, owner of McComb's Nurseries, said he was joined in passing the petition by members of the Valleyview Village Council and members of Skidmore Lions Club in addition to other interested residents.

Chief objections of the signers apparently was the noise and inconvenience of blasting operations near their homes in any quarry operation. Lowered property values, unsightly and unfilled holes, dust, and stone falling from trucks using Hague-av were among other reasons cited by petitioners. McComb said that in addition to lowering property values, the quarrying operation would probably lower the water table in the area, rendering useless the many wells in one section of the tract.

He reported that Marblecliff, the president of which is Russell S. Barey, began buying up property in the area last November with an initial purchase of some 40 acres. In the meantime, he said, they have purchased additional quarry sites and made arrangements to purchase more.

The rural zoning board reported public hearing would be held on the petition "probably not earlier than the middle of November." Notice of such a hearing must be advertised 20 days prior to the hearing.

Mayor Stresses Sevenfold Nature Of His Administration's Record

Mayor Sensenbrenner stressed seven points of interest to all Columbus residents in an address on Thursday, Sept. 16, before the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. He also pointed out how the Kiwanis, as one of the nation's outstanding service and civic organizations has a special role in preserving good government and eliminating bad.

The mayor reviewed his administration from the time of the ballot recount, through the appointment of Redick and Lehman, the dismissal of Vittek, Stith, Snoots, and Harrison, investigation of what he termed "the trumped-up gambling situation," and covered in detail such points in annexation, slum clean-up, building, traffic, parking, parks, and the work of the service department.

"For the first time since 1947 the administration has taken the lead in annexing new territory to the city," the mayor claimed at the outset of his speech. He pointed to a total of 2,022 acres annexed since Jan. 1.

In the matter of slum clean-up he pointed to "tremendous progress," revealing how in the first six months 221 orders had been issued for clearance, with 110 completed in addition to 66 completed from orders issued in 1953. The combined total clearance is 183 units. Sensenbrenner noted that in the first six months of this year his administration had condemned 138 buildings compared to 62 condemnation orders by the preceding administration in the first half of 1953.

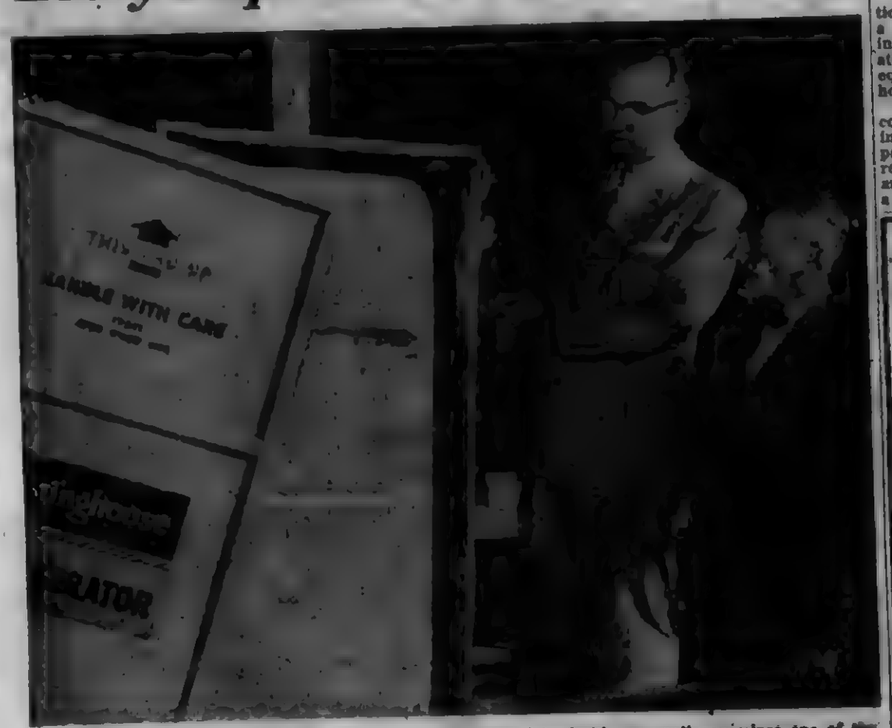
During August, Sensenbrenner related, the building department broke an all-time record for cash receipts from building permits — $23,948.95. In the matter of traffic, the mayor pointed to new traffic signals at Harmon and Kenick-avs. Central and Cable-avs, Sullivant and Demorest-avs, and Central and McKinley-avs.; plus new controllers at Olentangy-blvd and Goodale-st and Fifth-av and Fields-st; a new pedestrian signal at Mound-st and Seymour-av; and many new one-way streets.

As for parking, the mayor pointed to the current construction on the new Long-st garage, projected increase to a fifth for downtown parking, current studies of a second parking garage, and additional facilities in the downtown to ease parking.

In referring to parks, the mayor spoke of many park improvements and "through cooperative effort with the recreation department in 1954, fewer complaints from a record number of users, according to men who worked under previous administrations.

New Petition Filed Monday

A petition was filed Monday with the county commissioners signed by 225 resident freeholders of Franklin Township who sought annexation to Columbus of 2,431 acres, including the sites of the two widely-sought tax plums, Westinghouse and Ternstedt.



Roughly, the area outlined in the new petition was the same area, although somewhat larger, than petitioners sought last June when annexation operations failed when scores of signers withdrew their names from the petition lists. The area is bounded on the west by the Prairie Township line, on the north by a line near Fisher-rd, by the city limits on the east, and on the south by Sullivant-av and Briggs-rd.

This new Franklin Township petition cannot be heard until after the general election on Nov. 2 because of the 60-day waiting period required by law. Therefore, if the electorate should vote for annexation, the petition would be void. Further complicating the Franklin Township situation is an incorporation move in Franklin Heights, which, if upheld, would rule out any annexation move.

...ation before the end of this year, township officials stated. Ramsey, Cross and Abbot, Architects, 490 City Park-av, drew plans and prepared specifications for the fire station. Funds for construction of the building are currently being collected as part of a special tax levy put into effect at the beginning of 1954. The new fire station will be the second permanent building in the Franklin Township Fire Department. The building at 2193 Frank-rd, was completed in 1951. Company No. 1 operates out of rented quarters at Dalin Garage, 2345 McKinley-av.

Air Conditioning By Speer Makes Plant Comfortable

The Julius Speer Co., air conditioning contractors for more than a quarter century, furnished and installed air conditioning refrigeration, and temperature control equipment at the new Westinghouse plant.

The main office building is air conditioned with five special Westinghouse compressors, having a capacity of more than 500 tons of refrigeration, while the cafeteria and lunch room are equipped with a Westinghouse Unitaire, boasting a refrigeration capacity of 15 tons.

Hospital rooms are air conditioned with a Westinghouse Unitaire package unit, having a capacity of 7½ tons refrigeration.

A 75 horsepower condensing unit, along with a surface dehumidifier to maintain proper temperature and humidity conditions required, is installed in the assembly and insulation storage room. In various other parts of the plant, Speer has installed special package units, having a capacity ranging from three to 25 tons.

NesTier Hopper Racks Aid In Handling Of Small Parts

Hopper racks, manufactured by the Charles William Doepke Manufacturing Co., Inc., of Rossmoyne, O., play a vital—if little seen—role in the efficient operation of the huge assembly line at Westinghouse's Columbus plant.

Now available to industry in general, the versatile Hopper Rack is a rack and lid combination that converts standard NesTier materials handling boxes into small parts hoppers for use in assembly and production operations, according to William C. Postman, vice-president in charge of industrial sales for the NesTier Division of the Doepke firm.

Hopper Racks eliminate rehandling of parts at assembly areas, providing a constant supply of readily accessible parts at workers' fingertips. This simplifies the job of keeping work stations supplied, reduces damage or loss incurred in rehandling parts, and facilitates more accurate inventory control.

Design of the rack permits multiple unit installation by merely bolting sections together vertically, side-by-side, or back-to-back. Racks can be bench-or-wall-mounted to meet individual requirements. In use, a full NesTier box is converted into a hopper by means of a combination lid and tray that fits under the handles and snaps into place.

FOUNDED IN 1886

The Westinghouse Electric Corporation was founded in 1886. The company started with approximately 200 employes and at that time made generators, transformers, switches and motors. Today the company operates 53 major manufacturing plants and 40 additional manufacturing and repair plants, and employs 122,000 people. Its catalogs list 300,000 variations of 8,000 basic products.

See refrigerators and freezers being made. The new Westinghouse plant at W. Broad-st and Phillippi Rd is open to the public Thursday and Friday, Sept. 16 and 17.

More Than 500 Citizens Lodge Protest At Blasting Prospect

A petition bearing more than 500 names of affected residents was filed with the rural zoning board Monday morning asking for rezoning of a huge tract of land recently acquired by the Marblecliff Quarries, according to Ray T. Hickey, head of the board.

Chief objections of the signers apparently was the noise and inconvenience of blasting operations near their homes in any quarry operation. Lowered property values, unsightly and unfilled holes, dust, and stone falling from trucks using Hague-av were among other reasons cited by petitioners. McComb said that in addition to lowering property values, the quarrying operation would probably lower the water table in the area, rendering useless the many wells in one section of the tract.

He reported that Marblecliff, the president of which is Russell S. Rarey, began buying up property in the area last November with an initial purchase of some 40 acres. In the meantime, he said, they have purchased additional quarry sites and made arrangements to purchase more.

The rural zoning board reported public hearing would be held on the petition "probably not earlier than the middle of November." Notice of such a hearing must be advertised 30 days prior to the hearing.

Funds for construction of the building are currently being collected as part of a special tax levy put into effect at the beginning of 1954. The new fire station will be the second permanent building in the Franklin Township Fire Department. The building at 2193 Frank-rd, was completed in 1951. Company No. 1 operates out of rented quarters at Dallas Garage, 3263 McKinley-av.

Employes' Discount Plan Popular

All records were broken last year when Westinghouse employes saved a startling $4,779,940 in purchasing Company appliances, television sets and radios having a retail value of $19,119,760.

This was a savings to employes of more than three-quarters of a million dollars greater ($882,528 to be exact) than the savings achieved the year before, also a record.

Harry G. Crook, Director, Personnel Services, points out that while employes saved 28 per cent more on their total purchases last year operation of the Employe Discount Plan cost the Company 22 per cent more in 1953 than in 1952. It cost the Company $2,867,964 during 1953 to rebate to dealers 15 per cent of the retail prices of goods purchased under the plan.

In the seven years since the war, employe purchases of Company products have mounted steadily, Crook said. During that time, employes have saved nearly $30 million and the Company's contribution necessary to make that saving possible has been just under $12 million.

Play Fair With Plan

With annual savings to the employes and contributions by the Company reaching into millions of dollars, it is all the more important, Crook cautioned, that employes abide by the rules and not abuse the privileges granted them under the plan. Failure to do so, he commented, places the plan in jeopardy.

The stipulations of the plan are simple and must be lived up to, Crook added. After an employe has been with the Company for six months he becomes eligible to purchase Westinghouse consumer products for use in his own home at a discount of 25 per cent below retail prices. Former employes now retired on pension also are eligible to participate in the plan.

Last year, for the first time, gift-purchase certificates were issued to employes desiring to give Company products as Christmas gifts. After the announcement in The News on November 3, some 23,000 gift certificates were issued.

Employes have benefited also from special sales of other Company products. Word of sales of electric blankets and plastic dishes were brought before News readers during the past year.

The Hilltop YMCA Needs Your Membership

This week many civic minded workers are busy as they go house to house asking that people of the Hilltop enroll in the annual Hilltop YMCA membership enrollment campaign. Your membership is needed to help carry on this very worthwhile program.

What do I get for my membership? This is a frequent question. The answer is simple. It is an investment in the youth of this community. This past year the total attendance at all Hilltop YMCA events was over 68,480.

All money received from memberships in this effort is used in the actual Y program and supplements the amount received from the Community Chest.

Any amounts over the usual $2 membership fee will be credited to the building fund which at present stands at about $50,000. It is the sincere hope of the local board of management that a building fund drive will be conducted by the spring of 1956 at which time a fine new building will be made possible for the Hilltop YMCA. Any contributions to this fund at this time will serve as encouragement to the program.

The Y should be a must on your program!

Mayor Announces Sale Of Hilltop Office Supply Co.

Sale of his office supply store was announced this past week by Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner.

The firm has been purchased by C. C. Hartley, publisher of The Hilltop Record, West Side News and South Side Leader, and Charles L. Kent, former Hilltop groceryman for many years.

Kent has assumed active management of the business and will devote his full time to it. The firm will now be known as Hilltop Office Supply. It is located at 2467 W. Broad-st, next door to The Hilltop Record.

A complete line of all kinds of office supplies and stationery will be carried along with a line of Bibles and other church supplies.

In making the announcement of the sale the mayor stated that he will definitely be a candidate for reelection next year.

Nineteen Candidates Enrolled In Record's Circulation Campaign

Nineteen candidates are officially enrolled in The Hilltop Record circulation campaign and are off and running as the big drive gets under way.

Enthusiasm is running high in the campaign which promises to be one of the most interesting events of this type ever held in this community. As of today it is impossible to determine what candidates look best and it is a wide-open race.

The list of entrants to date in the order in which they were received is as follows:

1. William C. Miller, 36 Powhatan-av.
2. David Kirch, 2198 W. Broad-st.

18. John Witt, 45 S. Brinker-av.
19. Joseph Emrich, Amlin, Ohio.

Other prospective candidates have been interviewed and their names will be announced as they enter the campaign.

It is still not too late to enter the big campaign. There is a very good chance that the winner of the new 1954 Chevrolet sedan and the $500 in cash offered in second place may go to a person who has not yet registered for the contest.

A grand opportunity awaits any person who registers in the contest in view of the very large number of prospects available in this rapidly expanding territory. More than 6,000 local families are eligible for renewals in the next six months and in addition several thousand new ones should be available.

The person winning the new car will have earned an average of over $300 per week for the duration of the contest. A GOOD SALESMAN CAN MAKE BETTER THAN $3 PER HOUR BY ENTERING THE CONTEST.

First grand prize is the new 1954 two-door Chevrolet sedan purchased from Rodenfels Chevrolet Co., 555 W. Broad-st. Second prize will be $500 in cash and third prize will be $250 in cash. Each person not winning one of the first three awards will receive 20 per cent commission on all sales. Reduced prices for the subscriptions are available as outlined in the page ad on page 3 of the Record today.

Next week's Record will contain a story about each of the candidates and what they expect to do with their prize or cash awards.

WATCH IT PARD—That might well be the words of young Billy Smith of New Rome as he turns out for parade practice in connection with the "Gateway West Jubilee Parade" on Thursday, Sept. 23. The event, staged in connection with the reopening of a newly-widened lane of U.S. 40, will have a Western theme. Careful yourself, pard, that six-gun might be loaded.

Two Mayors Wield Scissors In Opening U.S. 40 And 'Jubilee'

The big "Gateway West Jubilee," a celebration sponsored by the West Franklin County Association, got underway today in fine style with Mayors Kunz and Sensenbrenner cutting the ribbon across W. Broad-st at Phillippi-rd to reopen officially U.S. Route 40 between Columbus and New Rome.

The association, a group of Hilltop, West Side, and New Rome business and service organizations, has planned a full program of activities for today and this evening and extending into Friday evening, with proceeds going to the building fund for a West Side YMCA.

Included in the two big days of festivities to interest all the family will be a mile-long parade, forming at W. Broad-st and Phillippi-rd at 6 this evening and moving down W. Broad-st to N. Murray Hill-rd at 6:30 p.m. This gala parade will include marching units, bands, floats, a comedy skit, a covered wagon, stage coach, buggies and many other displays in addition to the Jubilee Queen candidates.

The Jubilee Queen contest will be held at 8 p.m. on the reviewing stand located on the carnival site in Lincoln Village Shopping Center. Emceeing the contest will be the popular radio and television personality, Tom Gleba. Judging the candidates will be Andre Correale, owner of the Correale Modeling Agency; Bert Stille, of radio station WHKC; and Maurice Jackson of radio station WVKO. The Jubilee Queen will be presented during half-time ceremonies at the West-Arlington game on Friday.

Entries for the queen contest are Jean Calon, 829 S. Terrace-av; Jane Lloyd, 128 N. Eureka-av; Marilyn Shroyer, 2853 W. Broad-st; Doris Jean Yeater, 88 Maple-dr, New Rome; Charlene Flora, 232 S. Harris-av; and Jo-Beth Lynch, 130 Galloway-av.

Sponsors of the queen candidates are the Hilltop Lions Club, Hilltop Lions Auxiliary, Hilltop Kiwanis Club, Hilltop Kiwanikwe, Hilltop Business Association, and Rome Business Association.

Friday, at 4 p.m., prizes will be awarded in the "Cutest Cowboy and Cowgirl" contest, which will be held for children under 10 years of age at the reviewing stand. The contest, with entries to be judged in western garb, will be emceed by Flippo the Clown, popular children's television personality.

A Baton Twirling contest will be held at the reviewing stand at 5 p.m. with prizes going to the winners. Entrants include Phyllis Rings, 5581 W. Broad-st; Iris Roush, 251 Buena Vista-av; Rosemary Montgomery, 488 Lawrence-av; Sarah Ervin, 87 Pasadena-av; and Virginia Whalen, 26 Buena Vista-av.

At 8 p.m. the reviewing stand will take on some of the aspects of a slave market when the "Slave Buy For The 'Y'" will be featured. Senior members of the West Side YMCA will be auctioned off by the renowned auctioneer, Clarence Latham. The husky "slaves" have agreed to work for buyers, free of additional charge, for half a day, Saturday, Oct. 9.

The carnival will be in operation both nights of the festival at its Lincoln Village location together with round and square dancing, beginning at 9 o'clock both evenings, in the two west-bound lanes of Route 40, which will be closed to traffic for that purpose. The Melody Rangers will supply dance music Thursday evening, while the Stardusters will be on hand Friday evening to do the honors, musically speaking.

More Than 500 Citizens Lodge Protest At Blasting Prospect

A petition bearing more than 500 names of affected residents was filed with the rural zoning board Monday morning asking for rezoning of a huge tract of land recently acquired by the Marblecliff Quarries, according to Ray T. Hickey, head of the board.

More than two pages of names, many of them in veterans additions, were lodged at his office by Leo A. McComb, 900 N. Hague-av, who spearheaded the drive for names in protest of proposed quarry and aggregates operations in an area 1,000 feet back of N. Hague-av, currently zoned for heavy industry.

McComb, owner of McComb's Nurseries, said he was joined in passing the petition by members of the Valleyview Village Council and members of Skidmore Lions Club in addition to other interested residents.

Chief objections of the signers apparently was the noise and inconvenience of blasting operations near their homes in any quarry operation. Lowered property values, unsightly and unfilled holes, dust, and stone falling from trucks using Hague-av were among other reasons cited by petitioners. McComb said that in addition to lowering property values, the quarrying operation would probably lower the water table in the area, rendering useless the many wells in one section of the tract.

He reported that Marblecliff, the president of which is Russell S. Rarey, began buying up property in the area last November with an initial purchase of some 40 acres. In the meantime, he said, they have purchased additional quarry sites and made arrangements to purchase more.

The rural zoning board reported public hearing would be held on the petition "probably not earlier than the middle of November." Notice of such a hearing must be advertised 30 days prior to the hearing.

300 Take Part In Membership Drive Of YMCA

The Hilltop YMCA enrollment drive, widely publicized and greatly aided by 300 businessmen and residential solicitors working this week, will wind up less than a week from today on Wednesday, Sept. 29.

Last year (1953) the Hilltop YMCA serviced 123 Y groups and clubs with a total attendance of approximately 70,000. An even greater enrollment is anticipated for the 1954-55 membership year.

The "kickoff" for residential solicitors of Hilltop YMCA Enrollment Membership was held Sept. 20 at 6 p.m. in the Hoge Memorial dining room with John Broden as presiding chairman.

The agenda included the invocation by Rev. A. J. Wold, group singing led by Sam Burkhard with Jim Henery at the piano, general remarks and introduction of honored guests, who were Frank Shelton, treasurer of the Central YMCA, and C. C. Hartley, chairman of the Hilltop YMCA board of management, by John Broden. Guest speaker for the evening was Rev. Charles Grant, pastor of the Neil Avenue Methodist Church.

Division and section heads introduced next by John Broden included Mrs. Fred Dinsch, residential division chairman; Mrs. John Davis, section A chairman; Mrs. Roger Essig, section B chairman; Mrs. H. C. Booth, section C chairman; Mrs. W. R. Barnhardt, section D chairman; Mrs. Virgil Furry, residential division chairman; Mrs. Howard Lloyd, section E chairman; Mrs. Donald Roederer, section F chairman; Mrs. Ben Trigg, section G chairman; Mrs. Kenneth Sigler, section H chairman; and Mrs. Delbert Pack, section I chairman. These introductions were followed by general instructions by Herbert Deems, member of the Hilltop YMCA board of management.

The YMCA memberships, which the above ladies and their aides will be soliciting throughout the remainder of this week, cost only $1 per youth or $2 per adult for the entire 1954-55 membership year.

Y membership entitles the bearer to join in the many outstanding events, classes and activities the YMCA offers free of charge.

A new activity offered in the Y curriculum this year, which should be of interest to older teen-age boys, is the wrestling class, to be held each Tuesday at 8 p.m., beginning Oct. 5.

The class will be instructed by Bill Beard, methods engineer for the General Motors Corporation.

Beard was formerly a wrestling coach at the Western Y in Detroit. He also wrestled professionally for eight years in Detroit, Washington, D.C., Philadelphia, and the state of Maryland.

Only boys between the ages of 17-19 will be eligible for the wrestling classes. Wrestling teams will be formed in the near future to tour throughout the state in competition with other YMCA teams.

This, in addition to many new and traditional activities offered by the YMCA, is included in the above membership fee.

Call the Hilltop Y office, JO. 4641, and add your name to the list of enrollments.

Hilltop Athletic Club Names Krebs As Prexy

New Hilltop Athletic Club officers were elected Tuesday, Sept. 14, in a meeting held at Westgate Park. They are as follows:

KIWANIS TO HEAR LECTURE

Science's "mighty mite," the transistor, was to be the subject of a lecture-demonstration by Robert C. Clark, of Cleveland, public relations supervisor for the Ohio Bell Telephone Company, before members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club in the Colony Restaurant at noon today.

Mayor Stresses Sevenfold Nature Of His Administration's Record

Mayor Sensenbrenner stressed seven points of interest to all Columbus residents in an address on Thursday, Sept. 16, before the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. He also pointed out how the Kiwanis, as one of the nation's outstanding service and civic organizations has a special role in preserving good government and eliminating bad.

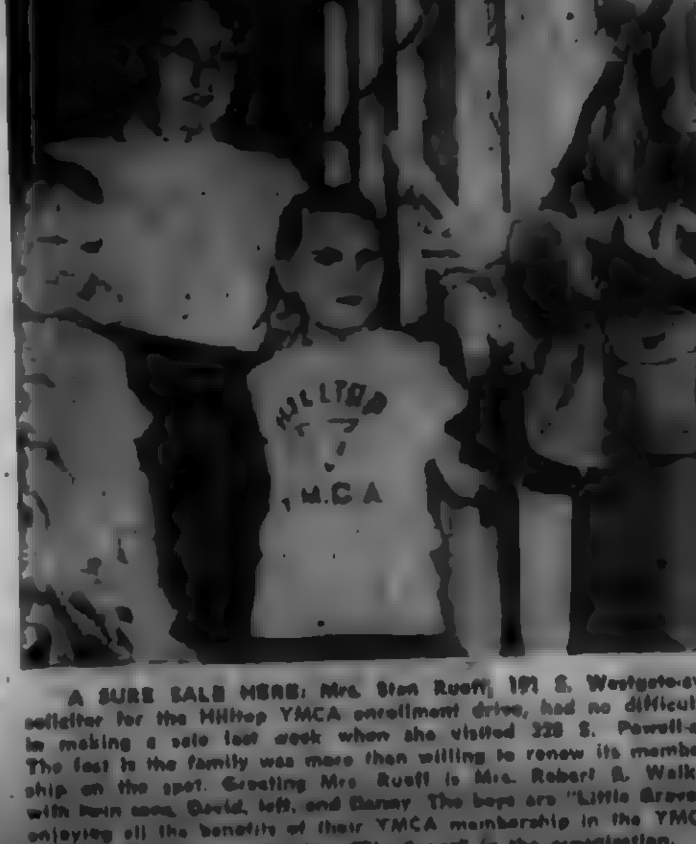
The mayor reviewed his administration from the time of the ballot recount, through the appointment of Redick and Lehman, the dismissal of Vittek, Stith, Snoots, and Harrison, investigation of what he termed "the trumped-up gambling situation," and covered in detail such items as annexation, slum clean-up, building, traffic, parking, parks, and the work of the service department.

"For the first time since 1947 the administration has taken the lead in annexing new territory to the city," the mayor claimed at the outset of his speech. He pointed to a total of 2,022 acres annexed since Jan. 1.

In the matter of slum clean-up he pointed to "tremendous progress," revealing how in the first six months 221 orders had been issued for clearance, with 119 completed in addition to 68 completed from orders issued in 1953. The combined total clearance is 187 units. Sensenbrenner noted that in the first six months of this year his administration had condemned 138 buildings compared to 62 condemnation orders by the preceding administration in the first half of 1953.

During August, Sensenbrenner related, the building department broke an all-time record for cash receipts from building permits—$23,948.95. In the matter of traffic, the mayor pointed to new traffic signals at Harmon and Renick-avs, Central and Cable-avs, Sullivant and Demorest-avs, and Central and McKinley-avs.; plus new controllers at Olentangy-blvd and Goodale-st and Fifth-av and Fields-st; a new pedestrian signal at Mound-st and Seymour-av; and many new one-way streets.

As for parking, the mayor pointed to the current construction on the new Long-st garage, projected increase in time for downtown parking, current studies on a second parking garage, and additional facilities in the downtown to ease parking.



In referring to parks, the mayor spoke of many park improvements and "through cooperative effort with the recreation department in 1954, fewer complaints from a record number of users, according to men who worked under previous administrations.

New Petition Filed Monday

A petition was filed Monday with the county commissioners signed by 225 resident freeholders of Franklin Township who sought annexation to Columbus of 2,431 acres, including the sites of the two widely-sought tax plums, Westinghouse and Ternstedt.

Roughly, the area outlined in the new petition was the same area, although somewhat larger, than petitioners sought last June when annexation operations failed when scores of signers withdrew their names from the petition lists. The area is bounded on the west by the Prairie Township line, on the north by a line near Fisher-rd, by the city limits on the east, and on the south by Sullivant-av and Briggs-rd.

This new Franklin Township petition cannot be heard until after the general election on Nov. 2 because of the 60-day waiting period required by law. Therefore, if the electorate should vote for annexation, the petition would be void. Further complicating the Franklin Township situation is an incorporation move in Franklin Heights, which, if upheld, would rule out any annexation move.

A SURE SALE HERE: Mrs. Stan Rueff, 191 S. Westgate-av., solicitor for the Hilltop YMCA enrollment drive, had no difficulty in making a sale last week when she visited 328 S. Powell-av. The last in the family was more than willing to renew its membership on the spot. Greeting Mrs. Rueff is Mrs. Robert B. Walker with twin sons, David, left, and Danny. The boys are "Little Braves" enjoying all the benefits of their YMCA membership in the YMCA Indian Guide. Their father is a "Big Brave" in the organization.

City Council Is Expected To OK Hilltop One-Ways

One-way traffic on Eureka-av north from Mound-st to Broad-st and on Wayne-av south from Broad to Mound has been recommended by the city traffic commission and city council is expected to pass legislation to authorize the move by Monday evening.

Contrary to previous reports a wholesale plan for one-way streets on the Hilltop has not been endorsed by the Hilltop Business Association.

The traffic commission has also requested the employment of an assistant traffic engineer and three men in the laboring class in order to expedite changes that are being made in traffic control.

NEW FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP FIRE HEADQUARTERS—Sealed bids will be opened Saturday at noon for the Franklin Township Fire Headquarters Building to be erected at 4100 Sullivant-av. John W. Guy, president of the board of trustees of the township, will preside at the bid opening to be held at Fire Engine House No. 3, at 2193 Frank-rd. Additional equipment and added manpower are planned by the board when the new building provides room for the enlarged operation. An emergency service is expected to be in operation before the end of this year, township officials stated. Ramsey, Croce and Abbot, Architects, 490 City Park-av, drew plans and prepared specifications for the fire station. Funds for construction of the building are currently being collected as part of a special tax levy put into effect at the beginning of 1954. The new fire station will be the second permanent building in the Franklin Township Fire Department. The building at 2193 Frank-rd. was completed in 1951. Company No. 1 operates out of rented quarters at Dollar Garage, 3365 McKinley-av.

Glenwood Will Organize Tackle Football Teams

After a few seasons of touch football, Glenwood Recreation Center has started to organize two tackle teams for the city-wide football league. There are two divisions in the league: (1) boys up to 14 years of age, with no weight limit, and (2) the Bantam division which is composed of boys under 10 years of age, and the weight limit is 135 pounds.

The 14-year-old group's games are played on Saturday mornings, and the Bantam League's games on Sunday afternoons. Any boys interested in playing in either league should contact Jack Roberts at Glenwood immediately so the teams may be organized and a schedule set up.

One of Glenwood's members, Dave Thomas, has already organized a team and has practice sessions under way. Members of his team include Jay Hess, Pete Caborn, Kelly Richards, Bob Young, Don Gilliland, Bob Kreig, Dave Kreig, Steve Featherolf, Bill Karns, Bill Quinn, Bill Burke, Jerry Hummel, Danny Belcher, Joe Cronin and John Allison.

Georgesville School District Asks For New 50-Cent Educational Levy

If a special issue for voters in the Georgesville Local School District is approved on the November ballot, they will pay 50 cents more on the $100 of property evaluation for the next five years, it was disclosed Friday by Charles E. Davies, county election board clerk.

Deemed necessary for "current expenses" by the local board of education, the issue will be advertised in early October. Such public notice is required by law when the levy exceeds the 10-mill limitation.

CONDUCTING MEMORY COURSE for the entire city of Columbus on Saturday will be the Capital City Chapter, Disabled American Veterans, who will sell Forget-Me-Nots to raise funds for welfare work among disabled veterans. Open House At Westway VFW Home Successful

Westway VFW Post 3441 at Clarendon-av and Whitehead-rd. announces its open house was well attended by the membership and by comrades and friends from many outlying towns.

Notice is given to all members of the Post and Auxiliary of VFW Post 3441, of a joint pot-luck supper slated for Thursday evening, Sept. 23, at the post hall. Each member is asked to come and bring a covered dish and above all bring the eligible veteran and his family.

The regular meeting will be held Friday, Sept. 24, at 8:30 p. m. at the post home.

To clear up some confusion as to just what the post has endorsed in the way of one-way streets for the Hilltop, the following is a clarification of the proposal, which was given by post officials:

1. It endorses the traffic commission's proposal to do the following things on the Hilltop, from the top of the Hill, to the city limits, west. Viz: Make every other (north and south street in that section) one-way as follows: If Harris-av is one-way north, Warren-av would be made one-way south, and so on for every other street in this section.

2. Ban parking on one side of all such one-way streets (park with the flow of traffic on one side only). Viz: Park on the right hand side only.

Beverlee Drive-In On W. Broad Featured In National Magazines

The Beverlee Drive-In, located at W. Broad-st and Phillippi-rd, a household word when it comes to good food and fast, efficient service, will become nationally famous this month when Institution and American Restaurant, both leading trade magazines, reveal the full story behind this, the most modern of drive-ins in the midwest.

The local Bev, one of five Beverlee Drive-Ins exclusive in Columbus, has reached this point of prominence through one unique feature in addition to the features of quality, service, and design, possessed by every Beverlee.

The feature, which has never been duplicated anywhere throughout the midwest, is the Bev's magic carry out window with its own special warming system.

The magic window, as well as all Beverlee Drive-Ins, is open 24 hours a day, a boon to third shift workers or anyone who enjoys eating a fine, prepared meal in the comfotable surroundings of their own home.

It is a refreshingly simple matter to use Bev's wonderful magic window service. All you have to do is phone Bev. at RA. 7113, for an order that you may pick up and pay for at the magic window at any time that you may specify. The food is usually prepared and placed in the unique warmer system about 10 minutes before your order is to be called for. However, if you should be unaccountably detained, it will remain fresh and piping hot in the warmer until it is called for. Morever, your order is individually wrapped in aluminum foil with special cold cups for the beverages, keeping it at the same consistent temperature at which you received it for at least 30 minutes.

Several other points of this new magic window may be viewed with interest, for it not only presents quality foods with unbelievably fast and efficient service, but it also completely estimates sales tax and tips, a contemplated strain on the purse that keeps many a family from enjoying a delicious meal the quick, easy Bev. way.

Although the drive-in carry out window enables a motorist to phone in an order at any time of day to be picked up at any given time, revolutionizing the drive-in business, Jules Sokol, president of the Beverlee Corporation, declares that it is only a natural first with Beverlee, keeping abreast with the nation, which has, undoubtedly, "gone to wheels."

The manager of the W. Broad-st Beverlee, Stanley Willeke, backs up Sokol's statement with this illustration, "The trend in America today is toward informality and comfort as well as quality and good service. This has been proved by the increasing popularity and prominence of drive-in theatres, while regular local and downtown theatres close their doors. There are many illustrations to prove that drive-ins in all types of businesses are the coming thing. Not only that, but experts all agree that this is only the beginning. Unbelievable steps toward progress and a variety of improved services will soon be in evidence at our local Beverlee."

If you own an automobile, you'll soon be making a stop at Bev's magic window as frequently as your regular stop at the gas pump.

Miss Colleen Lou Greene and Mr. Edwin W. Emery, Jr., repeated their wedding vows Saturday evening in Hoge Memorial Church. Rev. A. J. Wold solemnized the 7:30 p. m. rites, before a background arrangement of palms, ferns and salal foliage. Vases of white gladioli decorated the altar.

Men's clothes are really getting a lift this year with the bright colored accessories that are being worn with the dark rich tones of today's suits. Charcoal, brown and black are the most popular. It all started with the shocking pink shirts and socks, and it's hard to tell where it will end. With Dior trying to get the women back in those shapless styles of the twenties, wouldn't it be horrible if the men started wearing those awful silk striped shirts again. ugg!

But right now our men are making us very happy and proud of them by taking more interest in their clothes.

Seiller's have some beau-ti-ful suits, just in. They are the famous Middishade Classics. Fine virgin woolens, masterwoven in a variety of distinctive patterns, many details are handtailored. These suits are styled for men who used to are styled for men who are used to the best; but are still within your budget's range.

Don't forget, Seiller's is the place to go for brands you know. Adv.

This architect's drawing shows how the new $400,000 church, now in construction in St. Mary Magdalene parish, will look when completed in November, 1955. Built in the shape of a cross, the brick and Indiana limestone structure will have a seating capacity of 700. A unique feature is the location of the choir loft at the rear of the main altar in full view of the congregation. The new structure will be the first church building the parish has had since it was founded 25 years ago by Rev. Raymond Bauschard, who has served as pastor since that time.

THINGS PERMANENT AND PASSING
BY REV. LEONARD E. WINES
Pastor of Highland Avenue Friends Church

Heb. 13:14 "For here we have no continuing city, but we seek one to come."

There is a lot of moving and getting settled going on these days.

Rev. Wines

Some of it is enjoyable and some of it isn't. There is always a lot of hard work and planning connected with it, and a torn-up feeling within. Perhaps it is merely a reflection of that which is without, but I guess it goes deeper than that. Some of us don't stay a great many years in one place.

Usually people do considerable moving about during their lifetime. It is very seldom that one dies in the same house in which he was born. In fact most of us live in a different city from which we were born, or even in a different state. Probably many are living here in Columbus who were born in another land. We move about considerably, don't we? Take myself for instance: I started out in Michigan, and spent a period of years in Ohio, Indiana, Iowa, Texas, Africa, and now here I am in Columbus.

"We speak of having a permanent address, but we have none in this world "for here we have no continuing city." Nothing is permanent here. People often live as if this were their permanent address, but it isn't. "We are here today and gone tomorrow."

Yet there is something in each of us that calls for that which is dependable and permanent. We want something we can put our trust in. I am glad there are things that are permanent and dependable, that we can put our faith in and not come to disappointment. Some of these things are tremendously important. I would point this out, however, that these permanent, important things are not earthly or physical. They are spiritual.

The penman of this Letter to the Hebrews speaks of one permanent thing in our text. It is the City of God. He had his life's program geared for that City. His mind and heart were set for that city. His face and feet were in that direction. That is the place Jesus went to prepare for those who love Him.

Many people are deceived by the loud, appealing advertisements of earthly and sinful things to the measure that often they make these passing things their goal and concern in life. Those who put their hope in such things will surely come to bitter disappointment.

God is speaking in our text. He is telling us that the world and all that is therein will one day be gone, but that God has prepared for us a place that is permanent. My friend, may I be very blunt and personal, and ask you—Where are you putting your trust? Which way are you headed?

Let's go to church Sunday.

What's Wrong with this picture?

Suppose you heard this orchestra broadcasting over your radio. Would you stay "tuned in" very long?

The chances are you wouldn't—because something's mighty wrong with this picture. Look at it again.

This orchestra only contains violins!

Ninety violinists—no matter how good they are—don't make an orchestra. This group needs other instruments: horns, woodwinds, drums—to make it a worthwhile combination. With them, this might be one of the finest orchestras on the air.

Now, let's look at a church that has only one type of person in its membership. What kind of a church would it be? You have the answer without it being given here.

Your church is a good church because there is a variety of membership from all walks and stations of life. This diversified membership gives your church a broad outlook, a tolerance, and a practical viewpoint that makes it one of the most valuable institutions in the community. You are important to your church just as your church is important to you: by taking part in the life of your church, you can increase its effectiveness in making the word of God come true in our time.

How amiable are thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts!—Ps. 84:1.

This Air Force Auxiliary Offers Youth Excellent Chance To Learn Service Lore

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first part of a two-part article outlining the advantages to the nation and to the individual of the Civil Air Patrol. This feature was prepared exclusively for the Hartley Printing and Publishing Co. by Lt. L. E. Hall of the local CAP headquarters.

Civil Air Patrol, an auxiliary of the U.S. Air Force, is enlarging its squadron here in Columbus. Anyone 15 or over should not overlook this excellent opportunity to learn more about aircraft, navigation, and related subjects it was pointed out this week by Lt. L. E. Hall of the local C.A.P.

Of the young men now in the age bracket of 15-18, about 70 per cent will eventually be required to enter the armed services. Civil Air Patrol can give a tremendous head start toward a career, in whichever branch of the service you might choose.

Civil Air Patrol members have a comprehensive military drill and military courtesy background. They will have been schooled in the study of aircraft, navigation, meteorology, communications, first aid, flight training, and administration.

Many an air force officer and non-com has written to his CAP unit to say that he would still be in the ranks or would not have his stripes had it not been for his Civil Air Patrol training.

Not only young men but young women also find CAP a fascinating and valuable way to spend hours that might otherwise have been wasted. They receive the same training as do the men.

Among our members are such men as Lt. Governor John W. Brown, airplane enthusiast, on the advisory staff; John Koch, Lt. Col., group commander, with Travelers Insurance Co., Dr. H. E. Clybourne, major, group medical officer, associated with Doctors Hospital; J. B. Nein, major, squadron commander, with K. N. J. Lithographers; Paul Roush, captain, executive officer, engineer with Ohio Bell Telephone Co.; George Barr, chief warrant officer, fire insurance rating with Ohio Inspection Bureau.

The CAP squadron staff is manned by qualified personnel who donate their time and energies much the same as scoutmasters and leaders with the Boy Scouts of America. It is their desire to further the aim of CAP. They have the welfare of the cadet at heart and are eager to help him develop physically and mentally.

Senior personnel are responsible for the cadets, now 40-50 in number, but the cadets have their own staff officers and the majority of the problems that may arise in the ranks are handled by them. Such a structure is conducive to expanding abilities in leadership and also results in the realization of the equal importance of cooperation with others toward a common goal.

NEWS OF HILLIARDS

Expansion Programs Under Way By Three Local Business Houses

Expansion in the Hilliards area is not confined to residential properties. In the business section three firms are carrying out programs of improvement and enlarging facilities to serve the public. George Holliday's new store front is the newest "new look" to come to the village in years.

The original grocery building and the adjoining O'Harra building have been combined, on the ground floor, into one modern front of gleaming glass, with separate entrance and exit doors which will facilitate movement of customers once the extensive remodeling program is completed. Much yet remains to be done but along about late October, a grand opening is expected to be announced.

Also pushing forward with improvement plans is Chester Rife, new owner of the McMillen Hardware Co. There, also, the public will be invited to visit an improved and rearranged business establishment, in the near future.

Further advancing the convenience and degree of service to Hilliards residents will be the new prescription pharmacy department at Willbarger's Cut Rate Store; remodeling has been in progress for some weeks in preparation for opening a much-needed prescription facility.

FATHER'S NIGHT was the occasion last Thursday when the Hilliards Schools' Mothers' Club had its first meeting of the new school year, honoring the teachers of grade and high schools. Some 250 persons filled the auditorium of the elementary building to overflowing for the program, presided over by Mrs. Norman Distelhorst, the new president.

New officers, elected at the June meeting, were installed. Besides the new president, they include Mrs. Nelson Russell, vice-president; Mrs. Jack Miles, secretary, and Mrs. John Yore, treasurer.

As part of the serious side of the program, Board of Education President Bassel Johnson, presented the proposed school bond issue, which was further discussed by the school system's executive head, M. D. Hartsook.

The entertainment feature centered about a skit having for its theme a mock trial of the teachers, who were accused of various (in)offenses, such as alienation of affections of children and similar burlesques. Participants were the teachers, as the accused, and various court officials. Judges were Mrs. Miles, Mrs. Distelhorst and Mrs. Yore; Mrs. Earl F. Cline was prosecuting attorney; Mrs. Art Bogen represented the "defendants" as attorney for the defense. Court bailiffs were Mrs. Max Good and Mrs. Nelson Russell.

Mrs. Ralph Gosse, as chairman of committee on directions, had carried out the theme of "The Little Red School House" most effectively with all appurtenances familiar to the old time one-room school scene with outside sanitary facilities faithfully represented.

The teachers were introduced to the parents present and following the program, refreshments were served with past presidents Mrs. Esther Marsh, Mrs. Helen King, Mrs. Virginia Good, Mrs. Genevieve Johnson and Mrs. Betty Pence presiding at the tea tables.

THE ANNUAL FALL TURKEY dinner will be served at Hilliards Methodist Church on Nov. 6, this year. Seems like a long way ahead, but watch it, folks, you know how good these Hilliards dinners are, what swell cooks we have out here, and you know, too, how many such events you will be lining up. So mark down the date and keep in mind, it's November sixth for the Hilliards Fall Turkey Dinner at the Methodist Church!

Rally Day will be observed at the Methodist Church next Sunday, Sept. 26th. This is also the church school promotion day, when members of classes in intermediate and high school groups move up to begin higher grades of religious instruction.

Beginning with this week, the minister of the church will issue a monthly church newspaper. Rev. John P. Adams announced Sunday that the paper, to be called the "Messenger" will be sent to each family in the church and any others who desire to receive it—have only to call the church office to have their names added to the mailing list.

THE HILLIARDS WILDCAT, school publication, issued last week, proposes in an editorial that funds be raised to send the High School Baseball Team, 1954 Mid-Six champions, to the World Series games. Seems a most worthwhile gesture and, considering the ingenuity of the high schoolers, it ranks among the possibilities. Here is hoping the right idea is forthcoming quickly and that everybody gets behind the project and boosts!

Hilliards Future Homemakers of America begins the new school year under the leadership of new officers, Sandra Sichol, president; Donna Kreis, vice-president; Carl Siegfried, treasurer, and Judy Reeb, secretary. Karen Greenwood is County FHA news-reporter. Let's have your items regularly, Karen!

Results of the football preview games may have been a mite disappointing to local fans, because we lost our first game of the season to Grove City. As is usual, these first efforts serve to show up both strong and weak points of our team and there is plenty of time to improve and show a successful football season. With Dick McDowell and Bill Walker out of the line-up, and Max Gray suffering a new knee injury before the first formal kick-off, the team did remarkably well, at that. Recovery of the three men and their return to the game should greatly enhance Wildcat chances for the season.

SCHOOL DAZE, INC., the school corporation, is renewing operations. The Wildcat carried an advertisement for six sales people among the student body. A real business organization!

Cheerleaders Helen Chawner, Pat Woods, Frances McFarland, Judy Moore, Dorothy Smith and Sandra Sichol have been doing lots of practicing for the athletic season ahead. Nothing like a group of pretty, enthusiastic girls to keep up team spirit.

Ray Dellinger of Brook-Lee Farm continues to pile up honors with his Ayrshires. Recently, he received the "Constructive Breeder Award" by the Ayrshire Breeders' Association. The award was made in recognition of distinguished success as a breeder of Ayrshire dairy cattle, based on excellence in production and type, percentage of herd bred and developed by the owner. The award is the most coveted prize in dairy cattle groups.

Dellinger's herd received an official score of .850. Top performer was Brooklee Craig Empress, having produced 14,249 pounds of milk and 720 pounds of butter-fat on a Mature Equivalent basis.

Corn stalks heavy with ears of yellow kernels peeping through the husks, orchards showing apples in all the known shades of red, yellow and green and grape vines hanging heavy with clusters of purpling fruit; bean fields turning that yellowish tan which indicates the grain is ready to harvest; leaves turning and slowly beginning to cover the ground—signs of fall, folks!

Corn picking has not yet begun and probably will not start for a few weeks yet, but some soybean combining is expected to get going by the last of this week, Howard Windle of the Russell Grain Co. said Monday when asked about progress of fall work on the farms in the area.

SEA SCOUT SHIP 148 of Hilliards opens a new year of activities with the election of ship's officers. The officers are Gene Yore, senior crew leader; Gary Spahr and Carl Smith, crew leaders. Lowell Johnson was the other officer who was re-elected with only two dissenting votes.

Other appointments were those of Bob Wendell and Bob Willson as co-chairmen of the committee for social affairs. The program committee for the next months is composed of Jim Morris, Gary Spahr, Bob Sweeney and Everett Brown.

Eight members of the 1954 graduating class at Hilliards High School have entered the armed services. Barbara Jayjohn, the only feminine representative of her class, is in the WAFS, United States Air Force. Others in the Air Force are Barry Myers, Tim O'Harra, Dick Boesch, Earl Porter and Teddy Lind. Don Hackworth is seeing the world in the United States Navy and Ralph Vencil has joined the US Marines.

Pride Cometh After An Autumn

The old saying "Pride Goeth Before A Fall," doesn't quite apply here, because the particular chest-swelling we're crowing about here came a week ago on the first day of autumn.

That was the day the Record set somewhat of a record with its combined 24-page regular edition plus a 32-page Westinghouse supplement delivered by mail to every home in the community.

Despite the gathering labor clouds at Westinghouse, which finally culminated in the walkout of last Wednesday night, more merchants advertised in the Record that week because of the special edition than did in any other daily or weekly in the city of Columbus for the occasion.

It makes us proud and at the same time humbly aware — aware of our responsibility in maintaining our reputation as the one paper that is read from cover to cover each week.

We pledge ourselves anew to maintain our present high standards of fair and accurate coverage of all news events of special interest to our family of readers.

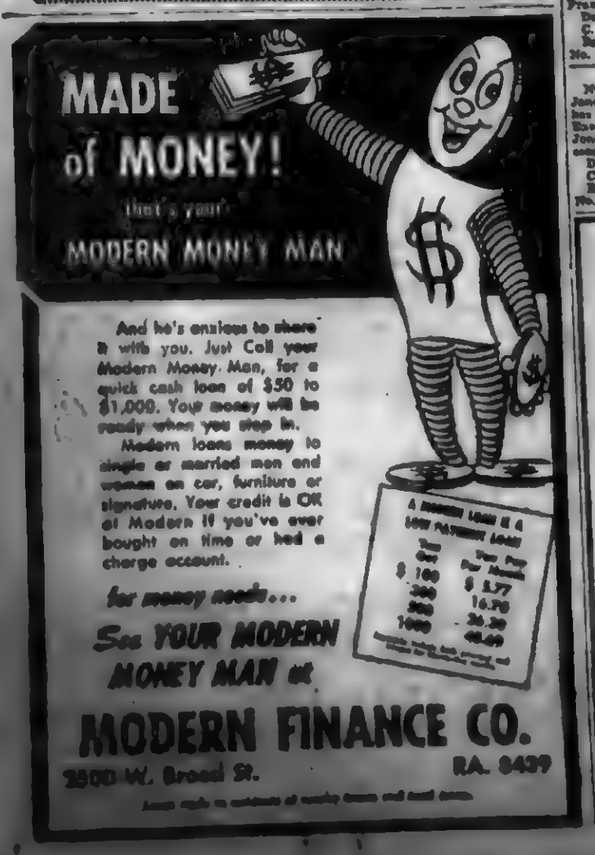
Patrons, Please Note: Hours during week, 1 p. m. to 9 p. m. Saturday Hours, 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

The editorial in last week's Hilltop Record was a "shot in the arm" to the staff of the Hilltop Branch Library. We really appreciate the fine interpretation and presentation of the aims and policies of the library — not only in our immediate community, but in the entire system. Sincere thanks to the writer.

Books and magazines are the "stock in trade" of the library, but the Hilltop Branch is becoming well known in art circles for the fine exhibits of paintings of well knowns artists in the community. Currently showing is an exhibit of water color and oil paintings by Mrs. Jo Rebert, 4527 St. Francis Lane. Mrs. Rebert is a graduate of the Detroit Society of Arts and Crafts and studied with Sarkis, Elliot O'Hara and in Columbus with Joseph Canzani, dean of the art school. At present Mrs. Rebert is teaching a class in painting and drawing at the East Side Civic Club.



If you like to paint or draw, or just enjoy viewing, "American Artist" magazine is for you. Also in your field of interest is "Craft Horizons" magazine encompassing ideas in the entire field of crafts, from weaving to glass. For the artistic homemaker are "Antiques Journal," "Living" for Young Homemakers" and "House and Home." Magazines are issued at the Hilltop Branch Library for one week.

Books in the art field cover a wide scope. "Primer of Drawing for Adults," by Howard Simon, suggests doodling as an expression of self. Types of painting techniques are handled in "Guide to Landscape Painting," by John Carlson. "Ways With Watercolors," by Theodore Kantsky and "The Mastery of Oil Painting," by John Carlson. "Ways With Watercolor," by Theodore Kantsky, and "The Mastery of Oil Painting," by Frederic Taubes. In the professional field are "Fashion Drawing," by Hazel R. Dotes, "Commercial Art Techniques," by S. Ralph Maurelle, and "Advanced Style In Lettering," by Jean Loisy of Arts et metiers Graphiques. In the hobby field is the book by Julienne Hailes, "Folk Art Designs", also "Everyone Can Paint Fabrics," by Pearl F. Ashton, and "The Hobby Book of Stenciling" and "Brush-Stroke Painting," by Raymond Yates, are popular in the hobby category.

Small Fry

By J. Curtis Allen

"O, must you go so soon?"

At the tender age of three months, Deborah Ann seems to be learning that some folks just never know when to go home. Perhaps that good, healthy yawn is just the right hint. Try it some time. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Atkins, 604 S. Harris-av.

BROWNIE TROOP MEETS

Brownie Troop 196 met recently at the home of their leader, Mrs. Harry Graham, 922 Wiltshire-rd for a picnic. Mrs. Joseph Friedman, Mrs. Robert Bricker and Mrs. William Barnhart assisted with the food and games and movies were taken of the group.

In Passing

By Esther Weakley

A hum on the far horizon,
The infinite, tender sky,
The ripe, rich tint of the cornfields
And the wild geese sailing high;
And all over upland and lowland
The charm of the goldenrod—
Some of us call it Autumn—
And others call it God.
William Herbert Carruth.

I have seen Him in the watch-fires of a hundred circling camps;
They have builded Him an altar in the evening dews and damps;
I can read His righteous sentence
by the dim and flaring lamps;
His day is marching on.
Julia Ward Howe.

That verse of The Battle Hymn of the Republic kept ringing in my brain Saturday, as we wandered over the Gettysburg Battlefield and Cemetery. A writer could write eloquently about that sacred place, but I don't know any words to describe the solemn, reverent feeling I had when I read the inscriptions on monuments and plaques there, and saw the monument which stands at the spot on which Lincoln delivered his famous Gettysburg Address. You find yourself crying a little and praying a little and when you leave Gettysburg, you love America a little more.

After reading the story in Colliers magazine about the farm the Eisenhowers bought near Gettysburg, we naturally wanted to see it while we were in that neck of the woods. A gate and chain guard the lane which leads back to the house; on the gate is a sign which says "Private Property, No Trespassing." So—we didn't trespass. We could see the red barn and one chimney of the house and a part of the beautiful farm; also the Blue Ridge Mountains in the distance, which Colliers said had decided Mamie. They couldn't have chosen a more lovely place, unless of course they had selected a farm in Ohio. Fog in the mountains might be treacherous, but it is awe-inspiring too. From Town Hill Mt. it didn't take much imagination to think that that was a sea, where the day before we had seen a lovely green valley, with blue hills in the distance. When the sun tried to penetrate the fog there were rainbows.

In Passing—We are keeping a neighbor's canary while she is on vacation. Liberace has mighty competition, or perhaps (as Gil Semmatine would probably say) the bird is trying to give him the bird . . .

Wonder why all those destructive hurricanes are given women's names? . . . Nothing is so lonely-looking as a theater lobby strewn with programs, after a show—unless it is a left-over dish of spinach or a porch light burning in the daytime.

From somewhere—The sense of humor is the oil of life's engine. Without it the machinery creaks and groans. No job is so hard, no aspect of things so grim, but it relaxes before a hearty laugh . . . What this world really needs is a system whereby those who are on the highest are those who are on the level . . . It takes a little will for a gal to get a husband . . . A Kentuckian and a Texan fell into conversation. "You know," declared the Kentuckian, "we're the richest state in the Union. Why, there's enough gold at Ft. Knox to build a gold fence two feet high all around Texas." The Texan drawled, "Well, why don't you go ahead and build it. If you want to. If we like it, we'll buy it" . . . Dad: "Son, after four years of college, all you have learned is loaf. I can't think of one good thing college has done for you." Son: "Well it has cured Me of bragging about me" . . . Some habits are like concrete—all mixed up and permanently set . . . Scandal is a breeze that was stirred up into a cyclone by a couple of wind-bags . . . He limped home, his clothes all tattered and his face covered with bruises. His wife asked if a truck had hit him and he said weakly that he was standing in front of the school building when the first grade let out.

Precinct Officials' Guide Now Ready, Says Official

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown has released the third in a series of "Guide" publications designed to acquaint both the voters and the officials who "man" Ohio's more than 11,000 polls with election laws and procedures governing voting at the General Election, Nov. 2.

The latest is an eight-page, easy-to-read Precinct Officials' Guide, which Brown is furnishing to Boards of Elections to be given to the men and women who will serve as precinct officials. The Precinct Official's Guide sets forth, step by step, the duties of such officials, throughout election day and contains a check list of important items which must receive attention in opening the polls on election morning. In a message to these officials, Brown points out that precinct officials "are the very heart of an efficient, honest election system in Ohio."

Mayor Asks Resignation Of Fight Commissioner

Resignation of William D. Ferguson, 36 S. Hague-av, as a member of the Columbus Wrestling and Boxing Commission was asked last Thursday by Mayor Rensenbrenner.

In a letter to the commissioner, the mayor said Ferguson hadn't attended a meeting of the body since Feb. 4, 1954. The mayor said he asked for the resignation because of Ferguson's inactivity.

Rensenbrenner thanked Ferguson for his work under previous mayors. Ferguson was appointed to the commission Jan. 31, 1953 for a term ending Jan. 31, 1958.

These Eyes —

How Well Do You Know Them?

Did you identify the personality behind last week's mystery mask? Of course, you are used to seeing him more frequently behind the camera than in a photo himself. Do we need to mention the name? He is J. Curtis Allen, Hilltop photographer.

Allen and his family have lived on the Hilltop for eight years and reside at 221 N. Ogden-av. Mrs. Allen, the former Phyllis Dew, a native Hilltopper, is equally as well known as her husband over the Hilltop in connection with the J. Curtis Allen studio, for she is a constant helper in all phases of the work and can usually find a photograph among the thousands of prints and negatives that crowd the busy establishment when everyone else has given up.

J. Curtis Allen

They have one child, 13-year-old Elma Gean, a student at Starling Junior High.

Allen, a native of Portsmouth, Ohio, graduated in electrical engineering at the Chicago Institute of Technology and did post-graduate work at the University of Minnesota. As a graduate electrical engineer he went to Hollywood to do additional work on sound at Disney's studio where he became interested in pictures and decided to go to photography school. He remained in Hollywood for seven years working with the Warner Bros. studio, where he had occasion to "shoot" many famous stars. On one occasion he even worked in a picture with Glenn Ford.

A four-year stint as Lt. Colonel in the army air forces interrupted his work at Warners but not his photography. During this time he was technical director for several documentaries and action pictures produced by the air [illegible].

Although most of his work is now devoted to Hilltop [illegible] and activities, he is nationally known for his baby pictures, some of which appear regularly in the Record. For the past four years he has been the official photographer for West Junior-Senior High School and has been asked to act in that capacity again this year. Always interested in West High, he takes pictures of all the home football games.

Although the hectic pace of running a portrait studio doesn't leave a great deal of time for anything else, the Allens manage to get away from it all for a few days each summer and enjoy the fine fishing near their cottage at Marble son Lake.

This week's mystery man is seen every day by hundreds of Hilltoppers who think they know him—however, next week's commentary may surprise them. Incidentally, he has a brand new job. Now—do you know those eyes?

Franklin School District Seeks Bigger School Levy

The Franklin Local School District will seek an additional tax of two mills on the dollar for five years on the November ballot to pay current expenses of the operating of the educational program in Franklin Township, it was disclosed Friday by Charles E. Davies, county election board clerk.

Davies said the special issue would be advertised in October, as is required by law, to acquaint voters with it. Advertisement is required when the additional levy exceeds the 10 mill limitation.

Cowboys In Defeat Show They'll Be Real Tough Fall Gridiron Opponents

Last Friday night at Marion, West High School's gridiron forces served notice on the remaining teams on their 1954 schedule that but a fourth down pass by Vincent was ruled complete on the 26 on an interference penalty as the third period ended.

The Cowboys' attack again stalled, and then came the outstanding individual play of the game.

On fourth down Vincent faded to pass and seeing all potential receivers covered and being badly rushed, he twisted and spun out of the arms of at least four would-be tacklers, then raced around his own left end where he picked up a screen of blockers who escorted him into the end zone unmolested.

From a fake place-kick formation, Gary Nebinger plunged over guard to add the point which put the Cowboys in front 7-6.

After completely halting the home team deep in their own territory and receiving a punt on their own 40-yard line with less than three minutes to play, the victory seemed secure.

Three running plays failed to gain and Bob Kern apparently kicked out of danger to Harding's 30.

The play was called back, however and the Cowboys were penalized for delay of game.

On the next play, the ball was centered over Kerns' head. He raced toward his own goal and made a valiant attempt to get the kick away. Bob Hamer blocked and it was recovered on the one-yard line by Ted Firstenberg.

On the first play, Tex Burns again raced through left tackle to score. The try for point was wide.

The Cowboys had just time enough to receive the kick-off and run one play and the contest was history.

The defensive play of Hamer and Thomas stood out for Harding.

Vincent, Conley and K. Davis showed well on offense for the Cowboys with Windler and Nebinger playing fine ball defensively in the secondary.

Dana Deshler and Dick Berio turned in an outstanding job up front defensively.

This Friday night the Cowboys will open their home season at Magly field with Arlington as the opposition. Game time, 8:15 p. m.

they are going to be tough opponents as they outplayed and outbattled a highly-favored Harding eleven. The Cowboys were leading by a score of 7-6 in the final minute of play, only to see victory snatched from their grasp when a bad pass from center and a blocked punt presented the Presidents with a 12-7 victory in the season's opener for the squads.

The first period was scoreless, but mid-way in the second, Bob Prather of the Presidents pounced on a Cowboy fumble on the Cowboy's 24-yard line. Three running plays had netted only five yards. But a 15-yard penalty assessed against the locals gave the home eleven a first down on the four-yard line.

On the first play Sophomore Halfback Tex. Burns took a hand-off and raced through his own right tackle into the end zone.

The try for the point after, via placement, was wide. The half ended Marion 6, West 0.

The Cowboys, spearheaded by Jim Vincent, an offensive end, playing the T-quarterback for the first time since 1952, began to move mid-way in the third period.

Receiving a Harding punt on their own 44, Vincent ran right end for 16 to the home eleven's 40; three plays gained four yards.

Kenny Eberhard Injured Slightly In Hilliards Game

Kenny Eberhard, footballer for Hilliards High, was slightly injured during play against Mifflin Township High last Friday evening at Hilliards.

Taken to the hospital, he was pronounced only slightly injured, but told that he should not play football for a least a "couple of weeks." Hilliards won the game 13-12, marking the first victory of the Wildcats in a crowded pigskin schedule.

Glenwood Cops 3 City Tennis Titles

Dolores Elliott and Bill Kenny of Glenwood Recreation Center won the junior girls and senior boys' divisions, respectively, while Bill Denny and Dan Keinle took the senior boys doubles in the city-wide tennis tournament played last week. These players qualified for the city tournament by winning the district tournament in their respective classifications.

Bill Denny defeated Dick Mayer of Lincoln Park 6-1 and 6-2 in the finals. He had defeated Ernest Walker of Beatty 6-0 and 6-2 in the semi-finals.

Dolores Elliott lost the first set of the junior girls' finals 6-2 to Darlene Holt of Beatty, but came back to win 7-5 and 6-0. Dolores defeated Karen Burke of Whetstone 6-2 and 6-1 in the semi-finals.

Bill Kenny and Don Keinle of Glenwood, after dropping the first set 3-6 to Dick Mayer and Charles Kessler of Lincoln, came back to win 6-1 and 6-2.

Bill Quinn of Glenwood placed second in the junior boys division, losing his final match to Keith White of Beatty 2-1. Bill, after dropping the first set 6-3, came back to win the second 6-4, but lost the third 6-2. Bill defeated Ken Thompson of Whetstone 6-1 and 6-1.

Judy Sapp, Glenwood, dropped her first match to Sue Mayer of Lincoln 6-3 and 6-3 in the intermediate girls' division.

Judy Sapp and Judy Hoover lost the intermediate girls doubles 6-0 and 6-0 to Sue and Sally Mayer of Lincoln Park.

Glenwood Preps Football Team For Citywide League Schedule

The tackle football team of Glenwood Recreation Center, composed of boys 14 years and under, has been working out daily in preparation for its first city-league game. The league is made up of the other city recreation centers and various unattached teams.

The boys have worked hard the past two weeks on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays from 2:30 to 5:30 p. m., and they have shaped up to what looks like a very good team. So far, the ends seem to be held down by Bob Deist and Kelly Richards; tackles, Bob VanSkov and Steve Fethergolf; guards, Billy Karns and Denny Belcher, and center, Bill Burke. Jay Hess, Fred Shell, and Richie Holman are candidates for halfback; Norman Esterbrook and Don Gilliland are vieing for the fullback slot, and Pete Cabora and Dave Thomas are two likely quarterback candidates, both being extremely fast for their age.

The boys' games are played on Saturday mornings.

Alexander Smith's APPLIQUE
A new 3-level deep-sculptured broadloom
Fabulous is the word for this 3-level 100% wool broadloom. Low, curly boucle, plushy cut pile, and high twisted frieze yarns combine to give its graceful scroll leaf effect depth and dimension that looks almost hand carved. Applique's lush, luxurious look, together with its wear-defying "Innerspring Weave" resilience—add up to the most satisfying carpet beauty you can enjoy. In 9', 12' and 15' widths.
Easy does it, too, when you buy on a custom-tailored payment plan. We'll gladly show you how you can enjoy your new carpeting while you pay for it on your present budget.

Christmas Year-Around At Home Of Hilltop Family

Many readers will remember the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Beavers, 686 Belvidere-av, which we are featuring this week, from the picture of it which appeared in both the Record and Columbus Citizen last Christmastime when their striking Christmas decorations were causing quite a stir over the Hilltop and brought many admiring visitors to see the brightly lighted holiday spectacle.

The five-year-old white frame bungalow, located on a large corner lot, is the Beavers' pride and joy, with beautifully landscaped lawns which must have entailed an untold amount of toil on evenings and week-ends.

The white ranch-type fence enclosing the backyard and sideyard is lined with shrubs, florabunda, climbers and colorful flowers during the spring, summer, and fall. Surrounding the house, itself, are shrubs and well-cropped hedges, making a lush green background for the colorful trim of white petunias, yellow marigolds and a dainty border of purple alyssum.

The entrance to the spreading one and one-half story home, which was completely designed by Beavers, owner of an installment credit business, is directly off the living room.

The decor, particularly the handmixed shades of the painted walls and the oil murals and decorations found throughout the house, was worked out by an artist who happened to be in Columbus at the time the Beavers were decorating. His usual vocation, to their knowledge, is designing floats for the annual Pasadena Rose Bowl parade.

The walls throughout the entire house are painted in varying shades of soft yellow or green with the exception of the entranceway which is a muted gray as is a panel at one end of the living room.

Carpeting in the entranceway, living room, and dining room is of the carved variety in a light gray. The walls of the living room are of pale yellow with the dining room a shade darker with a touch of chartreuse. The paint was applied in an unusual manner with the light base applied evenly and the second coat, a shade darker, applied with a sponge, achieving a mottled effect.

The living room can be described as a one-room wing of the house. Having no rooms to hinder on either side, the large picture windows in the east and west walls with leaded panes flanking them and surrounded by naturally varnished white pine, allow an enormous amount of light and golden sunshine to flood the room any time of day when the weather is fine.

The valances, supporting the flowered drapes, are of bright green, matching a sherwood green upholstered chair with matching tufting and fringe as well as the huge cut-leaf philodendron plant, making a leafy background in one corner for one of the two pieces of the bright red sectional sofa, upholstered in a nubby textured material woven together with gold metallic threads. Two additional occasional chairs invite relaxation and conversation. The first is of pale green with polished dark mahogany legs and arm pieces while the second is located in the entranceway and is upholstered in gray damask with matching tufting and fringe. The last, but certainly not least, interesting highlight of the room is the brick fireplace surrounded by a flooring of red and tan hearth tile. Completing the room's furnishings is a floor-sized corner whatnot, a double-tiered, lattice coffee table of shining dark mahogany, and companion triple-tiered mahogany occasional tables.

The dining room, furnished with a large walnut dining room suite including table, chairs and buffet, has a much needed space-saver in the form of a built-in, naturally finished, white pine china closet with an attractive arched glass door. One remaining point of interest in this room is the hanging chandelier of frosted glass and polished brass.

The kitchen, connecting with the dining room, displays walls of still another shade of soft yellow. A hand-painted border next to the ceiling is of blue scallops and red triangular figures. The floor is covered with a bright blue rubber tile streaked with cream and trimmed at the edges with bands of cream and red. This homemaker's workroom is exceptionally well planned with the cupboard and counter space all in one unit and close to the refrigerator and range. A breakfast nook is partitioned off by a red linoleum-topped bar, edged in chrome with glass-doored shelves beneath, keeping frequently-used articles handy.

Directly off the kitchen is the knotty pine paneled "hobby room." At least, that is the way it is described in the plans. Actually, it is a second living room connecting the house with the garage and giving access to the attractive side porch. A favorite family spot for evening relaxation, conversation, and TV viewing, it is floored in rubber tile of red, blue and simulated pine. The rugged, washable drapes are of beige and tan homespun. The furnishings include an overstuffed sofa and chair of red and gold metallic threads and a comfortable rocker-chair upholstered in a floral design on a beige background.

The side porch has a painted cement floor and is adorned with a cement planter which Beavers built out of a new type of cement block which gives the appearance of stone.

The attractive home above may be found at 686 Belvidere-av placed amid well-tended flowers and shrubs on a rolling double corner lot. It is the spreading white frame bungalow home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Beavers and their 14-year-old daughter, Janice. The Beavers thoroughly enjoy the work that tending the spacious lawns and rows of flowers and shrubs entails.

Another room which naturally comes in for a great deal of use is the kitchen, with rubber tile flooring and linoleum counter tops and backing. Mrs. Beavers saves hundreds of steps daily due to the exceptional planning of her workroom.

This side view of the house proves spaciousness, for as one can plainly see, it is nearly as deep as it is wide. Notice the trim covered side porch which gives the appearance of being a "built in" part of the house. The door to the porch leads to and from the hobby room which connects house and garage.

The living room, although it is not small, is given an appearance of even greater depth and roominess by the soft colors which have been used and especially by the twin picture windows, placed directly opposite each other, radiating sun and light over the room at any time of the day, due to their east-west position.

Mr. and Mrs. Beavers and the youngest "member" of the family, their pomeranian "Porky" enjoy the cozy retreat of the knotty pine paneled hobby room. A favorite spot of all the family, this room is well equipped to take the constant use with rubber tile flooring, serviceable furnishings, and homespun curtains.

This attractive walnut dining room suite blends beautifully with the soft gray carpeting and pale chartreuse walls of the room. It is further highlighted with the touches of color found in the floral patterned curtains and the centerpieces on table and buffet.

The handy, built-in "shirt closet" and chest unit shown at right in this shot of daughter Janice's bedroom, is also featured in the master bedroom. The handpainted flower mural above the headboard of the maple bed is not shown.

TIPS For Home Owners

I would like a three-piece sectional piece for my living room. Would it be appropriate with 18th Century furnishings? What color would look well? The walls are a pink-rose and the ceiling and woodwork are white. The carpeting is light blue. I already have a rose lounge chair. Would a large floral pattern look well on a wing fireside chair I am planning to have reupholstered? The drapes have a light background with rose and yellow flowers and green leaves.

R. W.

The sectional piece, if not too extreme, would be appropriate to use with the 18th Century furnishings. A darker blue than the carpet would be a good color. A large floral pattern on a gray background would be nice for the fireside chair.

Hilltop Builder Shows In 1954 Parade Of Homes

Arthur Brofford of Brofford Builders, 774 S. Roys-av, is showing a model home at 683 Georgian-dr this week in the Parade of Homes. A light green stucco, ranch type house, designed for middle income families, the model home features a full basement, gas heating, plaster walls, blacktop drive and beautiful landscape effect obtained through the tasteful use of shrubbery.

Arthur W. Brofford, Jr., son of the local builder, is slated to receive his discharge from the navy in May of next year, at which time he hopes to enter the building firm. Brofford, Sr., has been a Hilltopper 10 years. His first building locally was done in 1944 on Harris-av between Mound-st and Vandenberg-rd. Later, he constructed eight homes on Binns-blvd and was an entrant in the Parade of Homes two years ago with a house on Cranford-rd.

If you can't get along with people try your hand at getting along without all of 'em.

A maple suite is arranged on the hardwood floors while the pale pink walls are charmingly decorated with garlands of pastel flowers, hand painted in oil paints by the above-mentioned artist. [illegible] one more dash of color is supplied by a boudoir chair covered in a minute pattern of blue, yellow, red and white. Important factors of both this room and the master bedroom are the twin closets and built-in dresser drawers and "shirt closets."

The bathroom, between the two rooms, is colorful and shining with pale yellow tile trimmed in black. The flooring is of cream colored rubber tile with blue and yellow trim. Predominant in the bathroom is the handpainted oil mural reaching all the way around the wall depicting a deep sea scene of bright fish, coral reeves and sea plants in glowing pastels.

The Beavers' main hobby is working with their beautiful flowers and home. They enjoy taking colored slides which include shots of their home, yard, flowers, Christmas decorations, and active 14-year-old daughter, Janice.

Each member of the Beavers' family belongs to a separate organization. Beavers belongs to the West Gate Masonic Lodge while his wife is a member of the Hi-Twelve organization and daughter, Janice, is active in Job's Daughters. They are all members of the Glenwood Methodist Church.

"It Pays To Advertise"
There was an old geezer—he had a lot of sense,
He started up a business on a dollar, eighty cents.
The dollar for stock, and the eighty for an ad—
Brought him three lovely dollars in a day—by dad!
Well, he bought more goods and a little more space.
And he played that system—with a smile on his face.
The customers flocked to his two by four—
And soon he had to hustle for a regular store.
Up on the square where the people pass.
He gobbled up a corner that was all plate glass.
He fixed up the windows with the best that he had—
And told them all about it in a half-page ad.
He soon had 'em coming and he never, never quit,
And he wouldn't cut down on his ads one bit
And he's kept things humming in the town ever since
And everybody calls him the Merchant Prince.
Some say it's luck—but that's all bunk—
Why, he was doing business When the times were punk!
People have to purchase and the geezer was wise—
For he knew the way to get 'em was to ADVERTISE.
—Thanks to Jack Sensenbrenner

ROYALTY—Jean Caton, pictured at far right, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Caton of 829 S. Terrace-av, was chosen Queen of the Gateway West Jubilee last Thursday evening. Jean, a candidate for homecoming queen at West High School, reigned over the two days of festivities and was presented at the West-Arlington game the following evening. The five other lovelies who vied for the crown were, left to right, Jo-Beth Lynch sponsored by Hilltop Lions Club; runner-up Charlotte Florio, Lions' Ladies' Auxiliary; Doris Yeater, Rome Business Association; Jane Lloyd, Hilltop Business Association; Marilyn Shroyer, Hilltop Kiwanis Club. Jean was sponsored by the Hilltop Kiwanikwe. (Hilltop Record photo)

RANCH RULERS—Above are the two adjudged the "cutest cowboy and cowgirl" among the dozens of small fry who entered the Gateway West Jubilee. David Hedgewood, six, lives at 150 Lennaven-av, New Rome. Undisputed queen of the affair was Linda Fisher.

TWIRLER — Eleven-year-old Barbara Copley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Copley, 30 Florence-av, is shown as she proudly displayed the trophy she won as first prize in the baton twirling contest at the Gateway West Jubilee.

27 Attend Initial West Booster Club

A group of 27 civic-minded Hilltoppers gathered in the West High auditorium Monday evening, Sept. 27, for the first meeting of the season of the West High Booster Club.

Movies were shown of the first two West games of the 1954 season with a discussion following as is the custom at the Booster meetings.

Plans were discussed for the Booster Club Sales to be carried out this coming Friday night at the Linden-McKinley game at Magly Field. Booster Club members will be selling durable heavy plastic cushions in the school colors of buff and brown with the letter on them, as well as Booster Club memberships.

Plans are also in the making for a "Meet-the-Team" night to be held Monday evening, Oct. 11, in the West High auditorium. Refreshments will be served and both members and the general public are invited to attend this community event. The next meeting of the Booster Club will be held Monday evening, Oct. 4.

Hilltop Y Member Wins Bike And Cocker Spaniel

John Graham, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Graham, 65 S. Harris-av, was winner recently of an English racer bicycle worth more than $50 in the Can-A-Pop contest. The contest, conducted over WLW-TV, was a feature of "Uncle Bud's Comedy Carnival." John appeared on the show at which time he suggested a winning name for the man contained on the can of the firm's product.

His name entry was considered the best and, as a result, he was also named the grand prize winner. On Sept. 22 he received a cocker spaniel on the show as the top prize. John is an active member of the Hilltop YMCA.

COWBOY CLAWS READIED

West High's Cowboys will play in their first City League contest tomorrow when they meet the defending champs, the Linden McKinley Panthers on Magly Field. The Panthers to date have won two easy non-league victories, from opponents not considered "in the same league" by Record Sports writer Woody Owens.

Last year the locals built up an 18-6 halftime lead, only to loose out in the hard-fought clash by 21-18 on Paul Snyder's field goal in the final four minutes of play.

Auto Crash Involving Two Hilltop Youths Arouses Community Concern

Focuses Attention On Problem Of Teen-Age Tendency To Speed

Members of this community were greatly shocked and grieved to learn of the tragic automobile accident involving 16-year-old Robert Edwards and his 14-year-old companion, William Nebinger, who were critically injured in the mishap which occurred Saturday night at Hall and Georgesville-rds.

The Nebinger boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nebinger, 821 Chestershire-rd, suffered a crushed skull, jaw and chest, and brain concussion when the auto struck a guard rail and bank. He was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital where he was reported in critical condition Tuesday by his aunt, Winifred Wells, a registered nurse from Pasadena, Tex.

Edwards, the driver of the car, which he had borrowed from his employer, suffered a skull fracture, fractures of his right arm and elbow, and lacerations of the head. He was reported in fair condition Tuesday at Mt. Carmel, where both boys were taken by the New Rome emergency squad, making their first run in their new emergency truck. Young Edwards is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Edwards, 662 Chestershire-rd.

Although neither police nor relatives of the boys have been able to learn the particulars of the accident, sheriff's deputies, Earl Smith and Don Hall, said the boys were thrown from the car when they apparently missed a curve about 750 feet south of Hall-rd, while traveling south at between 60 and 75 miles per hour.

Classmates and teachers at West High School as well as friends and members of the community have expressed great concern over the condition of both boys, which is deeply appreciated by their families.

A spokesman at West stated that "it is a tragic fact that such accidents are occurring every day, simply because the public, especially younger more inexperienced drivers, do not know enough about the power of gravity and centrifugal force when they are driving at such a great rate of speed. An educational program all along the line, at every age level, and stressed by every organization, must be put into practice before such tragedies can possibly be averted."

Glenwood's Boys' Club Will Hold First Session

Friday, Oct. 1, at 3:30 p. m., is the time and date of the first meeting of the Glenwood Boys' Club. All boys between the ages of eight and 14 are invited to attend. Those expecting to go on the camping trip to Indian Village Camp should attend this first meeting so plans may be made and a schedule set up. Also, if time permits, officers will be elected and future club plans made.

A basketball league made up of members of the Boys' Club will be formed as soon as every member is registered. So come out to Glenwood Recreation Center, fellows, and attend that first meeting so you will be in on this winter's fun.

Jubilee Chairman Cites Cooperation

The "Gateway West Jubilee," commemorating the reopening of the improved U.S. 40 between Columbus and New Rome, was a complete success, D. JJ Kunz, mayor of New Rome and chairman of the Jubilee committee, announced yesterday. A larger crowd than was expected took part on both days in the festivities, reported Mayor Kunz, who is also president of the West Franklin County Association, Inc.

He especially praised the work of the cooperating agencies, citing the unselfish efforts of the church ladies in furnishing the pie booths, civic bodies, churches, schools, volunteer firemen, women's auxiliaries, business firms, officials, the local and city government, the Franklin County sheriff's, the press, state highway department, People's Development Co. for use of the grounds at Lincoln Village, the utilities and the Franklin County Patrol. Singled out for additional praise were the firemen of Prairie and Norwich Townships and the city of Columbus and the 50 Junior Fire Marshals of Prairie Township School who took part in the parade.

Proceeds of the affair went to the building fund for a new West Side center of the YMCA.

Lions To Sell Light Bulbs Starting Oct. 11

The entire Hilltop area will "be a little brighter" because of the week-long activities of the Hilltop Lions and the Skidmore Lions Clubs, starting Monday, Oct. 11, in the local phase of the International Lions observance of October as "Light for Sight Month."

Every cent of the proceeds in the community-wide lamp bulb sale will be used to further such projects as eye research work, aid to underprivileged children, and others. Oct. 11, 12 and 13 in sale week will include a door-to-door sale of light bulbs packed in Lions Club insignia-marked bags. The last three days of the sale will find local merchants offering the Lions-wrapped merchandise over their counters. Joining delegates of five other Franklin County clubs in planning for the sale were Bill Myers of Hilltop Lions Club and E. A. LeCaptain, Skidmore Lions Club.

The bulbs will be sold in bags for the general household usage, each bag identified by the Lions Club insignia and containing make-up kits of 40-watt, 60-watt, 100-watt and 150-watt kitchen light bulbs at the regular price of $2. Every householder can use light bulbs and this drive affords an opportunity to buy a good supply, while helping a most worthy cause.

A good time to join with the fire departments throughout the nation to educate ourselves to the need and various means of fire prevention is the week of Oct 3-9, which has been proclaimed by Governor Frank J Lausche as Fire Prevention Week in the state of Ohio. Start now to protect yourself and your family the year round from the ravages of fire.

HILLTOP COMMUNITY COUNCIL PLANS 9th ANNUAL PARTY

"Fun Without Destruction" will again be the theme of the ninth annual Halloween party sponsored by the Hilltop Community Council for local youth.

Representatives of service organizations, PTA, church, and youth groups met with Special Events Chairman Bill Barns of the council recently to complete plans for the Community's big annual Halloween party, which will be held at West High School on Oct. 30, at 7 p. m.

This year's party is to be better than ever with Trim movies, a teen-age dance, costume parade, with prizes for all age groups, and refreshments held at a minimum.

The Hilltop Community Council is formed from all local organizations and all groups are asked to appoint representatives to be present. Richard Wilson, of the Hilltop YMCA, is president of the council.

Final party arrangements will be made at the next meeting of the Hilltop Community Council on Thursday, Oct. 14, at the Hilltop YMCA.

Hilltop Kiwanis Names Pemberton President, Lloyd Vice-President

Mack Pemberton was named president for 1955 of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club at the group's annual election of officers held last Thursday noon in the Colony Restaurant. Pemberton, head coach at West High, will take office on January 1, with installation rites planned earlier. He will replace Otto Best, who will become a member of the board of directors.

Other new officers include Howard Lloyd, vice-president; Ed Johnson, second vice-president; Richard Nash, treasurer; Ed Johnson, secretary; and seven directors, Hoy Deems, Chuck Ditrick, Jim Hedges, Roy Kistner, Ed McNamee, John Nippert and Paul Resnick.

Paul Stout served as election committee chairman.

COLONY BURGLARIZED

The Colony Restaurant, 3178 W. Broad-st, was the scene of a burglary early Sunday morning. However, the unknown thief or thieves, who are thought to have been hiding in the building when it was locked up Saturday night only got away with the contents of the money boxes from the cigarette machine.

Owner Ray Mellner was unable to immediately determine the amount of cash the boxes contained.

TO SEE NARCOTICS FILM

Noble Allen, secretary of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, announced this week that he has been successful in securing an informative movie on narcotics which is to be shown at today's noon meeting in the Colony Restaurant.

These interesting movies are made available by the Ohio Narcotic investigation, State of Ohio, C. William O'Neill, attorney-general.

Mr. Fix-It Offers A Solution To Problem Of Hilltop Teenagers

Mr. Fix-It:

Could you please do something about the places for kids to hang out on Saturdays and after school. All the kids that live between Whitethorne and Richardson-av used to hangout at Hardy's but now they've closed up the fountain and there's no place for us to hang out. So could you please see if there is someone who could fix up someplace on Sullivant-av near any of the streets between Whitethorne and Richardson-av who could fix up someplace with a jukebox and a place to dance and a fountain.

Suzie Killian
225 Midland-av

Mr. Fixit says: I can appreciate the predicament that Suzie and her friends find themselves in. It's only natural that they should want a place to congregate, dance, eat, and exchange bits of news, gossip and "gab." However, owners of drug stores, confectioneries, and similar establishments, which teensters have made their meeting places lately, frown on afternoon and evening teenage crowds which often become noisy and rowdy (without actually meaning to) and consequently detract from the patronism of adult customers.

Like so many of us with a particular problem, Suzie, you have been looking everyplace but the obvious one for the answer. The Glenwood recreation center offers a number of athletic and social activities on weekday evenings for both boys and girls and the Sunshine Recreation Center at the Corner of Sandusky and Sullivant-ave offers all the activities that your letter mentions.

The record library at the center is kept up to date with all the very latest hit recordings with teenagers may dance to each weekday evening with no admission charge. A regular Saturday night event at the Center is "Teen Dance Date" broadcast from 8 to 10 p. m., over radio station WCOL in cooperation with the Columbus Recreation Department. The program and individual radio interviews with those in attendance is emceed by WCOL radio announcer, Bob Linville. You'll have a good chance to brush up on the newest dance steps, too, with the free dancing lessons given each evening. Of course, there are always plenty of refreshments on hand in the form of soft drinks and potato chips.

For those of you who are sports-minded, and most active teenagers are, the girls' winter sports schedule includes badminton, volleyball, and basketball.

I hope Suzie and the many other teenagers like her will give the center a fair try. It's a meeting place they can actually call their own and enjoy in their energetic way, with no black looks from an irate manager.

Amlin People Used To Living Combination City-Village Life

When the experts say there is a trend toward living in the country and working in the city, they are fairly correct as far as Amlin is concerned.

Many of the people of this farming community drive to work in Columbus each day. For instance—

Ray Temple is employed by the Commercial Motor Freight Co. His brother, Harry Temple, works at the Timkin Roller Bearing Co. on Fifth-av.

"I don't mind the trip," said Temple, "but it does get kind of rough in the winter time."

Working at Battelle Memorial Institute is Lawrence Shriver of Ringe-rd. Roy Parsons doesn't go as far as some of the other Amlin residents — he works for the Russell Grain Co. in Hilliards.

Willard Coffey punches the time clock at National Cell. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Tucker make the trip each day to work for General Motors.

It's pretty certain that Nathan Emrich had something to do with those highway signs down the road. He is a draftsman for the Ohio State Highway sign shop.

Not only do those residents go to the Hilltop and Columbus to work, but they also do much of their shopping there.

Wilbur L. Cramer, who has lived in Amlin all of his 79 years sums it up this way, "quite a few go to Plain City and Hilliards, but if they want a lot of things they go to Columbus."

So it goes with these people of Amlin. They live in the country and raise their own vegetables while they shop and work in the city.

Amlin Methodist Church will observe World Communion Sunday and have rally day for the Sunday School on Oct. 3. Rev. Albert Neothlich of Hilliards is minister.

The Women's Club will meet at the township house on Oct. 13 with a luncheon at 12 noon and meeting at 1 p. m.

Mrs. John Bennett of Bentley, Mich., recently visited her sister Mrs. Nathan Emrich . . . Effie Finch, one of Amlin's oldest residents will observe her 94th birthday on Oct. 29 . . . The new welding shop being constructed by Robert Fox is nearing completion. Olney Ball is building a new home.

SOROPTIMISTS CELEBRATE

Soroptimist Club of Columbus is celebrating Founders Week Sept. 27 to Oct. 3. Current projects include support for women in policy-making posts with the United States Government, on international bodies, traffic safety programs and other civic projects.

SWITCHES DIVISIONS

Cpl. Frank Martin Jr., 21, son of Mrs. Martha Martin, 1856 W. Mound-st, was recently transferred from the 2d Division to the 25th Infantry Division, which is leaving Korea for Schofield Barracks, Hawaii. Martin, a gunner, arrived in the Far East during November, 1953.

West's Cowboys Open Season By Defeating Upper Arlington 16-6

By Woody Owen

West High School's Cowboys opened their home gridiron season last Friday night at Magly Field and also celebrated Mothers Night by notching up their first win of the season in defeating Upper Arlington 16-6.

Early in the opening period the Cowboys received an Arlington punt on their own 46-yard line, from where they drove to the Golden Bears' territory, only to lose the ball on downs.

The visitors were then penalized to their own two for offensive holding. On the third play, Quarterback Mead faded back to pass deep in his own end zone, but Greer and Nafager broke through to spill him for a safety, West 2, Arlington 0.

Davis of the Cowboys then returned Boswell's free kick after the safety, from his own 35 to Arlington's 30-yard line. On the first play, Quarterback Vincent faded to pass beyond midfield and lofted one to Davis who took the ball on the run as he crossed into the end zone. (The pass traveled over 50 yards in the air). Nebinger plunged for the point after. West 8, Arlington 0 as the quarter ended.

Midway in the second period Arlington received a punt on their own 19-yard line, from where they drove down field 81 yards in 13 plays to score with Selby and Green leading the offensive.

Mead's try for point afterwards was wide. West 8, Arlington 6. There was no further scoring in the first half.

The third period was scoreless although the visitors once drove to the Cowboys' 13-yard line but the home team's rugged forward wall rose to the occasion and did not yield a yard in four plays. The Cowboys then punted out of danger.

In the final period Arlington received a punt on the Cowboys' 45. On the first play Greer tossed Mead for a two-yard loss, another play failed to gain, and Greer again broke through to toss Mead for an 18-yard loss as he attempted to pass. With fourth down and 21, Boswell dropped back to punt but the pass from center was low and Kruckeberg downed him for another 21-yard loss with the Cowboys taking over on the visitors 14-yard line, but were held for downs.

On the first play after taking the ball Arlington fumbled and Nafager recovered for the Cowboys on the five. Three plays later Cooley dashed over tackle into the end zone. Davis concluded the scoring by adding the extra point via a place-kick. Final score, West 16, Arlington 2.

For the Golden Bears Green and Selby were their standouts. Nebinger, Davis, Vincent and Cooley led the Cowboys in the ball-toting department, while Greer was easily the outstanding lineman on the field. Nafager and Bill Greene aided the defensive line in no small way with their fine defensive play from their line backing positions.

Hundreds of local fans were very deeply concerned when Jim Vincent, brilliant Cowboy quarterback and one of the finest all around athletes in the school's history, was carried from the field on a stretcher in the final quarter. But everyone was much relieved when the injury was diagnosed as only a severe bruising of a thigh muscle.

RECORD DRIVE ENTHUSIASM HIGH

Enthusiasm in the big Hilltop Record subscription campaign began to reach peak proportions this week as the drive actually got under way.

First report of the candidates received on Monday indicates that all are working, but as of this date it is a wide open battle for the big prize of the new two-door Chevrolet sedan purchased from Rodenfels Chevrolet Co. and the second prize of $400 cash and third of $200 cash.

Some of the younger entrants in the contest have withdrawn as was expected and some additional candidates have been added since last week.

One of the newcomers to the contest is Robert White, the band instructor of Hilliards High School. He is being backed by the Hilliards Band Parents organization and any winnings will go to assist the band program.

It is still not too late for contestants to enter the campaign and anyone desiring further information may have same by calling JO. 7331. The contest will continue until Nov. 12. In addition to the three fine top prizes each other contestant who does not win one of the three top awards will be given a 20 per cent commission on all his or her sales. In this way everyone wins!

Subscribers are urged to ask their favorite contestant about the $100 cash award that will be given away to some subscriber.

Amlin's Annual Turkey And Ham Supper Brings Spotlight On Hamlet's History

Present and former residents of Amlin will congregate in the Township Community House to celebrate their annual Turkey Ham Supper from 5 to 8 p. m. on Saturday, Oct. 2.

The Turkey Ham Supper, providing a great opportunity to renew acquaintances with friends from far and near, brings to light some of the history of the village of Amlin, which is located in the northwest corner of Franklin County. The town was founded by J. H. Shier and Zeloria E. Amlin.

The Amlin family donated the land on which Amlin Chapel and Amlin school were built. Amlin Chapel is now Amlin Methodist Church, while the school was closed in 1927 and the pupils transferred to Hilliards schools.

One reason that Amlin was founded was the providing of lodging for section hands who worked on what is now the New York Central Railroad which passes through the village. Passenger service and the depot have been discontinued.

Two direct descendants of Zeloria Amlin are Mrs Effie Hodges and Mrs. Henry Worley of Columbus. Amlin served as a Franklin County commissioner.

Zeloria Amlin enlisted as a drummer boy in the Civil War at 13 years of age.

"I didn't enlist to carry a drum. I enlisted to carry a rifle," protested young Amlin to his commanding officer after his first day of service in the Union Army.

"Well, young man," replied his captain, "I wish I had a whole regiment of boys like you." This incident was recalled by Mrs. Effie Hodges, 82, a daughter of Zeloria Amlin.

The present postmaster of the village is Ray Patch who has served in that capacity for 30 years. He operates a Red and White Store in connection with the Amlin post-office.

"CHRIST MARCHING IN TRIUMPH ACROSS THE AGES"

BY REV. CHARLES E. TURLEY
Former Pastor Of Glenwood Methodist Church

"Heaven and Earth may pass away but my words will not pass away." — St. Matthew 24:35.

In Masefield's Play "The Trial of Jesus," he has Pilate's wife appear at the Cross just after Jesus has cried out "It is finished." She asks the Roman Centurion "Is He Dead?" "No, I think not, Lady." "Then where is He?" Set loose in the world, lady, where no one can stop His truth."

Yes! Jesus Christ has been set loose in the world and triumphantly He marches across the ages. He has been let loose in many realms.

Let loose in the realm of music. Just think of the many oratorios, anthems, Christmas Carols, hymns and gospel songs He has inspired.

Let loose in the realm of art. The Master artists of the ages have depicted many scenes from His life beginning with the annunciation and closing with the ascension.

He has been let loose in the realm of literature and multiplied thousands of books have been written about His life, His miracles, His sermons, His service, His sacrifice and His resurrection.

Let loose in the realm of creative ideals, Christ's teachings about brotherhood incarnated in the lives of Wilberforce, Lovejoy, Garrison, Phillips and Lincoln and the shackles of slavery fell from four million human beings.

Christ's attitude toward the poor sent out many consecrated men and women upon the broad pathways of human service. Christ's "Go ye into all the world and preach my gospel and thousands of missionaries have gone out over the world.

Christ let loose in a world of hatred and love comes to the hearts of men. Open your hearts and lives today and make Christ a welcome guest in your heart and life.

THE Town THAT MET THE TRAINS

There's a town in one of our states that hundreds of American veterans remember . . .

A big train stopped there at four in the morning, and on it were always a few service men who had to "lay-over" until the connecting train came through. And that lay-over didn't sound pleasant on cold winter mornings.

Yet it was.

For every man in uniform who stepped off that train was greeted, and taken to a comfortable home where breakfast was waiting on the stove. There was no charge—ever.

"Why did you do this?" the astounded soldier or sailor would ask.

And his host would smile.

"The church people in this town meet you fellows every night this train comes in . . ."

That's a fair sample of the spirit found in the community churches of today. They are filled with people who gather every Sunday to receive guidance and counsel.

On weekdays, these people practice what is preached.

Perhaps you are looking for such a church. It's not far away. It may be in your block. Certainly, it's in your neighborhood. And in it, you'll find the type of hospitality and friendliness that came from one church in that one town that the service men remember.

That's the town where the people met the train . . .

C. L. DUFFIELD, Of Philadelphia, Evangelist

The handsome young man above, James Saxton, was greatly surprised when he and his date were chosen "Mr. and Mrs. Crystal Beach" on a recent evening from a crowd of dancing couples at the Crystal Ballroom. Jim, a Hilltopper in good standing, is the 17-year-old son of the well-known wrestler and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Saxton of 3239 Parkside.

Local Federal Tax Agent Is Selected

Hilltopper James A. Link, internal revenue agent of the Columbus district office, has been selected to attend the first term of the Advanced Training Center which has just been established at the University of Michigan, District Director Nathaniel Looker announced today.

"The choice of Link was a compliment both to him and to this office, Looker declared. Only about 100 students, all employes of the service, were picked from among several thousand employe eligibles. Link will report to Ann Arbor for training Sept. 20."

Link, who resides at 639 Columbian-av, is married and the father of three sons. He was born in Columbus, O., graduated from West High School and, in December 1948 from Ohio State University with a bachelor of science degree. He majored in accounting, business organization, and economics. A veteran of service with the Army Adjutant General's Office, in 1945 and 1946 of World War II, he has been with the internal revenue service ever since his graduation from college.

Looker stated that the purpose of the new Center is to broaden the training of internal revenue agents by providing them with the knowledge and thinking of leaders of academic, business and professional worlds.

PUBLIC COMMENT

Most Believe Ballot Should Not Be Made Compulsory

In talking to readers at random last week, we found that the majority of our Hilltoppers were sympathetic with the problem which faces the entire country of people being lax about their duty to vote. However, they were emphatic in expressing their contentions of retaining this freedom, which is fast becoming unique throughout the world.

The statements below were in answer to this question: "Do you believe that a citizen should be compelled by law to vote in primary and general elections with penalties for any violation of this law?"

W. B. Vale, 286 N. Chase-av, "I think they should pass a law compelling people to vote, but I don't think they should make a penalty for violators. It wouldn't be reasonable to fine a person just for not voting."

Fred E. Kern, 163 Coolidge-av, "If you compel a person to vote, it violates one of the greatest freedoms in American possesses. Such a law should certainly not be passed."

Mrs. Robert Daley, 14 N. Oakley-av, "I think if people don't vote it doesn't do their government much good and gives them less freedom than it would if we made a law compelling them to vote. I think such a law with a penalty for violators would be a good idea."

Clifford Gabert, 2678 Dibblee-av, "I wouldn't approve of anything like that. It would be just like a dictatorship. Our country get's along better than any place else in the world because of all our freedoms."

Mrs. David Short, 912 Racine-av, "I don't think they should make any laws that would take away any of the freedoms that we are guaranteed in the constitution. One of our greatest privileges is the right not to vote as well as the right to vote."

New Cooking Class Set At Glenwood

A new cooking class, under the leadership of Sally Lucke, is underway at Glenwood Recreation Center for boys and girls, ages six to 12.

Carol Scheiblich recently baked a chocolate cake with chocolate icing and took it home as a pleasant surprise for her mother. Her colorful decorations on the top made for a very delicious looking and beautiful cake.

A group project that the cooking class worked on was baking a cake for a children's party held at the center. One of the things the class looks forward to the most is ending the class with a party and eating what they have all helped to make.

Wednesday, Sept. 15, the class baked apple pie which was a great success.

If you know of anyone who would like to join the cooking class, call and register with Miss Lucke, RA. 7416.

On Wednesday, Sept. 22, the class baked chocolate chip cookies. All boys and girls from the ages of six to 12 are urged to attend the class to help bake and eat cookies.

"This vacation time, make courtesy your code of the road." Boys and girls, that's the slogan the Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce is using this summer as a special reminder to motorists.

Once in a very great while, there comes to an industry a discovery that thrusts aside the limitations of the past and reveals unexpected new horizons.

In the automotive field such discoveries were the self-starter, the pneumatic tire, the all-steel body, the automatic transmission. In the chemical industry, it was the development of plastics. In aviation it was jet propulsion.

Now such advancement has come to the petroleum field. Today, Boron Gasoline takes its place with other such important steps as the discovery of tetraethyl lead and the invention of catalytic refining.

Boron Gasoline is a discovery that makes obsolete even the finest of today's motor fuels, including the highest-rated gasoline sold in Ohio—Sohio's previous premium grade!

The story of this new kind of gasoline begins more than four years ago. Sohio scientists had then found that important engine benefits would be available if the element boron could be made usable in motor fuel. Early this year they solved the last problem; Boron Supreme Gasoline is now a reality—available at every Sohio station.

Aviation Anti-Knock Fluid

While boron alone is startling news in gasoline research, it is not the end of the story! For many years, aviation gasoline has been the symbol of highest power and highest quality in petroleum fuel. A large contributor to this quality is the special, expensive aviation anti-knock fluid. In new Boron Supreme, Sohio makes this aviation anti-knock fluid available to motorists for the first time anywhere, contributing to the exceptionally high-test rating of this gasoline.

The third important difference in Sohio Boron Gasoline is a completely new, cleaner-burning hydrocarbon formula. This basic change was made possible by Sohio's investment of many millions of dollars in the most modern refinery facilities.

The effects of the boron discovery, the aviation anti-knock fluid and the new formula have been tested in the laboratory, on the road, and in day-to-day driving. Boron Gasoline has been run ten times around the world on the turnpike. Its beneficial effect on engines has been checked by more than 32,000 laboratory observations. Sohioans have used it in their own cars. And, finally, 1309 Ohio drivers just like yourself agreed to use it and report their experiences.

Proved Longer Mileage—Improved Engine Health

In 240,000 miles of turnpike testing in all kinds of cars, Sohio Boron Supreme Gasoline gave 16 more miles per tankful than non-boron premium fuels. Boron Gasoline provides a new way to liberate power in engines; gives a mileage improvement greater than any we have been able to make by conventional refining.

In the most precise laboratory measurements of engines that had been run tens of thousands of miles on the road, Boron Supreme Gasoline was found to reduce piston ring wear by 45%, and to lengthen valve life and efficiency by thousands of miles. Other tests showed that Boron Gasoline improved combustion smoothness by 88% in critical engines.

2 of 3 Users Report Immediate Performance Improvement

The 1309 Ohio drivers were told only that they were using a new kind of motor fuel, with no hint of what to look for.

Two out of three reporting on their experience said they noticed immediate improvement in power, in pick-up, or in smoothness. Many said they noted the increased mileage. And by far the great majority—including those who regularly used competitive gasolines—said they wished to continue using this new gasoline when it became available.

During the past year, there has been a great deal of enthusiastic gasoline advertising, with confusion resulting for much of the public. In the development and offering of Boron Supreme Gasoline, we have felt any claims we make for it ought to be matched by actual reports on its performance from people who tried it. Reading hundreds of these reports confirms what our own road and laboratory tests had already told us—Boron Gasoline is a truly significant discovery in motor fuel, with important new benefits for you and for every driver.

You will probably make a gasoline purchase sometime during the next week. When you do, make that purchase a tankful of Boron Supreme Gasoline . . . for a new experience in engine performance.

High School Alumni Hold 23rd Annual Reunion, Elect Officers

By Louise Pohlmann
FR. 8-4186

The Hilliards class of '31 held its 23rd reunion on Sunday, Sept. 26, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Findley DeWolfe on Avery-rd. . . .

A basket dinner was enjoyed by all those present, who included Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Vollrath and sons John and David of Milford Center; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Roberts and son Darrell, Mr. and Mrs. James Weaver and sons Jimmy and Johnny, Mr. and Mrs. Gaymon Wright and son Gaymon and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Michel all of Hilliards; Mrs. Frances Merkle and daughter Betty Lou, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Windle, Patty and Bill, all of Columbus, and the host and hostesses and their children, Mr. and Mrs. Findley DeWolfe, Gail, Sharon and Gene.

Officers elected for the coming year are Margaret Michel, president; Gaymon Wright, vice-president, and Garlene Roberts, secretary-treasurer. At the winter meeting which will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Weaver in February, plans will be made for celebrating the 25th anniversary of this class, whose record of annual get-togethers year after year for 21 consecutive years, sets a record in loyalty not often noted among high school alumni.

THE SCHOOL BOND ISSUE of $489,000 to be voted on at the Nov. 2 election by electors of the Norwich Local School district is designed to finance facilities for industrial arts, an agriculture class room, and a drawing room [illegible] of the proposed new shop building.

It is proposed to build a separate school unit which eventually will house a new senior high school. The new unit would contain, 12 class rooms, a large cafeteria and kitchen, heating plant, and dressing rooms for boys participating in outdoor sports. Plans also call for new seating in the high school auditorium which when completed would accomodate the upper elementary grades, thus relieving the current pressure on the grade school facilities.

HILLIARDS HIGH SCHOOL Wildcats may be missing a few regulars out of the football lineup, but you'd never know it from results of the season's games, so far. Barring the miss to Grove City at the preview games at Worthington, the Wildcats are running a perfect record. After winning 13-12 over Mifflin a week ago, they followed up with a 20-0 score over West Jefferson at Jeff's grounds.

Class elections held the spotlight the first week of high school. Seniors have chosen Jim Hetrick, president; Max Gray, vice-president; Bessie Eckard, secretary, and Frank Bowman, treasurer. Junior class officers are Eddie Murdock, president; Carol Williams, vice-president; Mary An McCann, secretary; and John Miller, treasurer.

GRADE SCHOOL — At the elementary school, a group of foreign visitors were guests of Mr. Hartsook on an inspection tour, last week. Countries from all over the world were represented, among them, Brazil, Ceylon, India, Pakistan, Egypt, Germany, France, Western Australia, Finland, England and Holland. The tourists visited the cafeteria, inspected the school playground and sat in on some of the classes.

An impromptu fire drill was set off when one of a collection of large Swiss cow bells was rung in the room adjoining the one occupied by eighth grade boys. The bell was one of a beautiful collection of Swiss bells brought to school by Martha and Miriam Heisel, loaned to their father by his friend, Mr. Volkey of Switzerland.

The first fire drill of the school year, held Thursday, Sept. 23, was a fine demonstration. It took just one minute and 10 seconds to clear the entire elementary building. The pupils were very quiet and orderly throughout the entire drill.

A new set of World Books has been purchased for the grade building.

Monitors, selected from the eighth grade, have been stationed in the halls during the "break" in mornings and afternoons. The halls have been much more orderly, this fall, and the monitors deserve much credit.

Miss Ruth Wagoner, fifth grade teacher, is now Mrs. William Howard. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar J. Wagoner, Oxford, Pa., Miss Wagoner was married on Sunday, Sept. 19, at 3:30 p. m. in First Community Church, to Mr. Howard. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Morris Roe, Portsmouth. The new Mrs. Howard is a graduate of Westchester Teachers' College, Westchester, Pa., taught for two years in schools of her home state before coming here. The couple will be at home at 67 Mollman-st, Columbus.

Jimmy Bogen of Hilliards schools, won the right to the title Boss Commander, at Lockbourne AFB, by his submitting the name, "Pitch," to the Kiwanis Kids Day contest. He served as commander for the day of Saturday, Sept. 18.

Tri-Hi-Y of Hilliards sponsored an all school Sock Hop last Wednesday. The occasion was very well attended, at the price of five cents per fool, or 10 cents per person. No single-tooters have been reported.

GRANGE BOOSTERS' NIGHT was celebrated at the regular meeting of Hilliards Grange, last Thursday when a large crowd of members and guests gathered to enjoy a splendid program. Worthy Master Austin White welcomed the large crowd and surrendered conduct of the program to Worthy Lecturer Vivian Greenwood, who had prepared an excellent array of interesting items to instruct and entertain the group.

Opening with the Salute to the Flag, the gathering sang The Star Spangled Manner, accompanied by the Grange's new pianist, Don Upperman, who though just a new member of the chapter, accepted the appointment to fill a sorely needed spot in Grange activities and is doing an exceptional service.

A summary of activities of the Grange during the past year was given by Marge White. Truman Greenwood presented a brief dissertation on "What is Grange," Gerald Kidwell following with a history of Grange.

Booster Night Message was the topic covered by Worthy Master White. Bassel Johnson, president of the Hilliards Board of Education, gave a short talk on school bond issues and Vo-Ag Director Leon Boucher presented a resume of the work of the vocational agriculture department of the school and the opportunities afforded young men by modern agriculture.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman Greenwood entertained with a short travel talk illustrated with pictures they took on their recent trip to Nova Scotia, Niagara Falls and other northeastern places of interest.

Visitors were introduced by Worthy Master White and the evening concluded with a pot luck supper. Installation of new officers will be held on Oct. 14, when University Grange will preside.

WORSHIP SERVICE at Hilliards Methodist Church went on winter time schedule last Sunday. The hour will be 10:45 instead of 10:30, which has been the summer beginning time.

World Wide Communion Sunday will be celebrated next Sunday. The sacrament of communion will be administered during the worship service. Choir rehearsals will be held at 7:30 at the church every Wednesday evening for the remainder of the winter season. On Tuesday, Oct. 5, the regular meeting of WSCS will be held at the church. Business meeting will begin at 10:45. Luncheon at noon will be served by a committee of which Mrs. Edith Russell is chairman.

An interesting program has been arranged for the afternoon session, at which the district president of the Society will be guest speaker.

Promotion Day was observed by the church school last Sunday. During the worship hour, a service of recognition of the church school officers and teachers was a feature of the session.

STILLWATER TRIBE 195 [illegible] was host on Saturday night to a zone meeting of which some 50 visitors from Marion, Troy, Portsmouth and Chillicothe were present. Zone Chief Herb Riebel was presiding officer. Stillwater Tribe sponsored a float in the Gateway West Jubilee parade last week. About 14 members from Hilliards appeared in Indian costume.

Next zone meeting of Red Men will be held Oct. 17 when Sioux Tribe, Dodridge and N. High-sts will receive. Columbus will be the scene of the next Great Council, the state annual convention of Red Men next August, when representatives will meet at the Hotel Southern.

AMERICAN LEGION POST 414 is soliciting donations for its community sale to be held Oct. 22. No useable offering will be refused. Extra efforts are being made to raise funds to finance the improvements to the Legion Hall. Members John Penfield, Norman Distlehorst, Clarence Weeks, and Jack Headlee have been collecting old cast iron and other scrap metal.

Recently a very successful haul was made and it is believed there are quantities of old metal on farms and at various places which could be picked up for the benefit of the Legion. Any one having such material to be disposed of is invited to call any of the four men named above.

Treasurer Penfield is conducting a membership drive, old members are urged to renew. All new veteran residents in the area are invited to contact him and learn the many advantages of membership in the local post.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 301 held its regular meeting on Monday evening. Their creative project at the Sept. 20th meeting was making garlands of black velvet ribbon ornamented by mark-sequin combinations. Plans were made at this meeting for a wiener roast to be held on Oct. 6 at the home of Patty Hartley, 1370 Wilson-rd.

HILLIARDS PERSONALS: Word was received last week that

Hilliards Postal Route Man To Make Final Rounds Today

By Louise Pohlmann

Come Friday morning, Oct. 1, Merrill F. McCullough, 125 Florence-av, won't have to reach out and turn off the alarm. In fact, he won't have to set it the night before.

For the first working day in 37 years and nine months, excepting the few times he's been off for illness, he can sleep right through, if he wants to. And it's going to be that way from now on, because Thursday, Sept. 30, was his last day on the rural route out of the Hilliards post office.

Perry Van Schoik was postmaster when McCullough went out on his first run, Jan. 2, 1917, covering one of the five routes then emanating from the local post office. It was only a few years since horse-drawn mail buggies had given way to the Model-T type of transportation with which McCullough began his career. His mileage then was 24 miles a day. Roads were just beginning to come out of the mud—in fact, he recalls, he had two stretches of mud road on his first route—and the best of the "pikes" were paved loosely with gravel or crushed stone and, in spring especially, just one chuck-hole after another.

Merrill F. McCullough

McCullough is the last living survivor of his original crew. Charley Koehler dropped dead in the Hilliards post office one morning when sorting mail for his daily run. His mileage was distributed among the remaining four. Harvey Knight, S. D. Latham and Emory Van Schoyck, all now dead, dropped out one by one, until finally the area was being covered by McCullough alone, parts being set off to other post offices, until, as of Aug. 16 of this year, he was serving 70 miles of route daily. Since that date, when a portion of the route was transferred to Columbus, his daily mileage has been 60 miles. In 1917, five carriers served 550 patrons on 120 miles of routes. Now, the one route of 60 miles serves 631 homes.

Born in the Hilliards community and graduated from Hilliards High School in 1913, McCullough has served under three postmasters: Van Schoik, Frank G. Winterringer, and the incumbent, Mrs. Florence Wilcox.

He has reared a family of four sons and seen them all marry and establish [illegible] in the years he has been a familiar figure about the local post office and on the route he has served so long.

Asked about plans for retirement, he said he has nothing definite in mind. There are lots of things he's always wanted to do and he will try now to realize some earlier hopes. Immediately he plans to try the Florida climate for a while, with the thought that he may there find relief from a form of asthma which has been increasingly bothersome of late years.

Norma Richardson Bowman, sister of Mrs. Robert Gard and daughter of Mrs. W. G. Carlson, was married on Sept. 24, in the Methodist Church in City Island New York, to Mr. Clinton Garrison, also of City Island. Mr. Garrison is associated with Western Electric Co.

Anneliza Burnside called on Mrs. J. H. Culp, Tuesday of last week. Other guests at the Culp home on the same day were Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Bateman of Columbus . . . Virginia Burbridge was the overnight guest of Sandy Gard, Saturday . . . The square dance at Westgate Shelterhouse last Saturday sponsored by Twig 42 of Children's Hospital, was attended by a number of young folks from the Hilliards community.

A heartwarming reunion occurred recently when Luella Carr and Helen Shambaugh on their motor tour, hunted up a former Hilliards resident, Marguerite Knick Phelps at her Lynchburg, Va. home. The girls had a grand old time reliving by-gone days when Helen and Marguerite were practically next-door neighbors . . . Mrs. Frank Hoover was admitted to White Cross Hospital for surgery last week. An early recovery is the hope of her many friends.

Room-for-one-More Class of Hilliards Sunday School was delightfully entertained at the home of Nancy McCann, Wednesday evening of last week . . . Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Swepston Sr., are rejoicing over the birth of an eight-pound grandson at University Hospital, last week. The infant is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Sigler (Virginia Swepston). Congratulations, everyone! . . . Mr. and Mrs. Harold Spindler of Grove City visited Harold's aunt, Elizabeth Stoll, Saturday afternoon. Charles Spindler and wife were callers at Miss Stoll's on Sunday afternoon.

BELLS WILL RING: Above are the large, red, illuminated, plastic bells which peal in the Christmas season at the eastern and western approaches to the Hilltop on Sullivant-av and Broad-st, according to C. H. Campbell, Hilltop Business Association executive secretary. Silver festooning will again decorate the smaller utility poles, with the same illuminated units as last year going up in certain sections. Civic-minded individuals, clubs, or groups who wish to help the HBA pay for these growing decorations are invited to make checks payable to the Street Decorating Fund, Hilltop Business Association, 3183 W. Broad-st.

We're Site Of New Western Gold Rush

You'll pardon the Western drawl, "podnuh, but it 'pears as how" Columbus is about to heed the "go West" advice of the sage. At least that's the impression we get. And our impression is made up of several recent events, such as last Thursday and Friday's immensely successful "Gateway West Jubilee."

Another thing that makes us believe the Western expansion of the city is going to benefit you and me and all other Hilltop residents is the recent move of nationally known stores to get on the bandwagon with branches in Don Casto's new $16 millon shopping center just inside the city's western limits.

Still another harbinger of the expansion of the city in general and the Hilltop in particular are the recently-announced plans of the Ohio Bell Telephone to pour some $300,000 into fivefold project to provide better service and more lines, including the groundwork for a brand-new local exchange, for the rapidly-growing Hilltop.

Harping back to our Western theme, "podnuh, We 'low as how us Hilltoppers are sitting right on top of a new Western gold rush." Maybe a very few people aren't enthused about the prospects, but everyone'll agree that it's exciting!

YOUR HILLTOP LIBRARY

New Books Present Facts, Background On Custom Of Holding Bean Dinners

by Mildred Phelor

Winter hours are now in operation at the Hilltop Branch Library, 2986 W. Broad-st. The library is open daily from 1 p. m. to 9 p. m. and on Saturday from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Now we know! Bean Dinners are traditional — especially Buckeye Bean Dinners. "There were no restrictions as to admittance or attendance Everyone was welcome. The dinner began in July and continued through the summer and fall, only one to a town, in one season. Only the small soup beans — Navy beans — are served and these with plenty of crackers and good coffee."

The above is taken from the chapter on "Buckeye Bean Dinners" and this interesting bit of news is to be found in the new book, "Ohio Diary," by Charles Kinkead. All "Hilltoppers" know the truth of this tradition. Of the book the author says, "this book is dedicated to all native Ohioans, as well as to all Americans interested in how this great country of ours took root and prospered."

Thoughts of small fry and parents turn to reading these days. "Your Child's Reading Today," by Josette Frank, relates reading to the busy world about us; Discussion of Comics, TV and radio are among valuable chapters. Numerous lists prove helpful in guiding the child's reading habits.

New fiction books on the Library shelves include favorite authors: "Sweet Thursday," by John Steinbeck; "The Secret Stair," by Phyllis Bottome; "The Return of Jeeves," by P. G. Wodehouse; and "Rebellion Road," by Helen Topping Miller.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

"Will Russia Control Western Europe?" will be the opening topic Sunday, Oct. 2, at 7:45 p. m. in a series of Sunday evening lectures at the Eastwood Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

OCTOBER

With burnished leaves turned brown,
Wind-swept and tossed
In searching rings, blown down
To earth and lost,
With sifting, ashen mist,

With frosted fields, moon-kissed,

From somewhere: Bore: "And this bear on the floor, I shot in Alaska. It was either him or me." Bored: "Well, the bear does make a better rug" . . . Voter: "I wouldn't vote for you if you were St. Peter himself." Candidate: "If I were St. Peter you couldn't vote for me. You wouldn't be in my district" . . .

It's tough to find,
For love or money,
A joke that's clean
And also funny.

From Mr. Clyde W. Park of Cincinnati, retired college professor, comes this clever poem and his comments:

PREFIXATIONS

(The Gimmick here elaborated has been used by other writers recently, but I like the way this author rang a change on it, and his prefatory comment: "A whole philosophy of total depravity could be based on the prevalence of negative prefixes, some of them attached to words never used in the positive form.")

If people could be plussed, instead of non,
And reason logically, instead of il,
Issues would be more clearly thought upon,
And action taken with a firmer will.

If manners could be couth, instead of un,
If practices were ept, instead of in,
Things would be pleasantly and quickly done,
And life more blithe than it has ever been.

If all men were responsible, not ir,
If all were solute, and were never dis,
Escapists with their space ships would stay here —
They couldn't find a better world than this.

Mr. Park's letters are gems of subtle wit and it is a pleasure to receive them. A quote from his latest: "For my own reading I have come to like short poems, particularly quatrains, in preference to longer ones. Also, although I was concerned with form in all my years of teaching, the thing I look for is the spark or sparkle, and Devil take the prosody." (To which I add a fervent Amen.)

A columnist once wrote "If you are trapped, helpless and shunned, in a gang of women, relax and listen and you will hear some interesting stuff." We weren't exactly trapeed, but we did happen to be seated at a table in a restaurant next to a large table where about fifteen ladies were having a luncheon meeting. The waitress told us they were members of a literary society. Apparently several members were absent, and they shouldn't have been, for the sake of their respective reputations. I hasten to add that this didn't happen in Columbus. Being an old eavesdropper from 'way back, I pinned back my near ear and listened while my bored husband read a road map. Here is some of the "interesting stuff" I heard: They are sporting a new car. Wonder where they got the money? . . . . She thinks her kids are the smartest kids in town but my kids get better grades . . . Do you like the way her house is decorated? I don't either . . . She looks like a sack of flour in that new fall outfit of hers . . . My Johnny is the best speller in school but his mean old teacher always gives him D's . . . That woman over there is listening to every word we say. I hope she gets an ear full. (I did, Lady, but most of it wouldn't look good in a family newspaper.)

Mr. Carl C. Byers, Supt. of Parma Public Schools, Cleveland, was kind enough to send a brochure, entitled "Prescriptions for Happy Teaching." The book was prepared for teachers by Mr. Byers and Mr. Arch S. Brown, Administrative Ass't and illustrated by Mr. Bernard Specht and Mr. George A. Loomis. If you would like a copy of this interesting book, send one dollar to Mr. Byers, Parma Public Schools, 5401 W. 54th-st, Cleveland 29. Here are a few clever bits from this guide for teachers: Try being as happy as the mosquito that has passed its screen test . . . Discipline is a good thing as long as it's applied to the children that live next door or down the street. . . . Meetings are places where people go to learn how to do better the things they don't have time to do anyaway . . . Don't repeat what the little bird tells you until you know whether or not the bird is a little cuckoo . . . If young people had more good examples and fewer critics, the results would speak for themselves.

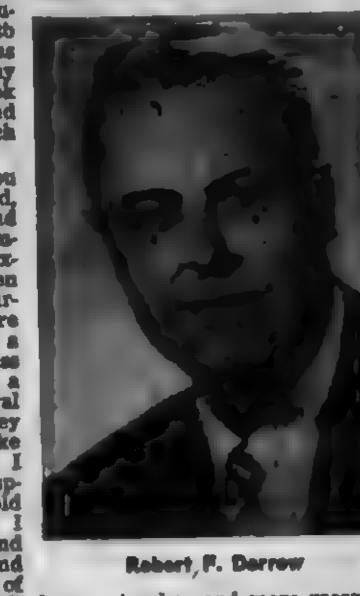
"Wow! What a doll!"

Randy Thomas seems to be noticing the redhead in the Taylortot next to his a little early in life, but it only goes to prove that even at nine months gay young blades are beginning to grow up pretty fast. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Rodney W. Thomas, 240 N. Harris-av.

The Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce says an unsafe speed is any speed too fast for the condition of the road, the weather, the traffic, or your bicycle.



These Eyes —

How Well Do You Know Them?

Our mysterious gentleman of last week who has a new job was recognized by many, I'm sure. He is Robert F. Darrow, the new principal of West Junior-Senior High School.

Darrow, who came to West this year from his post as principal of Barrett Junior High School, has been a teacher and more recently a principal for the past 17 years.

Darrow resides at 165 W. Como-av with his wife, Esther, and their three daughters, Deanna, 12; Mary Lou, 9, and Sandra, 3.

He has been interested in dabbling in woodworking and photography for the past several years, whenever he can find some time to spend in pursuing his hobbies.

The new principal finds his post at West High entirely different from the seven years at Barrett. Becoming acquainted with a new school, students, faculty, and staff, in addition to solving the hundred and one problems that arise each day keeps every moment chock full. However, he admits that he enjoys it very much.

This week's mask hides a man who has been a Hilltopper for the past 20 years. Ask to see his trophies next time you see him—that is, if you can guess who he is.

AM-AZE-ING is the word to apply to the new Spring-Sandusky interchange, now under contract and already 35 to 40 per cent completed. It is really not the mess it appears, however, declares County Engineer Guy Elbin, who had the schematic map above prepared to show just how the project will facilitate the flow of traffic. Elbin has predicted the project will be open to the public before the completion date called for in the contract, which is Nov. 30, 1955.

CIVIL AIR PATROL

High Points In Lives Of CAP Cadets Include Summer Encampments, Drills

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the conclusion of a two-part article outlining the importance of the Civil Air Patrol to the nation and to the individual. The feature was prepared by Lt. L. E. Hall of the local CAP headquarters exclusively for the Hartley Printing and Publishing Co.

Civil Air Patrol cadets have annual summer encampments, each of two weeks duration, through the months of June, July and August at 21 Air Forces bases throughout the U.S. There they are put through a course of 80 hours in such subjects as jet-propulsion, radar, meteorology, airplane engine mechanics marksmanship, flying safety and crash procedures.

During their two weeks at camp, they are given a taste of actual military life. They are under the constant supervision of senior CAP and Air Force personnel.

To promote international understanding and thus serve the cause of peace, the CAP has included among its cadet activities an ambitious exchange program to give outstanding air-minded youth of each participating country an opportunity to observe the life and institutions of other nations at first hand.

Each year 35 or more cadets are sent abroad for two weeks, with all but minor personal expenses paid, to see the historic spots about which they have read in their school books and newspapers, to live with and get to know the youth of another country, and to hear what those others have to say about us.

A like number of cadets from the exchange countries meanwhile are given similar tours in the U.S. by the CAP. Needless to say — to participate in the International Cadet Exchange is a goal toward which every cadet strives.

This summer Capt. John Williams, a Columbus cadet, spent two weeks in Portugal as an exchange cadet.

Another high point in the cadet's training is the Major General Lucas V. Beau International Drill Competition for air cadets. It is held annually during the months of July and August among the U.S., Canada and such other countries as may later be invited to participate. Trophies are awarded to the winners of the international drill competition and, in the U.S. for the national drill champion-ship.

Civil Air Patrols peacetime duties consist of sea and air rescue missions such as the search the week of Aug. 22 for the F-86 Sabrejet, flown by National Guard Capt. Frank H. Stern, Jr., enroute to Mansfield, O. CAP flew an organized search but was unable to locate the pilot or plane. It is now believed the plane crashed into Chesapeake Bay as pieces of metal that have been taken from the bay have been identified as having come from the same type ship flown by Capt. Stern.

CAP also helps in such disasters as floods, forest fires, blizzards and explosions. It maintains its own communications system and is invaluable in observing from the air and reporting to ground crews the best and safest method of handling the situation. Early in World War II, CAP flew submarine patrol off the east coast. Later it flew much needed plasma and parts for the air force.

CAP is the airarm of the Civil Defense. On Dec. 6, 1953, a practice missions was flown out of Gowdy Field. Five planes and observers were used to evaluate the traffic situation, observe which streets were blocked and to report the outbreak of fires.

A regional meeting was held recently to coordinate ideas for the coming year and further the aim of CAP. Members from the Great Lakes Region attended.

Columbus' CAP can be the biggest and best in the United States and with the present enthusiasm, that goal is not unattainable, local CAP officials point out.

CAP urges pilots and anyone with previous military or technical training to contact Squadron Headquarters Bldg. T-98, Fort Hayes.

POPULATION GAIN

The U. S. population is increasing at a phenomenal rate. By 1975 rising birth rates are expected to add 40 to 60 million people. This is roughly equivalent to the 53 million people living in the 22 states west of the Mississippi River. The National Association of Manufacturers says that to provide jobs for the estimated 22 million new people entering the work force will require an investment of at least $264 billion in plants and equipment. The estimate is based on studies which show that today's average investment per job is about $12,000.

IN MEMORIAM

MATROZOS — In loving memory of our husband and father, John D. Matrozos, proprietor of Johnnie's Coney Island, 2428 W. Broad St., who passed away Sept. 22, 1953:

Two years have passed since that sad day
The one we loved was called away.
What would we give to clasp his hand,
His happy face to see.
To hear his voice and see his smile
That meant so much to us.
The flowers we placed upon his grave
May wither and decay;
But the love for him who sleeps beneath
Will never fade away.
Sadly missed by his wife,

Brooker, Shell Station Operator, Makes Special 'Get Acquainted' Offer

Murray Brooker

Murray L. Brooker, a newcomer to the Hilltop, expressed the hope this week that he will soon become acquainted with the many fine people of this community where he has already made many friends.

Brooker, the new owner of the Shell service station at Hague and Sullivant-ave, has instituted a fine offer in line with his "get-acquainted" policy. Today, Friday, and Saturday, he is giving away a set of six beautiful hostess glasses with the purchase of seven gallons of Shell gasoline or any $2 purchase.

Since the opening of his station on Aug. 24, Brooker has proved his skill in servicing all types of cars and his genuine interest and desire to aid his patrons in any way possible.

Brooker stated, "This is the second job I've ever had. I was in charge of a fleet of trucks for the Felber Biscuit Co. for 12 years and I intend to devote at least the same length of time to my own business."

This friendly newcomer, who promises to be a steady boon to Hilltop motorists, hopes to move his family to the Hilltop in the near future. The Brooker family, which includes Murray's wife, Marjorie, and their three children, Richard, 20; Sharon, 7, and Deborah, 4; now reside at 1069 Piedmont-rd.

Do yourself a favor and go in and get acquainted with Murray Brooker, your new neighbor.

Trivia

From THE EDITOR'S DESK

By Gaiey Gordon

STRAWS IN THE WIND: 'Bout the only single "non-steal" in today's column is a little personal observation concerning three American generals recently in the news. First off, there's Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker. As civilian public relations supervisor, I had the misfortune for about six months to work under the general, who was assistant commander at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation, Penna.

A real martinet, he reminded me of Marquan "Brigadier General USA"—without the humanity. However, I can't conceive of his having called McCarthy an "unutterable name." It's out of character. But I do know that I have met no one on the face of this earth who could be more aggravating, irascible, vain, and opinionated than the good general.

His immediate chief at the Pennsylvania camp, Major General George B. Barth, on the other hand, was the nicest general officer, the most fatherly type army brass, the truest gentleman I've ever met. You meet all kinds in the army. General Barth went from the "Gap" to head our military mission in Greece.

General Mark W. Clark is in the headlines again with his study of the nation's intelligence setup. I worked with him in Vienna when he was the U.S. High Commissioner to Austria and became one of the first Americans ever to "talk back" to the Russians and win. His wife is from Indianapolis—my home town. You can tell a general officer's character by his wife. She was wonderful, even if she did whale the socks off me at ping-pong at the ski resort of Kitzbuhel in the Tyrol.

Your editor, without benefit of any sort of security clearance, was made chief of charts and files in May, 1946, filing and handling top secret and confidential documents. When Clark found out how Gordon was in such a position, without the sanction of clearance, the FBI and other agencies made one of the quickest checks ever made of my past life. Come out clean, too!

Later I worked far the then four-star general as assistant editor of his monthly 200-page report to the Joint Chiefs of Staff. It was then I became so interested in writing and editing that I gave up a pretty good start toward a degree in sanitary engineering.

FRUSTRATED CAPITALIST? Seen driving down W. Broad on Sunday was a huge Cadillac loaded with extras, bringing it close to the $4,500-mark. A sign in the rear window of the Texas-plated limousine read, "Don't Blame Me. I Voted Democrat."

WE'LL MAKE IT is the consensus of workers in the United Appeal, who held a special briefing for weekly newspaper editors Monday evening in the Farm Bureau building. They've worked out a new quota system applicable to the individual and business firms that, if observed, should work hardship on no one, yet insure sufficient operating funds for 58 agencies that are doing wonderful jobs for humanity in Franklin County.

WORTH READING: The Columbus Automobile Club has a neat little pamphlet labelled "What Do You Do When They Want To Drive?" It covers the problem faced by so many parents when their 13-14-15-16-17-year-old sons and daughters insist on the privilege of sitting behind the wheel of the family car. Interesting, humorous, and true-to-life.

THEME SONGS: Mississippi's Clarion Ledger comes up with the following suggested theme tunes that advertisers might use:

Diaper service: "There's Be Some Changes Made."
Finance company: "You Belong to Me."
Income tax bureau: "O' Promise Me."
Weather bureau: "They Didn't Believe Me."
Magician: "I Wonder What's Become of Sally."
Deodorant: "You'll Walk Alone."
Aspirin: "You Go to My Head."
Pawn Shop: "Everything I Have is yours."
Undertaker: "After You're Gone."
Chiropractor: "Roll Dem Bones."
Manicurist: "The Touch of Your Hand."
Optician: "The Nearness of You."
"Bootlegger: "In the Still of the Night."

Two banquets I thoroughly enjoyed this past week (no stuffy speeches) were the Sohio Dealers affair at the Deshler-Hilton, followed by a film showing of the marvels of the new Boron (I can already hear the "little Boron" stories) and General Motors' shindig out at the Grandview Inn on Thursday evening. The film offering this time was an intriguing demonstration of how super-high ways can cut right through the center of town to help solve traffic snarls. Both pix were in color and with sound.

THINGS LIKE THIS HAPPEN: One of our favorite correspondents, Mrs. Louise Wolfe of Mon-E-Bak, had to be left out of the paper last week because of the last-minute batch of legal ads, which must be published consecutively. Also regretfully left out were several obituaries. You'll find them all in today's Record.

PLEASE! Got a call Thursday from someone who wanted to know where we picked up a certain figure in a front page news story. I was on the spot and had to confess I had used the same figure that all three downtown papers had used and had not taken the time to check it. Sad to say, it was wrong. Those readers with a particular axe to grind are sincerely invited to call in with the correct information on material affecting this local community that has appeared in a slanted way in any other publication.

County TB Society Presses For Passage Of Tax Levy Renewal

Howard C. Park, president of the Franklin County Tuberculosis Society, has offered the assistance of the organization "in every way possible" to renew the TB tax levy for Benjamin Franklin Hospital. The levy, which provides 45.8 per cent of the operating expenses of the hospital, will be on the Nov. 2 ballot.

First approved in 1950, the TB tax levy provides an operating fund not to exceed .65 of a mill for each dollar of appraised valuation. Failure to pass the levy, Park said, would be catastrophic "Tuberculosis," he said, "is still the number one enemy of the community."

The number of admissions at Benjamin Franklin Hospital for the first six months of the year was 206, which is the highest of any half period in the hospital's history. Admissions increased 27 per cent over the same period of 1953.

If the levy fails to pass, Park pointed out, the hospital could lose approximately half of its present facilities. This could mean closing of all or part of the children's ward, or abolishing other services, such as medical social service, and occupational therapy.

It would definitely mean discharging patients sooner than is wise, with a sharp increase in the number of TB cases and a resulting rise in taxpaper costs. "The few pennies spent now through the levy will scarcely be noticed by the average taxpaper, but they will prevent spending many dollars later on," Park concluded.

YOUR HILLTOP LIBRARY

Problem Of Financing Ohio's Libraries Solved By Use Of Tax On Intangibles

Do you know how your Hilltop Branch Library is financed?

Columbus Public Library and other libraries throughout Ohio receive their revenue from the intangibles tax — the tax from intangible property, such as stocks, bonds, dividends, and interest. It is a logical tax for libraries. Wealth in the form of dividends which pay this tax is provided by companies dependent upon education, scientific knowledge, and technical progress.

Its use for library purpose is, in a sense, a re-investment in a tool essential to producing wealth. Libraries receive no revenue from real estate, sales tax or special revenue such as liquor or gasoline. It was to reduce the real estate tax burden that libraries were assigned their claim to intangibles revenue in 1935.

In 1951 the Ohio Legislature revised the law to read that "public libraries' participation in the proceeds of the intangibles tax shall be based on the needs of such library for the construction of new library buildings, improvements, operation, maintenance or otherwise, as determined by the county budget commissioner."

The Board of Library Trustees must expend the money in accordance with state law and the state auditor's office periodically examines the records to see that funds have been spent properly.

Library Trustees are appointed by elected officials, depending on the unit of government under which the library is organized. Columbus library trustees are appointed by the mayor, with the present board members being as follows:

J. A. Meckstroth, president, 639 Glenmont-av; Mrs. W. E. Ferguson, 3048 Crescent-dr; Dr. H. E. Burbacker, 3478 N. High-st; Preston Wolfe, 212 Park-dr; and Mrs. H. L. Smith, 457 Brookside-dr.

New titles received last week at the Hilltop Branch Library, 2965 W. Broad-st, are as follows: Fiction—"Brave Pursuit" by Marguerite Allis; "The Quality of Mercy," by Robert Carson; "Miscast for Murder," by Ruth Fenisong; "All Those In Favor," by Don Fontaine; "Casino Royale," by Ian Fleming; "Shroud of Darkness," by E. C. Rivett; "The Doctor," by Andre Soubiran; "Love is Eternal," by Irving Stone," and "The Last Love of Camille," by Frances Winwar.

Non-fiction—"African Hunt," by Thomas Arbuthnot; "World's in Space," by Martin Cardin; "General Dean's Story," by William F. Dean; "Motor Services New Automobile Encyclopedia"; "Slide Rule," by Nevil Shute; "India and the Awakening East," by Eleanor Roosevelt; and "The Final Secret of Pearl Harbor," by Robert A. Theobald

Glenwood Campfire Girls, Gleaners Hold Campout

Glenwood's Gleaners Club and Campfire Girls went to Indian Village Camp on Friday, Sept. 24, stanging their fall programs with a joint meeting and campout.

The girls prepared their evening meal over an open fire and had an evening program of square dancing, skits, singing, and group games. In the morning the group had a treasure hunt to find breakfast.

The morning program consisted of a hike and afterwards, a craft program in which they made things out of materials they had collected on their hike. Girls who wish to join either Camp Fire Girls or Gleaners Club can register by calling Glenwood Recreation Center, RA. 7416.

ROUGH ON END

Shed a tear for the plight of the Communist Party organizer who, so the story goes, wrote this complaint to his superior:

"It is becoming increasingly difficult to reach the down-trodden masses in America. In the spring they're forever polishing their cars. In the summer, they take vacations. In the fall, they go to the World Series and football games. And in the winter you can't get them away from their TV sets.

"Please give me suggestions on how to let these people know how oppressed they are."

This lovely scene of house and lawn may be seen at 220 Powhatan-av. It is the striking home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clements. A result of family efforts, it was designed and decorated by Mrs. Clements and built by her skilled husband.

With color the watchword throughout the house, the kitchen is certainly no exception. Apple-blossom pink cupboards, blue linoleum, and salmon printed curtains combine with hand-painted wall plaques for gay appeal.

Brightening and personalizing the atmosphere of the cozy, knotty pine paneled den are the old English print curtains and the chinaware, books, and plaques, displayed on the plate rail and recessed shelves.

Colorful Clements' Home Is One-Floor Plan Dream House

By Grace Durflinger

The home that we have chosen to bring to you this week is the five-year-old, one-floor plan at 220 Powhatan-av, home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Clements, who were residents of New Rome for 20 years before becoming Hilltoppers.

Bright geraniums, petunias, shrubs and flowers of all kinds nod in their planters and beds about the stone front of the green shingle house, as well as along the white board fence, enclosing the large backyard where saplings of dogwood, redbud, silver maple and tiny northern pines give promise of future abundant greenery and shade.

The colorful and appealing decor of the interior was entirely conceived and artfully carried out by Mrs. Clements.

A bright, green-painted doorway invites visitors into the entranceway which lengthens to provide a center hallway plan. A gray sculpted carpet with foam rubber padding gives a cushion effect throughout the hallway, living room, and dining room. The scenes of "old Virginia" on the gray background of the wallpaper in the entranceway are combined with white painted molding and woodwork. At the far end of the hall, which gives access to the two bedrooms and bathroom, are the double sliding white painted doors of the roomy guest closet. At the opposite end, near the door, is a walnut stand, displaying several pieces of the delicate and unusual glassware Mrs. Clements has collected. A hanging glass wall shelf also holds many glass and china articles.

Mrs. Clements mixed the paint for the living room walls, which may be described as approaching an apple green. The walls are combined with white molding and ceiling and wood rose Kencord drapes with matching valances at the large east and west windows.

The white painted mantelpiece of the marble fireplace is adorned with a collection of china angels of all sizes and descriptions which, along with a collection of unusual paperweights, comprise Mrs. Clement's hobby.

The dining room, with its handsome suite of mellow American walnut, is wainscoted in aqua, terminated by a strip of white molding. The remainder of the walls are papered in a rose and wood rose shaded rambler rose design on a deep aqua background. Recessed shelves display china plates and various pieces of china and glassware prized by Mrs. Clements. A hanging chandelier of crystal and polished brass reflect the wood rose drapes with aqua valances. Here, as in each room, the casement window frames above the marble sills are painted the same shade as the walls.

The pale yellow walls of the kitchen are combined with the faint pink tinge of applebloom cupboards, built in one unit with the counters below them covered and backed with mottled blue linoleum. The floor is covered with the same linoleum trimmed with a cream strip. The dinette set, placed in a corner, formed by the casement windows, is of red and gray leatherette combined with gray formica and chrome. The apple blossom pink casement window frames are fitted with glass shelves — lined with a bright array of varicolored glassware. The print on the cottage curtains, with salmon valances, shades from salmon to red on a white background. Other decorator features of this charming room are the gayly-painted and sculpted wall plaques together with a white painted railroad lantern which now holds ivy in the corner windows.

To the right of the kitchen is the cosy knotty pine-paneled den, connecting the house with the garage and furnished with a blonde maple cottage set and light walnut desk. The curtains at the large casement windows are patterned in an old English hunting scene in shades of tan, brown, red, and green on a white background with a matching valance complementing the light green shag rugs on the linoleum tile floor.

Close to the den and kitchen is the knotty pine paneled stairway leading to the utility and recreation rooms. The recreation room features rose and ivory marbelized tile flooring and carnival pink cement block walls. The door and wall in which the huge open brick fireplace is set is also paneled in knotty pine. A settee and several separate chairs are covered in a varicolored striped denim. A built-in corner wall shelf of knotty pine displays such interesting relics as a 19th century charcoal burning steam iron.

The Clements' only child, Virginia, now Mrs. Robert South, is a resident of Fisher-rd. Her seven-year-old daughter is, of course, the darling of her grandparents.

Clements is a member of HBA and West Franklin Kiwanis, while active organization in Franklin his charming wife is a member of County. They are both members Weskiwana and the Research Club, of St. Paul's Lutheran Church of which she believes to be the oldest Home.

A rose print on powder blue with rose-tufted white drapes and pale yellow shag rugs and spread combine to make a beautiful picture of this bright airy bedroom. The pictures at right are a portion of the Clements' "rogue's gallery" of their daughter and granddaughter.

A portion of Mrs. Clements' paperweight collection is displayed on the walnut coffee table in the foreground which was constructed and finished by Clements. The mantlepiece is adorned with crystal and silver hurricane lamps and Mrs. Clements' collection of china angels.

Carnival pink walls, bright, striped drapes, and rose and ivory tiled floor, in the recreation room completes the colorful picture of the Clements' home. The massive pool table offers many an evening's entertainment when friends drop in.

The colorful dining room, decorated in aqua and wood rose, is also bedecked with many unusual pieces of china and glassware. The lovely centerpiece in the foreground was arranged by Mrs. Clements with the flowers from her garden.

RABBIT SHOW SET

The 11th Annual fall show of the Columbus Rabbit Club will be held on Oct. 1, 2, and 3 at the Ohio State fairgrounds in the junior fair building. Al Bergh, 1406 Minnesota-av, is show superintendent and H. W. Lucks, 2330 Brookwood-rd, is show secretary.

This show is open and free to the general public. Approximately 700 to 800 rabbits will be shown from all over the country and will be on exhibit all day Oct. 2 until 1 p. m. Oct. 3.

RED STOP SIGNS OK'D

Red stop signs were authorized for Ohio recently with the signing of the official highway department journal by Director S. O. Linsell. The new red stop-sign will eventually replace nearly 30,000 yellow stop signs on the rural state highway system.

"The yellow stop signs are still legal and in force," said Linsell, "and they will be used until the Highway Department can replace them gradually. To replace them all immediately would entail prohibitive cost."

QUEEN CANDIDATES—Doris Yeater, 17, 86 Maple-dr., left, and Jane Lloyd, 17, of 126 N. Eureka-av, prepare for a ride in a 1929 Packard Sport Phaeton driven by A. P. Tynan, 2481 Club-rd. The girls were entrants in the queen contest being held at Lincoln Village in connection with the "Gateway-West Jubilee," of this week. Tynan, Columbus architect, drove an old automobile in the Jubilee Parade on Thursday evening, Sept. 23. The celebration sponsored by the West Franklin County Association marked the official reopening of the resurfaced lanes of W. Broad-st between Columbus and New Rome.

Lowell Johnson, a 17-year-old Hilliards High School senior, has won signal honors for himself and the high school band, in which he plays first trombone. He has received superior ratings at both Capital University and in the Washington Court House regional contests. He also plays trombone in the Hilliards Legion Band and was a member of the all-Ohio High School Band at the 1954 Ohio State Fair.

Glenwood Football Team To Play First Game Sat.

Glenwood Recreation Center's tackle football team is scheduled for its first game Saturday morning, Oct. 2. The team's first opponent is unknown at the present, but the hint is that it will be Sunshine Recreation Center.

Glenwood has been concentrating on blocking this past week, but the team still needs much work in this department. Plays were introduced to the team last week and the boys picked them up quite fast. Within 45 minutes, the backfield, under the guidance of Pete Caborn, had the plays polished to perfection.

Stand-outs in last weeks practice was the line plunging of Steve Fetherolf and Bob Deist and the blocking of Richie Holman.

1. Whiter and Brighter!
The Duomatic removed more surface soil. Fabrics came out looking newer and brighter than any of the other washers could get them.

2. More Thoroughly Clean!
The Duomatic actually washed cleaner of both imbedded and surface soil—by actual Geiger-Counter test!

3. More Consistent Washing!
The Duomatic washes every item in every load equally clean!

For the first time—conclusive tests of leading automatic washers have been made by a leading independent testing laboratory* authorized by the Atomic Energy Commission to use radioactive materials for scientific research.

Among all the leading washers tested, on all three counts, the Bendix Duomatic ranked FIRST!

Four New Teachers Welcomed As Enrollment Tops Thousand-Mark

By Dixie Miller

Starling Junior High is very happy to welcome to its faculty four new teachers. Duane Reeds, the mathematics teacher, is a graduate of Washburn University, Topeka, Kan. He also attended graduate school at Ohio State University. His hobbies are reading and shop. Mr. Reed is married and has one child.

Mrs. Eloise Hamel, the new music teacher, is a former teacher at Everett Junior High. Mrs. Hamel is a graduate of Western College at Oxford. Her hobbies are music and photography.

Mrs. Virginia Aylesworth, the art supervisor, comes from New Albany, Ind., and is a graduate of Indiana University. Her hobbies are art, sewing and music.

Richard Marsh, our new dramatics teacher, is single. He attended Hubbard and Everett and was graduated from Central High and Ohio State University. He is a former teacher at Everett and his hobby is magic.

ENROLLMENT

By Darlene Maxwell

Starling Junior High School's enrollment is very large this year, with the total reaching 1050 pupils. Most of the classes have from 30 to 36 enrolled.

FORMER STARLING TEACHERS

By Gary Dohrman

Three former Starling teachers are not teaching this year. They are Mrs. Moshier, who taught art; Mrs. Rishell, a math teacher; and Mrs. Mentzer, who taught dramatics and had a self-contained class. Miss Winchester, formerly our music supervisor, is now teaching at South High School.

KARL BARTH WINS PRIZES

By Sandy Fowler

Karl Barth, now a 9A at Starling Junior High School, won a beautiful silver cup and 27 prize ribbons at the Ohio State Fair. His flowers were exhibited in the show case at school. He got 10 firsts, seven seconds, four thirds, five fourths, and one sixth — in all, a regular rainbow of colored ribbons. The silver cup was for the best all around entry.

Karl won in cosmos, cockscomb, dahlias, gladioli, asters, marigolds, and other categories but is proudest of his miniature garden, a collection of cacti which took him all summer to develop.

Although he loves flowers, he is going to college and hopes to become a dentist.

PTA MEETING

By Roberta Morrow

The first official PTA meeting will be held Tuesday evening, Oct. 5. The meeting will be during the PTA enrollment week, which is Oct. 4-8.

The program will consist of introducing all teachers and the PTA board members. A panel type program will be presented by the teachers of the self contained classes.

A special effort is being made to get as many parents of 7B's as possible to attend the meeting.

PTA MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

By Jean Ann Ogburn

The Starling Junior High School PTA membership drive will be held Oct. 4-8. All mothers and fathers are encouraged to join. First, second and third prizes will be given the three homerooms obtaining the most new members.
